TALC AND GROUND SOAPSTONE, INCLUDING CRAYONS

ORDER GRANTING ADJUSTMENT

Amendment No. 10 to Order No. A–2 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel. Modification of adjustment provisions under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Paragraph (a) (10) is added to read as follows:

(10) Talc and ground soapstone, including crayons. This subparagraph permits the granting or relief to producers of talc and ground soapstone, including crayons, who are unable to maintain their production under their existing maximum prices whenever there is a general shortage in the essential supply of the commodity. The extent of relief to be granted under this subparagraph is set forth herein.

(i) Whenever it has been certified by the War Production Board or other responsible government agency that a shortage exists or threatens to exist in the essential supply of talc and ground soapstone, including crayons, and that a producer of such commodities is unable to maintain his production at his maximum price or prices, the Office of Price Administration may, either on application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, or on its own motion, by order, adjust his maximum price or prices by an amount necessary to permit the maintenance of such production upon a basis not in excess of the cost to produce and sell.

In determining the amount of adjustment which may be granted, consideration will be given to such factors whenever applicable as:

(a) Revenue from sales of such commodity and from all other sources; and

(b) Inventories, mining, development, milling, processing, transportation costs, cost of material, labor, maintenance, supplies, workmen's compensation taxes, power, taxes (other than State and Federal income taxes), insurance, royalties, depreciation and depletion (wherever practicable as determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the computation of the Federal income tax), other production expenses, and reasonable costs of selling and administration. Expenses not related to the conduct of the producing and selling operations of the particular commodity will be excluded.

(ii) What applicant should do before filing application. Before filing an application for adjustment under the provisions of this subparagraph, each applicant shall obtain from the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., a statement of the specific information that will be necessary in order that his application may receive attention.

(iii) Passing on of permitted increase by levels beyond the producer. In issuing adjustment orders under this subparagraph, the Price Administrator will, wherever required, provide the extent to which any increase permitted under this subparagraph, by way of adjustment, may be added to the maximum price or prices of sellers other than the producer.

This Amendment No. 10 shall become effective January 15, 1944.

THE UNITED GAS IMPROVEMENT CO.

NOTICE REGARDING FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 11th day of January 1944.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration or application (or both) has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by The United Gas Improvement Company, a registered holding company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than January 24, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, said declaration or application, as filed or as amended, may be granted, as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration or application, which is on file in the office of the said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

The United Gas Improvement Company proposes to change its 35,000,000 authorized shares of no par capital stock into 3,500,000 shares of $13.50 par value each, and similarly to convert its 23,250,000 outstanding shares of no par capital stock into 2,325,200 shares with a par value of $13.50 each, on the basis of a proposed exchange of one share of the new stock for each ten shares of the present stock.

In lieu of fractional shares of the new stock, it is proposed to issue non-voting scrip in bearer form, which, during a period of one year commencing on or about September 7, 1944, will be exchangeable, in combination with other similar scrip, for the number of full shares represented thereby. After the one-year period, it is proposed to pay and discharge the scrip in cash on the basis of the average closing price of the stock for the period from September 10 to September 14, 1945, inclusive.

The difference of $549,240 between the stated capital presently applicable to the capital stock of the company ($31,939,440) and the stated capital represented by the shares of the proposed new capital stock ($31,390,200) will be credited to the capital surplus account, and the 2,424 shares of present capital stock now held in the treasury of the company will be cancelled and retired by charging capital surplus with $3,334.

The stated purposes of the proposed transactions are to reduce the number of shares of capital stock so that they will be more proportionate to the substantially reduced assets of the company; to make the new shares more acceptable as collateral security than the present shares selling under $5 per share; and to reduce brokerage commissions on purchases or sales and transfer taxes on sales of the stock.

The proposed transactions will be submitted to a stockholders' vote at the next annual meeting of stockholders, scheduled for May 1, 1944.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL LIGHT AND TRACTION CO., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON PLAN AND ORDER FOR CONSOLIDATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 11th day of January 1944.

In the matter of Federal Light and Traction Company and its subsidiary Companies, File No. 54–87; Cities Service Power & Light Company and its subsidiary companies, File No. 59–7.

I

The Commission having heretofore, in proceedings under section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, ordered Federal Light & Traction Company ("Federal"), a registered holding company, to divest itself of its interests in its subsidiaries operating in the States of Missouri and Wyoming, and having reserved jurisdiction as to the retainability by Federal of its interests in Deming Ice and Electric Company and The Tucson Gas Electric Light and Power Company, and of the gas and nonutility businesses conducted by other subsidiary companies of Federal operating in the States of New Mexico and Colorado,

Notice is hereby given that Federal has filed with this Commission a plan of reorganization pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act proposing action designed to reduce the capitalization of Federal to a single class of stock, namely, common stock, and to merge or consolidate Federal and its subsidiary companies operating in the States of Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, into a single utility company operating in such States (said company being hereafter referred to as the "New Company"). Federal also proposes to dispose of all of its other interests.

All interested persons are referred to the plan which is on file in the office of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

1. Federal has outstanding (as at October 31, 1943) 524,903 shares, par value $15 per share (aggregating $7,873,545 par value) of common stock and 43,621 shares (exclusive of 753 shares held in treasury) of no par value $6 cumulative preferred stock having a stated value of $4,312,948.51. It has no outstanding funded debt. Federal proposes to negotiate a bank loan in the sum of $1,000,000 for a term of two years. If the loan is secured, a matter not presently determined, the Loan Agreement will provide that the securities of Springfield Gas and Electric Company, Sheridan County Electric Company and Tucson Rapid Transit Company held by Federal will be pledged as collateral security for the payment of the loan and, upon the proposed disposition by Federal of those securities as hereinafter set forth, the proceeds thereof will be used to reduce or pay off the amount of the loan. A copy of the Loan Agreement in definitive form will be filed with the Commission on or before the date of the first hearing on the plan. With the proceeds of the loan and its other cash resources, Federal proposes to retire its outstanding preferred stock by the payment of the liquidating value of $100 per share, aggregating $4,362,100 plus accrued dividends to date of payment. The present call price of the preferred stock is $110 per share.

Federal requests that, as a first step in the consummation of the plan, the Commission approve the making of the loan and the application of the proceeds and other cash to the retirement of the outstanding preferred stock of Federal in the manner proposed.

2. The plan proposes that Federal dispose of its interests in Springfield Gas and Electric Company, Sheridan County Electric Company and Tucson Rapid Transit Company. However, if at the time of the merger or consolidation referred to above, Federal shall not have disposed of its interests in such companies the New Company will acquire such interests in the merger subject, however, to any pledge thereof to secure the bank loan, and subject further to the condition that any order of the Commission approving the plan may require the New Company to dispose of its interests therein.

3. It is proposed that the present Federal company together with the following named subsidiary operating companies be merged or consolidated into The Tucson Gas Electric Light and Power Company as the surviving company (New Company):

	Nature of business	Location
Albuquerque Gas and Electric Co.	Electric and Gas	New Mexico.
Deming Ice and Electric Co.	Electric and Ice	New Mexico.
The Las Vegas Light and Power Co.	Electric	New Mexico.
New Mexico Power Co.	Electric and Water	New Mexico.
The Trinidad Electric Transmission, Railway and Gas Co.	Electric and Gas	Colorado and New Mexico.
Stonewall Electric Co.	Electric	New Mexico and Arizona.

(Stonewall Electric Company also owns certain electric properties in Wyoming which, under the plan, are to be disposed of together with the properties of the Sheridan County Electric Company.)

The New Company will be duly qualified to carry on a utility business in the States of Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. The New Company will issue to the holders of the present common stock of Federal, common stock in a par value of $7,873,545 being equal to the aggregate par value of the common stock of Federal presently outstanding.

4. Federal requests that the Commission enter an order approving the plan as necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and as fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it further requests that such order or orders of the Commission in this proceeding relating to the various steps or matters involved in the plan conform to the requirements of sections 371 and 1808 of the Internal Revenue Code by including therein a determination that the particular transaction or transactions involved are necessary or appropiate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system and are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act.

II

The Commission having heretofore instituted a proceeding (File No. 59-7) under section 11 (b) (1) of the act involving the holding company system of Cities Service Power & Light Company and the holding company system of Federal, a subsidiary thereof, and the Commission on August 17, 1943, having issued an order in the section 11 (b) (1) proceeding directing comprehensive action under the standards of that section, including action to be taken by Federal, and having reserved jurisdiction as to certain issues, including the retainability by Federal of its Tucson, Arizona, and Deming, New Mexico, properties, and the Commission on October 27, 1943, having issued an order reconvening the hearings for the purpose of considering the issues as to which jurisdiction had been reserved in the order dated August 17, 1943, and certain other issues as to which jurisdiction had been reserved and leave to introduce additional evidence granted by the Commission in its order dated September 10, 1943, and hearings having been held as to certain of such matters and having been continued on December 2, 1943, subject to call; and

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan thereunder, to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that such plan as submitted or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 and is fair and equitable to the persons affected by the plan, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission, in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers, that notice be given and a hearing be held upon the plan to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto; and

It appearing that the matters to be considered in connection with the proposed plan of Federal (File No. 54-87), and certain of the matters to be considered in said proceeding instituted by the Commission under section 11 (b) (1) (File No. 59-7), are related and involve common issues of law and of fact and that a consolidation of such matters and issues for hearing would be in the interest of expeditious procedure,

III

It is ordered, That said proceedings be and the same are hereby consolidated.

It is further ordered, That a hearing on such matters (including all issues in respect of the proposed plan of reorganization and all issues affecting Federal Light & Traction Company and its subsidiary companies as to which the Commission reserved jurisdiction and granted the right to introduce additional evidence in said Orders, dated August 17, 1943, and September 10, 1943) be held at 10 o'clock A. M., E. W. T., on the 27th day of January 1944, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated at that time by the hearing room clerk in Room 318. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings should notify the Commission in the manner provided by Rule XVII of its Rules of Practice, on or before January 25, 1944.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all the powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's Rules of Practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said plan, particular attention will be directed at the hearing to the following matters and questions, in addition to the issues relating to Federal Light & Traction Company and its subsidiary companies as to which the Commission has reserved jurisdiction and granted the right to introduce additional evidence in said Orders dated August 17, 1943, and September 10, 1943:

1. Whether the proposed plan of Federal is in conformity with the requirements of the Commission's said orders dated August 17, 1943, and September 10, 1943;

2. Whether said plan, as submitted or as it may subsequently be modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and fair and equitable to the persons affected, particularly with respect to the proposed retirement of Federal's preferred stock at less than the call price of $110 per share;

3. Whether the proposed acquisitions of utility assets and securities by the New Company will tend toward the economical and efficient development of an integrated public-utility system, and whether the proposed merger or consolidation will be detrimental to the carrying out of the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act;

4. Whether the accounting entries proposed in connection with said plan and all transactions incident thereto are appropriate and in accordance with sound accounting principles and practices and the applicable statutory standards;

5. Whether the fees and expenses to be paid in connection with said plan and all transactions incident thereto are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount;

6. Generally, whether the proposed transactions are in all respects in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder, and if not what modifications should be required to be made therein and what terms and conditions should be imposed.

It is further ordered, That Issue 3 above, and the issues relating to the retainability by Federal Light & Traction Company of its interests in The Tucson Gas Electric Light and Power Company, Deming Ice and Electric Company, Tucson Rapid Transit Company, Federal Realty Company, and those properties of Stonewall Electric Company which are adjacent to the properties of The Tucson Gas Electric Light and Power Company, be first considered at the consolidated hearing, and that, when the record is completed with respect thereto, such issues be submitted to the Commission for determination.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given to Federal Light & Traction Company, to the City of Tucson, Arizona, and to all other persons, said notice to be given to Federal Light & Traction Company, and to the City of Tucson by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Holding Company Act of 1935, and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

GENERAL GAS & ELECTRIC CORP., ET AL.

SUPPLEMENTAL FINDINGS AND ORDER APPROVING PLAN

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia 3, Pa., on the 11th day of January 1944.

In the matter of General Gas & Electric Corporation, Florida Power Corporation, Florida Public Service Company, Sanford Gas Company, Sante Fe Land Company, Georgia Power and Light Company, File No. 70-641; Georgia Power and Light Company, General Gas & Electric Corporation, File No. 59-62.

The Commission having, on September 7, 1943, issued its order herein (Holding Company Act Release No. 4545), with respect to, among other things, the merger into Florida Power Corporation of Florida Public Service Company and the accompanying transfers, conveyances, exchanges and related transactions, and the issuance by Florida Power Corporation of 3,000,000 shares of new no par value common stock;

The applicants-declarants having now filed amendments adding certain additional matter and data to the record in these proceedings; making certain representations on the part of General Gas & Electric Corporation (Gengas) and Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation (Trustees); requesting that the transactions proposed in the instant filings be considered as a plan under section 11 (e) of the act, and that such plan be approved as "necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) and fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan"; and requesting that the Commission supplement its order of September 7, 1943, so as to include therein said approval under section 11 (e), and so as to set forth the recitals specified in section 371 (b), section 373 (a) and section 1808 (f) of the Revenue Code, as amended; and Gengas and Trustees having included in said amendment an agreement to accept the provision hereinafter imposed;

On the basis of said amendments and of all the facts set forth in the record, including the representations of Gengas described in paragraph 3 below, the Commission makes the following findings:

1. That on September 4, 1941, the Commission instituted proceedings against Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation (File No. 59-32) pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and that in response thereto an answer was filed which, among other things, proposed that as a step in effectuating the requirements of section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 the Florida and Georgia properties of the Gengas holding company system were to be grouped into a single system;

2. That the consummation of the merger of Florida Public Service Company into Florida Power Corporation and the issuance by Florida Power Corporation of 3,000,000 shares of no par value common stock will facilitate action by Trustees and Gengas either to distribute these shares to the public security holders of the holding company system in liquidation of security holders' claims, or, in the alternative to sell such securities for cash and use the proceeds to liquidate claims of such security holders; and

3. That Gengas and Trustees have represented to the Commission in said amendments that they anticipate complying with the provisions of section 11 (b) (1) of the act by, among other things, the eventual distribution of these 3,000,000 shares of Florida Power Corporation to public security holders or by sale of said holdings to non-affiliated interests;

4. That the consummation of (a) the merger of Florida Public Service Company into Florida Power Corporation by the transfer of its assets to Florida Power Corporation and the assumption by this latter corporation of the liabilities of Florida Public Service Company, and (b) the issuance to General Gas & Electric Corporation by Florida Power Corporation of 3,000,000 shares of its new no par value common stock are preliminary steps related to the above-described program of the Trustees of Associated Gas and Electric Corporation to effectuate compliance with the requirements of section 11 (b) (1) of the act, and that the transactions considered in the light of section 11 (e) of the act are necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) and fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan;

The Commission making said findings in reliance upon the statements of intention of Gengas and Trustees as set forth in paragraph 3 hereinabove set forth;

It is hereby ordered, That the order of the Commission issued herein on September 7, 1943, be, and hereby is, supplemented so as to include as part thereof the foregoing findings; and that on the basis of said findings the plan proposing the transactions above described be, and hereby is, approved, and that said transactions hereby are authorized, permitted, and approved as necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; Provided, however, That if the interests of said Trustees and Gengas in said shares shall not be disposed of by distribution to public security holders or by sale to non-affiliated interests in accordance with the aforesaid representations of intention within two years from date of this order or upon the expiration of such earlier period as the Commission may hereafter designate pursuant to section 11 (b), the Commission may rescind so much of these supplemental findings and order as contain findings for the purpose of sections 371 (b), 373 (a), and 1808 (f) of the Revenue Code, as amended; said rescission not to affect the consummation or impair the validity of any of the transactions authorized and approved by the Commission in this consolidated proceeding by its order of September 7, 1943, or otherwise, nor shall anything herein alter or change the terms and conditions imposed by said order of September 7, 1943.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF OKLAHOMA, ET AL.

ORDER APPROVING PLAN

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 10th day of January 1944.

In the matter of Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Southwestern Light & Power Company, Central and South West Utilities Company and The Middle West Corporation, File No. 70-178; West Texas Utilities Company and American Public Service Company, File No. 70-686.

The Commission on the 3d day of August, 1943, issued its findings and opinion pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 regarding the proposed merger of Southwestern Light & Power Company into Public Service Company of Oklahoma and certain related transactions between The Middle West Corporation, Central and South West Utilities Company, American Public Service Company, West Texas Utilities Company, Public Service Company of Oklahoma and Southwestern Light & Power Company, such opinion providing, however, that the order of the Commission with respect thereto should not issue until such time as Public Service Company of Oklahoma should have complied with the requirements of the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to the issue and sale of 15,000 shares of its preferred stock to be issued in connection with such merger. Such opinion further provided that jurisdiction be reserved with respect to the proposed issuance and sale by Public Service Company of Oklahoma of its bonds in the principal amount of $6,600,000 for the purpose of redeeming $6,648,000 principal amount of bonds of Southwestern Light & Power Company proposed to be assumed in connection with such merger.

Public Service Company of Oklahoma has now filed an amendment proposing merely to assume the $6,648,000 principal amount of first mortgage bonds, Series "A", 3¾%, due December 1, 1969 of Southwestern Light & Power Company, and has also filed a registration statement under the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to the proposed issuance of the 15,000 shares of preferred stock of Public Service Company of Oklahoma which has become effective.

Our opinion herein discussed the proposed transactions on the basis that $6,600,000 principal amount of Public Service Company of Oklahoma 3¼% bonds would be outstanding rather than on the basis that the $6,648,000 principal amount of Southwestern Light & Power Company 3¾% bonds would be assumed and remain outstanding. It appears, however, that this change will not materially alter either the pro forma balance sheet or earnings statement shown in our opinion of August 3, 1943 and therefore warrants no different conclusion.

Public Service Company of Oklahoma has requested that the applications and declarations regarding the proposed transactions be considered as a plan filed under section 11 (e) of the act and that the order of the Commission with respect to said transactions conform to the requirements of sections 371 (f), 373 (a) and 1808 (f), as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Commission finding that said applications and declarations regarding the proposed transaction constitute a plan under section 11 (e) of said Act, and that said plan is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) thereof and fair and equitable to the persons affected by such plan;

It is therefore ordered, That said plan be and hereby is approved, subject, however, to the conditions specified in Rule U-24 under said act.

It is further ordered, That the approval of said plan includes specific approval of the following transactions:

1. The issuance of 15,000 shares of 5% preferred stock by Public Service Company of Oklahoma;

2. The assumption of $6,648,000 principal amount of 3¾% first mortgage bonds of Southwestern Light & Power Company by Public Service Company of Oklahoma;

(b) Temporary employees shall be credited with leave of 2½ days for each month of service. After the first month of service such leave may be credited at the beginning of the month in which it accrues.

(c) Indefinite employees shall be credited with leave of two days for each month of service plus an additional ½ day when the service aggregates three months.

SECTION 2.2 Accumulated annual leave may be carried forward for use in succeeding years until it totals not exceeding 60 days: Provided, that during the period of the present emergency 30 days additional leave may be accumulated: Provided further, that when accumulated leave equals or exceeds 60 days, further increase in accumulated leave shall be limited to 15 days in any succeeding year.

GRANT OF ANNUAL LEAVE

SECTION 2.3 Annual leave shall be granted to an employee on his request at such times as the heads of the departments and agencies may prescribe. Employees during their first year of service shall not be granted leave in excess of the amount accrued to their credit. The minimum charge for annual leave shall be one hour, and additional leave shall be charged in multiples of one hour.

SECTION 2.4 An employee who is to be separated from the service shall be entitled to the unused annual leave standing to his credit, and the date of his separation shall be so fixed as to permit him to take such leave, and in no case, whether the separation be voluntary or involuntary, shall the separation become effective on a date prior to the date of termination of such leave: Provided, that an employee who elects to forfeit the leave standing to his credit may do so by filing a written notice to such effect.

SECTION 2.5 When an employee is absent from duty and in attendance in court as a witness in behalf of the United States or the Government of the District of Columbia, or for jury duty in any State court or court of the United States, the absence from duty shall not be charged against annual leave but should be recorded as "court leave".

PART III—SICK LEAVE

ACCRUAL OF SICK LEAVE

SECTION 3.1

(a) Permanent employees shall be credited with sick leave at the rate of 1¼ days per month. The minimum credit for sick leave shall be one hour, and additional credits shall be in multiples thereof.

(b) Temporary and indefinite employees shall be credited with 1¼ days of sick leave for each month of service.

(c) Sick leave accruing during any month of service shall be available at any time during that or any subsequent month.

SECTION 3.2 Unused sick leave shall be cumulative and available for future use: Provided, that the balance to the credit of the employee at the end of any month shall not exceed ninety days.

GRANT OF SICK LEAVE

SECTION 3.3 Sick leave shall be granted to employees when they are incapacitated for the performance of their duties by sickness, injury, or pregnancy and confinement, or for medical, dental or optical examination or treatment, or when a member of the immediate family of the employee is afflicted with a contagious disease and requires the care and attendance of the employee, or when, through exposure to contagious disease, the presence of the employee at his post of duty would jeopardize the health of others. The minimum charge for sick leave shall be one hour, and additional leave shall be charged in multiples of one hour.

SECTION 3.4 An employee who is absent on account of sickness shall notify his supervisor as early as practicable on the first day of such absence, or as soon thereafter as possible. Failure to give such notice may result in the absence being charged to annual leave or leave without pay, as the circumstances may justify. Requests for sick leave for medical, dental, or optical examination or treatment shall be submitted for approval prior to the beginning of the leave.

SECTION 3.5 Written application on the prescribed form for grant of sick leave shall be filed within two days after the employee returns to duty. For periods of absence in excess of 3 work days the application must be supported by a medical certificate. Such certificate shall be filed within 15 days after return to duty: Provided, that when a medical certificate cannot reasonably be obtained, a certificate of the employee relating the facts incident to the illness may be accepted. All applications for sick leave for medical, dental, or optical examination or treatment shall be supported by a medical certificate.

SECTION 3.6 When sickness occurs within a period of annual leave and lasts in excess of 5 work days, the period of illness may be charged as sick leave and the charge against annual leave reduced accordingly. Application for such substitution of sick leave for annual leave shall be made within two days after return to duty and shall be supported by a medical certificate.

SECTION 3.7 Sick leave may not be granted for a period immediately following a period of absence in a non-pay status, unless and until there is a return to actual duty, nor may such leave without pay be converted to sick leave.

ADVANCE OF SICK LEAVE

SECTION 3.8 In cases of serious disability or ailments, and when the exigencies of the situation so require, sick leave may be advanced to permanent and indefinite employees not in excess of 30 days: Provided, that no advances of sick leave shall be made to any employee unless the absence from duty on account of illness is for a period, or periods, of 5 or more consecutive work days; that every application for advance leave shall be supported by a medical certificate; that the total of such advances shall be charged against sick leave subsequently credited. Sick leave may be advanced irrespective of whether the employee has annual leave to his credit.

SECTION 3.9 Sick leave shall not be advanced to an employee holding a limited appointment, or one expiring on a specified date, in excess of the total sick leave that would accrue during the remaining period of such appointment.

PART IV—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 4.1

(a) Leave shall be credited in units of hours on the basis of the established work day. Fractional parts of an hour that equal or exceed ½ hour shall be counted as one hour and fractions of less than ½ hour shall be disregarded.

(b) Whenever the number of hours of duty in an employee's work day is permanently changed the leave standing to his credit shall be converted to the proper number of hours based upon the new work day.

(c) The accumulated leave of each employee, as of December 31, 1943, shall be converted from days-hours-minutes to units of hours. Fractional parts of an hour that equal or exceed ½ hour shall be counted as one hour and fractions of less than ½ hour shall be disregarded.

(a) Leave shall accrue to an employee while in a leave-with-pay status providing he returns to duty.

(b) Annual leave shall not accrue to an employee while on terminal leave, whether by separation, furlough, or resignation. In such cases the accrual of leave shall cease at the close of the last day on which he was present for duty, and the final date of separation shall not be extended by the granting of sick or court leave: Provided, that this subsection shall not apply to employees who are on terminal leave on the date of issuance of this order.

SECTION 4.3 Whenever a permanent employee is absent on leave without pay 15 or more days during a calendar year, the credits for annual leave shall be reduced one day and for sick leave one-half day for each such period aggregating 15 days. Whenever such absences total 90 days there shall be a further reduction of ½ day in annual leave credits for each such period: Provided, that when an employee absent because of injury received in line of duty requests to be carried on leave-without-pay, he shall, upon his return to duty, receive credit for accrued leave covering the period for which he was paid disability compensation by the Employees' Compensation Commission.

SECTION 4.4 Leave shall not accrue during any period of suspension for disciplinary reasons which is in excess of three days.

SECTION 4.5 Leave shall be charged only for absence upon days which an employee would otherwise work and receive pay and shall be exclusive of Sundays which do not occur within a regular tour of duty, holidays, and all non-work days established by Federal statute or by Executive or administrative order: Provided, that when a holiday is declared by general administrative order to be a work day, an employee who absents himself from work without permission on that day shall be subject to a deduction of one day's pay.

SECTION 4.6 Unavoidable or necessary absence from duty not in excess of thirty minutes, and tardiness, shall be handled administratively by excuse for adequate reasons, or by requiring additional work, or by a charge against overtime previously worked beyond regular hours, or by disciplinary action, or by a charge against annual leave.

SECTION 4.7 In case of the separation of an employee who is indebted for advance leave, the employee shall refund the amount paid him for the period of such excess, or deduction therefor shall be made from any salary due him. This section shall not apply in cases of death, retirement, or reduction of force, or in case an employee who is not found eligible for retirement is unable to return to duty because of disability, evidence of which shall be supported by an acceptable medical certificate.

SECTION 4.8

(a) Leave without pay may be granted to an employee for a period not exceeding twelve months regardless of whether he has leave standing to his credit.

(b) An employee whose active services are terminated as a result of the expiration of a statute in connection with the administration of which he is employed and who at the time of such expiration has not exhausted the leave standing to his credit shall be granted leave without pay or furlough for a maximum period of twelve months.

SECTION 4.9 When an employee is appointed, reappointed, or transferred from one permanent position to another permanent position, without a break in service, his leave account shall be disposed of as follows:

(a) If the position is within the purview of the leave acts of March 14, 1936, the leave account shall be certified to the employing agency for credit or charge to the employee.

(b) If the position to which he is appointed or transferred is not within the purview of the leave acts of March 14, 1936, the employee shall be furnished with a statement of his leave account, and if he is subsequently appointed, reappointed, or transferred to another position within the purview of such acts, the leave shown to be due will be credited to his account.

SECTION 4.10

(a) When an employee is appointed, reappointed, or transferred without a break in service from a permanent position to a temporary position in the same agency, he shall be credited with such leave as may be due him or charged with any unaccrued leave which may have been advanced.

(b) When an employee is appointed, reappointed, or transferred without a break in service from a permanent position to a temporary position in a different agency he shall be furnished with a statement of his leave account and if subsequently he is appointed, reappointed, or transferred without a break in service to a permanent position the amount of leave shown to be due shall be credited to his account.

SECTION 4.11 Temporary employees who subsequently receive permanent appointments without break in service, either in the same or a different department or agency, shall be credited with such leave as may be due them, or charged with any unaccrued leave which may have been advanced.

PART V—ADMINISTRATION

SECTION 5.1 The heads or governing bodies of the various governmental agencies to which this Executive order applies shall be responsible for the proper administration of these regulations so far as they pertain to employees under their respective jurisdictions, and they shall maintain an account of leave for each employee in accordance with methods prescribed by the Civil Service Commission and approved by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget.

SECTION 5.2 The head or governing body of any governmental agency which has employees who work 24-hour shifts, or other uncommon tours of duty, is authorized to promulgate supplemental regulations consistent with these regulations for administering leave for such employees.

SECTION 5.3 Nothing in these regulations shall be construed to prevent the continuance of any leave differential existing prior to January 1, 1936, for the benefit of employees of the Federal Government stationed without the continental limits of the United States. However, any department may, if it so desires, apply these regulations to employees stationed without the continental limits of the United States, subject to the continuance of such leave differential.

PART VI—EMPLOYEES EXCEPTED

SECTION 6.1 These regulations shall not apply to:

(a) Teachers and Librarians of the public schools of the District of Columbia.

(b) Officers and employees of the Panama Canal and the Panama Railroad Co., on the Isthmus of Panama.

§ 249.1 Eligible processors. Payments under this offer shall be available to processors in continental United States who make eligible sales (such processors being herein called "eligible processors"), upon compliance with the terms and conditions specified herein.

§ 249.2 Eligible sales. The term "eligible sale" as used herein means a bona fide sale and delivery of eligible grapefruit juice during the term of this offer, by a processor,

(a) To a primary distributor or wholesaler or retailer for resale for consumption other than by a Government agency, or

(b) To a consumer for consumption other than by a Government agency:

Provided, however, That the products included in such sale or sales were not packed, sold, or delivered in violation of any order or regulation of Office of Price Administration or War Food Administration or in violation of any applicable Federal or State law or regulation. This offer shall not extend to conditional sales, forward sales, or any sales which are not absolute sales in normal trade channels. In the event any eligible processor's total production of eligible grapefruit juice during the period October 1, 1943 to September 30, 1944 shall exceed 90% of such eligible processor's total production of grapefruit juice during the period of October 1, 1942 to September 30, 1943 (such total in respect of each period being inclusive of sales to Government agencies and export sales) no payments shall be made in respect of such excess except to the extent, if any, approved by Commodity.

In the event a processor makes a sale which qualifies as an eligible sale hereunder except that the grapefruit juice, which otherwise would be eligible grapefruit juice, which is the subject thereof was not packed by it but was purchased by it from the processor who packed such grapefruit juice, such a sale shall be deemed to be an eligible sale hereunder but: (1) application for payment (or interim settlement, as the case may be) in respect thereof pursuant to § 249.9 hereof shall be made to Commodity by the processor who packed such grapefruit juice, such application being forwarded to Commodity by the processor who made such sale accompanied by such evidence with respect to such eligible sale as Commodity shall require; and (2) payment shall be made by Commodity to, and the rates applicable to, the processor who packed such eligible grapefruit juice.

§ 249.3 Reports of fresh fruit purchases, pack, sales, and government set-aside. With respect to its operations during each calendar month included in the term of this offer, each eligible processor shall report to Commodity (within five days after publication of this offer in respect of the months of October, November, and December, 1943, and not later than the fifth day of the following month in respect of January 1944 and each subsequent calendar month) stating, separately as to each of the areas in which it operates:

(a) The total deliveries to its plants, in net tons, of grapefruit of the 1943–1944 crop during the calendar mohth for processing into eligible grapefruit juice showing separately:

(1) The quantity actually delivered; and

(2) The quantity which should be included in the determination of monthly area fruit costs pursuant to § 249.5 hereof and that which should be excluded from such determination pursuant to § 249.4 hereof;

(b) The weighted average delivered cost per net ton to it of only such deliveries of grapefruit during the calendar month as are actually purchased and excluding all deliveries required to be excluded pursuant to § 249.4 hereof;

(c) The quantity of eligible grapefruit juice packed by it during the calendar month;

(d) The quantity of eligible grapefruit juice held by it set aside for sale to Government agencies for the 1943–1944 season to the end of the calendar month;

(e) The quantity of eligible grapefruit juice sold by it during the 1943–1944 crop season to the end of such calendar month: (i) to Government agencies, (ii) to others where payments hereunder are applicable to such sales; and (iii) to others where payments hereunder are not so applicable; and

(f) The total quantity of eligible grapefruit juice on hand.

In the event any processor who otherwise may be eligible shall fail to comply in all respects with the report requirements of this § 249.3, such processor shall, if and to the extent that Commodity shall direct, forfeit benefits and payments under this offer.

§ 249.4 Deliveries excluded from computation of averages. In respect of eligible processors which receive deliveries of grapefruit:

(a) From their producer-members if such eligible processors are cooperative associations; or

(b) Grown by them or by growers who, to a predominant extent, control or are controlled by them; or

(c) To be processed in their behalf by other processors or to be processed by them for other persons; or

(d) Other than on a specified price per ton or per box basis and for processing into eligible grapefruit juice, deliveries of the types thus specified shall not be considered in determining either weighted average delivered costs pursuant to § 249.3 hereof or monthly area fruit costs pursuant to § 249.5 hereof, but all such deliveries shall be reported to Commodity pursuant to § 249.3 hereof separately from deliveries of grapefruit eligible for inclusion in such determinations of weighted average delivered costs and monthly area fruit costs.

Any processor may make inquiry of, and receive a ruling from, Commodity with respect to its status under this § 249.4 or Commodity may on its own initiative make a ruling with respect to the status of any processor hereunder. Each eligible processor shall as a part of, or prior to, its first report hereunder supply in writing to Commodity a specification with respect to the sources of its fruit and its buying methods.

§ 249.5 Determination of monthly area fruit costs. As soon as practicable after receipt of the monthly telegraphic reports required pursuant to § 249.3

hereof, Commodity shall determine, on the basis of such information as may be available to it, the weighted average area industry delivered cost (hereinafter called the "monthly area fruit cost") of grapefruit with respect to each area, delivered to processers' plants exclusively for processing, for each monthly period covered by such reports: Provided, however, That in the event any monthly area fruit cost as thus determined for any month during the term of this offer shall be in excess of the following applicable maximum costs or less than the following minimum costs, then such monthly area fruit cost for such month shall be the applicable maximum (or minimum, as the case may be) cost hereinafter set forth, rather than the cost determined in accordance with this sentence hereof:

Grapefruit area	Dollars per ton
	Maximum	Minimum
Florida	$33.25	$24.47
Texas	37.25	24.00
California-Arizona	36.97	25.00

In respect of fresh grapefruit delivered to any eligible processor between October 1, 1943 and December 31, 1943, both dates inclusive, the monthly area fruit costs applicable thereto shall be deemed to be the same as those established for the month of January, 1944: Provided, however, That purchases of grapefruit delivered prior to January 1, 1944 shall not be considered in determining the monthly area fruit costs applicable to January, 1944. In respect of fresh grapefruit delivered to any eligible processor after May 31, 1944, the monthly area fruit costs applicable to such fresh grapefruit shall be those established for the month of May, 1944. In the event Commodity determines, in respect of any month, that reports made pursuant to § 249.3 hereof are inadequate properly to establish the monthly area fruit cost with respect to any area or areas, Commodity shall determine the monthly area fruit costs applicable to such area or areas for such month on the basis of prevailing prices in the fresh grapefruit market for fruit from such area or areas during such month adjusted to reflect appropriate differentials with respect to grapefruit for processing. Subject to the right of Commodity to correct or amend such determination in case of error, all determinations by Commodity of monthly area fruit costs shall be final and conclusive.

§ 249.6 Election of payment basis. Each eligible processor shall elect whether payments to it under § 249.13 hereof shall be computed: (a) on the basis (herein called the "packing month basis") of the monthly area fruit costs (determined pursuant to § 249.5 hereof) applicable: (1) to the month during which the eligible grapefruit juice included in any eligible sale was packed (irrespective of the month during which the grapefruit from which produced was purchased or delivered), and (2) to the area in which grapefruit which was processed into such eligible grapefruit juice was grown; or (b) on the basis of its seasonal average area fruit costs (determined pursuant to § 249.7 hereof). In filing its first application for payment (or interim settlement, as the case may be) pursuant to § 249.9 hereof, eligible processor shall specify such election and the basis thus specified by eligible processor in such first application shall constitute its payment basis for the entire term of this offer. In the event any eligible processor elects to adopt the packing month basis, such eligible processor, in making applications for payment hereunder pursuant to § 249.9 hereof, is required to establish, to the satisfaction of Commodity, the calendar month or months in which the products, included in each eligible sale covered by each such application for payment, were packed.

§ 249.7 Determination of seasonal average area fruit costs. Commodity shall determine, as soon as practicable after May 31, 1944, with respect to each eligible processor who elects to adopt the seasonal average area fruit cost basis pursuant to § 249.6 hereof, on the basis of the applicable monthly area fruit costs, determined pursuant to § 249.5 hereof, for the period from October 1, 1943 to May 31, 1944, both dates inclusive, weighted according to the quantity of eligible grapefruit juice packed by such eligible processor during each month of such applicable period, such eligible processor's applicable weighted average seasonal delivered costs (herein called "seasonal average area fruit costs") per net ton in respect of grapefruit delivered to such eligible processor's plant or plants in each such area for processing into eligible grapefruit juice during such applicable period.

§ 249.8 Rates of payment. The rates of payment hereunder on eligible grapefruit juice, per dozen cans included in any eligible sale, shall be as specified in the three tables contained in Schedule A attached hereto and by this reference made a part hereof, for: (1) the monthly area fruit cost applicable to the month in which such eligible grapefruit juice was packed (in the case of eligible processors who elect to adopt the packing month basis); or (2) the eligible processor's seasonal average area fruit cost computed as provided in § 249.7 hereof (in the case of eligible processors who elect to adopt the seasonal average area fruit costs basis). Rates of payment for cans of sizes other than those referred to in Schedule A and for glass containers of any size shall be computed ratably according to the net content thereof upon the basis of the rates of payment for No. 2 cans. In respect of any classes of grapefruit, used by eligible processors for juicing, other than those specified in Schedule A, the applicable rates of payment hereunder shall be such as Commodity shall prescribe. For the purpose of computing the amount of payment on each class of fruit included in each eligible sale, the payment applicable to a fraction of a dozen containers (metal or glass) shall be computed on the basis of the applicable per dozen rate or rates.

§ 249.9 Prerequisites to payment and interim settlement. Payments (or interim settlements, as the case may be) hereunder shall be made only to eligible processors who: (a) file applications, separately as to each area, for such payments (or interim settlements) in such form as may be prescribed by Commodity; and (b) supply, in respect of each such application for payment (or interim settlement) such supporting evidence, documents, and proofs as Commodity may require. An application for payment (or interim settlement, as the case may be) hereunder shall be filed by each eligible processor not oftener than once each calendar month unless and to the extent that more frequent filing is approved by Commodity.

§ 249.10 Interim settlements. In respect of any sales of eligible grapefruit juice made by an eligible processor who elects, pursuant to § 249.6 hereof, to adopt the seasonal average area fruit costs basis, prior to the determination of such eligible processor's applicable seasonal average area fruit costs as provided in § 249.7 hereof, such eligible processor may file application with Commodity for interim settlement. Any such interim settlement thus made shall be subject to final adjustment as provided in § 249.11 hereof. For the purpose of any such interim settlement, the rates of payment (herein called "interim payment rates") shall be as provided in § 249.8 hereof except that in lieu of using such eligible processor's seasonal average area fruit costs in such calculation, there shall be used the lowest applicable monthly area fruit costs, computed by Commodity pursuant to § 249.5 hereof, in respect of any month between January 1, 1944 and the date of such application for interim settlement.

§ 249.11 Adjustments. Commodity and each eligible processor who has received one or more interim settlements pursuant to § 249.10 hereof shall, as soon as practicable after determination, as provided in § 249.7 hereof, of such eligible processor's seasonal average area fruit costs, make appropriate adjustments between themselves, with respect to any difference between the aggregate amount of payments which such eligible processor has received from Commodity under interim settlements pursuant to § 249.10 hereof and the aggregate amount to which such eligible processor is entitled, on the basis provided in § 249.8 hereof, in respect of the eligible sales upon which such interim settlements were made. To the extent, if any, that the aggregate amount thus received in interim settlements pursuant to § 249.10 hereof exceeds the amount to which such eligible processor is entitled pursuant to § 249.8 hereof: (a) such eligible processor shall forthwith reimburse Commodity; or (b) Commodity may, at its election, set off such amount against any amount due or to become due from Commodity to such eligible processor. To the extent, if any, that such eligible processor is entitled to a larger aggregate sum on the basis prescribed in § 249.8 hereof than it received in interim settlements pursuant to § 249.10, Commodity shall make payment of such excess as soon as practicable.

§ 249.12 Right to reject applications for payment. Commodity shall have the right to reject, in whole or in part, any application for payment (or for interim settlement) hereunder in the event such application for payment (or interim settlement) or the transactions reflected therein are not in conformity with this offer. Any such rejection, in whole or in part, shall not preclude the filing by an eligible processor, within the time limitations provided in this offer, of a new application with respect to the transactions involved in such rejected application or rejected portion thereof should such eligible processor desire to submit further evidence with respect to its alleged compliance with this offer.

§ 249.13 Payment. Commodity shall, as soon as practicable after receipt of each such application for payment (or for interim settlement, as the case may be), make payment thereof (to the extent found to be in conformity with this offer) to the eligible processor who made the application for payment (or interim settlement): Provided, however, That no more than one payment shall be made by Commodity hereunder in respect of the eligible grapefruit juice contained in any particular container. The making of any such payment or interim settlement shall not preclude Commodity from requiring restitution of any such payment or portion thereof in the event of a subsequent finding: (a) that any such claim is invalid, defective or incorrectly computed; or (b) that the eligible processor had not in fact complied with the terms of this offer. Such right shall be in addition to any and all other rights of Commodity in the premises. Each eligible processor shall: (1) report the quantities of the various classes of products covered by payments or interim settlements by Commodity which were subsequently rejected or returned to such eligible processor; and (2) make appropriate adjustment therefor either by set-off or otherwise, within such period of time as Commodity shall direct. Reports and adjustments shall be made within 30 days of such rejection or return by each eligible processor in respect of any such products rejected or returned subsequent to the termination of this offer.

§ 249.14 Effective date. This offer shall apply to all eligible sales of eligible grapefruit juice by eligible processors made on or after October 1, 1943, and, unless sooner terminated pursuant to § 249.15 hereof, shall continue in effect and be applicable to eligible sales of eligible grapefruit juice made by eligible processors prior to December 1, 1944: Provided, That all applications for payment in respect thereof must, in any event, be made on or before December 31, 1944.

§ 249.15 Termination. Commodity reserves the right to amend or terminate this offer at any time by giving public notice of such amendment or termination. The issuance by Commodity or War Food Administration of a press release or the filing of the amendment or notice of termination with the FEDERAL REGISTER shall constitute sufficient public notice of any amendment or termination of this offer. Any such amendment or termination shall not preclude the subsequent filing of applications for payment hereunder by, and the making of payments to, eligible processors in respect of eligible sales of eligible grapefruit juice produced from fresh grapefruit delivered to plants of eligible processors not later than ten (10) days after the effective date of such amendment or termination pursuant to bona fide purchases made prior to the effective date of such amendment or termination: Provided, That such application for payment is made within ninety (90) days after the date of such amendment or termination or not later than December 31, 1944, whichever of said two dates shall be the earlier. In the event the issuance, amendment, modification or termination of any Maximum Price Regulation of the Office of Price Administration has the effect of reflecting or resulting in a raw fruit cost of grapefruit for processing into grapefruit juice different from those reflected in its present civilian ceiling prices on grapefruit juice, Commodity may, in its discretion, make such equitable adjustment as it may deem necessary in the rate or rates of payment provided for in § 249.8 hereof, and such adjusted rate or rates may be made applicable to eligible grapefruit juice sold by eligible processors subsequent to the effective date of the issuance, amendment, modification or termination of such Maximum Price Regulation.

In the event this offer be terminated in whole or in part effective:

(a) On a date other than the last day of a calendar month, the monthly area fruit costs for the month in which such termination occurs shall be determined pursuant to § 249.5 hereof on the basis of that portion of such calendar month to and including the effective date of such termination; or

(b) Prior to the end of the period specified in § 249.7 hereof as determinative of the seasonal average area fruit costs of eligible processors who elect, pursuant to § 249.6 hereof, to adopt the seasonal average area fruit cost basis, such seasonal average area fruit costs in respect of each such eligible processor shall be determined on the basis of the period from October 1, 1943 to the effective date of such termination (inclusive, however, of eligible grapefruit juice packed by eligible processors from grapefruit purchased in bona fide transactions prior to the effective date of such termination and delivered to eligible processors' plants not later than ten (10) days after such effective date.

§ 249.16 Instructions and interpretations. Commodity shall have the right to amplify or clarify any provision or provisions of this offer without changing the substance hereof, or alter any procedure prescribed herein at any time by the issuance of instructions or interpretations in connection therewith.

§ 249.17 Books and records. All eligible processors shall maintain complete and accurate books, records and accounts (and furnish Commodity such information as it may request) with respect to all: (1) grapefruit purchased or otherwise acquired by them; (2) grapefruit processed; and (3) eligible sales made by them. All such books, records and accounts shall be carefully preserved for a period of not less than two (2) years and shall be available for inspection by Commodity or its designated agents or representatives at any reasonable time during such period.

§ 249.18 Assignments. Payments hereunder shall be made only to the eligible processor its approved assignee. No benefit or claim hereunder shall be assignable except with the written approval of Commodity.

Chapter XI—War Food Administration (Distribution Orders)

[FDO 79–115]

FLUID MILK AND CREAM IN THE MIAMI, FLA., METROPOLITAN SALES AREA

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 79 (8 F.R. 12426), issued on September 7, 1943, as amended, and to effectuate the purposes of such order, it is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1401.149 Quota restrictions—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof:

(1) Each term defined in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is set forth for such term in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended.

(2) The term "FDO 79" means Food Distribution Order No. 79, issued on September 7, 1943, as amended.

(3) The term "sub-handler" means any handler, such as a peddler, vendor, sub-dealer, or secondary dealer, who purchases in a previously packaged and processed form milk, cream, or milk byproducts for delivery.

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Miami, Florida, metropolitan milk sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Miami and the entire area included in the election precincts numbered 1 to 84, inclusive, that part of 85 comprising parts of Miami Springs town, 87 to 106, inclusive, and those parts of 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, comprising parts of the cities of Coral Gables, Miami, and South Miami, all in Dade County, Florida.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools: And provided further, That in the computation set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

(i) Handler exemptions. Quota shall not apply to any handler who delivers in a quota period a daily average of less than 100 units of milk, cream, and milk byproducts. For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

FLUID MILK AND CREAM IN THE DURHAM, N. C., SALES AREA

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 79 (8 F.R. 12426), issued on September 7, 1943, as amended, and to effectuate the purposes of such order, it is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1401.152 Quota restrictions—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof:

(1) Each term defined in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is set forth for such term in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended.

(2) The term "FDO 79" means Food Distribution Order No. 79, issued on September 7, 1943, as amended.

(3) The term "sub-handler" means any handler, such as a peddler, vendor, sub-dealer, or secondary dealer, who purchases in a previously packaged and processed form milk, cream, or milk byproducts for delivery.

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purposes of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Durham, North Carolina, milk sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Durham and the townships of Durham and Patterson, all in Durham County, North Carolina.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools: And provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2):

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

FLUID MILK AND CREAM IN THE HOUSTON, TEX., SALES AREA

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Food Distribution Order No. 79 (8 F.R. 12426), issued on September 7, 1943, as amended, and to effectuate the purposes of such order, it is hereby ordered as follows:

§ 1401.155 Quota restrictions—(a) Definitions. When used in this order, unless otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent hereof:

(1) Each term defined in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended, shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is set forth for such term in Food Distribution Order No. 79, as amended.

(2) The term "FDO 79" means Food Distribution Order No. 79, issued on September 7, 1943, as amended.

(3) The term "sub-handler" means any handler, such as a peddler, vendor, sub-dealer, or secondary dealer, who purchases in a previously packaged and processed form milk, cream, or milk byproducts for delivery.

(4) The term "industrial user" means a person, as determined by the market agent, in the capacity of a manufacturer of products using as an ingredient therein milk, cream, or milk byproducts, which products are disposed of for resale to consumers off the premises where made.

(5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Houston, Texas, milk sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Houston, justices' precincts 1, 2, 6, and that part of justices' precinct 8 lying west of the San Jacinto River and that part of justices' precinct 3 east of the San Jacinto River which lies south of the Texas and New Orleans Railroad, all in Harris County, Texas.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools: And provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

(h) Cream deliveries. The units of cream delivered subject to quota in any quota period shall not exceed 100 percent of the units of cream in his base, irrespective of the milk solids content of such deliveries.

(i) Handler exemptions. Quota shall not apply to any handler who delivers in a quota period a daily average of less than 200 units of milk, cream, and milk byproducts. For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

(2) Homes and retail stores handling milk for consumption off the premises; and

(3) Establishments serving milk for consumption on the premises.

(m) Petition for relief from hardship. (1) Any person affected by FDO 79 or the provisions hereof who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may file with the market agent a petition addressed to the Director. The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream, and milk byproducts.

(o) Records. Handlers shall keep and shall make available to the market agent such records of receipts, sales, deliveries, and production as the market agent shall require for the purpose of obtaining information which the Director may require for the establishment of quotas as prescribed in (b) of FDO 79.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(q) Violations. The market agent shall report all violations to the Director together with the information required for the prosecution of such violations.

(r) Bureau of the Budget approval. The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. (5) The term "base" means the total pounds of milk solids delivered by a handler within the sales area during the base period (i) in the form of milk, or (ii) in the form of cream and milk byproducts, minus the milk solids in quota-exempt deliveries of milk, and cream and milk byproducts, as described in (j) hereof. (For the purpose of this order, the milk solids content of milk, milk byproducts, and cream shall be computed as follows: Each hundredweight of milk, cream, or milk byproducts other than cottage, pot, or baker's cheese, shall be considered the equivalent of 9.375 pounds of milk solids plus the number of pounds of milk solids calculated by multiplying the pounds of butterfat in such milk, and cream and milk byproducts by .906; and each hundredweight of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese shall be considered the equivalent of 62.5 pounds of milk solids plus one pound of milk solids for each one percent of butterfat content of such cheese.)

(b) Milk sales area. The following area is hereby designated as a "milk sales area" to be known as the Fort Worth, Texas, milk sales area, and is referred to hereinafter as the "sales area":

The city of Fort Worth and justices' precincts 1, 2, 5, and 6, all in Tarrant County, Texas.

(c) Base period. The calendar month of June 1943 is hereby designated as the base period for the sales area: Provided, That the month of May may be used as the base period for computing base and quota for deliveries to elementary, junior high and high schools: And provided further, That in the computations set forth in (e) hereof the total deliveries to elementary, junior high, and high schools in the base period shall be divided by the number of days such schools were in session in lieu of the total number of days in the base period as set forth in (e) (1) and the average daily deliveries so determined shall be multiplied by the number of days such schools are in session in each quota period in lieu of the number of days in the quota period as set forth in (e) (2).

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(3) Multiply the aforesaid resulting amounts by 100 percent in the case of the base for milk, and 75 percent in the case of the base for cream and milk byproducts.

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(k) Transfers of bases. The market agent is empowered to transfer base from one handler to another.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream, and milk byproducts.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(d) The remainder of the calendar month in which the provisions hereof become effective and each subsequent calendar month, respectively, is hereby designated as the quota period for the sales area.

(e) Handler quotas. Quotas for each handler other than a sub-handler or producer-handler shall be determined as follows:

(1) Divide his respective bases by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the foregoing result by the number of days in the quota period; and

(f) Quotas for handlers who are also producers. Quotas for each handler who is also a producer and who purchases no milk shall be computed in accordance with (e) hereof, except:

(1) His base period shall be either June or December, whichever represents his larger total deliveries; and,

(2) The applicable percentages shall be 100 percent in lieu of those specified in (e) (3).

(g) Quota adjustments. Each handler may increase his quota for milk within any quota period by one pound of milk solids for each one pound of milk solids he reduces his quota for cream and milk byproducts.

For the purpose of this order, a unit shall be the equivalent in volume of the following: (1) One quart of milk, buttermilk, or fluid milk byproducts; (2) one-half pint of cream; and (3) one-half pound of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese.

(j) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, cream or other dairy products from which no milk, milk byproducts, or cream, is delivered in the sales area, (3) to industrial users, and (4) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(1) Upon receipt of a request in writing from both handlers; and

(2) Upon application from a handler and written notice to the Director and to both handlers, (i) to permit deliveries to a purchaser not being served by a handler whose quota reflects deliveries to such purchaser in the base period, (ii) to permit a handler to serve an account which customarily rotates among several handlers inclusive of a contract let by a public agency or institution on a bid basis, and (iii) to permit a handler to serve an account which he is serving on the effective date of this order and which was served by another handler during the base period.

(l) Consumer priorities. In the distribution of milk subject to quotas established hereunder, a handler shall give preference in the order listed, taking into consideration the type of purchasers served by him in the base period, to:

(1) The need of children, expectant mothers, and invalids requiring milk;

(2) Homes and retail stores handling milk for consumption off the premises; and

(3) Establishments serving milk for consumption on the premises.

The petition shall contain the correct name, address and principal place of business of the petitioner, a full statement of the facts upon which the petition is based, and the hardship involved and the nature of the relief desired.

(2) Upon receiving such petition the market agent shall immediately investigate representations and facts stated therein.

(3) After investigation, the petition shall be certified to the Director, but prior to certification the market agent may (i) deny the petition or (ii) grant temporary relief for a total period not to exceed 60 days.

(4) Denials or grants of relief by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director and may be affirmed, modified, or reversed by the Director.

(n) Reports. Each handler shall transmit to the market agent on forms prescribed by the market agent the following reports:

(1) Within 20 days following the effective date of this order, reports which show the information required by the market agent to establish such handler's quotas;

(2) Within 20 days following the close of each quota period, the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, cream and milk byproducts during the preceding quota period; and

(3) Handlers exempt from quotas pursuant to (i) hereof shall, upon the request of the market agent, submit the information required by the market agent to establish volumes of deliveries of milk, and milk byproducts.

(o) Records. Handlers shall keep and shall make available to the market agent such records of receipts, sales, deliveries, and production, as the market agent shall require for the purpose of obtaining information which the Director may require for the establishment of quotas as prescribed in (b) of FDO 79.

(p) Expense of administration. Each handler shall pay to the market agent, within 20 days after the close of each calendar month, an assessment of $0.015 per hundredweight of each of milk, milk byproducts, cream, and skim milk equivalent of cottage, pot, or baker's cheese delivered during the preceding quota period and subject to quota regulations under the provisions hereof.

(q) Violations. The market agent shall report all violations to the Director together with the information required for the prosecution of such violations.

The Director, in his discretion, is authorized to appoint alternates, to fill vacancies, and to remove and replace members of such boards. Such boards are hereby authorized to hold public hearings in order to recommend to the Administrator areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise, for which wage rates should be established as authorized in § 4001.7 of the general regulations. Such boards shall have the authority to hold hearings in order to determine whether there have been violations of these regulations or of specific wage ceiling regulations issued by the Administrator. Such boards may exercise such further functions as the Administrator or the Director may prescribe. Alternate members of a wage board may, when acting, perform all the functions of the regular members of the board.

§ 1100.5 Interpretation of the term "agricultural labor." The meaning of the term "agricultural labor" as used in the general regulations and these regulations is not free from difficulty in its application to specific cases. While the definition in the general regulations and these regulations will enable those affected to determine their status in the vast majority of cases, there are always border line cases which may leave affected persons in doubt. The War Food Administrator is authorized by § 4001.1 (1) of the general regulations to issue such interpretations of the definition of "agricultural labor" as he finds necessary. It is the purpose of this interpretation to clarify such border line cases insofar as experience to date will permit. The situations covered below will constitute or will not constitute agricultural labor as the case may be, for the purpose of these regulations. However, the Administrator may supplement this interpretation from time to time, as more specific cases are brought to his attention, and reserves the right to determine in specific cases whether employees are employed in agricultural labor.

Employees engaged in the following described operations are agricultural labor for the purpose of the general regulations and these regulations, unless otherwise herein specifically stated to the contrary:

(a) Cultivation and tillage of the soil. Preparation of a suitable seedbed; elimination of competing weed growth, and improvement of physical condition of the soil. Includes services performed in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs, or waterways used exclusively for supplying and storing water for farm purposes.

(b) Dairying. Milking of cows or goats, putting the milk into tins, cooling it, and storing it on the farm. If the milk is obtained from the employer's cows or goats, his employees engaged in operations such as separating the cream from the milk, or making butter and cheese out of such milk and cream, are agricultural labor.

(c) Production, cultivation, growing, harvesting of agricultural or horticultural commodities. Includes all customary operations in connection with the raising of any agricultural or horticultural commodity, and all operations customarily performed in connection with the removal of such commodities from the place where they are grown. See also paragraph (g) 1 hereof.

Agricultural or horticultural commodities include grains, forage crops, fruits, vegetables, nuts, sugar crops, fiber crops, tobacco, nursery products, and eggs.

Employees engaged in growing or harvesting agricultural commodities are agricultural labor, even though the commodities are raised in a greenhouse, nursery, enclosed shed, or hotbed.

(d) Raising of livestock. Includes the breeding, feeding, and general care of the following animals among others: cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, jackasses, or goats. It does not include any labor employed at stockyards.

(e) Raising of bees. Includes all activities customarily performed in connection with the handling and keeping of bees, including treatment of disease, and the raising of queens.

(f) Raising of poultry. Includes the breeding, hatching, feeding and general care of poultry, whether such activities are performed on a farm or in hatcheries. The word "poultry" includes domestic fowl and game birds.

The raising of fur bearing animals is not included in the definition of agricultural labor, and employees engaged in raising such animals are not agricultural labor, as that term is used in the general regulations and these regulations.

(g) Miscellaneous situations. (1) Employees engaged in packing, or other preparation of agricultural commodities for market, delivery of such commodities to storage or market, or to a carrier for transportation to market, generally are not agricultural labor. However, if an employee is engaged primarily in an occupation that is classified in these regulations as agricultural labor, and incidentally aids in packing, or otherwise preparing agricultural commodities for market, delivery of such commodities to storage or market or to a carrier for transportation to market, and such commodities are produced by the employer who has employed him for his primary occupation, such an employee shall be considered agricultural labor: Provided, That, such an employee shall not be considered to be employed in agricultural labor to the extent that he works in a packing shed or other establishment preparing agricultural commodities for market which employs eight or more employees in packing or other preparation of agricultural commodities for market.

(2) Employees who are agricultural labor as defined herein will continue to remain in that status, even though they are employed in forestry and lumber operations, so long as the operations constitute a subordinate and established part of the employer's farm activities. Employees engaged totally or a majority of their time in such operations are not agricultural labor, even though their employer also conducts farm operations which are classified herein as agricultural. If the employer is engaged in lumbering operations on logs or timber grown on other farms as well as his own, his employees engaged in such operations are not agricultural labor. Logging or sawmill operations performed by employees of persons other than the operator of the farm are not agricultural labor.

(3) Clerical help, farm managers, mechanics, maintenance workers, and night watchmen are agricultural labor when they are directly employed to aid in farming operations. (This does not include independent contractors, or their employees, who are engaged in performing any of the above types of work.) Such persons are not to be considered agricultural labor when they work at an establishment which is not located at the site of the farming operations.

§ 1100.6 Applicable to employers of a single employee. Section 4001.16 of the general regulations is not applicable to agricultural labor and employers of agricultural labor are subject to the provisions of the Act, the general regulations, these regulations, or other orders, rulings, and regulations promulgated under the Act, irrespective of the number of employees which they employ.

§ 1100.7 Specific wage ceiling regulations. In accordance with the provisions of § 4001.7 of the general regulations, increases may be made in salary and wage payments to agricultural labor, so long as such payments are not more than $2,400.00 per annum, without the prior approval of the Administrator. However, the Administrator has authority under the provisions of that section to determine that, with respect to areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise, such increases or payments may no longer be made without the approval of the Administrator. The Administrator has already exercised his authority under that section with respect to the wages and salaries of certain employees engaged in working upon particular crops in designated areas, by the issuance of specific wage ceiling regulations adapted to the particular crop and area. From time to time the Administrator may issue other specific wage ceiling regulations relating to particular areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise. Nothing in these regulations is to be taken as superseding or amending such specific wage ceiling regulations as have already been issued, and nothing in any specific wage ceiling regulation issued hereafter shall be taken to supersede or amend these regulations unless so specifically stated in the specific wage ceiling regulation.

§ 1100.8 Procedure for recommending establishment of wage ceiling. Whenever it is directed by the Administrator or the Director, a wage board shall, and upon its own initiative may, hold a public hearing, for the purpose of aiding the Administrator in the establishment of specific wage ceiling regulations described in § 1100.7 hereof. For the purpose of such hearings a member of the staff of the Office of Labor, sitting as a non-voting member of the board, may be appointed. The board shall give public notice of such hearing at least seven days prior to the hearing. Such public notice shall be given by posting in prominent places in the area to be affected, and by publication in local newspapers of general circulation. The hearing shall be conducted by the full board with the chairman or acting chairman presiding. The hearing shall be informal. Testimony shall be taken concerning the type of work to be controlled, the exact areas to be subject to control, the crop or crops to be affected, the wage rates paid, and all related matters relative to the establishment of a wage ceiling. All interested persons may appear and testify. A transcript of the record shall be kept. The presiding officer shall open the hearing with a statement of its purpose and the rules which will govern. As soon as possible after the hearing is concluded, the board shall prepare its recommendations (which must be approved by at least a majority of the board) as to the type of employment, wage rates to be paid, crop or crops to be affected, the extent of the area to be subject to control, and other related matters, and forward the report together with the transcript of the hearing to the Administrator. Neither the testimony received nor the recommendations of the board are binding upon the Administrator in establishing a specific wage ceiling regulation. Any interested person may file a petition for reconsideration of a specific wage ceiling regulation with the wage board administering the regulation or with the Administrator. If such petition is filed with a wage board, such board shall forward the petition together with its recommendations to the Administrator.

§ 1100.9 Salary or wage increases requiring approval. Section 4001.7 of the general regulations provides that salaries or wages of agricultural labor may be increased up to $2,400.00 without approval, unless the Administrator has issued a specific wage ceiling regulation as described in § 1100.7 hereof. That section of the general regulations provides that the phrase "$2,400.00 per annum" shall mean $200.00 a month or the equivalent weekly, hourly, piece work rate or comparable basis, except that in individual cases salary or wage payments may be more than $200.00 a month or the equivalent rate for not exceeding sixty days in any one year, if the aggregate wage or salary payments to the laborer from all sources of employment as an agricultural laborer are not more than $2,400.00 for that year.

However, no increase in salary or wage payments may be made to employees engaged in agricultural labor who, at the effective date of this regulation, received such payments in the amount of $2,400.00 per annum or more, or when the effect of the increase will be to increase salary or wage payments to more than $2,400.00 per annum, without the prior approval of the Administrator. It makes no difference whether the salary or wage rate increase is accomplished by salary or wage increases per se, or by means of bonuses or other forms of additional compensation. All such payments which will have the effect of raising the earnings of an employee who earns $2,400.00 per annum or more, or of raising the earnings of the employee to more than $2,400.00 per annum, must be approved to be lawful.

Payment for overtime which will have the effect of increasing the salary or wage payment where an employee already earns $2,400.00 per annum or more, or which will have the effect of increasing the salary or wage payment of an employee who earns less than $2,400.00 per annum, to more than $2,400.00 per annum or its equivalent rate, will constitute a salary or wage increase, and thus will require the approval of the Administrator unless prior to the date of issuance of these regulations the practice of the employer has been to pay for overtime, and the rate and number of overtime hours has not been changed.

When a specific wage ceiling regulation relating to an area, crop, class of employer, or otherwise, is issued, as described in § 1100.7 hereof, no payments above the rates described in such specific regulation may be made without the prior approval of the Administrator: Provided, That, if an employer was paying a particular employee doing the same type of work at a higher wage or salary rate between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942, such employer may pay such employee at the wage or salary rate paid during that period. Payments may be made by those affected, up to and including the rates prescribed by such specific wage ceiling regulations, without the approval of the Administrator. Except in those instances where a lower rate has been established by a specific wage ceiling regulation, no approval is required to increase salary or wage payments to agricultural labor up to $2,400.00 per annum.

The existence of prior contracts for salary or wage increases or payments will not justify increases or payments without the prior approval of the Administrator where such approval is required by these regulations or by any specific wage ceiling regulation.

Any increases in wage or salary payments will be in contravention of the act, if made without approval. The increase will be lawful only from the date specified in the approval.

§ 1100.10 How approval obtained. Approval for an increase in salary or wage payments when the employee, prior to the proposed increase, is receiving such payments in the amount of $2,400.00 per annum or more, or when the effect of the proposed revision will be to increase such payments to more than $2,400.00 per annum, may be sought by sending an application for the approval of such increase to the Director, Office of Labor, War Food Administration, Washington, D. C. The burden of justifying an increase in salary or wage payments shall in every instance be upon the employer seeking to make such increase. Increases in such salary or wage payments will not be approved except in the following cases:

(a) Such adjustments as may be deemed proper by the Administrator and have not heretofore been made to compensate in accordance with the "Little Steel" formula as heretofore defined by the National War Labor Board, for the rise in the cost of living between January 1, 1941 and May 1, 1942.

(b) Salary and wage adjustment clearly necessary to adjust salaries or wages up to the minimum of the tested and going rates paid for the same work in the same or most nearly comparable areas in the same labor market, except in rare and unusual cases in which the critical needs of agricultural war production require the setting of a salary or wage at some point above the minimum of the going salary or wage bracket.

(c) Reasonable adjustments may be made with the approval of the Administrator in case of promotions, reclassifications, merit increases, and incentive payments: Provided, That such adjustments do not increase the level of production costs appreciably or furnish a basis either to increase prices or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in prices.

§ 1100.11 Limitation on effect of increases. No increase in salary or wage payments which requires the approval of the Administrator shall furnish the basis either to increase prices or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in prices, or furnish the basis for further wage or salary increases.

§ 1100.12 Salary or wage decreases. In the case of salary or wage payments existing as of the time of the issuance of these regulations, by means of which an employee is paid $5,000.00 or less per annum for any particular work, the general rule is that no decrease can be made by an employer in such salary or wage payment below the highest salary or wage rate paid for such work in the local area between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942. A decrease may be permitted, however, with the approval of the Administrator, in order to correct a gross inequity in any case, or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Where such decrease is permitted, the salary or wage rate may be reduced below the highest salary or wage rate paid for the work in question between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any decrease in such salary or wage rate shall be considered in contravention of the Act if it is made prior to the approval thereof by the Administrator. Except as may be otherwise provided from time to time by the Administrator, an application for approval of any salary or wage decrease shall be filed in the same manner as in the case of an application for approval of a salary or wage increase. See § 1100.10.

The Administrator's approval is not required, for example, in the following cases where salary or wage decreases are made:

(a) The new salary or wage rate does not fall below the highest salary or wage rate existing between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, for the particular work in question, or for the same or comparable work in the local area.

(b) An employee has been demoted to a lower position than that filled by him between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, and the salary or wage rate for such lower position is not less than the highest salary or wage rate existing for that position during the same period.

(c) An employee has been relieved of specific duties and responsibilities.

A disparity between salaries and wages paid by a particular employer and those paid by employers generally in the local area does not necessarily constitute justification for a decrease in salary or wage rates paid by such employer. The words "for any particular work" in this § 1100.12 refer to the particular work of the particular employee and not to a particular type of work.

If a specific wage ceiling regulation as described in § 1100.7 hereof has been issued which establishes a lower salary or wage rate than that which an affected employee is receiving, by contract or otherwise, the salary or wage payments of the employee must be decreased to the salary or wage rate established by the specific wage ceiling regulation, unless an employer was paying a particular employee doing the same type of work higher wages or salary payments between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, in which event the employee's payments must be decreased to those received during that period. No approval is required for such decreases.

§ 1100.13 Scope of regulations—(a) Geographical: The provisions of these regulations shall not apply to salaries or wages in any territory or possession of the United States.

(b) Services in foreign countries. The provisions of these regulations shall not be applicable in the case of any individual employer resident in the United States or any territory or possession thereof, or of a corporate employer organized under the laws of the United States or any State, territory or possession, with respect to salaries or wages paid by such employers to employees for service rendered exclusively in foreign countries.

(c) Foreign employers. The provisions of these regulations shall not be applicable in the case of nonresident foreign employers, except that if any salary or wage is paid to any employee residing in the United States, payment of such salary or wage is subject to all the provisions of these regulations.

§ 1100.14 Conclusiveness of determination. (a) Any determination of the Administrator that a salary or wage payment is in contravention of the Act is conclusive in every respect upon all executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government for the following purposes:

(1) Determining costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereunder.

(2) Calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States.

(3) Determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States.

(b) Any such determination of the Administrator is final and not subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings. Nothing herein is intended, however, to deny the right of any employer or employee to contest in The Tax Court of the United States or in any court of competent jurisdiction the validity of:

(1) Any provision of these regulations on the ground that such provision is not authorized by law, or

(2) Any action taken or determination made under these regulations, on the ground that such action or determination is not authorized, or has not been taken or made in a manner required, by law.

§ 1100.15 Effect of unlawful payments—(a) Amounts disregarded. Section 5 (a) of the Act provides in effect that the President shall prescribe the extent to which any salary or wage payments made in contravention of regulations promulgated under the Act shall be disregarded by executive departments and other governmental agencies in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any other law or regulation. Pursuant to § 4001.6 of the general regulations, in any case where salary or wage payments are determined by the Administrator to have been made in contravention of the Act, the entire amount of such payments is to be disregarded by all executive departments and all other agencies of the Federal Government for the purposes of:

(1) Determining costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereunder.

(2) Calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States.

(3) Determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States.

A payment in contravention of the Act may be disregarded for more than one of the foregoing purposes.

(b) Criminal penalties. Section 5 (a) of the act provides in substance that no employer shall pay, and no employee shall receive, any salaries or wages in contravention of the regulations promulgated by the President under the act. Section 11 of the act provides that any person whether an employer or employee who willfully violates any provision of the act, or any regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be subject upon conviction, to a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or to imprisonment for not more than one year, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 1100.16 Determination of violations. Determination by the Administrator that a salary or wage payment is in contravention of the act so as to have the effect specified in §§ 1100.14 and 1100.15 hereof, shall be made in the following manner:

All alleged violations will be handled by the Director, for those States for which no State WFA Wage Board has been established, and by the State WFA Wage Board for those States for which State WFA Wage Boards have been established.

(a) Preliminary investigation. Preliminary investigations of all wage or salary payments alleged to be unlawful shall be made by representatives of the Administrator. If the case is one to be handled by the Director, the report of the investigation shall be submitted to the Associate Solicitor in Charge of Food Production and Commodity Credit for consideration. If the case is one to be handled by a State WFA Wage Board, the report of investigation shall be submitted to the Regional Attorney, Department of Agriculture, within whose region the State involved lies, for consideration. The Associate Solicitor shall forward such reports as he receives, with his recommendations, to the Director. The Regional Attorneys shall forward such reports as they receive, with their recommendations, to the Board which has jurisdiction over the alleged violation. If, after consideration of the report and the recommendations, the Director or the Board, as the case may be, is of the opinion that there is reasonable cause to believe that a violation has occurred, the Director or the Board, as the case may be, shall request the alleged violator to appear at a hearing before the Director or the Board, as the case may be: Provided, however, That the Director may designate that a hearing to be held before him, shall be held before a person authorized to act as an examiner, presiding officer, or referee, by the designation, issued October 25, 1943, entitled "Designation of Persons to Hold Hearings, to Sign and Issue Subpoenas, and to Administer Oaths and Affirmations" (8 F.R. 14592). In the event that the Director designates that the hearing shall be conducted by such an authorized person, such a person shall take all steps required by this section for the holding of hearings, and shall forward the record, together with his recommendation, to the Director.

(b) Notice. Notice of the hearing shall be served on the alleged violator not less than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing. Such notice shall set forth (1) the time and place of the hearing, (2) a concise statement of the allegations of fact which constitute a basis for the proceeding, (3) a statement informing the alleged violator that he may be represented by counsel at the hearing and will be given full opportunity to present written or oral testimony and to examine and cross-examine witnesses on all matters relating to the charge, and (4) a statement informing the alleged violator that failure to appear will not preclude the Director or the Board, as the case may be, from taking testimony, receiving proof, and making findings and recommendations with respect to the charges.

(c) Conduct of the hearing. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity shall not be controlling. The test of admissibility shall be the reliability, relevancy and probative force of the evidence offered.

All testimony shall be given under oath and a written transcript of the hearing shall be made.

The presiding officer shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross-examination of the witnesses. At the close of the hearing, the presiding officer may, at his discretion, allow a short period for the presentation of oral argument, or for a summary of the facts disclosed at the hearing and, if he deems it advisable, may allow briefs to be filed within a period prescribed by him, not to exceed five (5) days.

(d) Findings and recommendations. Upon conclusion of the hearing, if the Director, or a majority of the Board, as the case may be, is satisfied that the charge has been sustained by a preponderance of the evidence, the Director or the Board, as the case may be, shall find accordingly. Findings of fact and recommendations shall be prepared, subscribed by the Director, or by concurring members of the Board, as the case may be, and submitted to the Administrator, together with a transcript of the proceedings. A copy of the findings of fact and recommendations shall be served on the alleged violator. After consideration of the findings and recommendations, the Administrator shall determine whether the alleged violator has made salary or wage payments in contravention of the Act. A copy of such determination shall be served by registered mail on the alleged violator.

(e) Petition for reconsideration. Within five (5) days after receipt of a copy of the Administrator's determination, the alleged violator may file with the War Food Administrator, Washington, D. C., a petition for reconsideration of such determination. Such petition may be accompanied by any affidavits or briefs which the alleged violator desires to submit. Within a reasonable time after receiving such a request for reconsideration, the Administrator shall affirm, modify, or reverse his original determination, or direct a further hearing to be held. Such further hearing shall follow the procedure prescribed for the original hearing. The determination of the Administrator shall be final and shall not be subject to review by the Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings as set forth in § 1100.15 (b) hereof.

MARVIN JONES,

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 34]

MAGNESIUM PRODUCT DELIVERIES

The following directive is issued pursuant to authority vested in me by Executive Order No. 9024, of January 16, 1942, Executive Order No. 9125, of April 7, 1943, and War Production Board Regulation No. 1, as amended December 31, 1943, and in order to facilitate the distribution of magnesium products to the manufacturers of aircraft and aircraft equipment whose production is subject to supervision by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit of the Aircraft Resources Control Office.

§ 903.47 Directive No. 34—(a) Purpose. General Preference Order M-2-b as amended the 13th day of January, 1944, provides that no person shall deliver or accept delivery of magnesium products unless his action has been specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, or, in the case of certain deliveries of magnesium products for aircraft purposes, by the Aircraft Scheduling Unit of the Aircraft Resources Control Office. The purpose of this delegation is to fix the field in which the Aircraft Scheduling Unit of the Aircraft Resources Control Office may authorize the delivery or acceptance of delivery of magnesium products under Order M–2–b.

(b) Delegation of authority. The Aircraft Scheduling Unit of the Aircraft Resources Control Office is hereby delegated the power to authorize in its own name the delivery and acceptance of delivery of magnesium products when the person accepting delivery is to use the magnesium products in the manufacture of aircraft or parts of aircraft or in the manufacture of aircraft equipment or parts of aircraft equipment. However, this delegation does not cover deliveries to a manufacturer of any equipment, or deliveries to a manufacturer of parts for equipment, if the equipment is ordered by any Branch of the Army, other than the Air Forces, or by any Bureau of the Navy, other than the Bureau of Aeronautics. Furthermore, the delegation granted hereby to the Aircraft Scheduling Unit is not exclusive, and the War Production Board retains the power to authorize the delivery and acceptance of delivery of magnesium products even in those cases in which the Aircraft Scheduling Unit also has that power.

(c) Definitions. For the purpose of this directive, the term "magnesium products" means castings, extrusions (rod and bar, tubing or shapes), sheet, strip, plate, and forgings, the principal ingredient of which by weight is the element magnesium.

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS[1]

[General Limitation Order L–260, as Amended Jan. 14, 1944]

FURNITURE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron and steel and other critical materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.65[1] General Limitation Order L–260—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Furniture" means all items commonly classified as furniture and including all items contained on Schedule A attached to this order, as amended from time to time. It shall not include items listed on Schedule B attached to this order, as amended from time to time.

(3) "Non-essential metal parts" means any hardware or parts containing any metal specifically intended for incorporation into furniture other than essential metal parts.

(4) "Metal parts manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling hardware or metal parts specifically intended for incorporation into furniture, whether or not he also manufactures furniture.

(5) "Furniture manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of manufacturing or assembling furniture, whether or not he also manufactures metal parts for furniture.

(6) "Pattern" means any piece of furniture having its own identification mark and selling price, except that for the purposes of this order, two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than color, finishing materials, fabric, leather, or other outer covering or cover but having the same selling price shall be considered to be one pattern. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect other than in their method of joining or their content of essential metal parts, shall be considered to be one pattern, whether or not they have the same selling prices. Two or more pieces of furniture identical in every respect but cut in different woods or veneers or containing different trims other than handles, shall be considered two or more patterns regardless of whether they carry identical identification marks and selling prices. Similarly, a suite of furniture of two or more different pieces shall constitute two or more patterns.

(7) "Preferred order" means any order, contract, or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or the Federal Public Housing Authority.

(8) "Cost value" means cost computed in accordance with the method of accounting consistently used by a furniture manufacturer for bookkeeping and financial statement purposes.

(9) "Pattern base period" means the month of September, 1941.

(10) "Metal parts base period" means the calendar year 1941, except that in the case of a furniture manufacturer whose fiscal year did not end on December 31, 1941, it means his fiscal year ending at any time between June 1, 1941 and May 31, 1942, inclusive.

(11) "Consume" when applied to essential metal parts means to use such parts in the production or packing of furniture or to supply such parts with furniture shipped in knock-down form.

(b) Restrictions on production and acquisition of non-essential metal parts. (1) On and after March 1, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall accept delivery of any iron or steel intended for the fabrication of non-essential metal parts.

(2) On and after March 26, 1943, no metal parts manufacturer shall process, fabricate, work on or assemble any non-essential metal parts.

(3) On and after April 12, 1943, no furniture manufacturer shall accept delivery of any non-essential metal parts.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[General Conservation Order L–250, as Amended Jan. 15, 1944]

ELECTRIC MOTOR CONTROLLERS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials and facilities used in the manufacture of electric motor controllers for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1226.97 General Conservation Order L–250—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any enterprise to the extent that it is engaged in the business of manufacturing controllers, and includes sales and distribution outlets and warehouses controlled by any such person.

(3) "Manufacture" means the production, fabrication or assembly of any controller, or of any part thereof.

(4) "Controller" means any new device or equipment used to stop, start or regulate electric motors or to protect electric motors against overheating or overloading; including manual and magnetic starters and controllers, contactors and relays, speed regulators, drum switches, shunt or series coil type thermal or magnetic overload relays (except switch gear induction type relays), motor field rheostats, and solenoid, thrustor and torque motor brakes; and related pilot devices such as push button stations, and limit, pressure and float switches. The term does not include wiring devices or snap switches rated 15 amperes or less; safety switches; fuses; air circuit breakers; oil circuit breakers; domestic type thermostats, refrigeration controls or furnace controls; or any replacement part for a passenger automobile, truck, truck trailer, passenger carrier, motorized fire equipment, or off-the-highway motor vehicle, as defined in Limitation Order L–158, as amended.

(5) "Commercial" as applied to a size, type or rating of a product means any size, type or rating thereof heretofore normally produced by any producer as a standard item, for his inventory or for general distribution, and not in fulfillment of special orders.

(b) Restrictions on orders. No manufacturer shall accept any order for any controller or part thereof, unless the order bears a preference rating of AA–5 or higher. The restrictions of this paragraph shall not apply to any order for any controllers, or parts thereof, for use on elevators and manufactured by a person engaged primarily in the production of elevators.

(c) Restrictions on manufacture. (1) Except as otherwise provided herein, on and after March 1, 1943, no manufacturer shall accept any order, or commence manufacture in fulfillment of any order, for any controller or part thereof unless such controller or part is to be manufactured in accordance with the standards prescribed in subparagraph (2) below. On and after May 14, 1943, no manufacturer shall deliver any controller or part thereof, unless it has been manufactured in accordance with such standards. The limitations of this subparagraph shall not apply to any order for, or delivery of any controller or part which was completely fabricated on or before February 13, 1943.

(2) Subject to the other provisions of this paragraph, all controllers and parts thereof shall be manufactured in compliance with the following requirements and shall be otherwise of the simplest practicable design:

(i) All control circuit wiring shall follow a straight line between terminals except where, and to the extent that deviation therefrom is necessary to avoid electrical or mechanical interference.

(ii) Control circuit wiring carrying 15 amperes or less shall have no greater copper content than size No. 14 AWG wire; except when and to the extent that a larger copper content is required to avoid abnormal voltage drop or heating.

(iii) All buses, connecting straps and terminals, except for oil immersed controllers, shall be of the smallest commercial size copper necessary to prevent the bus, strap or terminal from exceeding a temperature rise of 50° over 40° C. ambient temperature when carrying the full load current of the motor with which the controller will be used.

(iv) No control circuit wiring insulation between terminals on a controller shall be of more than one color for each voltage.

(v) No controller of a type listed in Appendix A, for a single motor, shall include a contactor having an ampere rating in excess of the maximum rating prescribed in the appendix for such controller; except where operation of a general purpose controller, as covered by Table No. 1 or Table No. 4 of Appendix A requires repeated opening of stalled motor current (such as plug-stop or jogging (inching) duty) at a rate in excess of 5 per minute.

(vi) No general purpose controller, for a single motor, of the type listed below rated 600 volts or less shall include control circuit fuses or a control circuit disconnect switch:

(a) Alternating current magnetic across the line type starters;

(c) Alternating current combination across the line starters and thermal or magnetic circuit breakers;

(d) Alternating current combination across the line starters and motor circuit switches.

(e) Direct current reduced voltage controllers.

(f) Direct current, reduced voltage controllers with motor circuit switches or thermal or magnetic circuit breakers.

(vii) No general purpose controller, for a single motor, of the types listed below rated 600 volts or less shall include a control transformer unless master switches or pilot devices of the necessary rating are not obtainable as a commercial product:

(a) Alternating current magnetic across the line type starters;

(c) Alternating current combination across the line starters and thermal or magnetic circuit breakers;

(d) Alternating current combination across the line starters and motor circuit switches.

(viii) No alternating current controller of the reduced voltage autotransformer, reactor, impedance, or primary resistance type shall be provided for a polyphase induction motor of 20 horsepower or less, rated 600 volts or less, except that the limitations of this paragraph shall not apply to a controller for an elevator, hoist or crane.

(ix) No controller or control equipment of the types listed below, rated 600 volts or less, shall be provided with a floor mounting type steel enclosing case or a floor mounting type steel cabinet:

(a) Magnetic controller for main mill or auxiliary motors, for a metal rolling mill (mill duty controllers);

(b) Magnetic controllers for cab operated cranes;

(c) Protective panels for cranes;

(d) Magnetic or manual controllers for fire pumps;

(e) Magnetic controllers for elevators;

(f) Magnetic controllers for skip hoists;

(g) Magnetic, manual, or combination magnetic and manual controller for a single synchronous motor;

(h) Magnetic controllers of the across-the-line or reduced voltage type for a single motor;

(i) Resistor banks for secondary or armature control, mounted separately from the controller; except where forced draft or air circulation is required to meet the temperature limitation.

The limitations of this subparagraph (c) (2) (ix) shall not apply to any controller or control equipment used below the level of the ground in a mine or quarry; or to any controller to be used in a Class 1 hazardous location as defined in paragraph 5005, article 500, chapter 5 of the National Electrical Code, approved by the American Standards Association, August 7, 1940, or in a Class 2 hazardous location as defined in paragraph 5006, article 500 of the above mentioned code; or to be used generally in an atmosphere which is corrosive, or which contains such quantities of metal particles, dust or fumes as to be destructive of an open type controller; nor shall such limitations apply in any case where the controller is to be installed permanently outdoors without other protection.

(x) No controller shall be supplied with built in test jacks or test receptacles.

(xi) No alternating current motor controller of less than 1,000 horsepower, and no direct current motor controller of 50 horsepower or less, shall include instruments, meters, potential transformers, or current transformers or shunts to be used for metering, mounted on the controller panel or enclosure; but this restriction shall not apply to controllers used to regulate a series of direct current motors driving a common load, nor to alternating current line ammeter and direct current field ammeter to be installed on synchronous motor controllers, nor to ampere hour meters to be installed on industrial truck or locomotive control panels.

(xii) No aluminum, copper, chromium, nickel, cadmium, or alloys or finishes thereof shall be used in the manufacture of enclosing cases, name plates, identification plates or door handles for controllers.

(xiii) No stainless steel shall be used in the manufacture of any controller or part; except for resistance wire or ribbon or where necessary to provide nonmagnetic properties required for operation or to prevent sticking or binding of moving parts.

(3) The limitations of paragraph (c) shall not apply to any controller delivered for use aboard any ship owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(d) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Records and reports. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. All such persons shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as the Board shall request from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order may be filed by either the manufacturer or the purchaser or proposed purchaser. Any such appeal shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. On appeals from the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) (viii), the letter shall include the following data:

(i) Horsepower, voltage, frequency and phase of the motor to be controlled;

(ii) The kva rating of the transformer bank supplying the motor;

(iii) The maximum load on the transformer bank, exclusive of the motor to be controlled;

INTERPRETATION 1

Paragraph (c) (2) (ix) prohibits the use of floor mounting type steel enclosing cases or steel cabinets for various kinds of controllers, with certain exceptions. These exceptions include cases for use in an atmosphere which is corrosive or which contains metal particles, dust, or fumes, or for use out-of-doors without other protection.

A question has arisen as to whether Type I (general purpose) and Type IA (semi-dust tight) enclosing cases are included within the above mentioned exception. Since Types I and IA cases are not suitable for protection against conditions of the kind which form the basis for the above mentioned exemptions, such equipment is not deemed to be within the exception regardless of the use to which the purchaser alleges he wishes to put the equipment. (Issued June 8, 1943.)

Subparagraph (c) (3) of § 1226.97 (General Conservation Order L–250) provides that the limitations of paragraph (c) shall not apply to any controller delivered for use aboard any ship owned or operated by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration. A question has been raised as to the proper classification of floating dry docks. It was contemplated that floating dry docks produced for service anywhere would be considered ships within the meaning of the paragraph. (Issued June 15, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3

The question has been raised as to whether the word "controller", as defined in paragraph (a) (4), includes a controller which is incorporated into a larger assembly, as a component part of the assembly.

The word "controller", as thus used, includes any controller (except those which are specifically excluded in the definition), regardless of whether it is assembled with other apparatus, or mounted individually. (Issued Nov. 1, 1943.)

(d) Exceptions. The quota provisions of paragraph (c) above do not restrict the fabrication or assembly of bakery machinery and equipment to fill specific orders actually received by a manufacturer for export outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada or for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(e) Increase, decrease and transfer of quotas. The War Production Board may, by specific written directions, issued to any manufacturer or class of manufacturers, increase or decrease any quota established on this schedule and may transfer any portions of the quota between manufacturers, taking into consideration the amount of materials to be used, the need for particular items at the time required, the labor and transportation situation in the manufacturing areas involved, the inability of any manufacturer to manufacture his quota, and such other factors as may be relevant.

PART 3288—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[Supplementary General Limitation Order L–23–c as Amended Jan. 15, 1944]

DOMESTIC COOKING APPLIANCES AND DOMESTIC HEATING STOVES

§ 3288.66 Supplementary General Limitation Order No. L–23–c—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Domestic cooking appliances" means gas ranges, cook stoves, and hot plates for household use; coal and wood ranges and cook stoves (including laundry stoves except water jacketed and permanently built-in coil types) for household use; fuel oil ranges, cook stoves, table stoves and hot plates for household use; combination ranges (including dual oven types, ranges with built-in kitchen heaters, and bungalow types) except electrical, for household use; camp and trailer stoves for cooking purposes; fuel oil conversion range burners; and drum and portable ovens.

(2) "Domestic heating stoves" means any above the floor devices (except electric) for the direct heating of the space in and adjacent to that in which the device is located, designed for use without heat distribution pipes or ducts, and includes, but is not limited to, circulating, radiant and portable heaters and trailer and caboose stoves. Domestic heating stoves shall not include floor or wall furnaces.

(3) "New domestic cooking appliances and domestic heating stoves" means any such appliances or stoves which have never been used by an ultimate consumer.

(4) "Accessories" means aprons, thermostats, high closets, high shelves, clocks, broiler pans other than iron or steel, storage compartments, thermometers, and any other instruments, attachments, or appurtenances (except top-burner lighters) for domestic cooking appliances not essential to any of the following three major cooking operations: top burner cooking, oven baking and oven broiling.

(5) "Steel coal or wood range or cook stove" means a coal or wood range or cook stove in which the total weight of steel is 20% or more of the total weight of metal of the unit.

(6) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil including Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, Bunker C, Diesel oil, kerosene, range oil, gas oil or any other liquid petroleum product used for the same purposes as the above designated grades.

(7) "Base period" means the 12 months period from July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941.

(8) "Factory sales value" means the aggregate value of shipments of domestic cooking appliances and domestic heating stoves.

(9) "Class A producers" means those manufacturers of domestic cooking appliances and/or domestic heating stoves whose factory sales value for the twelve months ending June 30, 1941, including both domestic sales and exports, was $2,000,000 or more.

(10) "Class B producers" means those manufacturers of domestic cooking appliances and/or domestic heating stoves whose factory sales value for the twelve months ending June 30, 1941, including both domestic sales and exports, was less than $2,000,000 and who are located in Labor Area Group I, as defined from time to time by the War Manpower Commission.

(11) "Class C producers" means those manufacturers of domestic cooking appliances and/or domestic heating stoves whose factory sales value for the twelve months ending June 30, 1941, including both domestic sales and exports, was less than $2,000,000 and who are not located in Labor Area Group I, as defined from time to time by the War Manpower Commission.

(12) "Producer" means any person who during the base period manufactured, fabricated or assembled any domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves.

(b) General restrictions. (1) No person except a producer shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic cooking appliances or any domestic heating stoves.

(2) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic cooking appliance or domestic heating stove except from materials in inventory on July 29, 1943, or the acquisition and use of which is specifically authorized from time to time by the War Production Board under the Controlled Materials Plan or otherwise. In authorizing the manufacture of domestic cooking appliances and domestic heating stoves the War Production Board will, in general, authorize Class C producers to produce the types they normally fabricate up to 100% of their base period unit production before authorizing the manufacture of any of the same types by Class A and Class B producers; Provided, however, That during the period from July 1, 1943 to June 30, 1944 the total number of units of each type authorized for production by all producers will not exceed the percentages of total unit production specified in Schedule A attached.

(3) No producer shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic cooking appliances (other than combination ranges) or domestic heating stoves, except in those fuel types which he manufactured, fabricated or assembled during the base period; but this provision shall not apply to such appliances or stoves manufactured, fabricated or assembled for delivery to or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, or War Shipping Administration of the United States, or for use in a building or project authorized under Preference Rating Order P–55–b or rated under Preference Rating Order P–55 or any Order in the P–19 series.

(4) No producer shall manufacture, fabricate, or assemble any domestic cooking appliances, except those listed in Schedule B attached, and then only in accordance with the maximum weights, numbers of models or sizes and description of types set forth in such table; and no person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any accessories or incorporate them into any domestic cooking appliances.

(5) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic heating stoves except those listed in Schedule B attached, and then only in accordance with the numbers of models and BTU capacities set forth therein.

(6) No producer shall

(i) Use any iron or steel in the production of cover tops or lids to cover the cooking surfaces of domestic cooking appliances when not in use; or

(ii) Produce or assemble any domestic cooking appliances equipped with such cover tops or lids containing any iron or steel; or

(iii) Use any "bright work", "bright finish", metal finish, or trim containing copper, nickel, chrome, or aluminum or other alloy in the production of domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves; or

(iv) Use any alloy steel in the production of domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves except for valves.

(7) No producer shall substitute steel for cast iron in the manufacture, fabrication of assembly of any model of domestic cooking appliance or domestic heating stove which he manufactured, fabricated or assembled prior to July 29, 1943.

(8) No producer shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any steel coal or wood range or cook stove who did not manufacture, fabricate or assemble such ranges or stoves during the period July 1, 1940 to July 29, 1943.

(c) Exceptions. (1) Nothing in paragraph (b) (4) or (b) (5) shall restrict the manufacture, fabrication or assembly of trailer or caboose stoves.

(2) Domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves which do not conform to the provisions of paragraph (b) (4) or (b) (5) may be manufactured, fabricated or assembled to specifications for the account of or for delivery to the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration of the United States, or to specifications for use in a building or project authorized under Preference Rating Order P–55–b or rated under Preference Rating Order P–55, or any Order in the P–19 series: Provided, That a prior request be made to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., by letter, and approved in writing.

(3) Notwithstanding any restrictions in this order, concerning use of metals, accessories, weight per unit, numbers of models, or sizes or types, until October 27, 1943, any producer may manufacture, fabricate or assemble any domestic cooking appliance or any domestic heating stove provided that he has in his inventory, on July 29, 1943, fabricated iron or steel parts of any such appliance or stove which total at least 50% of the total weight of iron and steel which such appliance or stove would contain when completely assembled.

(d) [Deleted Jan. 15, 1944]

(e) Repair parts. Nothing in this order shall prohibit or restrict the manufacture or shipment of repair parts for domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves.

(f) Reports. Each producer shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports as the War Production Board may specify from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(g) Applicability of priorities regulations. All persons and transactions affected by this order are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(h) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other orders heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board limit the use of any material in the production of domestic cooking appliances or domestic heating stoves to a greater extent than the restrictions imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern, unless otherwise specified therein.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(j) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except appeals, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–23–c.

(k) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Section 3288.31 General Limitation Order L–79, is amended to read as follows:

§ 3288.31 General Limitation Order L–79—(a) What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply and direct the distribution of plumbing, cooking and heating equipment by preventing the sale of certain essential items on List A except for necessary replacements, or on rated orders. These are items, the production of which is restricted, and which can be made available to essential users only. The order provides a rating to enable sellers to get these items for necessary replacement. It permits other items of plumbing and heating equipment to be bought by sellers on unrated orders without restriction but provides a preference rating to enable sellers to buy these non-restricted items when a rating is needed. No preference ratings are assigned to consumers and deliveries to consumers for replacement and repair do not have to be on rated orders. The order supersedes the previous version of L–79, as well as General Preference Order P–84.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Preference rating AA–3 is assigned to any seller to enable him to get the following:

(1) Equipment shown in List A, including repair parts.

(2) Repair parts only for items on List B, and repair parts for stoves rationed by the O. P. A. under Ration Order 9–A.

(3) All other equipment, material and parts which are used to supply, store and heat water, to remove waste matter and water-borne waste, to treat waste matter chemically, and to heat buildings, including electric heat controls. Any rating under this paragraph cannot be used, however, to get equipment specifically designed for industrial processing, fire protection, the production or transmission of power, or for use by a public utility, equipment using electricity as fuel, heat exchangers subject to L–172, fans and blowers as defined in L–280, steel or wrought iron pipe or steel sheets, or equipment specifically designed for refrigerating or dehumidifying, or portable items such as pans or sump pumps which are not designed to be built into or fastened to the building in which they are used. Directions will from time to time be issued specifying items which are subject to this paragraph and items which are excluded.

(c) Exception. No rating is assigned to any delivery to which a rating is assigned by CMP Regulation 9A.

(d) Inventory restrictions on sellers. (1) A seller who is a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A may not accept delivery of any item of parts or materials obtained by applying a rating under this order if his inventory of that item of parts or materials is or would by accepting delivery become larger than he needs to continue his repair and maintenance services for a 60-day period, according to his current method of operation. However, if the supply of any item which he has on hand is less than the permitted amount, he may accept delivery of the smallest commercial amount of that item which his distributor normally sells, even if that will increase his supply beyond the amount specified.

(2) A seller who is not a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A is subject to the limitation of inventory prescribed in Order L–63.

(e) Up-rating. In the case of ratings applied or extended by sellers under Order P–84 prior to its revocation, deliveries may be re-rated in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 12. However, any person with whom such an order was placed is authorized to treat it as re-rated without requiring any notice or certificate to be furnished to him by the seller: Provided, That any manufacturer or seller who re-rates any orders placed with him under this paragraph must so re-rate all orders placed with him which can be re-rated.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries of items on List A. No person may deliver or accept delivery of equipment included in List A of this order except:

(1) Equipment which has previously been used.

(2) Equipment which is delivered to fill a rated order.

(3) When the delivery is to a consumer for installation to replace existing equipment which is worn out, damaged beyond repair or destroyed, but not to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the part or parts worn out, damaged or destroyed.

(g) When a consumer needs a preference rating and how he gets it. Consumers are not assigned ratings by this order and will not need ratings unless they want to buy items on List A for purposes other than replacement. When a rating is needed, usually they can apply for ratings on Form WPB–1319.[1] However, if the material is to be used in new construction of a type which is restricted under Order L–41, the consumer must use the form specified in Schedule C of that order. Industries and government institutions may use CMP Regulations 5 and 5A ratings for repair parts and replacement items.

(h) Consumer's certificates. No seller may deliver an item on List A to fill a consumer's unrated order unless he obtains a certificate in substantially the following form:

I need the item included in this purchase to replace equipment worn out, damaged beyond repair, or destroyed. I will not use it to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the parts which are worn out, damaged, or destroyed.

Address of installation _____
Consumer's signature _____
Address _____

Any certification is a representation to the War Production Board as well as to the seller. No one may deliver relying on a certification being true if he knows or should know it is false, but anyone who reasonably relies on the truth of a certificate is not to be held responsible if it turns out to be false. No one shall make a false statement in a certification. Sellers shall retain certificates in their files for two years for inspection by WPB representatives.

(i) Salvage. No person may install equipment on List A for replacement unless he takes any replaced metal parts or equipment, not coated with a fused or nonmetallic surface, and arranges for its further use, or turns it in for salvage to any authorized scrap metal dealer within thirty days after the replacement. This requirement does not mean that the installer is entitled to take old equipment without the owner's consent or without crediting him with its value.

(j) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories and sales.

(k) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(l) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Appeals. Any person affected by this order may appeal from its provisions by filing Form WPB 1477 (formerly PD–500) with a field office of the War Production Board.

(n) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order, except appeals, shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–79.

(o) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Seller" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for resale, whether or not he makes the installation.

(2) "Consumer" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for installation or use on premises owned or occupied by him.

Issued this 15th day of January 1944.

Recording Secretary.

A manufacturer asking permission to produce or assemble sanitary napkin vending machines must file with his first application a letter stating the total number of sanitary napkin vending machines which he produced, assembled or delivered during the twelve month period ending June 30, 1941 and the location of his plant and of any other plants which will produce parts for those machines. If the manufacturer intends to produce or assemble in his own plant, he should state the estimated man hours which will be consumed in the production or assembly of each unit. If the manufacturer intends to have the machines produced for him by another manufacturer, he should state that fact and give the name and location of the other manufacturer.

(c) Delivery of certain merchandise vending machines not covered. This order does not restrict the delivery of any merchandise vending machines completely finished before January 15, 1944.

(d) Reports. Each manufacturer producing or delivering sanitary napkin vending machines must file, with the War Production Board, quarterly reports on Form WPB–2719 (formerly PD–880) on or before the 15th day of December, March, June and September, according to the instructions for filing that form.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be filed on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(g) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of vending machines to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 15th day of January 1944.

[General Limitation Order L–45, as Amended Jan. 15, 1944]

JEWELRY

Section 3291.195[1] General Limitation Order L–45 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 3291.195 General Limitation Order L–45—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Jewelry" means all articles commonly known as jewelry, designed to be worn on or about the person, including but not limited to religious jewelry, mesh bags, vanity cases, compacts, cigarette cases, watch bracelets. It does not include watch cases unless they contain or are designed to contain stones, pearls or jewels.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of producing jewelry.

(3) To "produce jewelry" means the performance of the last manufacturing or assembling operation on jewelry. It includes the repair of jewelry if the repair requires more karat gold or palladium (by weight) in combined total than 5 percent of the combined weight of karat gold and palladium in the jewelry being repaired. A manufacturer making such repair shall, for the purpose of paragraph (b), be deemed to have produced jewelry containing only the amount of karat gold and palladium he has added. It does not include the following: (i) the sizing of a ring for the ultimate consumer when material is removed or when material is added for the purpose of sizing alone; or (ii) the addition of one or more stones, pearls or jewels to an otherwise finished article and the polishing of such article.

(4) "Karat gold" means karat gold as defined in United States Commercial Standard CS67–38 (issued by the National Bureau of Standards).

(5) "Palladium" includes the total weight of any palladium alloy containing 10 percent or more of palladium by weight.

(b) General restrictions. (1) In the first calendar quarter of 1944 and in each calendar quarter after that, no manufacturer shall produce jewelry containing more karat gold and palladium (by weight) in combined total than a weight computed by adding 18¾% of the weight of karat gold and palladium and 37½% of the weight of platinum contained in jewelry produced by him in 1941.

(2) The restrictions in paragraph (b) do not apply to a manufacturer who produced jewelry in 1941 containing karat gold or palladium or platinum and who now in any calendar quarter does not produce jewelry containing more karat gold and palladium (by weight) in combined total than 250 ounces.

(c) Applicability of other orders and regulations. (1) This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of jewelry (as defined in this order) to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(2) Notwithstanding the restrictions contained in Order M–9–c, as amended from time to time, karat gold containing not more than 45% copper (by weight) may be used in the production of jewelry within the quota established by this order.

(d) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(e) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB–1477 (formerly PD–500) and should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Allocation Order M–243, as Amended Jan. 15, 1944]

ACETIC ANHYDRIDE, ACETIC ACID AND ACETALDEHYDE

§ 3293.331 Allocation Order M–243—(a) Definitions. (1) "Acetic anhydride" means acetic anhydride (ethanoic anhydride) of any grade and from whatever source derived.

(2) "Acetic acid" means acetic acid (ethanoic acid) of any grade and from whatever source derived, including recovered acetic acid. The term does not include acetic acid recirculated as such within a manufacturing process nor does it include acetic acid of less than 12% concentration (vinegar) produced at plants at which there are no facilities for further chemical conversion.

(3) "Recovered acetic acid" means that acid which is removed from a manufacturing process in which that acid was used as a raw material whether introduced as acetic acid or acetic anhydride, or as a solvent or any other material, excluding acetic acid which is recirculated as such within the manufacturing process. By "removed" is meant removal for resale, conversion into acetic anhydride, or use in another manufacturing process in the same plant or separate plants.

(4) "Acetaldehyde" means acetaldehyde (acetic aldehyde or ethyl aldehyde) of any grade and from whatever source derived.

(5) "Producer" means any person who produces or imports acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde, and includes any person who has acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

(6) "Distributor" means any person who buys acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde for purposes of resale as such.

(7) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries. (1) No supplier shall deliver acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde to any person unless specifically authorized in writing by War Production Board, in the normal case upon application filed pursuant to paragraph (e) hereof, except, however, that any supplier may, without authorization of War Production Board, resell but not export, a total amount not to exceed 5,000 pounds of each of the foregoing chemicals (acetic anhydride, acetic acid and acetaldehyde) in any calendar month.

(2) No person shall accept delivery in any calendar month from all suppliers of more than 27,000 pounds in the aggregate of any one of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde, except as specifically authorized in writing by War Production Board, in the normal case upon application filed pursuant to paragraph (f) (1) hereof. Acetic acid weight shall be calculated on a 100% acid basis.

(3) No person shall accept delivery in any calendar month from all suppliers of 27,000 pounds or less in the aggregate of any one of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) or acetaldehyde, and no person shall place any such order for such delivery, unless and until he shall have furnished each supplier with a use certificate pursuant to paragraph (f) (2) hereof, but such certificate need not be furnished with respect to any one of the chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) or acetaldehyde where the quantity of such chemical delivered or ordered for delivery in any calendar month from all suppliers is not more than 54 gallons.

(c) Restrictions on use. (1) No supplier shall use acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board, in the normal case upon application filed pursuant to paragraph (f) (1) hereof.

(2) Each person who with an order for acetic anhydride, acetic acid and acetaldehyde furnishes the certificate required by paragraph (f) (2), shall use the chemical delivered on such order only as specified in such certificate except as otherwise specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(3) Acetic anhydride, acetic acid and acetaldehyde allocated for inventory shall not be used for any purpose except as specifically authorized or directed in writing by War Production Board.

(d) General and special instructions of War Production Board. (1) Authorizations and directions as to deliveries and use to be made by suppliers and with respect to acceptance of delivery in quantities exceeding 27,000 pounds (in the case of acetic acid on a 100% basis) in the aggregate in each month will generally be issued by War Production Board prior to the beginning of such month, but War Production Board may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to:

(i) Use, delivery or acceptance of delivery of acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde.

(ii) Production of acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde.

(2) War Production Board may issue to suppliers and other persons, other and different directions with respect to preparing and filing Forms WPB 2945 (formerly PD–600) and WPB 2947 (formerly PD–602) provided for in the paragraphs (e) and (f).

(e) Applications by suppliers for authorization to deliver. (1) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde during any calendar month to any person who has filed with him Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD–600) respecting a delivery in such month, shall file application on or before the 20th of the preceding month. The application shall be made on Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD–602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions appearing in Appendix A. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(2) Each supplier requiring authorization to make delivery of acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde during any calendar month to any person who has filed with him the use certificate provided for by paragraph (f) (2) or to any person ordering not more than 54 gallons, shall file application on or before the 20th of the preceding month. The application shall be made on Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions appearing in Appendix A. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(f) Applications and use certificates to be filed by prospective purchasers. (1) Each person wishing to obtain delivery in any calendar month from all sources of more than 27,000 pounds of any one of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) and acetaldehyde (and each supplier requiring authority to use any such chemical in any calendar month regardless of quantity) shall file application on or before the 15th of the preceding month. The application shall be made on Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600) in the manner set forth in the general instructions appearing on that form, subject to the special instructions contained in Appendix B. If there is an inconsistency between the general and special instructions, the special instructions must be followed.

(2) Each person wishing to accept delivery in any calendar month from all sources of not more than 27,000 pounds (but more than 54 gallons) of any one of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) and acetaldehyde, shall file with each supplier on or before the 15th of the preceding month a certificate stating the use for which he is ordering such chemical. Such certificate must be substantially in the form indicated in Appendix C. It need not be filed with War Production Board. A supplier must not deliver any such chemical where he knows or has reason to believe the purchaser's certificate is false, but in the absence of such knowledge, or reason to believe, he may rely on the certificate.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions — (1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Approval of reporting requirements. Forms WPB 2945 and WPB 2947 (formerly PD-600 and PD-602 respectively) provided for in paragraphs (e) (1), (e) (2) and (f) (1), have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-243.

This amended order shall take effect September 1, 1943, except that the provisions as to applications for authority to deliver, accept delivery or use during September 1943, shall take effect at once. Order M-243, issued October 20, 1942 shall continue in effect until so superseded.

Issued this 15th day of January 1944.

Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR SUPPLIER'S FORM WPB 2947 (FORMERLY PD-602)

(1) Obtaining forms. Copies of Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602) may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(2) Number of copies. Prepare an original and three copies. File original and two copies with War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-243, retaining the third copy for your files. The original shall be manually signed by a duly authorized official.

(3) Separate set of forms for each chemical. Where the supplier's application relates to deliveries of two or more of the three chemicals, he shall file a separate set of Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602) for each.

(4) Information at top of form. In the heading, under "name of material" specify "Acetic anhydride", "Acetic acid" or "Acetaldehyde"; leave "grade" blank; under "WPB Order No.", specify "M-243"; indicate month and year during which deliveries covered by the application are to be made; under "Unit of measure", specify "pounds", except in the case of acetic acid, where indicate "pounds of 100% acetic acid"; under "Name of Company", specify your name and the address of the plant from which shipment will be made.

(5) Grade (percent) of acetic acid. In the case of proposed deliveries of acetic acid, specify grade in Column 7 (Remarks) in terms of percent of acid content.

(6) Listing of customers. In Column 1 (except for small orders as explained in (8) below) list the name of each customer from whom an order for delivery during the applicable month has been received. List first the name of each customer who has filed with you Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600) in connection with his order. Thereafter, leave a space, and insert in Column 1 "Use certificate", and then list the name of each customer from whom a use certificate has been received under paragraph (f) (2) with respect to a delivery in the applicable month. Do not list names of customers who have not placed with you either Form WPB 2945 or a use certificate. If it is necessary to use more than one sheet to list customers, number each sheet in order and show separately on the last sheet the total poundage ordered by customers filing Form WPB 2945 and the total poundage ordered by customers filing use certificates.

(7) Primary product and end use. In Column 1-a, opposite the name of each customer filing a use certificate (obtained under paragraph (f) (2)), specify the product or products in the manufacture or preparation of which acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) or acetaldehyde will be used by such customer, the end use to which such product or products will be put, Army or Navy contract numbers, Lend-Lease requisition or contract numbers, and export license numbers, all as indicated on such use certificate. The quantity of acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) or acetaldehyde used in the manufacture or preparation of each primary product for each end use shall be shown separately. If the chemical ordered by a customer is for two or more uses, indicate each use separately and list the quantity ordered for each use. It is not necessary to show primary product or end use with respect to a customer filing Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600). Instead, in Column 1-a, opposite the name of each customer filing such Form WPB 2945, enter merely "WPB 2945."

(8) Small orders. It is not necessary to list the name of any customer to whom the supplier is to deliver in the applicable month not more than 54 gallons of any one of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid (100% basis) or acetaldehyde, unless such customer has filed a use certificate, nor is it necessary in the case of any such delivery to show the name of the product or end use. Instead, write in Column 1 "Total small order deliveries (estimated)" and in Column 4, specify total estimated quantity of acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde to be delivered on such orders.

(9) Use by producers. Each producer who has filed application on Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600) specifying himself as his supplier, shall list his own name as customer in Column 1 on Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602).

(10) Table II. Each producer shall report production, deliveries and stocks as required by Table II, Columns 9 to 16, inclusive. Distributors shall fill out only Columns 10, 12, and 13. In Column 8 producers and distributors shall show, where Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602) relates to acetic acid, the percent of acid content or where Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602) relates to acetic anhydride or acetaldehyde, will leave Column 8 blank.

(11) Recovered acetic acid. In the case of recovered acetic acid show such acid separately from other acetic acid in Table II. If necessary, use supplemental rider and attach to Form WPB 2947 (formerly PD-602).

(1) Obtaining forms. Copies of Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600) may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

(2) Number of copies. Prepare an original and four copies. Forward original and two copies to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-243, forward one copy to the supplier with whom order is placed, and retain one copy for your files. The original shall be signed by a duly authorized official. Where the application is by a supplier for authorization to use, no copy should be sent to a producer or distributor.

(3) Separate set of forms for each chemical. A customer who wishes to obtain delivery of two or more of the three chemicals, acetic anhydride, acetic acid or acetaldehyde, must file a separate set of Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD-600) for each.

CARBON TETRACHLORIDE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of carbon tetrachloride for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.571 Allocation Order M-363— (a) What this order does. This order provides for the allocation of carbon tetrachloride from all producers and distributors except distributors who sell carbon tetrachloride only in quantities of a drum or less to each customer per month.

A customer must file certified statements of end use with his purchase orders when ordering more than 700 pounds of carbon tetrachloride for delivery by all suppliers in any calendar month.

A one-time base period and inventory report on Form WPB-3442 is due January 20, 1944.

Suppliers must apply on Form WPB-2947 (formerly PB-602) for authorization for use or delivery of carbon tetrachloride on or after February 1, 1944.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Carbon tetrachloride", sometimes known as tetrachlormethane, means the chemical CCl_4.

(2) "Drum" means a container with a capacity of approximately 52 gallons (700 pounds of carbon tetrachloride).

(3) "Supplier" means any person who produces carbon tetrachloride or who purchases carbon tetrachloride for resale. The term "supplier" shall not include any person who resells exclusively in quantities of a drum or less per customer per month.

Requirements for suppliers

(c) Restrictions on delivery. (1) On and after February 1, 1944, no supplier shall deliver carbon tetrachloride to any person except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, upon application pursuant to Appendix A.

(2) Authorization to each supplier for deliveries of carbon tetrachloride will be made on the following basis:

Deliveries to customers ordering 7,000 pounds or more during any month must be individually authorized; deliveries to customers ordering between 700–7000 pounds per month will be authorized on the basis of end uses stated in the customers' certificates and a lump sum will be allocated to each end use for such orders without specifying individual customers' names; deliveries to customers ordering 700 pounds (one drum) or less will be authorized by allocating a lump sum for such small orders without specifying individual customers' names and without reference to end use.

(3) Carbon tetrachloride which cannot be delivered as authorized or directed shall revert to inventory subject to further allocation.

(d) Restrictions on use. On and after February 1, 1944, no supplier shall use carbon tetrachloride, except as specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board, upon application pursuant to Appendix A.

(e) Suppliers to notify customers of denial of applications. Each supplier shall notify his customer as soon as possible of denial in whole or in part by the War Production Board of any item or items on a certified purchase order placed by the customer.

Requirements for Customers

(f) Requirement for filing certificates with purchase orders. Each person ordering more than 700 pounds of carbon tetrachloride in the aggregate for delivery by all suppliers during February, 1944, or during any calendar month thereafter, shall furnish each supplier with a use certificate in accordance with Appendix C.

(g) Use of allocated carbon tetrachloride. Each person furnishing a use certificate with a purchase order for carbon tetrachloride shall use the carbon tetrachloride only as specified in the certificate, unless advised by his supplier that a particular specified use has been denied by the War Production Board or unless otherwise specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board. However, any person not a supplier may redeliver carbon tetrachloride to a supplier without restriction.

(h) One-time customer's report. Each person (excluding governmental departments or agencies, but including producers who consume part of their own production) shall file a report in accordance with Appendix B on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the first month for which he has ordered delivery of 7,000 pounds or more of carbon tetrachloride.

This report need be filed only once, and not earlier than January 20, 1944.

Other Provisions

(i) Exemption for intermediate brokers and sales agents. Application and specific authorization shall not be required for the participation by a broker or sales agent in either of the following cases:

(1) When carbon tetrachloride is ordered through the broker or sales agent and is to be delivered by the supplier directly to the purchaser and not to the broker or sales agent for redelivery to the purchaser;

(2) When carbon tetrachloride is sold by a supplier through an agent who is required to submit the customers' purchase orders to the supplier for approval.

In either of the above cases, the purchaser shall furnish the broker or sales agent with a purchase order and use certificate, which certificate the broker or sales agent shall transmit to the supplier. The supplier shall then apply in accordance with Appendix A as if the order had been placed directly with him.

(j) Special directions. The War Production Board, at its discretion, may at any time issue special directions with respect to:

(1) Use, delivery or acceptance of delivery of carbon tetrachloride; or

(2) Production of carbon tetrachloride; or

(3) Preparation and filing of forms and certificates required by Appendices A, B, and C, subject to approval of the Bureau of the Budget when required by the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(k) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-363.

Issued this 15th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—INSTRUCTIONS TO PRIMARY SUPPLIERS FOR FILING FORM WPB-2947

Each supplier seeking authorization to use or deliver carbon tetrachloride shall file application on Form WPB-2947 (formerly PD-602), in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

Form WPB-2947 (formerly PD-602). Copies may be obtained at local field offices of the War Production Board.

Time of filing. Applications shall be filed in time to ensure that copies will have reached the War Production Board on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization to use or deliver is requested.

Number of copies. Four copies shall be prepared, of which one shall be retained by the applicant and three copies (one certified) shall be sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-363.

Heading. Under name of material, specify carbon tetrachloride; under War Production Board order number, specify M-363; leave grade space blank; specify pounds as unit of measure; specify proposed delivery month; and otherwise fill in as indicated.

Table I (Application to deliver). First, in Column 1 list customers ordering 7,000 pounds or more for delivery during the next month, in Column 1-a enter each use stated in the certificate filed by each customer, and in Column 4 specify quantity ordered by each customer for each use; second, specify in Column 1 "Between 700–7,000 pound orders", without specifying customers' names, in Column 1-a group the end uses stated in the certificates filed with these orders, and in Column 4 specify the aggregate quantity ordered for each use; third, specify in Column 1 "700 pounds or less orders" without specifying customers' names, leave Column 1-a blank, and in Column 4 specify the aggregate quantity ordered or expected to be ordered. (1) Each person ordering a total aggregate of more than 700 pounds (one drum) of carbon tetrachloride from all of his suppliers for delivery during January 1944, or during any calendar month thereafter, shall furnish with each purchase order a certificate in substantially the following form:

(Insert statement of quantities of carbon tetrachloride required for each proposed primary product and end use, in accordance with instructions in paragraphs (3) and (4) below.)

The undersigned hereby certifies to the seller and to the War Production Board that the carbon tetrachloride covered by the accompanying purchase order will be used only as specified above, and that the quantity of carbon tetrachloride hereby ordered, together with all other quantities ordered for delivery in the same month, does/does not (strike out inapplicable word or words) exceed 7000 pounds.

Name of purchaser
By ---
(Signature & title of duly authorized officer)

(2) Suppliers are requested to obtain certificates with respect to deliveries to be made during any calendar month not later than the 10th day of the preceding month. The above certificate need not be filed with the War Production Board. It shall be signed by an authorized official, either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. The standard certification of Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used unless a statement is added with respect to end use and whether all the orders of the customer for delivery in the same month do or do not exceed 7000 pounds.

(3) The primary product and end use description in the above certificate shall be specified as follows:

Quantity of carbon tetrachloride	Primary product	End use

Primary product. Primary product should be specified as follows:
Degreasing compound.
Fire-extinguisher fluid.
Grain fumigant.
Fur fumigant.
Refrigerant (specify).
Hexachlorethane.
Dry cleaning fluid.
Spotting and cleaning fluid.
Drugs and pharmaceuticals (specify).
Other (specify).

End use. End use should be specified to indicate the disposition of each primary product, such as civilian, industrial (specify general use, such as munitions, auto servicing, etc.), food processing and laboratory use. Where the carbon tetrachloride or the product made from it is to be delivered directly to the Armed Services, or for Export, or on Lend-Lease, specify "armed services", or "Export", or "Lend-Lease", as the end use, without further end use description.

Resale. If the purchase is for resale, the purchaser shall leave blank the "primary product" space and as end use shall specify "authorized resale" or if ordering exclusively for resale on small orders of 700 pounds or less, shall specify "resale in 700 pound or less lots".

(4) In the event that two or more end uses are involved in a single purchase order, the amount of carbon tetrachloride required for each use shall be listed as a separate item. Each item shall bear an identifying number so that it will be possible for the primary supplier to advise his customers, by purchase order and item number, as to the action taken on the application to make delivery.

(5) A written purchase order placed by any department or agency of the United States Government pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 (Lend-Lease Act) shall, provided such purchase order specifies the Lend-Lease contract or requisition number, constitute a use certificate for the purpose of this order.

NOTE: Forms WPB-2947 and 3442, and the instructions in Appendices A, B and C of this order, have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 3302—SERVICE EQUIPMENT[1]

[Limitation Order L-190, Schedules, as Amended Jan. 15, 1944]

SCALES, BALANCES AND WEIGHTS

SCHEDULE I—BABY-WEIGHING SCALES

No baby-weighing or nursery scales shall be fabricated or assembled, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

1. No manufacturer shall manufacture any model of baby-weighing or nursery scales other than the one which, of all models manufactured by him during 1942, contains the least amount of steel by weight per scale, exclusive of the tray.

2. No manufacturer shall manufacture any baby-weighing or nursery scales containing any copper or copper-base alloys.

3. No manufacturer shall equip any baby-weighing or nursery scales with metal trays fabricated after April 29, 1943.

SCHEDULE II—RAILWAY TRACK SCALES

"Railway track scales" means scales for weighing railway cars in interchange service, excluding hot ladle scales, bar mill scales, plate scales, charging scales, mine car scales, wheel load scales, tipple scales, and any other scales normally produced for other purposes, even though equipped with rails. After October 24, 1943, no railway track scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales, except scales designed for weighrails which are either 42 feet, 50 feet, 60 feet, or 72 feet in length.

(2) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales with rated sectional capacities other than 30, 50, 60, 75, 100, 150 or 200 tons per section.

(3) No person shall manufacture any weighbridges for railway track scales requiring the use of more metal by weight than the American Railway Engineering Association specifications for weighbridges for weighrails of the lengths permitted in Specification No. 1.

(4) No person shall manufacture a railway track scale having a lever system other than the one which, of all those previously manufactured by him in accordance with American Railway Engineering Association specifications for scales of the same capacity, contains the least weight of material.

(5) No person shall manufacture any railway track scales other than four section scales.

SCHEDULE III—MOTOR TRUCK SCALES

The reason for issuing this schedule is to reduce the quantity of scarce materials consumed in the manufacture of motor truck scales to the lowest practicable amount. The War Production Board does not mean to suggest that scales made under this schedule will be as durable as scales containing larger quantities of materials. After October 24, 1943, no pit type motor truck scales, other than grain dump scales, shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture any sizes of scales other than the seven listed in the following table. The lever system and weighbridge adopted for each specified platform size must be the one which contains the least amount of materials by weight for the corresponding lever capacity which the manufacturer has been accustomed to manufacture and rate as specified:

Size number	Platform size	Lever capacity
		Tons
1	22 feet by 9 feet	15
2	24 feet by 10 feet	20
3	34 feet by 10 feet	20
4	34 feet by 10 feet	30
5	40 feet by 10 feet	30
6	45 feet by 10 feet	50
7	60 feet by 10 feet	50

(2) No person shall fabricate weighbridges to support concrete decks for use with pit type motor truck scales.

SCHEDULE IV—PORTABLE BEAM SCALES

"Portable beam scales" means only scales which are normally equipped with wheels and which use a weighbeam as the indicating element. After October 24, 1943, no portable beam scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales which conform to the following specifications:

(1) No person shall manufacture more than five models of portable beam scales. The principal specifications of the models permitted are listed in the following table. The capacity specified refers to maximum indicating capacity in pounds avoirdupois, including tare capacity, if provided, and the total value of counterpoise weights, if provided. Maximum and minimum platform dimensions are stated for each model. No manufacturer shall make more than one platform size within the size limits specified. For use with each listed model a manufacturer may make not more than three models of weighbeams—a full capacity weighbeam, a single weighbeam for use with counterpoise weights, and a weighbeam with tare bar for use with counterpoise weights. Each of these three models of weighbeams may be graduated in the avoirdupois system, in the metric system, in a foreign system, or any two systems. If graduated in other than the avoirdupois system, the capacity shall be the nearest practicable equivalent of the avoirdupois capacity specified. Model No. 2 and model

No. 3 may be made with or without wheels, but the pillar, cap and platform center must be of wood.

Model No.	Capacity	Platform dimension adjacent to pillar	Other platform dimension
1	1,000 lbs.	18" to 18"	24" to 27"
2	2,000 lbs.	22" to 25"	31" to 33"
3	2,000 lbs.	43" to 44"	28" to 35"
4	3,000 lbs.	28" to 27"	32" to 35"
5	4,000 lbs.	30" to 32"	38" to 41"

SCHEDULE V—ROLLING MILL SCALES

"Rolling mill scales" means only beam type rolling mill scales normally equipped with wheels. After October 24, 1943, unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board in writing, no person shall manufacture more than one model of rolling mill scales. This model shall have a capacity of 10,000 pounds avoirdupois, shall be made only with one lever system, and shall be made with one size of main platform. The latter restriction does not apply to super-platforms or racks.

SCHEDULE VI—PORTABLE DIAL SCALES

After October 24, 1943, no portable dial scales normally equipped with wheels shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales with platforms measuring 21 inches adjacent to the column by not less than 29 inches or more than 30 inches.

SCHEDULE VII—DIALS

"Dial scales" means only scales having pendulum actuated head mechanisms, but does not include crane scales. After October 24, 1943, no dials for new dial scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing except dials which have a reading line with a diameter of either 20 inches, or not more than 15 inches nor less than 14 inches.

SCHEDULE VIII—SELF-CONTAINED FLOOR SCALES

"Self-contained floor scale" means a scale enclosed and supported by its own frame, manufactured as a complete weighing unit, and designed primarily for installation with the platform surface at floor level. Self-contained floor scales include so-called "dormant" scales, and for purposes of this schedule include "fulcrum stand" scales, in which the fulcrum stands are held in fixed position by means of tie-rods. After October 24, 1943, no self-contained floor scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales with skeleton frame, wood box or fulcrum stand construction.

SCHEDULE IX—BUILT-IN FLOOR SCALES

"Built-in floor scales" means scales manufactured without a frame supporting and containing the lever system, and designed primarily for installation upon a prepared foundation with the platform surface at floor level. Built-in floor scales include "two-section" scales other than motor-truck scales. After October 24, 1943, no built-in floor scales shall be fabricated or assembled without specific authorization of the War Production Board in writing, except scales with wood platforms.

JAMES A. GAVIN & SONS, INC.

James A. Gavin & Sons, Inc., a New Jersey corporation located at 310 Main Street, Paterson, New Jersey, is engaged in selling paint and associated products through stores located in Paterson, Jersey City, and Hackensack. During the third quarterly period of 1943 (July 1 to October 1), it violated Limitation Order L-219 by receiving merchandise of a value of $24,876 in excess of its allowable receipts for July and August alone. The corporation was familiar with the provisions of Limitation Order L-219 and the violation must be deemed wilful.

This excessive receipt of merchandise has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.478 Suspension Order No. S-478. (a) James A. Gavin & Sons, Inc., its successors or assigns, during the first quarterly period of 1944 (January 1 to April 1) shall compute its allowable receipts of consumers' goods in accordance with paragraph (d) (1) of Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L-219 as a controlled merchant whose mercantile inventory is greater than its inventory limit at the beginning of any quarterly period under and shall conform to paragraph (d) (1), (d) (2) and (e) of Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L-219; it shall not during the first quarter of 1944 receive consumers' goods in excess of 75% of the amount thus computed under paragraph (d) (1) of Consumers' Goods Inventory Limitation Order L-219, unless hereafter specifically authorized by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve James A. Gavin & Sons, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on January 15, 1944, and shall expire on April 1, 1944.

Issued this 8th day of January 1944.

PART 3286—MISCELLANEOUS MINERALS[1]

OSMIUM

§ 3286.71[1] Conservation Order M-302. (a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Osmium" means the element osmium in commercially pure form, or the osmium content of any osmium-containing material containing 0.5 percent or more of osmium metal by weight, other than an osmium alloy, whether or not such material is first converted into osmium metal. The term includes mixtures and compounds. Natural osmiridium is deemed to be an osmium bearing material and not an osmium alloy.

(2) "Osmium alloy" means any alloy containing 0.5 percent or more of osmium metal by weight.

(3) "Process" means to fabricate, assemble, alloy, mix, melt, cast, extrude, roll, turn, spin, or otherwise shape, but does not include the smelting or refining of osmium ore or scrap for the production of sponge metal.

(4) "Put into process" means the first change by a consumer in the form, shape, or size of material from that in which it is received by him.

(5) "Supplier" means any person who sells or offers for sale, or who delivers, osmium or osmium alloys to consumers.

(6) "Consumer" means any person who uses osmium or any osmium alloy by incorporating it physically or chemically in the products or parts thereof which he manufactures, or who uses or consumes osmium or any osmium alloy in any manufacturing, laboratory, testing, plating, or repairing process.

(7) "Implements of war" means combat end products, complete for tactical operations (including, but not limited to, aircraft, ammunition, armament, weapons, ships, tanks, and military vehicles), and any parts, assemblies, and materials to be incorporated in any of the foregoing items which are produced for the Army or the Navy of the United States, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or for any foreign government pursuant to the act approved March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act), where the use of any osmium or osmium alloys to the extent employed is required by the latest issue of government specifications (including performance specifications unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board) applicable to the contract, subcontract, or purchase order. The term does not include facilities or equipment used to manufacture the foregoing items.

(b) Restrictions on use of osmium. On and after April 16, 1943, no person shall put into process or process any osmium, exclusive of an osmium alloy, except for the purpose of manufacturing or alloying an osmium alloy for use in implements of war.

(c) Restrictions on use of osmium alloys manufactured or alloyed prior to April 16, 1943. On and after April 16, 1943, except for use in implements of war, no person shall put into process any osmium alloy manufactured or alloyed prior to April 16, 1943, in any calendar quarter in excess of ⅛ of the aggregate amount by weight of all osmium alloys put into process by him for all uses during the calendar year 1941.

(d) Restrictions on use of osmium alloys manufactured or alloyed on or after April 16, 1943. On and after April 16, 1943, no person shall put into process or process any osmium alloy manufactured or alloyed on or after April 16, 1943, except for use in implements of war.

(e) Prohibitions against sales or deliveries. No person shall sell or deliver any osmium or osmium-containing material or osmium alloy or products thereof in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts, or sub-assemblies to any person if he knows or has reason to believe such material or product thereof is to be used in violation of the terms of this order.

(f) Limitation on inventories. No consumer shall receive delivery of any osmium, osmium-containing material, osmium alloy, or products thereof in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts or sub-assemblies, nor shall he put into process any raw material in quantities which in either case shall result in an inventory of raw, semi-processed, or finished material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the use of osmium, osmium-containing material, osmium alloy, or products thereof, by this order.

(g) Reports.—(1) Quarterly report. Beginning with the calendar quarter ending March 31, 1944, each supplier, each consumer, and each person owning at any time in any calendar quarter stocks of osmium or osmium alloy not incorporated in finished items or parts thereof, shall file Form WPB-2582 (formerly PD-846) with the War Production Board on or before the 15th day of the month following such calendar quarter.

(2) Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(h) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(2) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to the use of osmium and osmium alloy in all items manufactured after April 16, 1943, irrespective of whether such items are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to such date. Insofar as any other order of the War Production Board may have the effect of limiting or curtailing to a greater extent than herein provided, the use of osmium or osmium alloys in the production of any item, the limitations of such other order shall be observed.

(3) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Miscellaneous Minerals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: M-302.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

COTTON TEXTILE DISTRIBUTION

The following interpretation relates to General Conservation Order M-317 as amended December 24, 1943:

1. Q. Is the denim direction of May 21, 1943, superseded by Order M-317?

A. No. It will continue in effect until expressly revoked in writing.

2. Q. Where a person is given a rating in a preference rating schedule to obtain a particular fabric for a specified end use, is it necessary for that person actually to apply to the War Production Board for the right to use that rating?

A. No. The ratings given by these schedules are assigned in the order and may be applied without application.

3. Q. May a jobber use an AA-5 preference rating to acquire pillow cases in anticipation of business which he expects to get from a hospital?

A. No. The jobber has no rating to use until he receives rated orders from the hospital (user). Only after he has received such an order does the jobber have any rating which he can extend.

4. Q. Suppose, before December 24, 1943, when the order was amended, a spinner of sewing twine had on his books an unfilled and unrated order from a manufacturer of textile bags. Would the manufacturer be allowed to apply an AA-2X preference rating to the remainder of that already placed order?

A. Yes. In Group 1 of the AA-2X preference rating schedule, a processor (manufacturer) is given that rating for sewing twine to be used in the manufacture of textile bags. The rating may be used by him for that purpose, both in connection with unshipped balances of sewing twine orders as well as subsequent orders.

5. Q. Under Group I of the AA-2X preference rating schedule a bag manufacturer is given this rating to obtain flat duck to be used in the manufacture of bags, but he is not given a preference rating to buy this fabric to make tarpaulins. Is he allowed to use flat duck in the manufacture of tarpaulins?

A. Yes. Although the order does not give the bag manufacturer a rating to obtain flat duck to be made into tarpaulins, he is not prohibited from buying flat duck without a preference rating for that purpose. The mill may sell flat duck without a rating to the tarpaulin manufacturer so long as it does not interfere with the filling of rated orders.

6. Q. Does the fact that a particular use or end product is not included in a preference rating schedule mean that no cotton textile may be used for that particular purpose?

A. No. Preference ratings have been given to certain classes of persons to obtain specified cotton textiles for important uses which are described in the preference rating schedules. However, the cotton textiles mentioned in the preference rating schedules or any other cotton textiles may be used for any purpose unless prohibited by Column VI of the distribution schedules of this order or by some other order of the War Production Board.

7. Q. An AA-2X preference rating is given to a manufacturer to obtain window shade cloth for military maps (Group 24). No rating is given in the preference rating schedules to a window shade manufacturer. Does this mean that the window shade manufacturer must obtain a rating in order to get window shade cloth or that he is not allowed to purchase window shade cloth?

A. No. It merely means that a preference rating is not given to him.

8. Q. Is a cotton mill which normally dyes and sanforizes its own production of gray goods for the purpose of sale to manufacturers of work clothing required to accept a rated order for gray sheeting from a bag manufacturer?

A. Yes. Since a work clothes manufacturer has a rating of AA-4 and the bag manufacturer is given a rating of AA-2X, the gray goods must be sold to the bag manufacturer on the AA-2X rating rather than dyed and sanforized for sale to the work clothes manufacturer.

9. Q. A priority is given by the AA-4 preference rating schedule, Group 1, to a manufacturer to obtain fabrics for men's and boys' work clothing. Does work clothing mean anything the manufacturer deems to be work clothing?

A. No. Work clothing is that kind of apparel which is generally recognized and accepted in the trade as work clothing. The rating to be used properly must be used for the special purpose of manufacturing work clothing, and the manufacturer of work clothing must conform with L-181.

10. Q. Are the descriptions of the fabrics listed in Column II, Group 1, of Preference Rating Schedule AA-4 intended to include fabrics which are made wholly of combed or carded yarns or of combinations of both, such as twills or poplins?

A. Yes.

11. Q. When should the notations specified in paragraph (d) of M-317 be used and when should the notations specified in paragraph (b) of Order M-328 be used?

A. If the rating is received by virtue of a preference rating schedule of Order M-317 or by Form WPB 2842, the notations provided for in paragraph (d) of M-317 should be used. If the rating is given by another order or another form, the provisions in paragraph (b) of Order M-328 should be used.

12. Q. What ratings are given for diapers?

A. An AA-4 Preference Rating is given to converters and manufacturers to obtain cloth to be made into diaper cloth or diapers. An AA-5 Preference Rating is given to a hospital for the purchase of diapers.

The effect is that in purchasing diapers, a hospital uses an AA-5 preference rating which may be given to a manufacturer or to a jobber who in turn will pass it on to a manufacturer. This rating of AA-5 does not assist the manufacturer because he already has an AA-4 rating to obtain the fabric with which to make the diapers. It does, however, serve the purpose of giving priorities assistance to hospitals over other types of users.

13. Q. If a manufacturer of work gloves should receive an order from the Navy with an AA-2X rating, may he extend the AA-2X rating to buy mitten flannel or must he use the AA-4 rating given for Group 2 of the AA-4 preference rating schedule?

A. Since he is purchasing that textile for incorporation into a product to be delivered to the Navy, he may use the AA-2X rating and is not required to use the AA-4 rating.

14. Q. The order in subparagraph (a) (2) refers to the United States. Does that mean only the 48 states?

A. For the purposes of this order, United States means not only the 48 states but all the territories and possessions of the United States.

15. Q. Is a Canadian bag manufacturer given a preference rating by any Preference Rating Schedule?

A. No. In the AA-2X preference rating schedule, Group 1, a processor is given that rating for bagging fabrics to make bags. Only a domestic manufacturer is meant. The definition of "processor" relates only to a person engaged in the United States in the business of manufacturing.

16. Q. From where do ratings for export orders come?

A. A rating is given in connection with the granting of export licenses by the Foreign Economic Administration (Office of Economic Warfare). A rating is also given in connection with Treasury Department purchases for the Foreign Economic Administration (Lend-Lease and OFRRO). Canadian importers are being granted ratings by the Canadian Division of the War Production Board in Montreal, Canada, operating in conjunction with the Canadian Wartime Prices and Trade Board. All the ratings are AA-5.

17. Q. Can a domestic exporter or a Canadian importer use the ratings of the Preference Rating Schedules?

A. No.

18. Q. Does the order prohibit shipment without a rating to a Canadian purchaser who made a contract prior to December 24, 1943?

A. Yes it does. However, the Canadian purchaser may apply to the Cotton Administrator, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Aldred Building, Montreal, for a preference rating.

19. Q. Must the purchaser for export show on his order any export license or serial number or any WPB serial number?

A. No export license or export serial number need be stated on his order. However, if a rating is assigned by Form WPB 2642, the serial number of that form must be inserted in the notation required by paragraph (d) of M-317.

20. Q. Do the restrictions of Column VI of the distribution schedules apply even to goods produced or ordered before December 24, 1943, the date of amendment?

A. Yes. The Column VI restrictions apply no matter when the goods were produced, converted or ordered, and they apply to the producer, intermediate processor, processor, merchant and user. However, the Columns III, IV and V provisions cover only the producer (mill), and relate only to goods produced on and after January 1, 1944, regardless of the date they were ordered.

21. Q. Do the percentages in the distribution schedules apply separately to each construction?

A. No. They apply by groups to all the constructions covered by the respective Column I item numbers. For example, Items 76 thru 81, and 83 in Column I of the Carded Gray Goods Distribution Schedule refer to "other plain print cloths, except bandage cloths" and it is required that 40% be delivered against rated orders. This does not mean 40% of each and every fabric produced by the mill, but 40% of the aggregate yardage of the constructions fitting into those categories.

22. Q. In the Carded Gray Goods Distribution Schedule (Items 46, 47 and 48, 49) referring to bed sheetings 42" and wider (including made up sheets and pillow cases), the requirement is that at least 10% be delivered against rated export orders. May this obligation be satisfied by delivery, in whole or in part, of yard goods (gray or bleached) as well as sheets and pillow cases?

A. Yes. The total yardages are interchangeable. Paragraph (a) (1) (i) defines cotton textiles to include gray or finished fabrics as well as bed sheets and pillow cases.

23. Q. Is a mill which produces soft-filled sheeting and converts it into suede subject to the minimum rated percentages under soft-filled sheetings (Items 12 and 13, Carded Gray Goods Distribution Schedule) as well as the percentages for moleskins and suedes (Item 136)?

A. Yes. Inasmuch as the mill produces both soft-filled sheetings and suedes it must comply with the minimum percentage requirements as to both. However, the suede which is sold on rated export and other rated orders can be credited against the minimum requirements for the delivery of soft-filled sheeting.

24. Q. Are remnants to be excluded from the total of a mill's production for the purposes of the percentages in Columns III, IV and V of the distribution schedules?

A. No. They are to be treated the same as seconds and shorts for the purpose of the distribution schedules.

25. Q. Are seconds and shorts to be considered as part of the mill's total production for the purposes of Columns III, IV and V?

A. Yes. In making calculations a mill's entire production must be considered, including seconds, shorts and remnants. When the Column IV percentage is 100, the privilege is given to the mill to dispose of seconds, shorts or remnants without ratings if no rated orders are available. But if rated orders are presented for seconds, shorts or remnants, those orders must be accepted.

26. Q. Is the mill bound by the provisions in Columns III and IV of the Distribution Schedules even if the rated business is not offered to it?

A. Yes. This does not mean, however, that the War Production Board will grant ratings for uses of cotton textiles which have not heretofore been rated. The percentages in Columns III and IV have been set at levels to cover the quantities of rated business available for each group of fabrics. It, therefore, becomes necessary that each mill actually obtain the specified quotas of rated orders, although the result of this requirement will be that in certain instances mills will be unable to accept their accustomed amount of unrated business.

27. Q. In the heading of each distribution schedule there is a provision which states that if receipt of an order which is rated higher than a previously accepted rated order would result in having more rated orders than the Column V percentage, then the lowest rated order shall be displaced and it may be filled only from that percentage applicable to a subsequent quarter. Does this mean that producers cannot sell their yardage against ratings in excess of the percentage specified in Column V?

A. If after the seller has received the specified quantity of rated orders, another order rated lower than those already accepted is offered to him he may refuse it or he may accept it. This is a case where he is allowed to exceed the Column V percentage with rated orders.

If the newly offered order is rated higher than those he has already accepted, he must accept it, and it must displace the lowest rated order. This is a case where he is not allowed to exceed the Column V percentage with rated orders.

28. Q. The distribution schedules differentiate "bandage cloths" from other types of print cloth. The Preference Rating Schedules do not refer to "bandage cloths". Are "bandage cloths" included in the preference rating schedules?

A. Yes. Print cloths include bandage cloths. They are sub-divided in the distribution schedules, but are not sub-divided in the preference rating schedules.

29. Q. Where Column VI in the Carded Gray Goods Distribution Schedule provides that plain print cloths, 80 sley and higher, "may not be used for export", does that mean that a garment made of such goods may not be exported?

A. Yes. The restriction applies not only to the export of the fabric named in Column II but also to the use of the fabric in any product being produced for export. Furthermore, that restriction controls not only the mill, but also the converter, jobber and cutter.

30. Q. Suppose rated export orders, exceeding the percentage specified in Column III, are presented. Must the mill accept them?

A. Yes. Those rated orders must be accepted to the extent of the Column V percentage.

31. Q. If a mill is making only one construction of "other plain print cloths, except bandage cloths" (Carded Gray Goods Schedule, Items 76 thru 81, 83) namely 38½" 64 x 60 5.35 yard to meet special quality standards, for which he receives an AA-2 preference rating from an insulating tape manufacturer, is he obliged to deliver 10% for export?

A. Yes. Since Column III specifies 10% as the portion of his production which must be delivered against rated export orders, the mill is obliged to comply unless relieved upon appeal.

32. Q. Does a mill, which is required to deliver a minimum of 10% of its production of Class B sheetings against rated export orders satisfy the requirement by shipments on ratings to a domestic bag manufacturer who will manufacture those goods into bags which will be exported?

A. No. The requirement is that the specified minimum percentage must be delivered against rated orders in the form of a cotton textile. In the case given, the bag manufacturer's order to the mill is not an export, but a domestic, order. Only the bags are covered by an export order.

33. Q. Does delivery of cotton textile to a garment manufacturer who could certify that the garment to be made therefrom is to be exported fulfill the export requirement?

A. No. The provision of Column III of the distribution schedules showing the minimum percentage which must be delivered against rated export orders means rated export orders for a cotton textile and not for a finished product which is not a cotton textile, such as the garment. It is to be noted that when the cotton textile is to be exported, paragraph (d) requires a notation to that effect to be placed by the purchaser on the purchase order.

34. Q. Where a percentage is not specified in Column III of distribution schedules, is the processor relieved of any obligation to accept rated export orders?

A. No. Unless there is a prohibition against export in Column VI, rated orders, export or otherwise, must be accepted up to the Column V percentage. The omission of a percentage in Column III merely indicates that the processor is not required to deliver a minumum percentage against rated export orders.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

MEAT, FATS, FISH AND CHEESES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 16 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new section 15.7 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 15.7 Retailers may apply for allowable inventory adjustments—(a) How to apply. A retailer who finds that his allowable inventory is inadequate (other than because of seasonal variations) may apply for an increase. He must apply on OPA Form R-315, to the board with which he is registered. The application must give the following information:

(1) The amount of his allowable inventory;

(2) The net point gain or loss in the applicant's point inventory caused by the addition of items to or removal of items from the foods covered by this order;

(3) The sum of items (1) and (2), or the difference if item (2) represents a point loss;

(4) The reasons why he claims that his allowable inventory is inadequate; and

(5) The amount of the increase which he needs.

(b) Action by board if adjusted allowable inventory would be 1500 points or less. If the board finds that the retailer's allowable inventory is inadequate and that the sum of items (3) and (5) in paragraph (a) is not more than 1500 points, it may grant the application for the additional amount which it finds he needs, but not more than the amount requested. If the retailer does not have any excess inventory, the board shall issue to him a certificate for the amount of the increase granted. If he has an excess inventory which is less than the increase, the board shall cancel the excess inventory and issue a certificate for the difference. If the retailer's excess inventory is equal to or greater than the increase, the board shall reduce the excess inventory by the amount of the increase.

(c) Temporary increase if adjusted allowable inventory would be more than 1500 points. If the sum of items (3) and (5) in paragraph (a) is more than 1500 points, the board may not act upon the application but must send it, and any other information received, to the district office for action. The board may attach its recommendation as to the amount of the temporary increase to be granted. The district office may grant the retailer a temporary increase for the amount which it finds he needs to get adequate stocks for the next six calendar weeks. It shall then return the file to the board. When the amount of the temporary increase has been determined by the district office, the board shall issue to the retailer a certificate or reduce the retailer's excess inventory, or both, in the way described in the last paragraph.

(d) Final action. If the retailer is given a temporary increase under paragraph (c) he must keep a record of his sales and transfers (other than exchanges, and transfers to another of his retail establishments) during the six calendar weeks after he received the increase. Within one week after the end of this period, he must report the point value of such transfers. The board shall divide this amount by two. If the resulting figure is more than the figure stated in item (3) in paragraph (a), the difference (or the amount requested by the retailer, whichever is less) is to be granted as a permanent increase in the retailer's allowable inventory. If the amount of the increase is more than the sum of any certificate issued and excess inventory cancelled under paragraph (c), the board shall issue a certificate for the difference. If the amount of the increase is less than that sum, the difference is excess inventory, and the retailer must give up points to the Office of Price Administration in the way required in section 6.6 (e).

2. A new section 15.8 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 15.8 Retailers and wholesalers may apply for temporary adjustments because of seasonal variations—(a) How to apply. A retailer or wholesaler may apply for a temporary increase in his allowable inventory because of seasonal variations in his business. He must apply on OPA Form R-315 to the board with which he is registered. The application must give the following information:

(1) The amount of his allowable inventory;

(2) The net point gain or the net point loss in the applicant's point inventory caused by the addition of items to or the removal of items from the foods covered by this order;

(3) The sum of items (1) and (2), or the difference if item (2) represents a point loss;

(4) The reasons why he needs the increase;

(5) The period during which he needs the increase;

(6) If he is a retailer, the average weekly amount of his sales and transfers of foods covered by this order, in pounds, during the same period in 1942, multiplied by 15. If he is a wholesaler, 75% of his average weekly sales and transfers, in pounds, during the same period in 1942, of foods in each of the three classes specified in § 1407.3027 (b) of Revised Supplement 1 to this order, multiplied by the factor fixed for that class;

(7) The amount of the increase which he needs.

(b) Action on application. If the board finds that the applicant's allowable inventory will be inadequate during the period for which the increase is requested, and that the sum of items (3) and (7) in paragraph (a) does not exceed 20,000 points, it may grant the application for the amount which it finds he needs but not more than the amount requested. However, in no event may the board grant under this section more than the amount by which item (6) exceeds item (3). If the sum of items (3) and (7) exceeds 20,000 points, or if the applicant requests an increase which is more than the maximum amount which the board may grant under this section, or if the applicant is unable to furnish the information required by item (6) because he was not in operation during that period, the board may not act upon the application, but must send it to the district office for action. It may attach its recommendation as to the amount of the temporary increase to be granted. The district office shall determine what action should be taken and return the file to the board. When the amount of the temporary increase has been determined by the local board or the district office, as the case may be, the board shall issue a certificate for such amount, if the applicant has no excess inventory. If the applicant has an excess inventory which is less than the increase, the board shall cancel the excess inventory and issue a certificate for the difference. If the applicant's excess inventory is equal to or greater than the increase, the board shall reduce the excess inventory by the amount of the increase. Within 15 days after the close of the period for which the increase is granted, the applicant must report to the board and give up points equal to the total of any certificate issued and excess inventory reduced or cancelled under this section. If he is unable to give up all the points within the fifteen days, the balance is excess inventory and the provisions of sections 5.6 (e) or 6.6 (e), as the case may be, apply.

This amendment shall become effective January 19, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[RPS 41, Amdt. 10]

STEEL CASTINGS AND RAILROAD SPECIALTIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Price Schedule No. 41 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new § 1306.104 is added to read as follows:

§ 1306.104 Taxes. As to any tax upon, or incidental to, sales or deliveries of steel castings or railroad specialties imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, if the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller under this Revised Price Schedule may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

2. Section 1306.105 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1306.105 Records and reports. (a) Every producer making sales of steel castings or railroad specialties and every person making purchases from a producer, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years, or as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall be in effect, whichever period is shorter, complete and accurate records of every purchase or sale. In the case of producers such records shall show the quantity of steel castings or railroad specialties sold from each pattern and the price charged and received; furthermore where extras, other than those on pages 64, 65 and 66 of the Comprehensive Report, are applicable and charged each such extra and the charge therefor shall be shown separately.

(b) Persons affected by Revised Price Schedule No. 41 shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may, from time to time, require.

3. Paragraph (c) of § 1306.109 is amended to read as follows:

(c) "Steel castings" means any cast steel object, whether rough or machined, that has been initially cast in the desired shape of the finished product, and which contains less than 1.70% carbon and/or alloys totalling not more than 8%. It means and includes such cast steel objects where other materials have been cast integrally therewith and also means two or more steel castings assembled by welding. It does not mean (1) railroad specialties as defined in Appendix B (§ 1306.113), (2) steel castings sold in an assembly with materials other than bolts, nuts, screws, rivets or other industrial fastenings, and (3) steel castings sold as another commodity by a "regular manufacturer of such other commodity". For the purposes of this definition a producer of steel castings is considered a "regular manufacturer of such other commodity" when (i) he represents himself in the trade as a manufacturer of such other commodity through the issuance of catalogs, price lists, or advertising matter circulated generally through the trade and in which such commodity is designated by name, (ii) the commodity is offered for sale on a price per piece basis, and (iii) he owns the patterns used for the production of such other commodity.

4. Paragraph (b) of § 1306.112 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Industrial steel castings, other than freight car and locomotive castings, made by a producer on or before July 15, 1941. The term "industrial steel castings" means and includes all steel castings other than armor, navy, ordnance and ship and marine castings. The maximum prices for each producer for industrial steel castings, other than freight car and locomotive castings, made by such producer on or before July 15, 1941, or for steel castings substantially similar in design and specification thereto shall be the prices, together with extras, terms and conditions, which were or customarily would have been charged by such producer on July 15, 1941: Provided, That (1) in no case where his maximum prices are computed on a delivered basis need a producer compute such prices on the basis of a freight allowance in excess of 50 cents per hundred pounds; (2) machining charges shall be ascertained in accordance with § 1306.112 (a) (8) except in the case of machined steel castings customarily sold by the producer on July 15, 1941, on a per piece price basis in which case the July 15, 1941, per piece price, adjusted for the difference in the machining costs used in the July 15, 1941, price and the March 31, 1942, machining costs shall apply; and (3) irrespective of a producer's customary July 15, 1941, practice with respect to the application of quantity differentials, quantity differentials may be applied on the basis of quantities ordered from one pattern at one time and scheduled for delivery in any one calendar month, except that where a production run overlaps a calendar month the quantity differential shall be determined by use of the quantity produced in such run.

5. The headnote to § 1306.112 (c) (1) (i) is amended to read "Other than freight car and locomotive castings" and the headnote to § 1306.112 (c) (1) (ii) is amended to read "Freight car and locomotive castings".

6. Section 1306.112 (c) (8) is amended to read as follows:

(8) Machining. The charges listed on pages 68 to 73, inclusive, of the Comprehensive Report for machining certain railroad castings may be added where specified, furnished and applicable. Such charges apply irrespective of whether or not the machining is performed by the selling producer or is subcontracted by him to an independent machine shop. Charges for other machining shall be determined in accordance with § 1306.112 (a) (8) and may be added where specified, furnished and applicable.

7. Section 1306.112 (d) (iii) is hereby deleted.

8. The schedule reference for Item No. 5324 of Table II of § 1306.112 is amended to read X-317R.

9. The schedule reference for Item No. 8133 of Table IV of § 1306.112 is amended to read X-317R.

10. The title of Table V of § 1306.112 is amended to read as follows: "Freight Car and Locomotive Castings (The schedules shown for classifications followed by the parenthetical designation (high tensile steel) include the extra for these physical requirements.)"

[MPR 348,[1] Amdt. 21]

LOGS AND BOLTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 348 is amended by the inclusion of Appendix B, Table 1 and Appendix C, Table 1.

Area. The area covered by this table is the same as that covered in Maximum Price Regulation 146, Appalachian Hardwood Lumber.

The Counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick in the State of Maryland;

The Counties West of and not including the Counties of Fairfax, Prince William, Stafford, Culpeper, Orange, Louisa, Fluvanna, Buckingham, Appomattox, Campbell, Pittsylvania, and Henry in the State of Virginia;

The Counties West of and not including the Counties of Stokes, Yadkin, Iredell, Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston in the State of North Carolina;

The Counties of Greenville, Pickens and Oconee in the State of South Carolina;

The Counties East of and not including the Counties of Cumberland, Russell, Casey, Lincoln, Garrard, Madison, Clark, Montgomery, Bath, Fleming, Lewis and Greenup in the State of Kentucky;

In the State of Tennessee all counties east of the west boundary of the Counties of Pickett, Fentress, Morgan, Roane, Rhea, and along the western boundary of Hamilton County to the intersection with the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad; thence easterly along said railroad through Chattanooga to the intersection of said railroad and the Georgia State Line; and

Species. The following commercial species:

Yellow poplar (Liriodendron tulipifera), chestnut oak (Quercus montana), beech (Fagus grandifolia), chestnut (Castanea dentata), hard maple (Acer saccharum), soft maple (Acer rubrum), sweet gum (Liquidamber styraciflua), tupelo gum (Nyssa aquatica), black gum (Nyssa sylvatica), butternut (Juglans cinerea), walnut (Juglans nigra), sycamore (Platanus occidentalis), hemlock (Tsuga canadensis), white pine, (Pinus strobus), loblolly pine (Pinus taeda), and shortleaf pine (Pinus echinata).

and all other botanical species of the following genera:

Oak (Quercus), ash (Fraxinus), basswood (Tilia), birch (Betula), buckeye (Aesculus), cherry (Prunus), hickory (Hicoria), magnolia (Magnolia), elm (Ulmus), and pine (Pinus) and all other commercial hardwood species.

Scaling Rules. All logs are to be scaled with the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter shall be measured at the small end of the log, inside the bark, and at the smallest diameter. Fractions of an inch below ½ inch shall be counted back to the next lower diameter inch, while fractions of an inch above ½ inch may be raised to the next higher inch. (Thus a log 14.4 inches would be 14" and a log 14.6" may be 15"). If the fraction of an inch is exactly ½ inch, it may be counted as of the nearest even inch. (Thus 13½ inches would be counted as 14", and 14½ inches would be counted as 14".

All unsound and unusable wood must be deducted by allowance in measurement. The defects for which full allowance must be made in measurement include hollows or large holes, rot, dote, windshake, large or excessive worm holes, damage in felling by drawn splinters, rotten and wormy sap, and crooks.

Logs are to be cut in standard even lengths unless otherwise specified by the buyer. The minimum length accepted at the full ceiling prices shall be 8 feet. Logs shorter than 8 feet in length can be purchased under the conditions given below.

All logs must be cut at least 4 inches over length to allow for trim. Logs that are not at least 4 inches over the specified length will be scaled as of the next lower even length.

Grade Specifications. Clear grade—minimum diameter 24". All logs 24" and over in diameter must be clear of all visible defects. Sound sap knots 1" and less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote 4" in diameter or less, located in the center of the log will not degrade the log but deduction for defect must be made in scaling the log.

Select Grade—minimum diameter 16". Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must be clear of all defects. Logs 24" and over in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or have 75 per cent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" or less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" in diameter for logs 24" and over and up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23" in diameter will not degrade the log but full deduction for the defect must be made in scaling.

#1 Grade—minimum diameter 12". Logs 12" to 15" in diameter must be clear of all visible defects. Logs 16" to 23" in diameter must have at least 3 clear faces or 75 per cent of the length clear in one continuous section. Sound sap knots 1" or less in diameter will not be considered as a defect in this grade. A rot or dote in the center of the log up to 4" in diameter for logs 24" and up, up to 3" in diameter for logs 16" to 23", and up to 2" in diameter for logs 12" to 15" in diameter will not degrade the log, but full deduction must be made for the defect when scaling the log.

#2 Grade—minimum diameter, hardwood 12", Pine 8". This grade shall include all sound logs above the specified diameter limits that are better than a cull and that do not grade as a #1 log.

A Cull shall be considered as any log where the net board foot scale after deductions have been made for defects, contains less than 50 per cent of the gross board foot scale.

Woodsrun Grade shall consist of hardwood and Cypress logs 12" and up in diameter, and Pine logs 8" and up in diameter as produced from the forest that are better than culls and from which no selection of large-sized or high-quality logs has been made. If any large-sized or high-quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs must be sold at prices no higher than the #2 grade prices if ungraded, or at the applicable grade prices if graded. When any small sized or low quality logs have been removed from the run of logs, the remaining logs may still be sold at the woodsrun price.

Grade specifications for ship timber logs and bending oak timber logs. Ship Timber Logs—minimum diameter 20 inches, must be fresh cut, sound to the center, free from splits and not less than 18 feet in length. Logs do not have to be straight but will permit a bow one way. These timbers may have one standard knot for every 4 feet of length. A standard knot shall be considered as a sound knot 4" or less in diameter.

Bending Oak Timber Logs—minimum diameter 20 inches, must be straight, fresh cut, sound to the center, free of all visible defects and not less than 16 feet in length. Twisted growth or swelled butts will not be accepted.

Area. The area covered by this Amendment is the same as that covered in Maximum Price Regulation 146, Appalachian Hardwood Lumber.

The Counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick in the State of Maryland;

The Counties West of and not including the Counties of Fairfax, Prince William, Stafford, Culpeper, Orange, Louisa, Fluvanna, Buckingham, Appomattox, Campbell, Pittsylvania, and Henry in the State of Virginia;

The Counties West of and not including the Counties of Stokes, Yadkin, Iredell, Catawba, Lincoln and Gaston in the State of North Carolina;

The Counties of Greenville, Pickens and Oconee in the State of South Carolina;

The Counties East of and not including the Counties of Cumberland, Russell, Casey, Lincoln, Garrard, Madison, Clark, Montgomery, Bath, Fleming, Lewis and Greenup in the State of Kentucky;

In the State of Tennessee all counties east of the west boundary of the Counties of Pickett, Fentress, Morgan, Roane, Rhea, and along the western boundary of Hamilton County to the intersection with the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad; thence easterly along said railroad through Chattanooga to the intersection of said railroad and the Georgia State Line; and

Species. Walnut (Juglans nigra) logs (sold on an individual or selected basis). For walnut logs sold in conjunction with other species, see Table 1 of Appendix B.

Scaling rules. All logs are to be scaled with the Doyle Log Rule. The diameter shall be measured at the small end of the log, inside the bark, and at the smallest diameter. Fractions of an inch below ½ inch shall be counted back to the next lower diameter inch, while fractions of an inch above ½ inch may be raised to the next higher inch. (Thus a log 14.4 inches would be 14" and a log 14.6 may be 15"). If the fraction of an inch is exactly ½ inch, it may be counted as of the nearest even inch. (Thus 13½ inches may be counted as 14", and 14½ inches may be counted as 14").

All logs must be cut at least 4 inches over length to allow for trim. Logs that are not at least 4" over the specified length will be scaled as of the next lower even length.

Grade specifications. Prime logs must be butt logs only, fresh cut from live timber, sound, straight and free of all defects and excessive sap. Logs are to be 12" and larger at the small end; must be 8' and longer. Two thirds of all logs 12" to 15" in diameter to be 10 feet and longer.

Select logs will admit:

(a) Butt logs 12" and up, 8' and up; must have three clear faces; no unsound defects admitted.

(b) Clear butt logs 6' and 7', 16" and larger.

(c) Second cuts 12" and up, 8' and up, clear of all defects.

(d) Slight crook if otherwise prime.

Sap: on both Prime and Select Logs all sapwood in excess of 1½ inches on each side of the heart shall be measured off in taking the diameter.

#2 Logs will admit:

(a) Logs 12" and up, 8' and up; must run 65% 10' and up. Must have 2 clear faces or better.

(b) Clear butt logs 12" to 15" and 6' to 7' in length.

(c) Any log 6'–7', 16" and up with 3 clear faces or better.

Cull logs. All logs which will not meet above specifications are cull logs. Exceptions: Logs with ring shake, worm holes, bird peck or back growth have no classification and shall have no value.

Logs are to be graded as found and no part of log is to be raised in grade unless cut off before inspection. Logs must be piled so they can be rolled over and all sides inspected.

The following are the defects which must be considered in both grading and scaling of Walnut Logs:

Knots, worms, cat faces or blind knots, splits, dote, double heart, crooks, shake, iron or wire, ring hearts, frost cracks, stump shots, lightning streaks, ingrown bark and bird pecks.

[MPR 506]

MANUFACTURERS' PRICES FOR STAPLE WORK GLOVES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 506 has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

AUTHORITY: § 1389.604 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

Appendix A—Tables of manufacturers' ceiling prices.

Appendix B—Suggested form to be used in applying for ceiling prices under section 2 (b).

SECTION 1. Scope of this regulation. This regulation fixes maximum prices for manufacturers' sales of specified staple work gloves.

(a) Kinds of work gloves covered. The specified staple work gloves covered by this regulation are work gloves of the following kinds:

(1) Single thickness canton flannel gloves.
(2) Canton flannel gloves with double thickness palm.
(3) Fully-lined canton flannel gloves.
(4) Two-thumbed canton flannel gloves.
(5) Jersey gloves.
(6) Gloves with leather palm and canton flannel back.

"Gloves" means both gloves and mittens.

(b) Kinds of sales covered. This regulation applies only to manufacturers' sales. Wholesalers' and retailers' sales are not covered. Under this regulation, a manufacturers' sale is a sale of work gloves by a person:

(1) Who fabricated the gloves sold; or

(2) Who sold or consigned to the fabricator of the gloves any of the principal materials from which they were made; or

(3) Whose business is under the same ownership or control as the person who fabricated the gloves.

(c) Where this regulation applies. This regulation covers sales in the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. How to find manufacturers' ceiling prices—(a) Work gloves specified in Appendix A. For the work gloves specified in Appendix A, a manufacturer's ceiling prices are those stated in that appendix.

(b) Other work gloves covered by this regulation. For work gloves covered by this regulation but not specified in Appendix A, a manufacturer's ceiling prices are those authorized by the Office of Price Administration, on application by the manufacturer.

An application for the fixing of a ceiling price must be filed with the Office of Price Administration (Men's Clothing Section), Washington 25, D. C., in three copies. The application must contain information in the detail indicated by the suggested form in Appendix B, and must be accompanied by a sample of the glove.

Pending action on such an application, a person must not sell or deliver the glove except in accordance with the provisions of section 6 (b) ("Adjustable pricing agreements").

SEC. 3. When taxes may be added. When a tax on a particular sale or delivery is imposed by a statute or ordinance which permits stating the tax separately from the price, the tax may be separately charged or collected in addition to the ceiling price. This applies only to sales taxes, gross receipts or gross proceeds taxes, and compensating use taxes, and does not apply to any tax imposed on a prior sale or delivery.

SEC. 4. Records and invoices. (a) Every manufacturer of staple work gloves must prepare a list of all staple work glove items which he delivers on or after January 21, 1944. This list must show the style number of each such work glove, and, following each style number, a description of the glove and the manufacturer's ceiling price. The description, like the descriptions in Appendix A, should specify cut or pattern, weight, and kind of materials used, thickness of glove, type of wrist, additional features (if any), and size classification. This record must be prepared on or before February 5, 1944 and must be kept up to date thereafter by adding any new numbers or any changes in the description of old numbers. This list must be kept and made available on request to the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Invoices. Every manufacturer selling staple work gloves must give the purchaser an invoice showing the lot number of gloves sold and the price charged.

SEC. 5. Excessive prices forbidden. On and after January 21, 1944, the following practices are forbidden regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) Charging more than ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to sell or deliver any staple work gloves at a price higher than the ceiling price set by this regulation. A lower price may, of course, be charged.

(b) Buying for more than the ceiling price. Every person is forbidden to buy or receive any staple work gloves, in the course of trade or business, at a price higher than the price set by this regulation.

(c) Combination sales. Every person is forbidden to require any purchaser to buy or agree to buy any other article, service, package or wrapper, in connection with the sale or delivery of any staple work gloves. But any manufacturer may refuse to sell less than a minimum quantity of any one style number, if this minimum has been customary for the seller.

(d) Indirect price increases. Every person is forbidden to do any other act which directly or indirectly increases above the ceiling price the consideration paid by the purchaser for any staple work gloves. Any practice which is a device to secure the effect of a higher than ceiling price is as much a violation as an outright raising of the ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation charges, premiums, taxes, special provisions, tying agreements, trade understandings and all similar practices.

(e) Indirect violations. Every person is forbidden to offer, attempt or agree to do any of the acts forbidden by this section.

SEC. 6. Adjustable pricing agreements. Adjustable pricing agreements may be entered into notwithstanding the provisions of section 5, to the extent permitted by this paragraph.

(a) When regulation fixes a ceiling price. In cases where this regulation fixes a ceiling price, a person may sell at that ceiling price, subject to an agreement with the buyer to charge a higher price if it becomes the legal ceiling price by the time delivery is made. But one must never charge a price which is higher than the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. Moreover, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, a person must not deliver or agree to deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upward in accordance with action by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. This authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any other official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the power to grant such authorization has been delegated, and will be given by order except that it may be given by letter or amendment when an application for authorization of an individual ceiling price is pending. The authorization will be given only where:

(1) A request for the fixing or changing of a ceiling price has been filed; and

(2) The authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production; and

(3) It will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Where the regulation does not fix a ceiling price. In cases where a ceiling price is not fixed by the regulation, a person must not make any delivery until a ceiling price has been fixed by authorization or amendment, and must not make any contract of sale unless the price is expressly subject to adjustment in accordance with any action which may be taken by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7. Licensing and enforcement—(a) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[2] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or this regulation. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(b) Penalties. Any person who violates any provisions of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 8. Relation to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. The coverage of this regulation is stated in section 1. Where this regulation applies, it supersedes the provisions of the following regulations:

(1) General Maximum Price Regulation.[3]

(2) Section 3.5 of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 (formerly § 1499.73 (a) (37) of Amendment 49 to Supplementary Regulation 14).

(b) Wholesalers' and retailers' sales. This regulation does not presently apply to wholesalers' and retailers' sales of staple work gloves. These sales are still governed by the General Maximum Price Regulation, and Maximum Price Regulation 210[4]—"Retail and Wholesale Prices for Fall and Winter Seasonal Commodities."

(c) Contractors' services. This regulation does not apply to charges for contractors' services, which are governed by Maximum Price Regulation 172[5]—"Charges of Contractors in the Apparel Industry." "Contractor" is defined in § 1389.52 of that regulation.

(d) War procurement agencies. This regulation does not apply to sales of work gloves made according to military specifications, when the sales are made to any war procurement agency as defined in Maximum Price Regulation 157[6]—"Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes."

(e) Export sales. This regulation does not apply to export sales of work gloves. Such sales are covered by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[7]

(f) Import sales. The provisions of this regulation do not apply to deliveries made from points outside the 48 states and the District of Columbia. Such sales and deliveries are governed by the provisions of the Maximum Import Price Regulation.[8] This regulation does, however, apply to domestic sales when the articles sold were originally imported.

SEC. 9. How this regulation may be amended. (a) Any person who seeks a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment of general applicability in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1[9] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Pending an amendment, a person must not sell or deliver work gloves at prices other than those fixed in the regulation except in accordance with the provisions of section 6 ("Adjustable pricing agreements").

APPENDIX A—TABLES OF MANUFACTURERS' CEILING PRICES

Instructions. 1. Prices are stated per dozen pair of gloves, with freight prepaid to the buyers' place of business.

2. All prices are net 40 days, less 2% in 20 days. If the seller wishes, he may extend more favorable terms. But no seller may change these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN KENTUCKY

In the judgment of the Louisville, Kentucky, District Director, the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in the hereinafter designated counties, have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the Louisville, Kentucky, District Director, maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the act.

So far as practicable, the Louisville, Kentucky, District Director gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation.

§ 1448.214 Maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption. Under the authority vested in the Louisville, Kentucky District Director by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250, Executive Order No. 9328, General Order No. 50 and Region III Order of Delegation 2A under Revised General Order No. 32 and Other Authority, Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 3–14 (Food and Drink Sold for Immediate Consumption) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1448.214 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Congress; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328; 8 F.R. 4681; Gen. Order 50, 8 F.R. 4806.

SECTION 1. Geographical application. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 3–14 shall be applicable to the entire Louisville District, comprising the following counties in the State of Kentucky:

Adair, Allen, Anderson, Ballard, Barren, Boyle, Breckinridge, Bullitt, Butler, Caldwell, Calloway, Carlisle, Carroll, Casey, Christian, Clinton, Crittenden, Cumberland, Daviess, Edmonson, Franklin, Fulton, Gallatin, Graves, Grayson, Green, Hancock, Hardin, Hart, Henderson, Henry, Hickman, Hopkins, Jefferson, Larue, Livingston, Logan, Lyon, McCracken, McLean, Marion, Marshall, Meade, Mercer, Metcalfe, Monroe, Muhlenberg, Nelson, Ohio, Oldham, Owen, Russell, Shelby, Simpson, Spencer, Taylor, Todd, Trigg, Trimble, Union, Warren, Washington, Wayne, and Webster.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 2. Sales at higher than ceiling prices prohibited. If you own or operate a restaurant, hotel, cafe, bar, delicatessen, soda fountain, boarding house, or any other eating or drinking establishments, you must not offer or sell any "food item" (including beverages) or "meal" within its proper class as set forth herein, at a price higher than the highest price at which you offered the same "food item" or "meal" in such class during the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943 and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943. You must not sell or offer to sell any other "food item" or "meal" at a price higher than the ceiling price which you figure according to the provisions of sections 3, 4, and 5 herein. You may, of course, sell at less than the ceiling prices.

SEC. 3. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not sell in the seven-day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer in the seven-day period as follows:

(a) If you served the same food item or meal within thirty days prior to April 4, 1943, you may take as your ceiling price the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal in its proper class during said thirty-day period. In any such case, your records as set forth in section 11 (c) herein, must include the menu or information showing the previous offering of such food item or meal at the higher price.

(b) If you did not sell or offer to sell the food item or meal either during the seven-day period or the thirty-day period, or if you do not have adequate records of prices charged during the thirty-day period, then you choose from the food items or meals for which a ceiling price has already been fixed, the food item or meal in the same class which is most similar to the food item or meal you are pricing and then proceed as follows:

(1) Determine the cost of the raw food which you use in preparing the new food item or meal.

(2) From the food items and meals for which you have already established ceiling prices, choose a food item or meal which now has a raw food cost equal to or less than the raw food cost of the new food item or meal.

(3) Take as your ceiling price for the new food item or meal your ceiling price for the food item or meal chosen for comparison. The food item or meal chosen for such comparison should be of the same class as the new food item or meal. If, however, you can find no food item or meal of the same class, you may use for comparison the most similar food item or meal of another class having a food cost equal to or less than your food cost for the new food item or meal.

(c) Once your ceiling price for a food item or meal has been fixed, it may not be changed, except as may be expressly provided herein.

SEC. 4. Class of food items and meals—(a) Classes of meals. (1) For the purpose of classification under this regulation, there shall be thirteen classes of meals as follows: breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on week days; breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on Sundays; children's breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

(2) Where you differentiated in price or otherwise between any of the above classes of meals during the period April 4 to April 10, 1943, you shall continue to maintain such differential. A meal shall be further classified according to the food item category hereinafter listed in which the main dish of such meal is grouped.

Example: A week-day roast pork dinner would be in a different class from a week-day roast pork lunch or a Sunday roast pork dinner or a week-day vegetable plate dinner, but would be in the same class as a week-day pork chop dinner.

(b) Classes of food items. (1) For the purpose of this regulation, food items as herein referred to shall be classified into the following categories:

FOOD ITEMS

1. Fruits, fruit juices, and vegetable juices.
2. Cereals.
3. Entrees—egg and combination egg dishes served at breakfast.
4. Entrees—meat and meat combination dishes served at breakfast.
5. Entrees—all other dishes served at breakfast.
6. Breads, rolls, buns, danish-pastries, et cetera, served at breakfast.
7. All other breakfast dishes, including jams, jellies, and preserves.
8. Appetizers, except alcoholic cocktails.
9. Soups, including consomme or soups in jelly form.
10. Beef—steaks and roasts.
11. Veal—steaks, chops, and roasts.
12. Pork—loin, chops, steaks, roasts.
13. Lamb or mutton—chops, roasts.
14. Poultry and fowl.
15. Fish and shell-fish.
16. Game.
17. Miscellaneous and variety meats, including liver and kidneys.
18. Prepared dishes, such as stews, casserole, ragouts, curries, et cetera.
19. Egg and cheese dishes and combinations thereof.
20. All other dishes, such as spaghetti and combinations, vegetable platter, baked beans and combinations, chop suey, et cetera.
21. Vegetables, including potatoes.
22. Salads (except as served as a main course or appetizer course in a meal).
23. Desserts—cakes, cookies, pies, pastries, and other baked goods.
24. Desserts—ice cream, sherbets, water ices, including combinations with syrups, creams, fruits and nuts.
25. Desserts—seasonal dessert specialties including but not limited to watermelons, cantaloupes, fresh fruits, and fresh berries.
26. Desserts—all others, including fruits, pudding and cheese.
27. Cold sandwiches—including garnishings, salads and vegetables.
28. Hot sandwiches—including garnishings, salads and vegetables.
29. All other food items served in a meal including mints and preserves.
30. Beverage foods, including coffee, cocoa, chocolate, tea and milk.
31. Non-alcoholic beverages, including sparkling and mineral waters when sold other than in the original package or container.
32. Mixed alcoholic beverages, including highballs and cocktails.
33. Beer and other malt beverages.
34. Wines and other alcoholic beverages.

(2) Where you customarily, during the period April 4 to April 10, 1943, differentiated in price or otherwise as to the serving of the same a la carte food item between any two or more of the following: breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on week days; breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper on Sundays, and children's breakfast, lunch and dinner, you shall continue to maintain such differentials, and where such differentials exist, such food items shall be deemed to be distinguished as to class.

Example. Mashed potatoes offered a la carte for week-day lunches would be in the same class of food items as potatoes au gratin offered a la carte for week-day lunches but would be in a different class than mashed potatoes offered a la carte for week-day dinners or Sunday suppers or in connection with other meal menus if during the base period they were customarily distinguished in price or otherwise.

(c) If you customarily charged more than usual Sunday prices for meals and food items served on legal holidays (so designated by Federal or State laws), you may, notwithstanding the provisions of sections 2 and 3 herein, continue to charge higher prices on those particular days, such higher prices, however, in no event to exceed 115 per cent of your Sunday ceiling prices. (See section 7, sub-section (c).)

SEC. 5. No ceiling prices to be higher than the highest price in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or meal which you did not offer in the seven-day period than the highest price at which you offered a food item or meal under the same class during the seven-day period, except that if, during the thirty-day period immediately prior to April 4, 1943, you served a food item or meal at a price higher than the highest price charged for food items or meals in the same class during the aforesaid seven-day period, then you may continue to sell that same food item or meal at the higher price. In any such case, your records, as set forth in section 11 herein, must include the menu or information showing the previous offering of such food item or meal at the higher price. The restriction of this section shall not apply to seasonal dessert specialties as specified in section 4, paragraph (b), Class 25.

Example. If, during the seven-day period, your highest price for a weekday dinner was $1.25, in general, that is the highest price you may charge for any weekday dinner. If, however, you served a chicken dinner at $1.50 on any weekday within 30 days prior to April 4, 1943, then you may continue to serve the same chicken dinner at $1.50 even though that is a higher price than any price charged for the same class during the seven-day period. But you may not add a new meal not served during the thirty-day period at a price in excess of $1.25. Observe the requirement that a supporting menu (or price list) be made available to justify such exception.

SEC. 6. Substitution of food items in meals. If you have already determined your ceiling price for a meal, you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal, any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price, provided the new food item costs you approximately as much and offer customers the same value as the food item which it replaces. A meal becomes a "new" meal whenever the entree (or main dish) is changed or a new food item is substituted which costs you less or offers your customers lower value than the food item which it replaces, and you must therefore determine its ceiling price in accordance with the rules established by sections 2 and 3.

SEC. 7. Prohibition against discontinuing meals at certain prices. You must not now discontinue offering meals or food items at prices comparable to those charged by you in the seven-day period if by your doing so your customers would actually have to pay more than they did in the seven-day base period. You will be in violation of this regulation unless:

(a) You continue to offer meals and food items at different prices representative of the range of prices at which you offered meals and food items of the same class during the seven-day period, and unless

(b) You continue to offer on week days at least as many different meals and food items at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals or food items of the same class on any week day that you select in the seven-day period, as you did on that day.

Example. Thus, you may select any week day in the seven-day base period as the base day for week day meals and food items. If you select Friday, April 9, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals and food items offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 85 cents and one each at 90 cents, $1.00, $1.10, $1.15, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 85 cents.

(c) You continue to offer on Sundays and legal holidays at least as many different meals and food items at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals and food items of the same class on Sunday, April 4, 1943, as you did on that day.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) You must not evade the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device, including:

(1) Dropping food items from meals, deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making sufficient reduction in price so as to maintain the raw food cost ratio at least equal to such ratio prior to the deterioration or reduction.

(2) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal.

(3) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking, or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in the seven-day period.

(4) Requiring as a condition of sale of an item or meal the purchase of other items or meals.

(5) Reducing the selection of meals offered at table d'hote prices when the food items which you customarily offered in such meals are being offered at a la carte prices which, when added together, total more than the table d'hote price for the complete meal, or give your customers less value for their money.

(b) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you do any of the following things, even though you did not do any of those things during the seven-day period:

(1) You may limit your customer to one pat of butter per meal; and when necessitated by the restrictions of the rationing program, you may vary the size of such pats of butter. In such case, however, you shall adjust the price of such servings of butter, whenever a separate charge is made therefor in direct proportion to the change in size of serving. The resulting figure, if it contains a fraction of a cent, shall be adjusted to the next lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half, and to the next higher cent if the fraction is one-half or greater.

(2) You may reduce the quantity or eliminate altogether ketchup, chili sauce, and any other condiment which is rationed.

(3) You may reduce the amount of sugar served according to your available supply.

(c) You must not, however, make the curtailment authorized in the foregoing subparagraphs and furnish these items at an additional charge. For example, if during the seven-day period you furnished ketchup, you may not discontinue furnishing this item free and at the same time offer to furnish it for an additional charge.

SEC. 9. Rules for new proprietors and new establishments. (a) If you acquire another's business subsequent to the effective date of this regulation and continue the business in the same place, you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor. Prior to the commencement of business, however, you may apply to the Louisville District Office of the Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section. If such permission is granted, it may be subject to such conditions as the Office of Price Administration deems necessary.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after the seven-day period, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. If you operate a concession in conjunction with a public event and were not in operation during the base period, you shall establish your prices in line with a similar type of eating or drinking place operating during the time of the base period. If the ceiling prices so fixed are too high and threaten to have an inflationary effect on the prices of food and drink, the Office of Price Administration may issue an order requiring you to reduce your ceiling prices. You are subject to the record requirements of section 11 and the posting requirements of section 12 immediately upon the opening of your place.

(c) Changing type of service. If you operated an eating or drinking establishment in the same establishment where you operated an eating or drinking place during the period April 4 to April 10, but changed your type of operation, you shall apply to the Louisville District Office of the Office of Price Administration for your proper maximum prices.

(d) Seasonal eating and drinking establishments. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking establishment, you must figure your ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If your establishment was in operation during the base period from April 4–10, 1943, use the rules set forth in sections 3, 4, and 5 of this regulation.

(2) If your establishment was not in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, but another establishment of the same type and within reasonable distance was in operation during that period, fix your ceiling prices as a new proprietor under the provisions of section 9, paragraphs (a) and (b) herein.

(3) If you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) and (2) herein, and your establishment is not yet in operation, you shall apply for approval of maximum prices to the Louisville District Office of the Office of Price Administration. Your application must be filed at least ten days prior to the date on which you plan to commence operations and must include the following information:

(i) Your name and address and address of your establishment.

(ii) A brief description of your business and the manner of operation.

(iii) A list showing the prices you charged during the previous season, as well as the prices you propose to charge during the present or coming season, differentiating between week-day, and Sunday, and holiday prices.

(iv) The date on which you plan to commence operations.

(v) The names of two establishments similar to yours in your vicinity.

You may then charge the prices listed if they are not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration prior to the date specified for the commencement of operations. The Office of Price Administration, may, at any time, after proper investigation and hearing, establish or alter such maximum prices for your business as it deems proper and equitable.

(4) If your establishment is already in operation and you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) and (2) herein, you shall, within ten days of the effective date of this order, file application with the Louisville District Office of the Office of Price Administration for approval of the prices which you are presently charging. Such application shall include the same information as set forth for applications under subparagraph (3) herein. Such listed prices shall be your maximum prices, but shall be subject to modification or adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 10. Taxes. If in the seven-day period you stated and collected the amount of any tax separately from the price you charged, you may continue to do so. You may also separately state and collect the amount of any new tax or any increase in the amount of a previous tax on the sale of food or drink or on the business of selling food or drink, if the tax is measured by the number or price of items or meals.

SEC. 11. Records—(a) Filing of menus. General Order No. 50 required you to file with your War Price and Rationing Board on or before May 1, 1943, a signed copy of each menu or list of your prices in effect during the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943. If you have not already filed, you must do so immediately. Failure to do so will also constitute a violation of this regulation.

(b) Filing by proprietors not in operation during the seven-day period. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place which was not open during the seven-day period (including newly opened places) shall file menus or a price list in accordance with paragraph (a) above, except that, (1) the filing shall be for the seven-day period beginning with the first Sunday that place is open after April 4, 1943, and (2) the filing shall be made within three weeks of such first Sunday.

(c) Records of the seven-day period. You must make available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours, a copy of each menu used by you in the seven-day period from April 4–10, 1943, or, if you are a new proprietor, in the seven-day period referred to in paragraph (b) above. If you did not use menus, or if your menus were incomplete, you must make available for such examination a list of the highest prices you charged in such seven-day period.

(d) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales. You must also continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily kept. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) Future records. Beginning with the effective date of this regulation, you must keep, for examination by the Office of Price Administration, two copies of each menu used by you each day. If you do not use menus, you must prepare, in duplicate, and preserve for such examination, a record of the prices charged by you each day, except that you need not record prices which are the same as or less than prices you previously recorded for the same items or meals. Proprietors who operate a number of eating or drinking places in the same city which have customarily been subject to central control may keep the records required by this paragraph for those places at a central office or the principal place of business within the city.

SEC. 12. Posting. (a) If you made menus available to customers in the seven-day period April 4 to April 10, inclusive, you shall continue to make them available. All menus shall include prices for meals and food items offered.

(b) Within one week after the effective date of this order:

(1) Your menus must contain in clear and legible printing or writing the following statement:

All prices listed are at or below our ceiling price, which, by OPA regulation, are the highest prices we charged for the same item or meal from April 4 to April 10, 1943. Our records of prices for such period are available for your inspection.

(c) If you did not use menus during the April 4–10 period, you may either (1) institute the use of menus, abiding by the foregoing requirements, or (2) you must post a price list including prices for all meals and food items offered, near the cashier's desk, if any, or in such other location of your establishment that it may be easily seen and read by customers at the time of purchase. Such price list shall conform to the requirements of paragraph (b) above.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating and drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any sale for which a maximum price is established by any other regulation, including the General Maximum Price Regulation, now or hereafter issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 15. Definitions and explanations. (a) "Person" means individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of the foregoing.

(b) "Meal" means a combination of food items sold at a single price. Examples of meals are a five-course dinner, a club breakfast, and a blue-plate special. Two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish are not a "meal." Examples of such dishes are: ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

(c) "Offered" means offered for sale and includes the listing or posting of prices for items and meals even though the items and meals so offered were not actually on hand to be sold.

(d) "Food item" means an article or portion of food (including nonalcoholic and alcoholic mixed beverages) sold or served by an eating or drinking place for consumption in or about the place or to be taken out for eating or drinking without change in form or additional preparation. It includes two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish, such as ham and eggs, bread and buttter, apple pie and cheese. Food items, otherwise identical, are not the same for the purpose of establishing maximum prices under sections 2 and 3, when they are items in different classes. (See section 4 (b) for "classes of food items.") For example, lamb chops offered a la carte for dinner or lunch are in Class 13, while if offered for breakfast they are in Class 4.

(e) "Eating and drinking place" shall include any place, establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, from which any food item or meal is sold, except those which are specifically exempted in section 17 hereof. It shall include by way of example, but not by way of limitation, such movable places where food is dispensed as field kitchens, lunch wagons, "Hot Dog" carts, et cetera.

(f) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 and in the General Maximum Price Regulation, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 16. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 17. Exemptions. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempted from the provisions of this regulation:

(a) Eating and drinking places operated in connection with special church, temple, synagogue, Sunday school, or other religious occasions.

(b) Eating and drinking places located on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club, bar and buffet cars, and peddlers aboard railroad cars traveling from station to station.

(c) Hospitals, except for food items and meals served to persons other than patients, when a separate charge is made for such food items and meals.

(d) Eating and drinking places operated by any school, college or university which is a non-profit institution (that is, where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual), which sells food items or meals on a non-profit or cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to students, faculty members and employees of such institutions. For purposes of this paragraph, persons receiving instruction on the premises of such institution by arrangement with the War Department or the Department of the Navy, shall be considered students.

SEC. 18. Special orders. The provisions of this regulation to the contrary notwithstanding, the Office of Price Administration may from time to time issue special orders providing for the reduction of the maximum price of any food item or items or meal or meals sold or offered for sale by any seller or sellers when, in the judgment of the District Director, such action is necessary or desirable to prevent inflation, to stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, or to carry out the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

SEC. 19. Adjustments. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum prices for any eating establishment under the following circumstances:

(1) The establishment will be forced to discontinue operations unless it is granted an adjustment of the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(2) Such discontinuance will result in serious inconvenience to consumers in that they will either be deprived of all restaurant service or will have to turn to other establishments that present substantial difficulties as to distance, hours of service, selection of meals or food items offered, capacity, or transportation.

(3) By reason of such discontinuance, the same meals or food items will cost the customers of the eating establishment as much or more than the proposed adjusted prices.

If you are the proprietor of an eating establishment which satisfies the requirements specified above, you may apply for an adjustment of your maximum prices by submitting to the Louisville District Office of the Office of Price Administration an application in duplicate. The application should contain the following information:

(i) Your name and address.

(ii) A description of your eating establishment, including the type of service rendered, such as cafeteria, table service, et cetera; classes of meals offered, such as breakfast, lunch and dinner; number of persons served per day during the most recent thirty-day period (in counting the number of persons served, anyone who was served more than once is to be counted separately for each occasion he was served); and such other information that may be useful in classifying your establishment.

(iii) The reasons why your customers will be seriously inconvenienced if you discontinue operations.

(iv) The names and addresses of the three nearest eating places of the same type as yours.

(v) A list showing your present maximum prices and requested adjusted prices.

(vi) A profit and loss statement covering your restaurant business for the most recent three-month accounting period, and a copy of your last income tax return if one was filed separately for your restaurant business.

Applications for adjustment under this section may be acted upon by the District Director of the Louisville District Office.

SEC. 20. Amendments. You may petition for an amendment of any provision of this regulation (including a petition pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 28) by proceeding in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with and acted upon by the District Director.

SEC. 21. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 shall apply to every person making sales subject to this regulation. Licensing Order No. 1 provides, in brief, that a license is required of all persons selling under price control. The license is automatically granted and may be suspended for violation of any applicable maximum price regulation. Any person whose license is suspended must cease selling during the period of such suspension.

SEC. 22. Revocation. This regulation may be modified, amended, corrected, or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This regulation shall become effective February 1, 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.

2. The income derived from the bonds shall be subject to all Federal taxes, now or hereafter imposed. The bonds shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The bonds will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will not be entitled to any privilege of conversion.

4. Bearer bonds with interest coupons attached, and bonds registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of bonds of different denominations and of coupon and registered bonds, and for the transfer of registered bonds, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Except as provided in Section I of this circular, these bonds may not, before February 1, 1954, be transferred to or be held by commercial banks, which are defined for this purpose as banks accepting demand deposits; however, the bonds may be pledged as collateral for loans, including loans by commercial banks, but any such bank acquiring such bonds before February 1, 1954, because of the failure of such loans to be paid at maturity will be required to dispose of them in the same manner as they dispose of other assets not eligible to be owned by banks.

5. Any bonds issued hereunder which upon the death of the owner constitute part of his estate, will be redeemed at the option of the duly constituted representatives of the deceased owner's estate, at par and accrued interest to date of payment,[1] Provided:

(a) That the bonds were actually owned by the decedent at the time of his death; and

(b) That the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to apply the entire proceeds of redemption to the payment of Federal estate taxes.

Registered bonds submitted for redemption hereunder must be duly assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for redemption, the proceeds to be paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue at _____ for credit on Federal estate taxes due from estate of _____." Owing to the periodic closing of the transfer books and the impossibility of stopping payment of interest to the registered owner during the closed period, registered bonds received after the closing of the books for payment during such closed period will be paid only at par with a deduction of interest from the date of payment to the next interest payment date;[2] bonds received during the closed period for payment at a date after the books reopen will be paid at par plus accrued interest from the reopening of the books to the date of payment. In either case checks for the full six months' interest due on

All bonds submitted must be accompanied by Form PD 1782,[3] properly completed, signed and sworn to, and by a certificate of the appointment of the personal representatives, under seal of the court, dated not more than six months prior to the submission of the bonds, which shall show that at the date thereof the appointment was still in force and effect. Upon payment of the bonds appropriate memorandum receipts will be forwarded to the representatives, which will be followed in due course by formal receipt from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

6. Except as provided in the preceding paragraphs, the bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Subscribers are requested not to trade in the securities allotted hereunder until after February 15, 1944. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies. Others than banking institutions will not be permitted to enter subscriptions except for their own account. Subscriptions must be accompanied by payment in full for the amount of bonds applied for.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, and to close the books as to any or all subscriptions at any time without notice; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, and to the limitations on commercial bank subscriptions prescribed in Section I of this circular, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par and accrued interest, if any, for bonds allotted hereunder must be made on or before February 1, 1944, or on later allotment. One day's accrued interest is $0.069 per $1,000. Any qualified depositary will be permitted to make payment by credit for bonds allotted to it for itself and its customers up to any amount for which it shall be qualified in excess of existing deposits, when so notified by the Federal Reserve Bank of its District.

V. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payments for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

SECTION 1. On September 25, 1943, an Emergency Board, appointed May 31, 1943 pursuant to the Railway Labor Act and Executive Orders 9172 and 9299, filed its report with the President of the United States in which was contained the recommendation that the employees covered by said report receive an increase of 32 cents per minimum basic day or 4 cents per hour, to be effective as of April 1, 1943. DEFICIENCY IN STOCK IN DESIGNATED NORTHEASTERN STATES

NOTICE TO PRODUCERS IN DISTRICT NO. 3

The necessity for shipping adequate supplies of bituminous coal to areas normally served by the Great Lakes, and to areas experiencing shortages in supplies of solid fuels has resulted in deficient stocks of bituminous coal to meet the requirements of retail dealers who supply household consumers and others with coal in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, and District of Columbia. In order to meet the present emergency in these states and to avoid hardship and suffering caused by lack of sufficient fuel, the following direction to producers in District No. 3, a district which normally serves these states, is issued pursuant to Executive Order No. 9332, issued by the President on April 19, 1943 (8 F.R. 5355), and Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 1 (8 F.R. 5832):

Each producer in District No. 3 (as described in the Annex to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937) is hereby directed to ship on the first two operating days of the week of January 17, 1944, from each of his mines to his all-rail retail dealers in the above-mentioned states from whom he now has orders the entire production of all sizes covered by such orders. Any producer who does not have sufficient orders from retail dealers in the above-mentioned states to cover his entire production of domestic sizes during such period shall immediately communicate by telephone or telegraph with Mr. Allan Burk, Solid Fuels Administration for War, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., for directions concerning the shipment of such excess tonnage. (Mr. Burk's telephone number is Republic 1820, Extension 5191. His room number is 3343, New Interior Building.)

Each such producer shall notify his retail dealer customers of these directions and advise him that shipments are made pursuant to Solid Fuels Administration for War directions.

Each such producer shall report in writing on or before January 24, 1944, to Mr. Burk, the name and location of each customer to whom coal is shipped in accordance with these directions and the tonnage shipped to each customer. In lieu of such report, any producer may file with Mr. Burk a copy of each invoice covering the tonnage shipped in accordance with these directions. These directions take precedence over, but shall not otherwise alter, requirements of all other regulations, orders, or directions.

(E.O. 9332, 8 F.R. 5355, E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176)

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this direction have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 14th day of January 1944.

Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator for War.

[Docket No. 6046]

RATES AND CHARGES BETWEEN U. S. AND POINTS IN WEST INDIES AND CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA

ORDER DENYING MOTION AND CONTINUING HEARING

In the matter of the investigation of the rates and charges applicable to communications between various points in the United States and various points in the West Indies, Central America, and South America. (T–29)

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of January 1944;

The Commission, having under consideration its order of December 28, 1943 herein, directing a further hearing with respect to the matter of rates and charges, and related practices, classifications, and regulations, for and in connection with telegraph communication service between the United States and Colombia, and having also under consideration a motion filed herein on January 5, 1944 by R. C. A. Communications, Inc., requesting a specification as to the respects in which its tariff schedules for telegraph service from Colombia to the United States are unlawful, or rescinding the order of December 28, 1943, herein, insofar as it has reference to its tariff schedules; and an opposition to said motion and a petition for enlargement of the issues, filed herein on January 10, 1944 by All America Cables and Radio, Inc.; and

It appearing that R. C. A. Communications, Inc., may have effected arrangements whereby no other United States carrier can charge rates as low as those being charged by R. C. A. Communications, Inc., for telegraph communication service northbound to the United States from Colombia;

It is ordered, That the above motion of R. C. A. Communications, Inc., be, and it is hereby, denied;

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the proceeding, the hearing shall also include the question of whether R. C. A. Communications, Inc. has entered into, maintained, or operated under any contract, agreement, understanding, or arrangement, written or oral, express or implied, which results in an undue preference to R. C. A. Communications, Inc., or an undue prejudice to other United States carriers in the rendition of communication service between the United States and Colombia, or which tends to create a monopoly of such communication service, contrary to the public interest, convenience or necessity; and, if any such situation exists, whether an appropriate modification of the radio station licenses of R. C. A. Communications, Inc. should be made.

It is further ordered, That the hearing heretofore directed to be held herein on the 26th day of January, 1944 be, and it is hereby, continued until the 9th day of February 1944, to begin at 10:00 a. m. at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C.

NEWSPAPER OWNERSHIP OF RADIO STATIONS

NOTICE OF DISMISSAL OF PROCEEDING

The Commission on January 13, 1944, closed the record and dismissed the proceeding instituted pursuant to Orders 79 (6 F.R. 1580) and 79A (6 F.R. 3302) relating to newspaper ownership of radio stations.

The Commission has concluded, in the light of the record in this proceeding and of the grave legal and policy questions involved, not to adopt any general rule with respect to newspaper ownership of radio stations.

A summary of the evidence in the proceeding is being forwarded to the appropriate committees of the Senate and House of Representatives in order to inform them of the facts developed by the investigation and for any consideration which they may desire to give the matter.

Aside from the specific question of common ownership of newspapers and radio stations, the Commission recognizes the serious problem involved in the broader field of the control of the media of mass communications and the importance of avoiding monopoly of the avenues of communicating fact and opinion to the public. All the Commissioners agree to the general principle that diversification of control of such media is desirable. The Commission does not desire to discourage legally qualified persons from applying for licenses, but does desire to encourage the maximum number of qualified persons to enter the field of mass communications, and to permit them to use all modern inventions and improvements in the art to insure good public service.

In the processing of individual applications for licenses, the Commission will inquire into and in its decisions give expression to "public interest" considerations. The Commission does not feel that it should deny a license merely because the applicant is engaged or interested in a particular type of business. However, it does not intend in granting licenses in the public interest to permit concentration of control in the hands of the few to the exclusion of the many who may be equally well qualified to render such public service as is required of a licensee.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

JANUARY 13, 1944.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) On June 3, 1940, Arkansas Power & Light Company (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "Company") filed its purported reclassification and original cost studies pursuant to Electric Plant Accounts Instruction 2–D of the Commission's Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Public Utilities and Licensees, effective January 1, 1937, and the Commission's order of May 11, 1937, pertaining thereto;

(b) The staff of this Commission, in collaboration with the staff of the Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas, made a field examination of the Company's studies and submitted a report to this Commission covering such examination entitled "Arkansas Power & Light Company, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Report on the Reclassification and Original Cost Studies of Electric Plant as at January 1, 1937";

(c) The said report was served on the Company, together with an order adopted on June 15, 1943, requiring the Company to show cause, under oath, if any there be, why the Commission should not by order find, determine and direct that the Company comply with the recommendations contained in the staff report;

(d) The report proposed that the Company classify $16,610,196.85 in Account 107, Electric Plant Adjustments; $1,108,440.24 in Account 100.5, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments; dispose of $2,402,515.42 of the amount in Account 107, as set out on page 33 of the staff report; and submit plans for the disposition of the remainder of $14,207,681.43 in Account 107 and of the $1,108,440.24 in Account 100.5;

(e) The report also proposed that the Company classify $45,551,920.00 in Account 100.6, Electric Plant in Process of Reclassification, and $2,293,567.58 in various Plant in Process of Reclassification Accounts within Account 108, Other Utility Plants, and that the Company prepare and submit to this Commission revised reclassification and Original Cost Studies respecting these amounts in conformity with the requirements of this Commission's Uniform System of Accounts and its order of May 11, 1937, pertaining thereto;

(f) On September 18, 1943, the Company filed its response to the order of June 15, 1943, in which the Company has in effect proposed to classify $7,920,276.85 of its Electric Plant as of December 31, 1936, in Account 107, Electric Plant Adjustments, and $10,300,628.47 of its Electric Plant in Account 100.5, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments, and Plant Acquisition Adjustments within Account 108, Other Utility Plant; such foregoing amounts include approximately $1,666,652.22 of adjustments classified by the staff in Account 100.6, Electric Plant in Process of Reclassification, pending further study;

(g) Thereafter conferences were held between representatives of the Company, this Commission, and the Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas, as a result of which the issues outlined by the order of June 15, 1943, and the response of the Company thereto, may be substantially narrowed, but said conferences failed to produce complete agreement on such issues.

The Commission finds that:

It is appropriate, to carry out the provisions of the Federal Power Act, that a public hearing be held in this matter.

The Commission orders that:

(a) A public hearing be held, commencing on February 16, 1944, at 9:45 a. m. (c. w. t.) in Little Rock, Arkansas, at a place to be hereafter designated, for the purpose of determining the issues raised by the order of June 15, 1943, and the Company's response thereto;

(b) In accordance with the provisions of the Federal Power Act, the burden of proof with respect to the issues shall be upon Arkansas Power & Light Company;

(c) At said hearing, Arkansas submit plans for the disposition of any and all amounts proposed for reclassification in Account 100.5, Electric Plant Acquisition Adjustments, and Account 107, Electric Plant Adjustments;

(d) The Department of Public Utilities of Arkansas may participate in the hearing as provided in Part 39, § 39.4, of this Commission's Rules of Practice and Regulations prescribed pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

FOREIGN ECONOMIC ADMINISTRATION.

[Case No. 26]

SIGFRIED OLSEN SHIPPING CO.

ORDER FOR THE DENIAL OF LICENSING PRIVILEGES

In the matter of Sigfried Olsen Shipping Company, One Drumm Street, San Francisco, California.

Pursuant to Part 807 of the regulations, adopted under section 6 of the Act of July 2, 1940, as amended, the Trade Intelligence Division of the Office of Exports, Office of Economic Warfare (now Trade Intelligence Division of the Requirements and Supply Branch, Foreign Economic Administration) charged the respondent herein with the violation of section 6 of the Act of July 2, 1941, as amended, and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. After due notice the respondent requested an oral hearing in accordance with § 807.7 of said regulations. The matter came on for oral hearing before Kelly Kash, Compliance Commissioner for the Administration. Respondent appeared and was represented by counsel.

The Compliance Commissioner received the evidence presented and after due consideration of the record on the 11th day of January 1944 filed his findings of fact and recommendation in this matter. Said findings show that Sigfried Olsen Shipping Company, One Drumm Street, San Francisco, California, is and was on the dates herein mentioned, a trade name adopted by Sigfried Olsen, under which name he has been carrying on a shipping business with his principal office at the above address; that on or about February 21, 1943, respondent caused to be loaded and shipped on the S. S. Igor 5,000 sacks of Portland Cement under Shipper's Export Declaration No. 28719 dated February 5, 1943, naming R. W. Hebard and Company, Balboa, Canal Zone, consignee; that said 5,000 sacks of cement were the subject of much correspondence between respondent and one N. P. Severin Company as a result of which Severin advised that the 5,000 sacks would be of no use to them but notwithstanding cement was loaded on board the ship which sailed on or about February 20, 1943; that the bill of lading for said shipment apparently dated February 18, 1943, refers to Export Declaration 28719 with consignee shown as "Order of Shipper", notice to be addressed to R. W. Hebard Company, Balboa, Canal Zone; that at the time the cement was in transit advice was given respondent that said Hebard Company was not interested in the purchase of additional cement; that no freight space application had been submitted for this shipment; that while this shipment was in transit respondent, not having received advice from Severin Company as to its desire to accept the shipment, undertook to arrange delivery to R. W. Hebard Company; that upon refusal of Hebard Company to accept delivery respondent changed the "Notify Party" on the bill of lading from Hebard to Almacenes Martinez, Republic of Panama, from whom orders had been received in October 1942 and for whom freight space applications had been submitted for other shipments and approved on March 17, 1943; that respondent, on or about April 1, 1943, shipped 150 bags of soda ash to one Christian I. Hayer, Panama, Republic of Panama, pursuant to freight space and License Number K–190766 wherein it was stated that respondent was in possession of a bona fide order from the proposed consignee; that an order and letter of credit had been sent by the consignee to respondent but that prior to shipment said letter of credit was withdrawn and that shipment was refused by Hayer and subsequently placed in storage in Panama; that respondent filed or caused to be filed an application for license and freight space, Form BEW 166, No. K–190767, for the exportation of 100 drums of caustic soda to Christian I. Hayer, Panama, Republic of Panama; that previous orders had been given by this consignee and letter of credit established, but that said letter of credit was withdrawn although there had not been any final and effective withdrawal of the order; that one Ricardo A. Miro under date of January 7, 1943, advised respondent that if the orders for the 150 bags of soda ash and 100 drums of caustic soda were not shipped before the expiration of the extended credits, he would consider the orders cancelled; that the application for and granting of license K–190767 shows that the orders for this commodity were not effectively cancelled; that much correspondence between respondent's San Francisco and Balboa offices and proposed purchasers regarding shipments referred to herein indicate cancellation of the orders, though the proposed purchasers and respondent completed certain transactions by delivery of portions of the commodities referred to, and with final approval of the Administration; that the attitude of respondent is shown by a letter dated February 12, 1943 from Sigfried Olsen to Mr. Paul P. Harving of New York wherein an attempt is made to explain his "unorthodox methods of procedure"; that although respondent refers to the transaction respecting the 5,000 bags of cement as being "unorthodox", the fact that the shipment was made without disclosing at the start the true name of the consignee, and the changing the name of the consignee while the shipment was en route, were not only "unorthodox" acts, but were violations of the export control laws and regulations; that while the other transactions herein referred to do not indicate the same measure of lack of respect for the export control laws and regulations, they do show a disposition on the part of respondent to disregard the regulations and act independently of their requirements. The Commissioner has recommended that the suspension of licensing privileges from the date of the charging letter to the date of the filing of his recommendations be deemed sufficient disciplinary action against respondent.

The undersigned having considered the findings and recommendations of the Compliance Commissioner has determined that the findings of Fact are amply supported by the evidence. However, the undersigned is unable to adopt, without modification, the recommendation made by the Compliance Commissioner concerning the disciplinary action which should be taken. Not unmindful of the considerations which the Compliance Commissioner recites in mitigation of any proper penalty, I believe that the nature of the violations are sufficiently serious and demonstrate a wilful or at least a negligent disregard of export control regulations as to require the imposition of a longer suspension than that recommended. The violations in question are those which took place after export control had been long established. Respondent was fully cognizant of those regulations and I cannot read the record as demonstrating anything other than a disregard of the regulations adopted as wartime measures to control American exports. In these circumstances I have determined to modify the recommendation of the Commissioner by ordering a suspension of respondent's licensing privileges until February 29, 1944.

Now, therefore, it is determined and ordered, That the respondent, Sigfried Olsen Shipping Company, and any person, association, or organization acting in its behalf or for its account be and each of them is hereby denied the privilege of obtaining individual, or any other type of export license or release certificate and is denied the use of any general or other type of export license authorizing any exportation whatsoever from the United States until February 29, 1944, and that all presently outstanding export licenses or release certificates issued to said respondent be and the same are hereby revoked.

It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services, and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plan; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

3. Whenever transportation service is performed by one carrier in lieu of service by another carrier, by reason of a diversion, exchange, pooling, or similar act made or performed pursuant to the plan for joint action hereby approved, the rates, charges, rules, and regulations governing such service shall be those that would have applied except for such diversion, exchange, pooling, or other act.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

PRIVATE AND CONTRACT CARRIERS

COORDINATED OPERATIONS

In order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, the following methods and procedure for joint action by private carriers and contract carriers, as well as persons using the services of for-hire carriers, are promulgated and recommended to the Chairman of the War Production Board for approval under section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. L. 357).

1. Purpose of recommendation. The purpose of this recommendation is to enable private carriers and contract carriers, as well as persons using the services of for-hire carriers, to cooperate with each other and with the Office of Defense Transportation in respect of the collection or delivery of property by motor vehicle in such manner as will result in conservation and provident utilization of vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies, will provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, and will otherwise aid in accomplishing the purposes and requirements of General Order ODT 17, as amended (7 F.R. 5678, 7694, 9623; 8 F.R. 8278, 12750, 14582).

2. Joint action plans. (a) Any two or more of such carriers or other persons (herein called participants) may enter into a joint action plan designed to accomplish the objectives of this recommendation by any one or more of the following described methods:

(1) Jointly operate collection and delivery vehicles, pool collections or deliveries for customers or patrons in the same neighborhood, collect or deliver orders for each other, or refer persons seeking any product or service to other participants, whenever any such action will reduce mileage operated by collection and delivery vehicles.

(2) Fill orders from each other's supplies of merchandise, for the purpose of reducing mileage of collection and delivery vehicles by making delivery from a point of supply nearer the customer or patron to be served.

(3) Lease or rent collection and delivery vehicles, with or without drivers and helpers, in order to achieve more efficient utilization of such vehicles.

(4) Exchange customers in outlying areas when so doing will result in the conservation or more efficient utilization of collection and delivery vehicles and will be with the customer's express consent.

(5) Adopt one or more of the following operating rules or practices: no collection and delivery vehicle will be started from the premises of a participant earlier than a certain hour, or unless fully loaded, except in emergencies; advance notice, except in emergencies, will be required for collections or deliveries; no orders will be accepted for collection or delivery at a specific time of day; service will not be performed within a given time unless the order therefor is received before a certain hour; before attempting collection or delivery, definite arrangements will be made to assure acceptance of such service by customer or patron; collections and deliveries of property will be made at the same time; minimum quantities, by weight or volume, for collections or deliveries will be prescribed: Provided, That no person will be precluded by such rule from receiving needed goods, supplies or services; limitations on frequency of collection or delivery within specific zones or areas will be established: Provided, however, That each such rule or practice adopted shall be administered fairly and without unjust discrimination as between consumers.

(6) Appoint one or more of their own number, or any other persons, to act as their individual, common, or joint agents in effecting joint action by any of the above-mentioned methods.

(b) No provision in this recommendation shall be construed to approve or imply approval of any program, agreement, act, or discussion relating (but not limited) to (1) the fixing of prices or of the terms and conditions for the purchase or sale of any product, service or thing, except for the adjustment of accounts between the participants in respect of the permissible action under this recommendation; (2) the allocation of territorial markets or distributors among participants, or the allocation of products among customers; (3) the establishment by the participants of a joint or common selling agent or instrumentality on behalf of the participants; (4) the exchange or allocation of customers by the participants except as provided in section 2 (a) (4) of this recommendation; (5) the use of any coercion, direct or indirect, to secure participation of any individual, company or group in the permissible action under this recommendation; or (6) boycott by two or more participants of any manufacturer, distributor, consumer, or other person.

(c) Such joint action plans shall be in writing, signed by all participants, and should state: (1) the territory involved; (2) the full legal names and the addresses of all participants; (3) the specific method or methods of joint action to be used; (4) the practical application of these methods to the particular operation of the participants; (5) an estimate and explanation of the conservation to be accomplished; (6) the effect, if any, of the proposed joint action on the maintenance of adequate transportation service; and (7) the name and address of a person to whom communications in respect of the plan may be sent.

(d) Such joint action plans shall be filed with the Office of Defense Transportation through its appropriate District Manager, Division of Motor Transport.

(e) Each such joint action plan will be reviewed by the General Counsel of the Office of Defense Transportation; and if it appears that the plan conforms to the provisions of this recommendation, and that effectuation of such plan will accomplish substantial conservation and more efficient utilization of motor transportation equipment, materials and supplies, consistent with the maintenance of adequate transportation service, he will approve the plan; and thereupon the Office of Defense Transportation will direct those who have agreed, or who shall thereafter agree, to participate in the plan, to put it into effect. True copies of the plan will be transmitted to the Chairman of the War Production Board and the Attorney General.

(f) Other persons engaged in the same business, desiring to participate in the plan, and willing to be bound by the terms thereof, may petition the Office of Defense Transportation for authorization to be included therein, and, upon receiving authorization, shall become participants in the plan.

3. Records; inspection. Participants in joint action plans approved under this recommendation each shall prepare and maintain such records, and make such reports, as the Office of Defense Transportation may prescribe subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942. Such records shall be available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by any accredited representative of the Office of Defense Transportation.

4. Termination. This recommendation shall remain in full force and effect until 6 months after the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation may designate, or until any certificate issued in respect of this recommendation shall have been withdrawn by the Chairman of the War Production Board in the manner provided by section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. L. 357).

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 8th day of January 1944.

COORDINATED OPERATIONS

In order to conserve and providently utilize vital transportation equipment, materials and supplies, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, the following provisions for the establishment and functioning of industry transportation advisory committees for petroleum and other liquid products are promulgated and recommended to the Chairman of the War Production Board for approval under section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. L. 357).

1. Purpose of recommendation. The purpose of this recommendation is to enable persons who transport petroleum and other liquid products in tank trucks to wholesale and retail distributors and military, private and commercial consumers to cooperate with each other and with the Office of Defense Transportation in the transportation of petroleum and other liquid products in tank trucks in such manner as will result in conservation and provident utilization of tank truck equipment and facilities and as will provide, in so far as possible, for the prompt and continuous movement of available supplies of petroleum and other liquid products to such distributors and consumers.

2. Petroleum and other liquid transport advisory committees—(a) Appointment. The Office of Defense Transportation will appoint a National ODT Tank Truck Advisory Committee, which shall be nationally representative of the private and for-hire carriers by tank truck and distributors of petroleum and other liquid products; and, when deemed necessary, will appoint Regional and State ODT Tank Truck Advisory Committees and Regional, State and District Committees on Local Delivery, or Regional or State Joint ODT Tank Truck Advisory Committees, which shall be representative of the private and for-hire carriers by tank truck and distributors of petroleum and other liquid products within the particular territory.

(b) Temporary subcommittees. Any of such committees may appoint a Temporary Subcommittee at any time to investigate and to report to it on any matter within its cognizance. Such temporary subcommittees shall be dissolved upon completion of their particular assignments.

(c) Functions. Such committees, within their respective territories, shall confine themselves to collecting and analyzing information, studying and developing plans for the coordination and most effective use of existing domestic facilities for the transportation of petroleum and other liquid products for the prosecution of the war, and making recommendations thereon to the Office of Defense Transportation. They shall not undertake to determine policies in regard thereto for the transportation industry, nor shall they attempt to compel or coerce anyone to comply with any request or order made by public authority. All requests for action on the part of carriers shall be made by the Office of Defense Transportation and not by the committees.

3. Joint action plans. (a) Any two or more persons who transport petroleum or other liquid products to wholesale or retail distributors, to private and commercial consumers, or to the armed forces of the United States may enter into a joint action plan designed to accomplish the objectives of this recommendation by any one or more of the following described methods:

(1) Jointly operating delivery vehicles, pooling of deliveries to receivers in the same neighborhood or zone, or delivering orders for the account of each other, whereby mileage of delivery vehicles will be reduced or greater efficiency achieved in the handling of petroleum and other liquid products.

(2) Furnishing trucks, drivers and helpers, and other equipment and employees to assist each other in the operation, inspection, repairing and maintenance of transportation equipment in order to increase operating efficiency.

(3) Filling orders from each other's supplies of petroleum or other liquid products for the purpose of reducing mileage of delivery vehicles by making deliveries from storage facilities nearer the receiver to be served.

(4) Leasing or renting of delivery vehicles, with or without drivers and helpers, in order to achieve more efficient utilization of delivery vehicles in the transportation of petroleum and other liquid products.

(5) Adopting operating rules or practices by which: advance notice, except in emergencies, will be required for delivery; no orders will be accepted for delivery at a specific time of day; before attempting delivery, definite arrangements will be made to assure acceptance of delivery by receiver; minimum quantities for deliveries will be prescribed: Provided, That no receiver unable to purchase or receive delivery of the minimum quantity shall be precluded by such rule from receiving needed supplies of petroleum or other liquid products and no retail outlet shall be precluded by such a rule from maintaining a selection of products capable of meeting public demand; limitations on frequency of delivery or service to specific zones or areas will be established: Provided, however, That each such rule or practice adopted shall be administered fairly and without unjust discrimination as between consumers.

(6) Appointing one or more of their own number, or any other persons, to act as their individual, common, or joint agents in effectuating joint action by any of the above-mentioned methods.

(b) No provision in this recommendation shall be construed to approve or imply approval of any program, agreement, act, or discussion relating (but not limited) to (1) the fixing of prices or of the terms and conditions for the purchase or sale of any product, service or thing, except for the adjustment of accounts between the participants in respect of the permissible action under this recommendation; (2) the allocation of territorial markets or distributors among participants, or the allocation of products among customers; (3) the establishment by the participants of a joint or common selling agent or instrumentality on behalf of the participants; (4) the exchange or allocation of customers by the participants; (5) the use of any coercion direct or indirect to secure participation of any individual, company or group in the permissible action under this recommendation; or (6) boycott by two or more participants of any manufacturer, distributor, consumer, or other person.

Engineers is a registered holding company and Vepco is one of its subsidiary companies. VPS is a subsidiary company of General Gas & Electric Corporation ("Gengas"), also a registered holding company.

All interested persons are referred to said applications and declarations which are on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

1. Under a program for the acquisition by Vepco of the properties of VPS, Engineers proposes to acquire from Gengas 782,000 shares of the common stock of VPS, being all of the shares of such stock outstanding, and a claim of Gengas to certain escrow funds in the amount of $1,165,166.67, for an agreed consideration of not to exceed $2,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is immediately payable in cash and an additional amount of not to exceed $1,500,000 is payable in the event that the earnings of Vepco exceed certain specified amounts.

2. Engineers will surrender the claim so acquired from Gengas to VPS as a contribution to its capital.

3. VPS will thereupon be merged into Vepco pursuant to Virginia law and upon the following terms:

(a) Each share of $6 Dividend Preferred Stock of Vepco will be converted into one share of $5 Dividend Preferred Stock of Vepco and will receive cash for accrued and unpaid dividends on such stock to the date the merger agreement becomes effective;

(b) Each share of 7% Preferred Stock of VPS, including all rights to accrued and unpaid dividends thereon to the date the merger becomes effective, will be converted into 1⅛ shares of $5 Dividend Preferred Stock of Vepco and will receive $5.50 per share in cash, plus additional cash in an amount equal to accrued dividends on said 7% Preferred Stock subsequent to March 31, 1944, to the effective date of the merger, if the merger agreement becomes effective after that date;

(e) The presently outstanding common stock of Vepco will continue unchanged.

4. Holders of the preferred stock of Vepco or VPS assenting to the merger but not desiring to retain the new $5 Dividend Preferred Stock will be given the opportunity through an underwriting to be arranged by Vepco, to sell the new $5 Dividend Preferred Stock to which they may become entitled at not less than $112.50 per share, less transfer taxes. The underwriters will sell such shares to the public at a price not exceeding $1.50 per share over the price paid to such stockholders. Any stockholders not assenting to the merger who dissent therefrom within three months after the meeting of stockholders at which the merger is approved, will be entitled to receive cash in such amount as may be obtainable under the appraisal rights existing pursuant to Virginia law.

5. In order to consummate the foregoing exchange Vepco will issue 305,192 shares of $5 Dividend Preferred Stock. Scrip will be issued in lieu of fractional shares.

PAR. 5. Section 33.31 (c), as amended by Treasury Decision 5245, is further amended by inserting immediately after subparagraph (12), as added by such Treasury decision, the following new subparagraph:

(13) For the purpose of computing the consolidated average invested capital for the taxable year:

(i) Stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group at any time during the taxable year shall be determined to be stock held with a basis other than cost if:

(a) Such stock is held with a basis fixed by reference to the basis of other property previously held by the corporation, but not including:

(1) Stock acquired from another corporation in exchange for property previously held with a cost basis if, at the time of such acquisition or immediately thereafter:

(i) The acquiring corporation or its shareholders were in control of the corporation from which such stock was acquired, or

(ii) The corporation from which such stock was acquired or its shareholders were in control of the acquiring corporation; or

(2) Stock held at a lower level in a corporate chain of three or more affiliated corporations to the extent that the lower-level corporation is connected with the affiliated group through intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in such chain acquired subsequent to the date of acquisition of such lower-level stock and held with a cost basis; or

(b) Such stock is held with a basis fixed by reference to its basis in the hands of a preceding owner, but not including:

(1) Stock acquired from another member of an affiliated group of corporations in a taxable year for which the acquiring corporation and the transferring corporation filed a consolidated income or excess profits tax return if, immediately prior to such acquisition:

(i) Such stock was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the transferring corporation or of any other member of the affiliated group holding stock in the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, was held by other members of the group with a cost basis, whether or not the stock transferred was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, but including stock so acquired which would have a basis other than cost if it had been acquired in an intercorporate liquidation described in (2) or in an exchange described in (3);

(2) Stock acquired in an intercorporate liquidation if, immediately prior to such liquidation:

(i) Such stock was held by the liquidated corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the liquidated corporation was held with a cost basis;

(3) Stock acquired from another member of a controlled group of corporations if, immediately prior to such acquisition:

(i) Such stock was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis, or

(ii) The stock of the transferring corporation or of any other member of the controlled group holding stock in the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, was held with a cost basis, whether or not the stock transferred was held by the transferring corporation with a cost basis,

but including stock so acquired which would have a basis other than cost if it had been acquired in an intercorporate liquidation described in (2); or

(4) Stock held at a lower level in a corporate chain of three or more affiliated corporations to the extent that the lower-level corporation is connected with the affiliated group through intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in such chain acquired subsequent to the date of acquisition of such lower-level stock and held with a cost basis;

(ii) Stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group at any time during the taxable year shall be determined to be stock held with a cost basis in all cases other than those in which the stock is determined to be stock held with a basis other than cost pursuant to the provisions of (i);

(iii) In the case of stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group subject to the application of (i) (b) (1) (ii), relating to intercompany acquisitions during a consolidated return period, or (i) (b) (3) (ii), relating to acquisitions from another member of a controlled group of corporations, such stock shall have a basis for invested capital purposes in an amount equal to the basis which such stock would have in the hands of its present owner determined pursuant to the provisions of section 761 (c) (1) and (e) if such stock were acquired as the result of an intercorporate liquidation of the corporation transferring such stock and of each member of the group owning stock of the transferring corporation, directly or indirectly, through which such stock would have passed prior to its acquisition by its present owner;

(iv) In determining whether stock of one member of the affiliated group held by another member of the group is held with a cost basis or a basis other than cost:

(a) The term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends);

(b) The term "controlled group" means one or more chains of corporations connected through stock ownership with a common parent corporation if stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 percent of each class of the nonvoting stock of each of the corporations (except the common parent corporation) is owned directly by one or more of the other corporations and the common parent corporation owns directly stock possessing at least 80 percent of the voting power of all classes of stock and at least 80 percent of each class of the nonvoting stock of at least one of the other corporations. As used in the preceding sentence, the term "stock" does not include nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends;

(c) The term "intercorporate liquidation" means the receipt by a corporation of property in complete liquidation of another corporation to which:

(1) The provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provisions of a prior revenue law, are applicable, including the case in which an election has been made pursuant to the last sentence of section 113 (a) (15) of the Revenue Act of 1936, as amended by section 808 of the Revenue Act of 1938, or

(2) A provision of law is applicable prescribing the nonrecognition of gain or loss, in whole or in part, upon such receipt, including a provision of the regulations applicable to a consolidated income or excess profits tax return, but not including the provisions of section 112 (b) (7) of the Revenue Act of 1938 relating to certain complete liquidations occurring during December 1938, or the provisions of section 112 (b) (9) relating to certain complete liquidations of railroad corporations, but only if none of such property so received is a stock or a security in a corporation the stock or securities of which are specified in the law applicable to the receipt of such property as stock or securities permitted to be received (or which would be permitted to be received if they were the sole consideration) without the recognition of gain;

(v) In determining the extent to which the equity invested capital of a subsidiary corporation is to be excluded under § 33.31 (c) (2) (iv) (g) by reference to intercompany stockholding interests at a higher level in the corporate chain held with a cost basis (§ 33.31 (c) (13) (i) (b) (4)), and in adjusting the accumulated earnings and profits of a corporation the stock of which is held with a cost basis, either by reference to the date as of which such corporation became a member of the affiliated group or the date of any subsequent acquisition of its stock (§ 33.31 (c) (2) (v) (a)), or by reference to realizations upon unrealized appreciation or depreciation of assets previously reflected in consolidated invested capital (§ 33.31 (c) (2) (v) (f)), such determination and adjustment shall be made subject to the following rules:

(a) The determination and adjustment shall be made by reference to those acquisitions and holdings of stock held in the corporate chain with a cost basis, and by reference to those acquisitions and holdings only, which, considering the time of such acquisitions and the position in the corporate chain in which such holdings appear, reflect the ultimate cost acquisition and the resulting ownership, direct or indirect, by the group of those economic interests of the group underlying such stockholding acquisitions;

Example (1). Suppose that A acquired for cash in 1930 all of the stock of B; that P subsequently, in 1935, acquired for cash all of the stock of A; and that the P–A–B group files a consolidated excess profits tax return for 1943. P's cash acquisition and holding of the stock of A acquired in 1935 reflects the group acquisition and holding of the entire subsidiary chain. Every adjustment of earnings and profits prescribed by these regulations, and every determination made by reference to stock acquired and held with a cost basis, those in the cases of A and B alike, will be made with respect to the costs incurred in 1935 and with respect to that date. The cost of the stock of B incurred in 1930 is a matter of no significance in the computation of consolidated invested capital for the taxable year;

Example (2). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A acquired the stock of B in 1940 instead of 1930. This change in the order of acquisition renders the cash acquisition by A of the stock of B a matter of significance in the consolidated computation. The cash outlay incurred by P in 1935 did not serve to bring within the group that portion of the group enterprise reflected by the business and assets of B. The earnings and profits of B will be adjusted accordingly as of 1940 and by reference to the cost of its stock then incurred; those of A will be adjusted as of 1935 and by reference to 1935 costs;

Example (3). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A had acquired the stock of B with a basis other than cost. Adjustments to be made in the computation of equity invested capital and of earnings and profits will be made precisely as in example (1), and for the same reasons, notwithstanding the character of A's stockholding interest in B. P holds the stock of B indirectly with a cost basis determined in character by reference to P's acquisition of the stock of A in 1935;

Example (4). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: A had acquired the stock of B with a basis other than cost, and this acquisition was effected in 1940, instead of 1930, without breaking the affiliation between P and A. The stock of B acquired in 1940 is not to be considered as a part of the enterprise in respect of which P incurred costs in 1935. The higher-level holdings with a cost basis bear no significant relationship to the acquisition and holding by A of the stock of B. The stock of B is not to be considered to be held with a cost basis. No adjustment will be made in computing the earnings and profits of B;

Example (5). Suppose a state of facts similar to that suggested in example (1), but varied to this extent: P's acquisition of the stock of A in 1935 was made with a basis other than cost. B will be regarded for the purpose of the adjustments prescribed in § 33.31 (c) (2) (v) (a) as having become "a member of the group" as of 1930, the year in which its stock was acquired by A, regardless of the subsequent acquisition by P of the stock of A. The earnings and profits of B will be adjusted as of 1930, and by reference to the cost of its stock then incurred;

Example (6). If A had acquired the stock of B with a cost basis at a date subsequent to P's acquisition of the stock of A with a basis other than cost, the adjustment of B's earnings and profits would be made by reference to the later date and by reference to the costs then incurred;

(b) The adjustment will be made by reference to the most recent acquisition of the required holdings of the stock of the corporation in the case of a corporation the stock of which was once held by other members of the affiliated group to the extent provided in section 141 (d), was later disposed of in whole or in part, and was subsequently reacquired;

(c) The adjustment will be made without regard to any exclusion of the corporation from the affiliated group in intervening years by reason of a loss of the voting control prescribed by section 141 (d) if such loss of voting control was attributable to the fact that stock which did not possess voting power at the time control was originally acquired later became entitled to vote;

(d) Except as otherwise provided in (f), if stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation which had held such stock with a cost basis, and if the cost basis with which such stock is held by the present owner is fixed by reference to the basis of such stock in the hands of such other corporation, the adjustment will be made as if the present owner had acquired such stock as of the date upon which such stock was acquired by such other corporation;

(e) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation in a liquidation subject to the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provisions of a prior revenue law, and if the stock of the liquidated corporation was held by the acquiring corporation with a cost basis but the stock acquired was held by the liquidated corporation with a basis other than cost, the acquiring corporation shall be deemed to have acquired the stock received in the liquidation as of the date upon which it had acquired the stock of the liquidated corporation;

(f) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis was acquired from another corporation in a liquidation subject to the provisions of section 112 (b) (6), or the corresponding provisions of a prior revenue law, and if the stock so acquired was held by the liquidated corporation and the stock of the liquidated corporation was held by the acquiring corporation, both with a cost basis, the acquiring corporation shall be deemed to have acquired the stock received in the liquidation as of the date upon which such stock was acquired by the liquidated corporation, or as of the date upon which the acquiring corporation acquired the stock of the liquidated corporation with respect to which the distribution was made, whichever date was the later;

(g) If stock of the corporation held with a cost basis is deemed to be so held by virtue of the fact that the basis of such stock is fixed by reference to the cost basis of other stock in the hands of the present owner, such stock shall be deemed to have been acquired as of the date of acquisition of such other stock;

(h) If the basis of the stock of the corporation held by another member of the affiliated group was increased as the result of a statutory merger or consolidation of such corporation with another corporation, or as the result of a transaction having the effect of a statutory merger or consolidation, and if the stock of such other corporation was held by such member of the affiliated group with a cost basis, that portion of such member's stockholding interest in such corporation represented by the increase shall be deemed to have been acquired as of the date upon which such member acquired the stock of such other corporation;

Example. Suppose that P acquired all of the stock of A in 1930 with a basis other than cost in the amount of $10,000; that it acquired for $15,000 in cash in 1935 all of the stock of B; that it caused B to be merged into A in 1936 without the issuance by A of any additional shares of stock; and that the P–A group files a consolidated excess profits tax return for 1943. The $15,000 cost incurred by P in 1935 will be reflected in the increased basis with which P holds the stock of A. P will be deemed to have acquired for cash in 1935 a portion of its stockholding interest in A; the earnings and profits of A, to the extent that they reflect the earnings and profits originally accumulated by B, will be adjusted as of 1935; and the earnings and profits of A will be further adjusted with respect to realizations by B and A upon the unrealized appreciation or depreciation in the assets of B as of 1935 reflected in the consolidated invested capital.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter VI—Solid Fuels Administration for War

[Reg. 10, Amdt. 2]

BITUMINOUS COAL

It is necessary to amend Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10, as amended, (8 F.R. 15773; 8 F.R. 16718) in order (1) to modify the provisions of the Stock Limitation Table; (2) to require certain data from industrial consumers of bituminous coal produced in Districts Nos. 12 and 14–23, inclusive; (3) to modify the functions of the Area Distribution Managers; and (4) to clarify the regulation. Accordingly, pursuant to the powers conferred by Executive Order No. 9332, Solid Fuels Administration for War Regulation No. 10 is hereby amended as follows:

(1) Paragraph (a) of § 602.171 Definitions is amended to read as follows:

(a) "Coal" or "bituminous coal" means all bituminous and subbituminous coal produced in Districts 1–23, inclusive, except Districts Nos. 5 and 21, as described in the Annex to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended.

A new paragraph (k) is added to read as follows:

(k) "Special purpose coals" include those bituminous coals that are to be:

(1) Charged into coke ovens for the production of coke for metallurgical uses, production of gas, or for the recovery of by-products;

(2) Used for foundry or other metallurgical purposes in which the coal or its products of combustion come in direct contact with the metal during the processing;

(3) Used for foundry facings requiring special chemical or physical characteristics;

(4) Used for production of water gas;

(5) Charged into producers for the production of gas; or

(6) Used as a raw material because of special chemical or physical characteristics to form a component part of chemicals, or directly entering into the chemical processes.

(2) Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 602.172 Limitations based on bituminous coal stocks of industrial consumers are amended to read as follows:

(a) Except as provided or permitted by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section and by §§ 602.178 and 602.182 of this regulation, no industrial consumer shall place an order for delivery, or receive, during any calendar month, bituminous coal produced in Districts 1–13, inclusive, except Districts 5 and 12, in amounts exceeding the maximum percentage (to the nearest carload or barge lot) of his monthly consumption requirements as specified in the following Stock Limitation Table:

STOCK LIMITATION TABLE

Maximum percentage of monthly consumption requirements that may be ordered from districts 1–13, inclusive, except districts 5 and 12, for delivery and received during any calendar month by an industrial consumer, from all sources combined, for a plant (or railroad system) based upon the days' supply of coal at such plant (or railroad system):

Days' supply (see § 602.171 (i))	Maximum percentage of monthly consumption requirements
	Public utilities		Other industrial consumers
	A [1]	B [2]	A [1]	B [2]
	Per-cent	Per-cent	Per-cent	Per-cent
Less than 15 days	140	140	120	120
15 to 20 days	130	130	110	110
21 to 25 days	120	120	100	110
26 to 35 days	110	110	70	110
36 to 40 days	100	110	70	100

70 days or more	50	50	50	50

[1] Applicable to purchasers of bituminous coal shipped from any mine, yard, dock or other place via any method of transportation and to any destination except those referred to in footnote 2. A public utility having more than 36 days' supply may order and receive in addition to the amount of coal it is permitted to order and receive by the Stock Limitation Table such additional coal as is necessary to maintain 36 days' supply; likewise an industrial consumer having more than 21 days' supply may order and receive that additional amount of coal necessary to maintain 21 days' supply.

[2] Applicable to purchasers of bituminous coal shipped to Canada via any method of transportation and to purchasers of bituminous coal directly shipped via tidewater to any destination in New York Harbor or New England. A public utility having more than 51 days' supply may order and receive in addition to the amount of coal it is permitted to order and receive by the Stock Limitation Table such additional coal as is necessary to maintain 51 days' supply; likewise an industrial consumer having more than 36 days' supply may order and receive that additional amount o coal necessary to maintain 36 days' supply.

(b) No restrictions upon the basis of days' supply are imposed by this regulation upon orders for bituminous coal for vessel fuel or bunker fuel, or upon orders for special purpose coals, or upon orders for bituminous coals produced in Districts Nos. 12 and 14–23, inclusive.

A new paragraph (d) is added to this section to read as follows:

(d) On or before the 10th day of each month, the Advisory Board for the producing districts subject to this section, shall recommend to the Solid Fuels Administrator for War such variations in the Stock Limitation Table as they deem appropriate in order to meet production and distribution problems of their districts.

(3) Section 602.173 is amended to read as follows:

§ 602.173 Voluntary efforts to level industrial consumers' stocks; information concerning non-cooperative consumers. The extent to which the Stock Limitation Table of § 602.172 of this regulation requires industrial consumers to draw upon stocks in order to meet current consumption requirements should be deemed to be a general standard for drawing down stocks. Producers, wholesalers and consumers shall endeavor to agree to reduce voluntarily, wherever practicable, shipments of bituminous coal to consumers below the maximum percentages of consumption requirements that may be ordered and received by industrial consumers during any calendar month.

Any producer, wholesaler, Bituminous Coal Producers Advisory Board, Area Distribution Manager or other person shall notify the Washington Office of the Solid Fuels Administration for War of any industrial consumer who is not voluntarily reducing his orders so far as is practicable in the light of his ability to draw upon his stocks. Such notification shall indicate: (1) The name and location of the industrial consumer; (2) the rate at which such consumer is drawing upon his stocks; and (3) the rate at which such consumer could draw upon his stocks in the light of his available mechanical equipment and manpower. The Administrator may thereupon require such consumer to decrease his orders for coal or take other appropriate action.

(4) Paragraph (a) and (a) (1) of § 602.174 Restrictions on shipments to industrial consumers unless orders are submitted on time and contain certain information are amended to read as follows:

§ 602.174 Restrictions on shipments to industrial consumers unless orders comply with § 602.172 and are submitted on time and contain certain information. (a) Except as provided or permitted by paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section and by § 602.178 of this regulation, producers and wholesalers are prohibited from shipping bituminous coal to an industrial consumer on any order during any calendar month by any method or combined methods of transportation unless:

(1) The order for coal produced in Districts 1–13, inclusive, except District 12, has been received on or before the 24th day of the preceding calendar month, or the order for coal produced in Districts Nos. 12 and 14–23, inclusive, has been received on or before the 30th day of the preceding calendar month; and

Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) is redesignated subparagraph (3) and the following new subparagraph (2) is added:

(2) The order is not for an amount of coal in excess of the amount permitted to be ordered in accordance with the Stock Limitation Table contained in § 602.172.

Paragraph (b) is redesignated paragraph (d) and a new paragraph (b) is added to read as follows:

(b) Compliance with the provisions of this section may be temporarily excused by any Area Distribution Manager only to the extent it appears necessary to permit the shipment or receipt of coal to meet emergency situations likely to result in hardship to any consumer who has not wilfully violated any of the provisions of this regulation.

Paragraph (c) is redesignated paragraph (e) and is amended to read as follows:

(e) Producers and wholesalers are prohibited from shipping bituminous coal on any order of a wholesaler unless the order contains the names and locations of the customers of the wholesalers and the information required to be submitted to the wholesaler by the wholesaler's customer (industrial consumer) under paragraph (a) (3) of this section: Provided, however, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply (i) to an order of a commercial dock operator with respect to coal not segregated and earmarked for a particular industrial consumer for shipment to the commercial dock by rail, lake, tidewater, or river, or (ii) to an order for shipment to a lower lake dumping port or to a tidewater dumping port if the coal is not segregated and earmarked for transshipment to a specific industrial consumer, or (iii) to an order received by a commercial dock operator located on Lake Superior, or on the west bank of Lake Michigan north of, and including, Waukegan, Illinois.

A new paragraph (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section or of § 602.172, any purchaser may indicate to a producer or wholesaler at any time that he may be able to accept coal in addition to the amount ordered if such coal is offered to him in accordance with the provisions of § 602.178.

(5) Paragraph (a) of § 602.175 Reports by producers, commercial dock operators, and lake or tidewater forwarders is amended to read as follows:

(a) Each producer in Districts 1–13, inclusive except District 5, and commercial dock operator, lake or tidewater forwarder shall report before the last day of each month preceding the calendar month of shipment and each producer in Districts Nos. 12 and 14–23, inclusive, shall report on or before the fifth day of the month of shipment on Form SFA No. 79, revised January 1944, to be supplied by the Solid Fuels Administration for War (with the cooperation of the Advisory Boards which have agreed to help effectuate the proper distribution of such document): (1) Any information which has been furnished to him by industrial consumers or wholesalers pursuant to this regulation; (2) the tonnage which is expected to be shipped during the month on each order received; (3) separately, by sizes, the total tonnage expected to be produced; and (4) separately by sizes, the tonnage expected to be produced and for which the producer has no orders on hand; and (5) separately, by sizes, the total tonnage to be shipped to Federal agencies or Departments; and (6) such other information as is required to be set forth on Form SFA 79, revised. Such reports as may be required from commercial dock operators, lake or tidewater forwarders shall be filed with the Solid Fuels Administration for War, Washington 25, D. C., and such reports as may be required from producers may be filed, at the address specified in Appendix A, annexed hereto and made part hereof, with the Area Distribution Manager of the Solid Fuels Administration for War for the district in which the mine is located.

(6) The following is added to Appendix A:

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

CERTIFICATIONS ON PURCHASE ORDERS AND OTHER DOCUMENTS

§ 944.27 Priorities Regulation No. 7—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation explains the use of certifications on purchase orders and delivery orders. It permits use of a standard form of certification instead of most of the different forms required by various regulations and orders of the War Production Board. This standard certification first appeared in CMP Regulation 7 and has previously been permitted for most purposes in operations under the Controlled Materials Plan. This regulation permits its use under other orders and regulations as well.

Standard Certification

(b) When standard certification may be used. The standard certification which is described below may be used instead of any certification (sometimes called a "certificate," an "endorsement," or a "statement") which is required to be placed on, or to accompany, a purchase or delivery order under any regulation or order of the War Production Board, except in the following cases:

(1) It cannot be used instead of any of the certifications listed in List A at the end of this regulation.

(2) It cannot be used instead of a certification required by a WPB regulation or order which expressly states that the standard form cannot be used.

(3) It cannot be used instead of any WPB or PD forms required by any WPB regulation or order to accompany the purchase order. Two examples of this exception are the WPB forms required by Order M–293 and Form WPB–2524 (formerly PD–833) required by Order L–5–d.

(4) It cannot be used by government procurement officers to rate deliveries for which a rating has not already been assigned by a separate preference rating certificate or an order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(c) Use is optional. The use of the standard certification is optional unless an order or regulation states that it is the only one that can be used. Anyone who wishes to may use the more specific certifications provided by the various orders and regulations, such as the one given in Priorities Regulation 3 for use in applying or extending preference ratings.

(d) Form of standard certification. The standard certification must be in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or aymbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

(e) Additional information with standard certification. When the standard certification is used, additional information must be given in the following five cases only, and this information may be put either at the end of the standard certification or anywhere else on the order, or accompanying it:

(1) A preference rating, allotment number or symbol must be added where required by the applicable order or regulation. This is already the practice with the use of the CMP Regulation 7 certification.

(2) Where the applicable regulation or order requires information as to the specific immediate or end use for which the items are ordered, this information must be added. However, where the applicable order requires only a general statement as to an authorized use, such as "to be used for a purpose so approved" (as in order P-47), no information need be added.

(3) Where the applicable order calls for a statement to show that a "small order exemption" under any one of the "L" or "M" orders is applicable, the words "in compliance with a small order exemption" shall be added.

(4) Where the preference rating to be applied or extended was obtained on a WPB-547 (PD-1X) certificate, the identification "WPB-547" or "PD-1X" must be added.

(5) Where the applicable regulation or order expressly states that other information must be given in addition to the standard certification, the additional information must be added.

Waiving Certifications

(f) Waiver of buyer's certification. If a seller receives an order without the standard certification or the certification required by the governing WPB regulation or order, he may accept the purchase order and treat it as bearing the proper certification if he complies with the following rules:

(1) The seller must know the facts which the certification would show and must place the necessary certification on the order and sign it himself. He may not merely insert the certification over the buyer's signature. In adding the certification, the seller shall be deemed to make the representation to the War Production Board. The individual who signs for the seller must be a responsible official of the seller, duly authorized to make binding representations in this respect on the seller's behalf.

(2) The seller may use either the standard certification where permitted by this regulation or the certification required by the governing regulation or order. If he uses the standard, he must change the words "undersigned purchaser" to "undersigned seller", cross out the words "the seller and" and change the words "the undersigned is authorized" to "the buyer is authorized". If he uses the form required by the governing order or regulation, he must make corresponding changes in wording.

(3) A certification may not be waived if (i) it is listed on List B at the end of this regulation, or (ii) the governing order or regulation expressly states that it may not be waived.

(4) Where the purchase order when received by the seller is not accompanied by the CMP allotment number or symbol, he must get a written statement from the buyer signed by a responsible person giving this information before he adds it to the purchase order with the appropriate certification.

One-Time Certification

(g) When one-time certification may be used. Some WPB orders require a certification only for the purpose of making sure that the buyer knows of the restrictions in the order. In these cases, the certifications may be omitted entirely without substituting the standard certification, if the buyer has previously given the seller a certification in substantially the form described below. This one-time certification may be used only (1) instead of the certifications in the Orders listed in List C at the end of the regulation or (2) where the governing order expressly states that it may be used.

(h) Form of one-time certification. The one-time certification must be substantially as follows:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with Order —— of the War Production Board, and that all purchases from you of items regulated by that order, and the use of the same by the undersigned, will be in compliance with the order, as amended from time to time.

(i) Example. Under Order M-99 no one may acquire any printing plates unless the purchase order bears a certification specified in the order to the effect that the purchaser is familiar with it and will comply with it. Since this order is listed on Schedule C, a purchaser of printing plates may omit this certification on any purchase orders placed with a supplier to whom he has previously furnished the one-time certification shown above.

Signature of Certification

(j) Who must sign and how. Certifications on purchase or delivery orders which are required by WPB orders or regulations must be signed by the person placing the order (or the person receiving it under paragraph (f) above) or by a responsible individual who is duly authorized to sign for that person. The signature must be either by hand or in the form of a rubber stamp or other facsimile reproduction of a handwritten signature.

(k) Use of facsimile signature. If a facsimile signature is used, the individual who uses it must be duly authorized by the individual whose signature it is, to use it on representations to the War Production Board, and a written record of the authorization must be kept.

(m) Certification may be on separate paper. If it is not convenient to place a certification on a purchase order or delivery order, it may be placed on a separate piece of paper either attached to it or clearly identifying it. For example, if the buyer has sent an order but has forgotten to place the certification on it, he may send the seller a separate certification clearly identifying the order to which it applies. A signature on the purchase order shall apply to the certification on an attached or unattached piece of paper only where the words above the signature clearly make it include the certification.

(n) Signature on other documents. The above rules for signing certifications on purchase orders also apply to the signature on reports, applications for preference ratings or allotments, and other documents that are required to be filed under orders and regulations of the War Production Board.

Telegraph, Telephone and Verbal Orders

(o) Telegraphic orders. When a purchase order is placed by telegram and a certification is necessary the certification must be set out in full in the telegram. It will be sufficient if the file copy of the outgoing telegram is signed in the manner required for certification by this regulation. Also, the certification contained in the telegram may be abbreviated in the following cases, but the purchaser assumes the same responsibility as if it were set out in full:

(1) When the standard certification is used, it may be shortened to the words "order certified under Priorities Regulation 7."

(2) When the certification is used for the sole purpose of applying or extending a preference rating with or without an allotment number or symbol, the words "ratings certified" or words to that effect are enough. Where there is an allotment number or symbol, this must be added to the telegram.

(3) Where the certification is used for the sole purpose of showing that the order comes under a small order exemption allowed by one of the "L" or "M" or "P" orders, it may be shortened to "small order certified."

(4) Where the certification required simply states the number of the WPB authorization form, the identification of the form and its number only need be given.

(p) Verbal or telephone orders. On purchase orders requiring shipment within seven days the substance of the certification may be stated verbally or by telephone. However, the following rules must be complied with:

(1) The person making the statement for the buyer must be a person duly authorized to make the certification.

(2) Both the buyer and the seller must promptly make a written record of the fact that the certification was given orally and the record must be signed by the buyer in the same way as a certification. In addition, if the order is an authorized controlled material order under CMP regulations, it must be confirmed in writing within 15 days by a written order bearing the appropriate certification.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(q) Responsibility for truth of certification. The person who places the order, the individual whose signature is used and the individual who approves the use of the signature will each be considered to be making a representation to the War Production Board that the statements contained in the certification are true to the best of his knowledge and belief, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation. The person receiving certification and other information required to be included with the certification shall be entitled to rely on it as a representation of the buyer unless he knows or has reason to know that it is false.

(r) Reference to criminal penalties. The reference to criminal penalties for misrepresentation in the above forms of certification and similar phrases in certifications required by other orders and regulations are included solely for the purpose of making sure that persons signing certifications realize the responsibility they are undertaking. These references may not be omitted, but their inclusion shall not be deemed to make any person subject to any criminal penalties to which he would not be subject if the references were omitted.

(s) Records to be kept by the purchaser. Each person using the standard certification above or any other certification must maintain at his regular place of business all documents upon which he relies as entitling him to make the representations in the particular certification used and to supply the other information required to be placed with his purchase order. These documents must be segregated and available for inspection by a representative of the War Production Board or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for inspection.

(t) Effect on other regulations and orders. Provisions in any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board which are inconsistent with this regulation may be disregarded unless they expressly state that this regulation does not apply.

Issued this 18th day of January 1944.

PREFERENCE RATING MUST BE FURNISHED BY THE BUYER

Paragraph (f) of Priorities Regulation No. 7, which permits a seller to waive the buyer's certification where he knows the facts, does not allow the seller to rate an order which the buyer has not attempted to rate. If the buyer has stated the rating on the order but has not certified it, the seller may add the appropriate certification; and if the buyer has not shown the rating on the order, but has otherwise informed the seller that he wishes to apply or extend the rating, the seller may also insert it on the order. PART 1157—CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY[1]

USED CONSTRUCTION MACHINERY

Section 1157.15[1] Limitation Order L-196 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1157.15 Limitation Order L-196—(a) What this order does. This order deals only with used construction machinery listed on Schedule A. It requires distributors and contractors to register used machinery owned by them and to register certain changes in the status of that machinery, and it contains restrictions on the sale and on the export of used machinery.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Construction machinery" means any of those products listed in Schedule A of this order.

(2) "Used" when applied to construction machinery means any construction machinery which has been delivered to a person acquiring it for use.

(3) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(4) "Distributor" means any person located within the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia who is engaged in the business of purchasing new, used or reconditioned construction machinery for the purpose of resale.

(5) "Contractor" means any person located within the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia who is wholly or partially engaged in the business of contracting for any type of construction work including but not limited to excavating, grading, paving, building, drilling, and preparing, handling, or applying construction material, but does not include a petroleum "operator" as defined in Order P-98-b.

(6) "Governmental agency" means any governmental agency in the United States, its territories or possessions, Federal, State, county, municipal or local.

(c) Registration of used construction machinery by distributors and contractors. (1) Each distributor and contractor owning used construction machinery listed on Schedule A, purchased prior to January 18, 1944, shall on or before February 17, 1944, register that machinery by completing, signing and mailing Form WPB-1159 (or such other form as may in the future be specified by the War Production Board) to the construction machinery specialist for the WPB region in which the owner's home office is located. However, any distributor or contractor who has registered an item of used construction machinery owned by him, prior to January 18, 1944, need not re-register it.

(2) Any distributor or contractor who purchases any used construction machinery listed on Schedule A on or after January 18, 1944, shall within seven days after the purchase of such machinery register it on Form WPB-1159, in the manner described in the preceding paragraph.

(d) Registration of change of status of used construction machinery by distributors and contractors. Within one week after any used construction machinery listed on Schedule A owned by a distributor or contractor (i) becomes idle, (ii) is put to work after being idle, (iii) is rented for 30 days or more, or (iv) is scrapped, the owner shall register such change of status by completing, signing and mailing Form WPB-1333 (or such other form as may be in the future specified by the War Production Board) to the construction machinery specialist for the WPB region in which the owner's home office is located. For the purposes of this paragraph, machinery is not considered "idle" if it will be used on work already contracted for.

(e) Restrictions on sale of used construction machinery by any person. After February 2, 1944, no person shall sell any used construction machinery listed on Schedule A of this order without approval of the War Production Board on Form WPB-1319. Application for this approval shall be made by filing four copies of Form WPB-1319 with the construction machinery specialist for the WPB region in which the applicant's home office is located. This restriction on sales applies only to sales within the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(f) Exemptions. The restrictions of paragraph (e) shall not apply to:

(1) The sale of used construction machinery to a distributor;

(2) The sale of used construction machinery to be scrapped for its material content;

(3) The sale of used construction machinery by a "producer" as defined in Order P-56;

(4) The seizure or transfer of used construction machinery upon distraint, levy or upon default in the terms of a conditional sales agreement, chattel mortgage, pledge or other similar agreement;

(5) The transfer of used construction machinery at a judicial or sheriff's auction or sale, tax sale, or other similar transaction conducted by a judicial or other legal officer;

(6) The transfer of used construction machinery by operation of law to a trustee, receiver, or assignee for the benefit of creditors, in bankruptcy, insolvency or receivership proceedings or pursuant to any assignment for the benefit of creditors;

(7) The transfer of used construction machinery as part of a merger, consolidation, sale and purchase of assets, or sale and purchase of stock, involving all or substantially all the assets of a business, or division of assets upon dissolution of a partnership.

(8) The transfer of any interest in a written instrument evidencing a lien upon or claim against used construction machinery: Provided, however, That nothing in this subparagraph (8) shall be construed to permit the physical delivery of the machinery involved.

(9) The sale of used construction machinery by a governmental agency to another governmental agency.

(10) The sale of used construction machinery by a farmer. As used in this exemption, "farmer" means a person who engages in farming as a business, by raising crops, livestock, bees or poultry. It also includes a custom operator who uses farm supplies in performing services for farmers. It does not include a person who merely has a "victory garden" or raises food or other agricultural products entirely for his own use.

(g) Restrictions on exports. No person, other than the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration shall export used construction machinery listed on Schedule A outside the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia unless specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB-1319. Application for authorization to export shall be made by filing four copies of Form WPB-1319 with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-196. Nothing in this order shall eliminate the necessity of an applicant obtaining an export license from the Foreign Economic Administration where required.

(h) Miscellaneous provisons—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. This letter should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the District in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(4) Reporting requirements. The reporting requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) and the form of application prescribed in paragraphs (e) and (g) have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(5) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except as otherwise directed in this order, shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-196.

STAPLES AND STAPLERS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of iron and steel and other materials for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.306 Limitation Order L-329—(a) What this order does. This order states the rules which govern the production of staples, staplers and parts for them. It also controls shipments by manufacturers of these products. All staples and stapling machines included in the following definitions are covered, whether for industrial, office or other use. This order supersedes Order L-73 as to all staples and staplers formerly covered by that order.

(b) Definitions of "staples" and "staplers." When used in this order:

(1) "Staples" means any two-pronged metal fasteners made from wire or strip which are usually cohered and which are applied by a device especially designed for the purpose. The term "staples" does not include any fasteners applied by foot-operated or power-driven stitching machines, but it does include rolls of wire designed to be both formed and applied as "staples" by a hand-operated device.

(2) "Staplers" means any devices designed for the purpose of applying staples as fasteners. The term "staplers" includes among others, all devices commonly known as stapling machines and tackers, as well as hammers of the tacker type, but it does not include foot-operated or power-driven stitching machines.

(c) What metal may be used. (1) No manufacturer shall produce any staples, staplers or any parts (including repair parts) if they contain any metal except iron and steel. An immersion copper ("liquor") finish may be used and a zinc coating or plating may be used to the extent permitted by Order M-11-b, as amended, or any relief granted on an appeal under that order.

(2) No manufacturer shall use more iron and steel in making a stapler of a particular type or model than is necessary in view of the use for which that type or model is designed or produced.

(d) Quarterly applications for permission to produce and deliver staples and staplers. (1) After January 31, 1944, no manufacturer shall produce or deliver any staples or any staplers except according to quotas approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2719. Each manufacturer should file this Form with the War Production Board on or before March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year, showing his proposed production and delivery for the next quarter. For the first quarter of 1944 the Form need not be filed before January 31, 1944.

(2) Any manufacturer who files Form WPB-2719 on or before the dates specified above may consider it approved as filed for the period it covers unless notified to the contrary by the War Production Board in writing.

(3) It will be the general policy of the War Production Board to authorize the total production of staples and staplers according to approved requirements. Production which would exceed these requirements will not be authorized. Plants located in critical labor areas as classified by the War Manpower Commission will in general be curtailed to a greater extent than plants located in other areas. Production to meet requirements will be allocated in less critical labor areas to the fullest extent of the available capacity.

(e) Reports. Each manufacturer of staples and staplers shall file with the War Production Board on or before February 15, 1944, Form WPB-3355, showing the amount of metal which he used in the production of staples, staplers and parts for staplers during the twelve months ending June 30, 1943, as well as his factory sales value of such products during that period. This reporting provision has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Applicability of other orders and regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of staples and staplers to a greater extent than does this order, the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from this order should be made on Form WPB-1477 (formerly PD-500) and should be filed with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant to which the appeal relates.

(i) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington, D. C. (25), Ref: L-329.

Issued this 18th day of January 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS[1]

BUTYL ALCOHOL

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of butyl alcohol, as hereinafter defined, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.196[1] Allocation Order M-159—(a) Definitions. (1) "Butyl alcohol" means normal, secondary and tertiary butyl alcohol, isobutyl alcohol, and their acetic esters.

(2) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of butyl alcohol and includes any person who has butyl alcohol produced for him pursuant to toll agreement.

[1] Formerly Part 1251, § 1251.1, General Preference Order M-159.

(3) "Distributor" means any person who has purchased or purchases butyl alcohol for purposes of resale.

(b) Restrictions on deliveries and use. (1) Subject to paragraph (c) hereof, no producer or distributor shall deliver or use butyl alcohol, and no person shall accept delivery of butyl alcohol from a producer or distributor, except as specifically authorized or directed by the War Production Board.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN ATLANTA DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator for Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and General Order No. 50, section (e), Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Section 5 is amended to read as set forth below:

SEC. 5. No ceiling price for any food item or meal to be higher than the highest ceiling price for a food item or meal of the same class in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or meal than your highest ceiling price for food items or meals of the same class offered in the seven-day period.

Example 1. If you figured an "in line" price for a new week-day dinner at $1.25, and your highest ceiling price in the week-day dinner class is $1.00, your ceiling price for the new dinner is $1.00.

Example 2. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the seven-day period is 15 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 15 cents.

However, notwithstanding the provisions of this section and the provisions of section 1, if you customarily in the regular course of your business charged higher prices for meals or food items, including beverages, on Christmas Day, you may continue to charge such higher prices for Christmas Day for the year 1943, not, however, to exceed an increase of 15% above your regular Sunday prices established during the base period of this regulation. If you customarily in the regular course of your business charged higher prices for meals or food items, including beverages, on New Year's Day, you may continue to charge such higher prices for New Year's Day, January 1, 1944, not, however, to exceed an increase of 15% above your regular Sunday prices established during the base period of this regulation. In either of the above instances, if you have not established regular Sunday prices under the regulation, because of the fact that you did not operate on Sundays during the base period of the regulation, you may establish your maximum prices for Christmas Day 1943 and for New Year's Day, January 1, 1944, by taking the regular Sunday prices established under the regulation of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours, and add thereto the 15% increase permitted by this section.

This Amendment No. 6 to Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1 shall become effective December 20, 1943.

Regional Administrator.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN ATLANTA DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator for Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and General Order No. 50, section (e), Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Section 5 is amended to read as set forth below:

SEC. 5. No ceiling price for any food item or meal to be higher than the highest ceiling price for a food item or meal of the same class in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or meal than your highest ceiling price for food items or meals of the same class offered in the seven-day period.

Example 1. If you figured an "in line" price for a new week-day dinner at $1.25, and your highest ceiling price in the week-day dinner class is $1.00, your ceiling price for the new dinner is $1.00.

Example 2. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the seven-day period is 15 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 15 cents.

However, notwithstanding the provisions of this section and the provisions of section 1, if you customarily in the regular course of your business charged higher prices for meals or food items, including beverages, on Thanksgiving Day, you may continue to charge such higher prices for Thanksgiving Day for the year 1943, not, however, to exceed an increase of 15% above your regular Sunday prices established during the base period of this regulation.

This Amendment No. 5 to Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1 shall become effective November 22, 1943.

RESPONDENT'S ANSWER AND BILL OF INTERPLEADER

Comes now the Respondent, United States of America, through Steve M. King, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Texas, at the direction of the Attorney General of the United States, and files this its Answer and Bill of Interpleader in this Libel, and in support thereof represents unto the Court:

1. Respondent admits that it issued through the War Shipping Administration a Crew Life and Injury Policy covering the loss of life of the Master, officers and crew of the American Vessel "Libre", which said policy was in effect at the time of the death of Robert R. East, who was a member of the crew of said vessel. Respondent admits that it is liable in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) to the person or persons entitled thereto under the terms of said policy, and by reason of the death of the said Robert R. East, and Respondent herewith deposits in the Registry of the Court the said sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), being the amount of the total liability of Respondent as and for the death of the said Robert R. East.

2. That Libelant, Unida Cops, is a resident citizen of Jefferson County, Texas, and is an inhabitant of the Beaumont Division of the Eastern District of Texas. That in addition to the claim of the Libelant to the proceeds of said insurance, Respondent says that other persons claim the proceeds of said insurance and that a dispute exists as to the person or persons entitled to receive the payment of said insurance, and that pursuant to the Act approved March 24, 1943, Public Law No. 17, 78th Congress, Respondent files this Bill of Interpleader to the end that this Court may judicially ascertain the person or persons entitled to the proceeds of said insurance.

3. That Margaret East, 775 Fannin Street, Beaumont, Jefferson County Texas, is designated on the Crew List of the S/S "Libre" as the wife of Robert R. East, and the said Margaret East is claiming or may claim the proceeds of said insurance.

That Irene East of Mobile, Alabama, also claims to be the surviving wife of the said Robert R. East, and also claims the proceeds of said insurance.

That Mary East of Fairford, Alabama claims to be the mother of the said Robert R. East and as such mother also claims the proceeds of said insurance.

That by reason of the fact that at least two women claim to be the wife of the said Robert R. East, there may be other women claiming to be his wife and who may assert a claim to said insurance, and there may be children and other heirs at law of the said Robert R. East who may assert a claim or claims to said insurance. That the names, ages, addresses and places of domicile of such unknown spouses, children and heirs at law of the said Robert R. East are unknown and cannot be ascertained and said unknown spouses, children and heirs at law are made parties hereto by this Bill of Interpleader.

4. Wherefore, Respondent prays:

1. That appropriate process issue and be served upon Margaret East, if found within the Eastern District of Texas;

2. That as to the persons made parties by this Bill of Interpleader who are not inhabitants or found within the Eastern District of Texas, the Court enter an order herein directing the manner in which service shall be obtained upon such persons, that is, whether personally or by publication or in such other reasonable manner as the Court may direct;

3. That as to the unknown spouses, children and heirs at law of the said Robert R. East who are made parties herein by this Bill of Interpleader, the Court direct that service be had upon such unknown persons by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER;

4. That the Court judicially ascertain the person or persons entitled to receive the said sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), and that upon such ascertainment the Respondent be finally discharged from all liability arising out of the issuance of said policy of insurance and the death of the said Robert R. East.

STEVE M. KING,
United States Attorney,
JOHN D. RIENSTRA,
Assistant U. S. Attorney,
Proctors for respondent.

Upon consideration of the foregoing Bill of Interpleader filed herein by the United States of America, the Court here and now directs, pursuant to the Act approved March 24, 1943, Public Law No. 17, 78th Congress, that the unknown spouses, children and heirs at law of the said Robert R. East, be served herein by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER a certified copy of the foregoing Bill of Interpleader, together with an appropriate summons commanding said unknown persons to answer herein on or before the 28th day of February 1944.

Dated this the 5th day of January 1944.

At times the provisions of this order will not fit the needs of a particular person. In any such case, the person affected may apply by letter to the Copper Division, War Production Board, for a specific authorization to cover his needs. Situations may arise which will require the War Production Board, from time to time, to issue specific authorizations or directions to a person as to the source, destination, amount or grade of copper raw materials to be delivered, acquired or used by him.

(e) Definitions. (1) "Copper" means unalloyed copper.

(2) "Copper-base alloy" means any alloy in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy. Copper-base alloy does not include alloyed gold produced in accordance with United States Commercial standards CS 51-35 and CS 67-38.

(3) "Scrap" means all copper or copper-base alloy materials or objects (except those containing 0.10% or more beryllium and governed by supplemental order M-160a) which are the waste or by-product of industrial fabrication, or which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure or other reason. This does not include fired cartridge and artillery cases or copper-clad or copper-base alloy-clad steel scrap.

(4) "Copper wire mill product" means bare, insulated or armored wire and cable for electrical conduction made from copper, copper-base alloy, or copper-clad steel containing over 20% copper by weight.

(5) "Brass mill product" means sheet, rod, wire or tube made from cooper or copper-base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(6) "Foundry copper or copper-base alloy product" means cast copper or copper-base alloy shapes or forms suitable for ultimate use without remelting, rolling, drawing, extruding or forging. (The process of casting includes the removal of gates, risers and sprues and sand-blasting, tumbling or dipping, but does not include any further machining or processing.)

PART 3302—SERVICE EQUIPMENT

35 MM MOTION PICTURE PROJECTION EQUIPMENT AND ACCESSORIES

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials used to produce 35 mm motion picture projection equipment and accessories, for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3302.31 Limitation Order L-325—(a) What this order does. This order regulates the production and distribution of new 35 mm motion picture projection equipment and 35 mm motion picture projection accessories.

(b) What "35 mm motion picture projection equipment" means. "35 mm motion picture projection equipment" means complete projectors, projector mechanisms, pedestals, bases, complete sound systems, complete sound heads, complete amplifying systems, complete loud speaker systems, complete projection arc lamp and lamp house units, complete projection arc current converting devices, and complete portable projectors, for use in exhibiting 35 mm film.

(c) What "new equipment" means. "New equipment" means any 35 mm motion picture projection equipment which has never been used or which has been used only for demonstration, trial loans, repair loans, and the like.

(d) What "35 mm motion picture projection accessories" means. "35 mm motion picture projection accessories" means take-up reels, change-over devices, automatic enclosed rewinders, hand rewinders, nitrate film storage cabinets, steel fireproof booth tables, and film splicers, for use in exhibiting 35 mm film.

(e) What "repair units" means. "Repair units" means any parts or assemblies specially designed for use in the 35 mm motion picture projection equipment and accessories listed above, and used to fix them when they have been broken down or are about to break down.

(f) Restrictions on production of 35 mm motion picture projection equipment. A manufacturer may produce 35 mm motion picture projection equipment only under the following circumstances. He may manufacture new equipment for stock to the extent permitted by written instructions from the War Production Board. In general the War Production Board in giving such permission will take into consideration Critical Labor Market Areas. In addition, he may produce as much new equipment as the War Production Board gives him written permission to sell or lend, except in those cases in which the War Production Board tells him the equipment must be shipped from stock and may not be replaced.

(g) How to ask for permission to produce new equipment for stock. If a manufacturer feels that his stock of new equipment is too small for proper operation of his business, he may ask for permission to produce new equipment for stock by sending a letter in triplicate to the War Production Board, Service Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-325. In this letter he should state the number of units of each type of new equipment which he shipped in 1941, and the number of units of each type of new equipment which he has in his current stock. He should also state what would be his minimum economical production run. If the War Production Board agrees that the manufacturer's stock is too small for proper handling of the volume of business which that manufacturer may reasonably expect, it will give him written instructions permitting him to produce a limited amount of new equipment for stock.

(h) How much new equipment the War Production Board will permit manufacturers to sell or lend. The War Production Board will give written permission to manufacturers to sell or lend new equipment only to the extent necessary to carry out an authorized program of the War Production Board. Within the limits of this program the War Production Board expects to permit each manufacturer to sell or lend to the United States Army, the United States Navy, the United States Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration as much new equipment as is necessary to meet their requirements for his brand of equipment. No manufacturer will be given permission to sell or lend new equipment to anyone other than those agencies if it will interfere with deliveries to those agencies on their required delivery dates. Moreover, no manufacturer producing equipment for those agencies will be given permission to sell or lend additional new equipment to them if the production of this additional equipment by the required delivery date will interfere with punctual delivery of the equipment already being produced by that manufacturer for those agencies.

(i) Restrictions on sale and lending of new equipment. Commencing December 6, 1943, a person may sell or lend new equipment only when he has written permission from the War Production Board, with the following exception. A person does not need written permission from the War Production Board to lend new equipment to a theatre in an emergency for a period of not more than sixteen weeks, while the theatre's equipment is being repaired or replaced. At the end of the sixteen weeks the equipment must be returned by the theatre unless the War Production Board has given written permission to continue the lending of the equipment. An emergency exists when a theatre's equipment has broken down or is about to break down.

(j) How to ask for permission to sell or lend new equipment. Under ordinary circumstances a person who wants to ask for permission to sell or lend new equipment must use Form WPB-3253 for that purpose. A person who wants to ask for permission to sell or lend new equipment to the Army of the United States, the Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, or to persons buying or borrowing equipment pursuant to the Lend-Lease Act, must use Form WPB-3254. Copies of these forms may be secured through the Service Equipment Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L-325. All requests for permission to sell or lend new equipment should be sent to the foregoing address only. In emergencies of the type described in paragraph (i) a person may telephone or telegraph for permission to sell new equipment, but he may not sell the equipment until he receives written permission to do so.

(k) Effect of permission to sell or lend electronic equipment. Some 35 mm motion picture projection equipment is electronic equipment within the meaning of Order L-265. When the War Production Board gives permission in writing to sell or lend new equipment, the order of the person receiving the equipment is to be considered as rated A-1-a for purposes of Order L-265.

(l) Restrictions on production of 35 mm motion picture projection accessories. No manufacturer may produce any 35 mm motion picture projection accessories except to fill rated orders, and to maintain a minimum practicable working inventory of finished accessories ready for shipment on rated orders.

(m) Distributors' purchases from manufacturers restricted to WPB-547 ratings. Notwithstanding Priorities Regulation No. 3, a person buying 35 mm motion picture projection accessories from a manufacturer for resale from stock may not extend to the manufacturer a rating received from one of his customers. He may use only the ratings assigned to him by the War Production Board on Form WPB-547 (formerly PD-1X).

(n) Effect of this order on the production and distribution of repair units. This order does not restrict either the production or distribution of repair units. Theatres and distributors will continue to secure repair units in the same way as they secured them prior to the issuance of this order. For example, component parts of electronic equipment are to be secured as provided in Order L-265.

(o) Bureau of the Budget approval. The various requests for authorization contemplated by this order and the reporting requirement in paragraph (g) have the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(p) Appeals. An appeal from the provisions of this order may be made by filing Form WPB-1477 (formerly PD-500) in triplicate with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates.

(q) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Recording Secretary.

(ii) No adjustments increasing the established maximum wholesale prices for fluid milk may be made by any Regional Office, pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph (a), which will create or tend to create a need for increase in the established maximum retail prices for fluid milk in excess of 1¢ per quart or in excess of 1½¢ per quart over the maximum retail prices originally established by the General Maximum Price Regulation on May 18, 1942, without prior written approval by the Administrator.

(b) Other adjustment authority—(1) Directive from Director of the Office of Economic Stabilization. Upon the receipt of a directive from the Director of the Office of Economic Stabilization, the Office of Price Administration, or any Regional Office thereof when specifically so authorized in writing by the Administrator, may adjust, in accordance with the terms of such directive, any maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 for fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions, which cannot be adjusted under the provisions of paragraphs (a) or (b) (2) of this § 1351.807.

(2) Adjustment of maximum prices of fluid milk in communities of any size—(i) When adjustment may be made. The Office of Price Administration or any Regional Office thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 for fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions in communities of any size, in the case of any seller or group of sellers, when it appears:

(1) Low established maximum prices for fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions in such community in relation to the established maximum prices for purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk in such community; and

(2) The existing relationship between (i) the established maximum prices for fluid milk sold at retail and at wholesale in glass or paper containers in such community, and (ii) the established maximum prices for purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk in such community; and

(b) That such serious deficiency in the community's essential supply of fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the established maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers of fluid milk sold at wholesale in bulk (other than in glass or paper containers) to stores, hotels, restaurants and institutions; and

(c) That there is no feasible alternative to such price adjustment, such as a reduction of the established maximum prices for fluid milk in another community, or a program for the direct allocation of fluid milk supplies to such community; and

(i) That there exists or threatens to exist in such a community a serious deficiency in its essential fluid milk supply caused by low established maximum prices for fluid milk sold at wholesale in glass or paper containers in such community in relation to the established maximum prices for purchases of milk from producers for resale as fluid milk in such community, as a result of which distributive facilities for fluid milk sold at retail or at wholesale in glass or paper containers in such community have been or will be impaired; and

(ii) That such serious deficiency in the essential fluid milk supply of such community will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the established maximum wholesale prices of such seller and of like sellers of such fluid milk; and

(iii) That there is no feasible alternative to such price adjustment, such as a reduction of the established maximum prices for fluid milk in another community, or a program for the direct allocation of fluid milk supplies to such community; and

(iv) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a need for any increases in the established maximum prices for fluid milk sold at retail in such community; and

(v) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a deficiency or a need for increase in the established maximum prices in another community, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Authority of Regional Offices to make adjustments. Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustments under this inferior subdivision (b).

This amendment shall become effective on the 18th day of January 1944.

COPPER SCRAP AND COPPER ALLOY SCRAP

Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 [1] is redesignated Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices, established by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20, are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328. The Administrator has given due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and to relevant factors of general applicability, and has consulted with representatives of the industry affected. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another governmental agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

AUTHORITY: § 1309.61, issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; and E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

SECTION 1. Materials to which this regulation applies.—(a) General. This regulation applies to all copper scrap and copper alloy scrap, except

(1) Cupro-nickel scrap, other than copper-nickel solids and borings, maximum prices for which are established by Revised Price Schedule No. 8,[3] and

(2) Brass mill scrap, maximum prices for which are established by Revised Price Schedule No. 12.[4] However, material which, by reason of its not being suitable for brass mill use, is not brass mill scrap and subject to Revised Price Schedule No. 12, shall be deemed to be copper scrap and copper alloy scrap.

(b) Copper bearing material not covered. Nothing in this regulation, in the General Maximum Price Regulation [5] or in Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended [6] shall control the price at which copper bearing material may be sold, delivered or processed on toll. For definition of copper bearing material see section 15 (4).

SEC. 2. Prohibitions against sales or deliveries at prices higher than the maximum prices. On and after January 25, 1944, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver copper scrap or copper alloy scrap to a consumer, and no consumer shall buy or receive copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, incorporated herein as section 16; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That contracts entered into prior to January 25, 1944, under the terms of, and at prices in conformance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 20, may be carried out at contract prices until February 25, 1944.

SEC. 3. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 4. Toll or conversion agreements. The price charged by one person for treating or processing the copper scrap or copper alloy scrap of another by smelting, remelting or other method to produce copper shall not exceed the difference between the maximum price for such scrap established by this regulation and the maximum price for the copper processed or produced from such scrap.

SEC. 5. Certain exempted transactions—(a) Conversion of railroad scrap. Nothing in this regulation or in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the sale, delivery or transfer of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap to a foundry by a person owning, operating or maintaining rolling stock: Provided, That:

(1) The copper scrap and copper alloy scrap results from such person's use or processing of castings or other articles of the type produced by the foundry;

(2) The foundry converts such copper scrap and copper alloy scrap into castings or other articles of the type from which the scrap resulted; and

(3) Such person delivers the scrap to the foundry and the foundry returns an equivalent amount of castings or other articles of the type from which the scrap resulted in accordance with the terms of a written agreement approved by the War Production Board.

(b) Metals Reserve Company purchases and toll agreements. Nothing in this regulation, or in the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall apply to sales or deliveries of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap to the Metals Reserve Company or its agents nor to the treating or processing of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap for the Metals Reserve Company or its agents. However, the provisions of this regulation shall apply to all sales, deliveries or transfers of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap to a consumer by the Metals Reserve Company or its agents.

(c) Intra-organization transactions. Nothing in this regulation, or in the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall apply to sales or deliveries of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap between a parent corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary corporation, or between two or more subsidiary corporations wholly owned by the same parent corporation. For the purpose of this paragraph, a subsidiary corporation shall be deemed to be wholly owned by a parent corporation only if the parent corporation owns all of the capital stock of the subsidiary corporation: Except, that if required by the law of the state of incorporation of the subsidiary corporation, necessary qualifying shares may be owned by persons other than the parent corporation.

SEC. 6. Geographical applicability. This regulation shall apply only to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 7. Relation to other regulations—(a) General. This regulation supersedes the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended as to all sales, deliveries and services which are covered by this regulation or specifically exempted therefrom.

(b) Export sales. The maximum price at which any person may export copper scrap or copper alloy scrap shall be determined in accordance with the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [7] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8. Records. Every person who makes or has made sales of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap to a consumer, and every consumer who makes or has made purchases of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, on or after February 27, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such purchase or sale, showing (a) the date thereof, (b) the name and address of the buyer or seller, (c) the quantity in pounds of each grade purchased or sold, (d) the quantity and description of each rejection, (e) the price paid or received f. o. b. point of shipment, (f) the method of delivery and delivery charges paid or received and (g) the dates of settlement and method of payment.

SEC. 9. Reports. (a) On or before the tenth day of February, 1944, and on or before the tenth day of each month thereafter, each consumer shall submit to the Office of Price Administration Revised Form 120:7a, set forth in Appendix B hereof and incorporated herein as section 17 filled out as required by the instructions which accompany such forms, and which are set forth in section 17.

(b) On or before the tenth day of February, 1944, and on or before the tenth day of each month thereafter, each consumer shall submit to the Office of Price Administration a report on Revised Form 120:7b, set forth in Appendix C hereof and incorporated herein as section 18, covering each receipt of any grade of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap for which the consumer made settlement during the preceding calendar month. However, receipts which meet the following two conditions need not be reported on Revised Form 120:7b, or in any other manner:

(1) An individual receipt settled for with any one person is for $200 or less, and

(2) The total value of all settlements for copper scrap and copper alloy scrap with the same person does not exceed $1,000 during the month.

(c) Persons subject to this regulation shall keep such other records and shall submit such other reports, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942, as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require or permit, either in addition to or in substitution for, records and reports required by this regulation.

SEC. 10. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 11. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

SEC. 12. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 13. Evasion—(a) General. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the evasive practices which are prohibited:

(1) No consumer shall pay and no person shall accept payment from any consumer for a greater amount of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, or both, than is actually received by a consumer at his plant.

(2) No person shall invoice to any consumer any copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, or both, as being entitled to any one or more of the special preparation premiums provided for in section 16 (c) when such scrap is not, upon receipt by the consumer, in fact eligible, under the provisions of this regulation, for settlement at such premium price, nor shall any person demand, claim or request in any fashion whatsoever that any consumer pay a special preparation premium for any such scrap unless such scrap is, upon receipt by the consumer, in fact eligible under the provisions of this regulation for settlement at such premium price.

(3) No consumer may store, hold or otherwise deal in copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, or both, either at his plant or elsewhere, for the account of any person other than himself; however, this provision shall not prohibit any consumer from purchasing such scrap at prices not in excess of the maximum prices established by this regulation and reselling such scrap as a dealer.

(4) No person shall sell or deliver, or offer, solicit or agree to sell or deliver any copper scrap, or copper alloy scrap, or both, to any consumer conditioned on the buyer's willingness to accept any other materials.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of any one or more maximum price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

NOTE: Attention is called to Licensing Order No. 2[2]—Requiring Registration of Dealers Licensed to Sell Waste, Scrap and Salvage Material. Under the provisions of Licensing Order No. 2 every dealer selling waste, scrap or salvage material is required to register with the Office of Price Administration. Any dealer selling copper scrap and copper alloy scrap, who has not filed such registration, should do so within five days after becoming subject to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20. This registration is required for every place of business which a dealer may operate. Registration forms are obtainable at any Regional or District Office of the Office of Price Administration or at the Office in Washington, D. C.

SEC. 15. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Consumer" includes any person whose business consists, in whole or in part, of smelting, refining, melting, or otherwise processing copper scrap or copper alloy scrap into a form other than scrap or of having such scrap so processed for his account by another person under a toll or conversion agreement. Any parent or subsidiary of a consumer and any person owned, operated, affiliated with, under common control with, or otherwise controlled by a consumer, and any person owned, operated or otherwise controlled by an officer, director, partner, or proprietor of a consumer, shall also be considered to be a consumer for the purposes of this regulation.

(3) "Scrap" includes all materials which are the waste or byproduct of any kind of metal working and also all articles which have been discarded from their original use because of obsolescence, failure, or other reasons. It does not include copper bearing material, nor does it include articles which are still useful in their existing state for their original purpose when purchased for reuse in such state for such purpose.

(4) "Copper bearing material" includes ashes, skimmings, buffings, grindings, spatters, washings, mud and all other similar residues which contain copper. It also includes irony brass and any similar material which does not meet the specifications for any grade of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap.

(5) "Copper scrap" refers to the grades of scrap preceded by "Group Number 1" in section 16 (a) (2).

(6) "Copper alloy scrap" refers to the grades of scrap preceded by "Group Numbers 2, 3 and 4" in section 16 (a) (2).

(7) "Point of shipment" means the point at which copper scrap or copper alloy scrap is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the consumer's receiving point. This is usually the seller's plant, warehouse or yard; but if the scrap is shipped directly to the consumer's receiving point from some point other than the seller's plant, warehouse or yard, such other point is the point of shipment. In the case of scrap shipped by water from outside the limits of the continental United States, the point of shipment means the place within the limits of the continental United States where the material is loaded on a conveyance for transportation directly to the consumer's receiving point. In the case of scrap brought into the continental United States by overland shipment from Mexico or Canada, the point of shipment means the freight station in the continental United States at or nearest the point on the boundary between the United States and Mexico or Canada, as the case may be, at which the scrap first entered the United States.

(8) "Received at the consumer's receiving point" means that the copper scrap or copper alloy scrap has arrived at the consumer's plant and is ready for unloading.

(9) "Shipment at one time" includes all copper scrap and copper alloy scrap, or both, which, within any three consecutive calendar days excluding Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays, is (i) received at one or more points of shipment by the public carrier transporting such scrap to the consumer's receiving point, or (ii) loaded on the consumer's conveyance at one or more points of shipment, or (iii) received at the consumer's receiving point from one or more points of shipment when delivery is made by other than a public carrier or the consumer's conveyance.

(10) "Lot" means all of the copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, or both, included in a shipment at one time: Provided, That where a seller has physically segregated a portion or portions of a shipment, and has indicated the grade of each segregated portion, a lot means each such segregated portion. However, all the containers or bales indicated as containing the same principal grade shall be deemed to compose one lot. Also all briquettes sold or invoiced as one grade shall be deemed to compose one lot.

(11) "Principal grade" means that grade of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap which the seller has indicated as being contained in a lot. If the seller has not indicated what grade is contained in a lot, principal grade means that grade having a weight greater than any other grade.

(12) "Rejection" means all material in a lot (except a lot composed exclusively of borings or a lot settled for as refinery brass) other than the principal grade. However,

(i) Any material having the same group number as and a higher maximum price than the principal grade, unless settled for at a higher price than the maximum price for the principal grade, and

(ii) The insulation or lead covering on any insulated or lead-covered copper wire or cable settled for as the principal grade, and

(iii) The excess iron on any red brass breakage or automobile radiators settled for as the principal grade, and

(iv) The moisture, oil, grease, dirt, pulp and other non-metallics adhering to the principal grade of scrap in any lot for which this regulation requires the maximum price to be reduced, need not be considered a rejection.

(13) "Group" means those grades of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap which are preceded by the same group number in section 16 (a) (2). However, if a lot contains less than 10% rejections, all of the copper scrap and copper alloy scrap in such lot may be considered to be of the same group as the principal grade.

(14) "Representative sample of borings" means the sample obtained by the following method:

(i) All the containers composing one lot of borings are to be emptied.

(ii) The material shall then be shoveled through and every tenth shovel full shall be set aside.

(iii) The material so set aside shall then be thoroughly mixed and a quantity convenient for melting shall be taken out. This quantity of material is the representative sample.

(15) "Button" means the metal obtained, exclusive of slag, by melting down with a proper and sufficient flux a representative sample of scrap from which the free iron, oil and moisture have first been removed.

(16) "Button analysis" means the percentages showing the proportion of each element contained in the button.

(17) "Metallic yield" shall be determined as follows:

(i) The representative sample shall be weighed.

(ii) A button shall be made.

(iii) The button plus the free metal contained in the slag which results from making the button shall be weighed.

(iv) This weight shall then be divided by the weight of the representative sample; the result, expressed as a percentage, is the metallic yield.

(18) "Wet or natural analysis" means the button analysis multiplied by the metallic yield.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

SEC. 16. Appendix A: Maximum prices—(a) Maximum base prices f. o. b. point of shipment. (1) No consumer may pay, in addition to the maximum prices established by this regulation, a commission, fee, brokerage or similar charge to the seller or to a third person, other than his own employee who is not also employed by any other consumer. However, a consumer may pay a deposit charge of not more than $1.00 for each steel drum in which copper scrap or copper alloy scrap is packed if delivery is made by other than a public (common or contract) carrier. No such deposit charge may be paid if the material is packed in other than a steel container or if delivery is made by a public (common or contract) carrier.

(2) The following are maximum base prices, f. o. b. freight cars, trucks or other means of transportation at the point of shipment. Any copper scrap or copper alloy scrap sold "where is" shall be sold at a price less than the applicable maximum price by an amount reflecting the cost of loading the material for shipment to the consumer. These prices may be paid only for that quantity of copper scrap and copper alloy scrap which actually arrives at the consumer's receiving point. Effect shall be given to the provisions of paragraph (a) (4) of this section before the maximum price shall be known as the maximum base price.

Group No.	Grade	Maximum prices in cents per pound of material	Specifications
1	No. 1 heavy copper and No. 1 copper wire.	9.75 on No. 1 heavy copper, a deduction of 0.15 cent per pound shall be made for the weight of all pieces which exceed 12 inches in width or diameter or 48 inches in length. If by an analysis, other than by inspection, the copper content is found to exceed 96%, an addition of 0.11775 cent shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.	Shall consist of copper wire and pieces, shall have a copper content of not less than 95%, and shall be free of silicon bronze, aluminum bronze and copper-nickel alloys.
1	Copper tuyeres	8.75 subject to a deduction of 0.0875 cent for each 1% or fraction thereof of adhering iron in excess of 5%.	Shall consist of copper tuyeres, including Bosh plates.
1	Light copper	7.75 if by an analysis, other than by inspection, the copper content is found to exceed 92%, an addition of 0.11775 cent shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.	Shall consist of miscellaneous copper, shall have a copper content of not less than 90%, and shall be free of radiators, bronze and brass screens, readily removable iron, lead-coated copper, and electrotype shells.
1	No. 1 copper borings	9.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1	Shall consist exclusively of unalloyed copper borings and turnings which in a button analysis shall have a copper content of not less than 98.5%, and shall be free of all other materials and contamination other than free iron, oil, moisture and non-metallics.
1	No. 2 copper borings	8.75 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1. If the copper content in a button analysis is found to exceed 96%, an addition of 0.11775 cent per pound shall be made for each 1% of such additional copper content, with proportionate adjustments for fractional variations of 1%.	Shall consist of copper borings and turnings which in a button analysis shall have a copper content of not less than 95%, and shall be free of silicon bronze borings, aluminum bronze borings and copper-nickel alloy borings.
1	Lead-covered copper wire and cable.	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated as follows: (A) Multiply the weight of the lead-covered copper wire and cable, less the weight of the lead covering and any insulation, by the above maximum price for the applicable grade of copper wire: (B) divide the resulting product by the weight of the lead-covered copper wire and cable and (C) deduct from the resulting quotient 0.15 cents. This result is the maximum price. In addition to this maximum price, payment may be made for the lead covering at the maximum price established by maximum price regulation No. 70. The maximum price for a lot of lead-covered copper wire and cable may be determined by applying the foregoing computation to a representative sample.	Shall consist of tinned and untinned copper wire and cable covered with a sheathing of lead, may contain rubber, fabric and paper insulation, but shall be free of steel-armored and other metallically armored material.
1	Insulated copper	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated as follows: (a) Multiply the weight of the insulated copper, less the weight of the insulation, by the above maximum price for the applicable grade of copper; (b) divide the resulting product by the weight of the insulated copper; and (c) deduct from the resulting quotient 0.15 cents. This result is the maximum price. The maximum price for a lot of insulated copper may be determined by applying the foregoing computation to a representative sample.	Shall consist of tinned and untinned copper wire, cable and pieces covered with rubber, paint, enamel, fabric, and other insulation but shall be free of steel-armored and other metallically-armored material, asbestos covering, and porcelain.
2	Bell metal	15.50 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2	Shall have a copper content of not less than 83%, a tin content of not less than 15% and a lead content of not more than 1%.
2	High grade bronze gears	13.25 subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2	Shall have a copper content of not less than 87%, a tin content of not less than 9%, and a lead content of not more than 1%.
2	High grade-low lead bronze solids.	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of section 16 (a) (3) to an analysis, other than by inspection, of the material. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 10.75 cents. High grade-low lead bronze solids which, except for the copper content or the tin content, or both, meet the specification and which, except for form, meet the specification for high grade-low lead bronze borings, may be priced as high grade-low lead bronze borings. In every case the maximum price shall be subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 2.	Shall have a copper content of not less than 81%, a tin content of not less than 5.5%, a lead content of not more than 3%. Total impurities, exclusive of zinc and nickel, shall not exceed 1.25%, silicon, aluminum, manganese and alloyed iron each being limited to 0.50%. Shall be free of any other listed grade of scrap. This specification is subject to the modification stated in the maximum price column.
2	High grade-low lead bronze borings.	(*) *The maximum price shall be calculated by the application of Section 16 (a) (3) to a wet or natural analysis, after a button analysis has determined the proper classification of the material. As an alternative to payment on the analysis basis, the consumer, if he receives less than 5,000 pounds in a shipment at one time, may determine by inspection that the material meets the specification, but in such case the maximum price shall be 10.00 cents, subject to the deduction provided for in footnote 1.	Shall consist of borings and turnings which in a button analysis shall have a copper content of not less than 70%, a tin content of not less than 2.75%, and a lead content of not more than 3%, but in all cases the tin content must be higher than the lead content. NOTE: For purposes of classifying high grade-low lead bronze borings, the button analysis shall govern; for pricing purposes the wet or natural analysis shall govern. When the foregoing table is used to determine the maximum price of high grade bronze solids, the analysis of the material, as determined by accepted laboratory standards, shall be employed; no distinction shall be made between that analysis and the button analysis and the wet or natural analysis.

To find the maximum price per pound of material, the following operations shall be performed:

(b) From columns II, III, IV and V find the column giving the tin content shown in the button analysis.

(d) Add the resulting products. This sum is the maximum price in cents per pound of material for the purposes of section 16 (a) (2).

(4) Rejections. (i) The consumer shall examine and sort the scrap contained in each lot in order to determine the rejections contained therein, except when the lot consists exclusively of borings or when it is settled for as Refinery Brass. The maximum base price for each grade of copper scrap and copper alloy scrap contained in such lot shall then be determined as follows:

(a) If the lot contains less than 10% rejections by weight, the maximum base price for each grade shall be the maximum price established by section 16 (a) (2).

(b) If the lot contains 10% or more rejections by weight, the maximum base price for each grade shall be the higher of the following:

(1) The maximum price established by section 16 (a) (2) for the lowest-priced grade contained in such lot: Except, that if the maximum price for each of the grades contained in such lot is the same, a deduction of 0.25 cent per pound of material must be made, or

(2) The maximum price for each grade established by section 16 (a) (2), reduced by 0.25 cent per pound of material.

(ii) In determining whether a lot contains 10% or more rejections by weight, the net weight of the lot after deducting the weight of all containers, dunnage and other tare shall be used.

(b) Quantity premiums. (1) To the maximum base price there may be added the applicable one of the following quantity premiums:

(i) For the shipment at one time by one person of 60,000 pounds or more of any one group other than Group 4—0.75 cent per pound;

(ii) For the shipment at one time by one person of 40,000 pounds or more of any one or two groups—0.50 cent per pound;

(iii) For the shipment by one person in one railroad car of 60,000 pounds or more of material eligible for the 0.75 cent per pound premium provided for in subdivision (i) of this paragraph (b) and, in the same railroad car, 20,000 pounds or more of any one other group—0.50 cent per pound for the material composing such other group in addition to 0.75 cent per pound for the 60,000 pound group.

(2) In computing the weight of material necessary for a quantity premium:

(i) There must first be deducted from the total weight of the shipment, the weight of (a) all containers, dunnage, and other tare, (b) all insulation and lead covering on insulated copper wire and cable or lead-covered copper wire and cable when settled for as the principal grade, (c) all rejections which are not either copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, (d) all other rejections in any lot containing 10% or more rejections, and (e) all copper scrap and copper alloy scrap for which any special preparation premium provided for in paragraph (d) of this section is paid;

(ii) The actual weight, at the consumer's plant, of the remaining material must be used, and the applicable quantity premium may be paid only on that weight.

(3) No quantity premium may be added to the maximum base price if any special preparation premium, permitted by paragraph (c) of this section, is added to such price.

	Cents per pound
No. 1 copper wire and No. 1 heavy copper in briquettes or in crucible shape	1.25
No. 1 tinned copper wire and No. 1 tinned heavy copper in briquettes or in crucible shape	1.25
Copper borings in briquettes or in crucible shape	1.25
No. 2 copper wire and mixed heavy copper in briquettes or in crucible shape	1.00

(ii) To the maximum base price for any grade of copper scrap, a special use premium of 1.25 cents per pound may be added: Provided, That the scrap has been prepared to meet the consumer's specifications and is suitable for his direct use without further preparation. However, no special use premium may be added on the sale or delivery of any such copper scrap to a copper refiner, a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer, a ferrous or nonferrous foundry, or a brass mill.

(iii) A "briquette" means any compressed, self-adhering bundle whose measurements do not exceed 16 x 10 x 12 inches.

(iv) "Crucible shape" means either (a) that copper scrap is in lengths not exceeding 16 inches and is in a shape suitable for direct charging into the consumer's crucible or furnace, or (b) that copper borings or turnings are completely free of oil, other moisture, free iron, and other free impurities.

(2) Special preparation premiums for copper alloy scrap. (i) To the maximum base price for any grade of copper alloy scrap a crucible shape premium of 1.25 cents per pound may be added: Except, that in the case of manganese bronze solids the premium may be 2.50 cents per pound. However, no crucible shape premium may be added on the sale or delivery of any copper alloy scrap to a copper refiner or a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer.

(ii) "Crucible shape" means either (a) clean, heavy copper alloy scrap of uniform alloy content containing no free iron or other harmful material, and suitable for direct use by the consumer without further preparation, or (b) copper alloy borings or turnings of uniform alloy content completely free of oil, other moisture, free iron, and other free impurities.

(3) No special preparation premium may be added to the maximum base price if any quantity premium, permitted by paragraph (b) of this section, is added to such price.

(4) No special preparation premium may be added to the maximum base price for any grade of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap unless such scrap is invoiced by the seller as being in briquettes or in crucible shape, and unless such scrap, when received by the consumer, is packed in separate containers or bales or is otherwise physically segregated by the seller, and unless a lot of such scrap contains less than 2% rejections by weight: Except, that in the case of the special use premium permitted by subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph a lot of such scrap may contain up to 10% rejections by weight.

(5) For the purposes of this paragraph (c) any briquette which fails to meet the specifications for that grade of copper scrap at which it is invoiced shall be deemed to be a rejection.

(6) No special preparation premium may be added to the maximum base price for any grade except the principal grade in the lot.

(d) Delivery charges. (1) If copper scrap or copper alloy scrap is delivered to the consumer's receiving point by a public (common or contract) carrier, the maximum delivery charge which the consumer may pay in addition to the established maximum price f. o. b. point of shipment shall be the actual transportation charge made by such carrier.

(2) If copper scrap or copper alloy scrap is delivered to the consumer's receiving point by a vehicle owned or controlled by the seller or by a private carrier not owned or controlled by the consumer, the maximum delivery charge which the consumer may pay in addition to the established maximum price f. o. b. point of shipment shall be an amount not in excess of the following:

[1] An amount not in excess of the charge computed at the lowest railroad carload rate applicable to shipments of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap from the railroad siding nearest the point of shipment to the railroad siding nearest the consumer's receiving point.

(i) For distances of 300 miles or less, all bridge, tunnel and ferry tolls actually incurred may be added to the amount set forth in the above table.

(ii) The distance in miles shall be computed on the basis of the shortest public highway route available for the transportation of the shipment in question from the point of shipment to the consumer's receiving point.

(iii) In the event of partial loading of a truck at each of two or more pick-up points, the transportation charge for each portion of the load delivered to the consumer shall be separately computed in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph (d).

(iv) The seller shall furnish to the consumer on the invoice, or on a separate statement, the point or points of shipment, the amount of the load picked up at each point, the charge for delivery of that portion of the load picked up at each point, the mileage upon which each such portion of the charge is based, and the total delivery charge.

(3) Anything hereinbefore contained to the contrary notwithstanding, if a quantity premium permitted by paragraph (b) of this section is paid on copper scrap or copper alloy scrap shipped from more than one point of shipment by any of the following means of transportation, the maximum delivery charge which the consumer may pay, in addition to the established maximum price f. o. b. point of shipment, shall be an amount not in excess of the applicable one of the following limitations:

(i) Entirely by railroad—the carload rate from that one of the several points of shipment which has the lowest carload rate to the consumer's receiving point.

(ii) Entirely by public carrier truck—the established truckload rate for the lowest minimum weight from that one of the several points of shipment which has the lowest truckload rate to the consumer's receiving point.

(iii) Entirely by vehicle owned or controlled by the seller or private carrier not owned or controlled by the consumer—the rate set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (d) from that one of the several points of shipment which has the lowest rate to the consumer's receiving point.

(iv) Partly by railroad, partly by public carrier truck, partly by vehicle owned or controlled by the seller, or a private carrier not owned or controlled by the consumer, or any combination of the foregoing—the lowest of the rates set forth in the preceding subdivisions of this subparagraph (3). However, in making the computation required by this subparagraph (3) (iv) the rate governing any method of shipment not actually employed may be disregarded.

(e) Credit charges. An amount not to exceed ½ of 1% per month for the extension of credit beyond thirty days after delivery may be charged over and above the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(f) Exceptions—(1) Briquetted and crucible copper scrap sold or delivered to a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer. Any brass and bronze ingot manufacturer may file an application for adjustment under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 requesting permission to pay the premiums for briquetted and crucible shape copper scrap provided in section 16 (c) (1) (i). (All brass and bronze ingot manufacturers heretofore authorized to pay, in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 20, as amended, the premiums set forth in section 16 (c) (1) (i) for copper scrap in briquettes or in crucible shape are hereby authorized to continue to do so.) Only the National Office of the Office of Price Administration may grant such applications and that Office may impose such conditions on the granting of permission under this subparagraph as it deems necessary to prevent evasion of the provisions of this regulation. No application will be granted under this subparagraph unless the applicant establishes that:

(i) In the three calendar months directly preceding the month in which the application is filed, the applicant produced a total of less than 600,000 pounds of brass and bronze ingot. In this connection, the applicant must state:

(a) His production in pounds of brass and bronze ingot for each such calendar month.

(b) His production in pounds of all other non-ferrous products, in which copper scrap was used, for each such calendar month.

(ii) In the calendar month directly preceding the month in which the application is filed the applicant was unable to purchase the amount of No. 1 and No. 2 copper scrap allocated to him by the War Production Board pursuant to Copper Supplementary Order M-9-b, as amended, or, if able to purchase such scrap, was unable to briquette or put into crucible shape a sufficient amount of it to permit efficient operation of his melting equipment. In this connection, the applicant must state:

(a) The amount of No. 1 and No. 2 copper scrap allocated to him for such calendar month.

(b) The amount of No. 1 and No. 2 copper scrap purchased by him in such calendar month.

(c) The reasons for his inability to briquette or put into crucible shape a sufficient amount of copper scrap to permit efficient operation of his melting equipment.

(iii) The applicant regularly purchased copper scrap in briquettes or crucible shape in the six-month period from January 1, 1941 to July 1, 1941. If the applicant did not regularly purchase copper scrap in briquettes or crucible shape during the period January 1, 1941 to July 1, 1941, he must explain in detail why he now desires to purchase copper scrap in briquettes or crucible shape. In this connection the applicant must state:

(a) The total amount of copper scrap received between January 1 and July 1, 1941.

(b) The total amount of copper scrap received in briquettes or crucible shape between January 1 and July 1, 1941.

(c) What changes, if any, have occurred in the applicant's plant or production and how, if at all, they have affected his demands for copper scrap in briquettes or crucible shape.

(2) Precious metals. In addition to the maximum price established by this regulation for any grade of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap, refineries, who customarily recover gold or silver, or both elements, in the treatment of materials containing precious metals, may pay a premium for the gold content of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap if the gold content exceeds 0.05 Troy ounces per ton of material, and a premium for the silver content if the silver content exceeds 5.0 Troy ounces per ton of material. Nothing in this regulation or in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall control the amount of this premium.

(3) Lead-covered telephone and power cable scrap. (i) Anything in this regulation and in Maximum Price Regulation No. 70 [1] to the contrary notwithstanding, as an alternative to settling for lead-covered telephone and power cable scrap in accordance with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 70 and the provisions of this regulation other than this subparagraph, a seller and consumer may agree to settle and make settlement for lead-covered telephone and power cable scrap at a price not in excess of 6.04 cents per pound of material, f. o. b. point of shipment for the combined copper and lead content of lead-covered telephone and power cable scrap. No quantity or other premiums may be added to this price.

(ii) As used in this subparagraph the term "Lead-covered telephone and power cable scrap" shall mean lead-covered telephone and power cable, potheads, splices and butts with or without sleeves which have been scrapped by the "Bell System."

(4) Beryllium scrap. In addition to the maximum price established for No. 1 heavy copper scrap, any "producer" or "approved smelter," as defined by War Production Board Supplementary Order M-160-a, issued August 24, 1943, or any other person specifically authorized by the War Production Board pursuant to said order, may pay a premium for the beryllium content of copper scrap. Nothing in this regulation or in the General Maximum Price Regulation shall control the amount of this premium.

(5) Special pricing. Any person who owns any lot of scrap which he considers more valuable than refinery brass but which, by reason of its not meeting the specification for any other listed grade, would have to be priced as refinery brass, may file an application for approval of a suggested maximum price and group number for such scrap. Only the National Office of the Office of Price Administration may grant such applications. No application will be granted under this subparagraph unless the applicant:

(a) States that he owns not less than 10,000 pounds of scrap,

(b) States that he expects to continue to sell such scrap in regularly recurring lots,

(c) Submits a full description of such scrap, including a complete chemical analysis,

(d) If he sold such scrap between February 21, 1942 and March 22, 1943, shows for each sale, the date, the quantity sold, the sales price, and the name and address of the consumer.

The maximum price and group number for such scrap when once approved shall be the maximum price and group number for all subsequent sales of such scrap by the seller to whom such approval is given, unless such approval thereafter is specifically withdrawn. The maximum price and group number submitted for approval shall be deemed to be approved unless the Administrator specifically disapproves such price and group number within fifteen days from the date on which receipt of the application is acknowledged.

(6) Sales of certain grades of copper alloy scrap to other than a copper refinery or a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer. The maximum prices for the grades of copper alloy scrap listed below, on a sale to a consumer other than a copper refinery or a brass and bronze ingot manufacturer, shall be as follows:

Brass pipe	8.00
Old rolled brass	7.75
Admiralty condenser tubes	8.00

Instructions

(1) You may obtain copies of Revised Form 120:7a or Revised Form 120:7b from any district, State or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or from its principal Office in Washington, D. C. You may reproduce the form on paper 8 x 10½ inches in size and make such changes or additions as may be necssary in order to use the form for a credit memorandum or settlement sheet with the person from whom you purchase scrap. However, you may not change the general appearance of the form or omit any of the information that appears on it, except "Budget Bureau Approval No. 08–R770," "Credit Memo. No.," or "Sellers Invoice No." If you use the form as a credit memorandum or settlement sheet, you may file carbon copies of the contents of the form.

(2) Report all receipts of copper scrap or copper alloy scrap (except brass mill scrap) settled for during the previous calendar month unless an individual receipt settled for with any one person is $200 or less and the total value of all settlements for copper scrap or copper alloy scrap with the same person does not exceed $1,000 during the month.

(3) Report each individual receipt on a separate form and give it a separate report number. However, all the receipts constituting a "shipment at one time" must be reported under the same O. P. A. report number; in this case you must use a separate report form for each receipt from each separate point of shipment but all receipts from the same point of shipment may be reported on the same form. Number the report forms consecutively under "OPA Report No." beginning each month with No. 1.

(4) Under "Date or dates received" enter the date or dates of shipment as shown on the bill of lading or other shipping documents or your own records, if the scrap was received by public carrier or your own conveyance. Otherwise, enter the date or dates when the scrap arrived at your receiving point.

(5) Identify each grade by the grade name used in section 16 (a) (2) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20.

(6) Enter the name of the principal grade contained in each lot in capital letters at the left margin of the "Grade" column. Opposite the grade name, enter the gross weight of the lot in the "Gross" column. Enter the weight of containers, dunnage, etc., in the "Tare" column. In the "Net" column enter the net weight of the principal grade alone.

(7) List all rejections sorted out of each principal grade underneath the principal grade. Indent each kind of rejection and describe it as in Instruction No. (5), whenever possible. Enter the net weight of each kind of rejection in the "Net" column.

(8) Indicate fully all factors for which Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 20 requires a deduction in the "Grade" column; for example, state variations in metal content, excessive iron, oil, moisture or dirt, unremoved insulation, inferior quality, lots containing more than 10% rejections, etc.

(9) If a special preparation premium has been paid, in the "Grade" column, indicate plainly the form in which the material was received.

(10) If any of the scrap was purchased "where is," report the fact in the "Grade" column and state the amount of the deduction you have made from the maximum price.

(11) Under "Purchase price" state the price, f. o. b. point of shipment, for each grade of material in cents per pound and by total paid. Each rejection must be stated separately.

(12) If the price of any of the material is determined on the basis of analysis, give all controlling analyses, including metallic yield when the factor is used, and the computation of the price in full.

(13) If the seller has borne or advanced the freight charges, state the amount under "Delivery charge due seller." Otherwise, enter freight paid under "Freight paid direct to public carrier."

By section 205 (b) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, it is made a criminal offense, punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for any person to make, in this Revised Form 120:7b, any statement which is false in any material respect.

This regulation shall become effective January 25, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 19th day of January 1944.

(e) Terms of sale. (1) Prices for sales of any unit, as established by the Order, include delivery to the buyer's premises or any other point designated by him. Each seller of firewood under the order shall continue to furnish to the buyer, without separate charge, all services furnished by the seller to the same or similar buyer in March of 1942.

(ii) A license granted hereby may be suspended in accordance with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, for violations of the license or of one or more applicable maximum price regulations. The provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and all other such regulations are made a part of each license granted hereby, and a violation of any such provision is a violation of the license. A person whose license has been suspended may not during the period of suspension make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(iii) Every licenses heretofore granted by the Office of Price Administration and in effect when this order becomes effective, is merged and continued in the license granted by this order. The former license no longer continues as a separate license. If the former license is suspended by a pending license suspension proceeding, the license granted by this order is suspended to the same extent. Proceedings to suspend a license granted hereby may be begun and maintained without a further warning notice to any person to whom a warning notice under a previous license was sent.

(3) Sales slips and receipts. (i) Any seller of firewood covered by this Order who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or other similar evidence of purchases shall continue to do so.

(ii) Any loss in volume resulting from cutting a cord of four foot wood into shorter lengths shall be borne by the purchaser and not by the seller, regardless of whether or not ownership (title) of the wood has passed from the seller to the buyer before the wood is cut: Provided, That such loss or shrinkage in volume shall not exceed twenty-four cubic feet when four foot wood is cut into two foot lengths and shall not exceed thirty-two cubic feet when four foot wood is cut into lengths less than two feet: And provided, That no seller, selling firewood in lengths shorter than four feet, regardless of whether or not ownership (title) of the wood has passed from the seller to the buyer before the wood is cut, may deliver less than 104 cubic feet of firewood when cut in two foot lengths, or less than 96 cubic feet of firewood when cut into lengths less than two feet, without a compensating reduction in the applicable per cord price for firewood set out in this order.

"milk cans" includes cans and covers transferred together and cans transferred apart from covers, but it does not include covers transferred apart from cans. Milk cans transferred for any purpose in the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and for export, are subject to the provisions of this supplementary order. As used herein "State" means any State, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands.

§ 1202.378 Compliance with this supplementary order. No person shall make a transfer or accept a transfer of milk cans for any purpose, except in accordance with the provisions of this supplementary order or directions which may be issued by the Director.

Calendar quarter commencing—	Authorized for transfer	Reserve
	Percent	Percent
Oct. 1, 1943	85	15
Jan. 1, 1944	70	30
Apr. 1, 1944	70	30

In making the transfer of milk cans authorized by this paragraph, during any of the calendar quarters mentioned, no manufacturer shall transfer into any State a percentage of his scheduled production of milk cans greater than the percentage which his total transfers of milk cans into such State in 1941 and 1942 was of his total transfers during those years into all States. However, if a manufacturer is unable during any calendar quarter to transfer into any State the full number of milk cans permitted by this paragraph, such manufacturer may transfer the remainder into such State during any subsequent calendar quarter in addition to other permitted transfers. For the purposes of this paragraph, when a manufacturer transfers milk cans to a distributor or other person who operates in more than one State, such transfer will be considered as having been made into the State in which the office (home or branch office) of the distributor or other person placing the order is located.

(b) (1) The Director is hereby authorized to direct the transfer or to prohibit the transfer of the reserve established by paragraph (a) of this section. In so doing, the Director may direct the transfer of a manufacturer's current production at any given time, or he may direct the transfer of the reserve from the inventory of such equipment.

(2) Any person who wishes to make a transfer or accept a transfer of milk cans from a manufacturer's reserve for the purpose of handling milk or milk products may apply to the Director. Such application shall be in writing and shall be filed with the State AAA Committee for the State in which the milk cans will be principally used, and such State AAA Committee shall promptly transmit such application to the Director, together with its recommendation.

(3) If, by the fifteenth day before the end of any calendar quarter, the Director has not directed or prohibited the transfer of part or all of a manufacturer's reserve, such manufacturer may transfer his undirected reserve either (i) in the same manner provided in paragraph (a) of this section, or (ii) in accordance with a distribution plan submitted to the Director, unless the Director disapproves such plan and written notice of such disapproval is given to such manufacturer within seven working days after delivery of such distribution plan to the Director. The mailing of such distribution plan to the Director by registered mail shall constitute delivery of the plan under this paragraph.

§ 1202.380 Transfers of milk cans for use in handling milk or milk products in the continental United States. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no person in the continental United States, other than a Federal agency, shall make a transfer or accept a transfer of milk cans for use in handling milk or milk products, except pursuant to a purchase certificate issued under Food Production Order No. 14 and this supplementary order. Such purchase certificate need not be limited to one milk can.

(b) If a dealer wishes to transfer milk cans to farmers for use in handling milk or milk products without obtaining purchase certificates from such farmers, such dealer shall first obtain a purchase certificate in his own name authorizing him to make such transfer. A purchase certificate issued to a dealer for this purpose may authorize the transfer of not to exceed 40 milk cans. Such dealer may then transfer such milk cans to farmers for use in handling milk or milk products without obtaining purchase certificates from such farmers. No farmer shall accept a transfer of more than two such milk cans during any calendar quarter in this manner, and no dealer shall transfer any milk cans during any calendar quarter to a farmer in this manner if he knows or has reason to believe that such farmer is not authorized to accept such transfer. In making transfers authorized by this paragraph, a dealer shall require farmers to sign a statement substantially as follows:

I hereby certify to _____

with whom this order is placed and to the War Food Administration that I am a farmer and that the milk cans received on this order are needed now and will be used by me in handling milk or milk products and that I have not, and will not, during this calendar quarter accept a transfer of more than two milk cans, except as may be authorized by a purchase certificate issued to me by the County Farm Rationing Committee.

Date _____ _____
Purchaser

Upon request, such dealer shall submit all certifications which he has received in making transfers authorized by this paragraph to his County Farm Rationing Committee or State AAA Committee. If a dealer wishes to obtain an additional purchase certificate pursuant to this paragraph, he shall submit with his application to the issuing County Farm Rationing Committee or State AAA Committee all certifications received by him in making transfers authorized by the purchase certificate previously issued to him under this paragraph.

(c) Purchase certificates for milk cans issued under Food Production Order No. 3, as amended,[1] shall continue to be valid as though issued under Food Production Order No. 14 and this Supplementary Order until their revocation or expiration.

§ 1202.381 Transfers of milk cans for use in handling milk or milk products in the territories and possessions of the United States. Notwithstanding any provision of Food Production Order No. 14, the Farm Rationing Committee for Alaska, Hawaii and for Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to direct the distribution of milk cans and to provide for their transfer for use in handling milk or milk products in such territory or possession. The Farm Rationing Committee shall at all times serve the objectives sought by the rationing program and allocate milk cans in such manner as will afford the maximum contribution to agricultural production. In so doing, the Farm Rationing Committee may prohibit transfers of milk cans except pursuant to purchase certificates issued under its authority, and may prescribe the form of such certificates. Control over such transfers may be exercised by the Farm Rationing Committee in such manner and under such regulations as it may deem appropriate to carry out the purposes of this supplementary order. Any regulations issued by a Farm Rationing Committee shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 1202.382 Transfers of milk cans for uses other than in handling milk or milk products. No person shall make a transfer or accept a transfer of milk cans for use other than for handling milk or milk products, except pursuant to a written authorization from the Director.

§ 1202.383 Transfer of milk cans to a Federal agency. No Federal agency shall accept a transfer of milk cans, except pursuant to a written authorization from the Director.

§ 1202.384 Transfers of milk cans for export. No person shall make a transfer or accept a transfer of milk cans for shipment, nor shall any person ship milk cans, outside the continental United States, its territories and possessions, except pursuant to a written authorization from the Director.

§ 1202.385 Authority for State AAA Committees to act as county farm rationing committees. (a) A State AAA Committee shall act as the county farm rationing committee in the issuance of purchase certificates for milk cans to persons, including dairies and farmers' cooperatives, operating in two or more counties or in a county in which there is no county farm rationing committee. In such cases, the State AAA Committee shall perform the functions and carry out the duties of the county farm rationing committee and shall follow the procedures established for county farm rationing committees. In carrying out these functions, such State AAA Committee may appoint committees to discharge these functions in certain designated areas. Appeals from the action of such committees shall be made directly to the State AAA Committee.

§ 1202.386 Manufacturers' reports. Each manufacturer of milk cans shall, within 10 days after the commencement of any calendar quarter, furnish the Director with a report on Form MR-224 with respect to transfers of milk cans made during the preceding calendar quarter. (This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.)

§ 1202.387 Communications. All communications concerning this Supplementary Order No. 3 to Food Production Order No. 14 shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Director in charge of the Office of Materials and Facilities, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. FPO 14, Supp. 3.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

MODERN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

Sidney H. DesMarais does business as Modern Construction Company, a construction and contracting business located at 1329 Grand Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota. On July 5, 1943, without War Production Board authorization, Sidney H. DesMarais caused "Residential Construction" to be begun, consisting of alterations and additions to the dwelling located at 609 Lafond Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota, the estimated cost of which was $2,900. By October 8, 1943, $1,100. in labor and material had been incorporated into said dwelling, in violation of paragraph (b) (1) of Conservation Order L-41, which placed a limit of $200. on such construction. Further, in using restricted grades of softwood lumber in the construction work on said premises without specific approval from the War Production Board, he violated the provisions of paragraph (c) (1) of Conservation Order M-208. These acts constituted wilful violations of the respective orders.

This violation of Conservation Order L-41 has diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.481 Suspension Order No. S-481. (a) Deliveries of material to Sidney H. DesMarais, doing business as Modern Construction Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating orders, preference rating certificates, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation or allotment of materials or products, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, shall be made to Sidney H. DesMarais, doing business as Modern Construction Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order, shall be deemed to relieve Sidney H. DesMarais, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on January 19, 1944, and shall expire on March 19, 1944.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

DICHLORODIFLUOROMETHANE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of dichlorodifluoromethane for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1226.27 Conservation Order M-28—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "F-12 gas" means dichlorodifluoromethane (sometimes called "freon-12").

(2) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(3) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of F-12 gas.

(4) "Supplier" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in the business of distributing F-12 gas to persons using the same for installation in refrigerating or air conditioning systems. The term shall include an equipment manufacturer to the extent that he engages in the sale of F-12 gas which has not been installed in such systems. "System" means any "system" as defined in General Limitation Order L-38.

(5) "Equipment manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he uses F-12 gas for charging new refrigerating or air conditioning systems or parts of systems manufactured by him. It does not include affiliates, subsidiaries, branches, divisions or sections or an enterprise, if not actually engaged in the manufacture of systems or refrigerant containing parts of systems.

(6) "Insecticide manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he uses F-12 gas in the production of insecticide.

(7) "User" means any person who installs F-12 gas in a refrigerating or air-conditioning system, other than an equipment manufacturer. It includes suppliers, service agencies, owners or lessees, to the extent that they engage in installing F-12 gas in any system.

(8) "Contract agent" means any person to whom or for whose account F-12 gas is delivered by a producer for distribution to suppliers.

(If the same person, or two or more branches, divisions or sections of the same enterprise, acts in two or more capacities as contract agent, supplier, equipment manufacturer, or insecticide manufacturer, the particular provisions of this order which apply to the respective activities must be followed, to the extent to which the various provisions are applicable to each activity.)

(b) Systems for which no deliveries are permitted. (1) No person (including users, dealers, and other suppliers, and producers) shall deliver, or accept delivery of, any F-12 gas for use in, or for resale for use in any new or used system which is of a type referred to in List A.

(2) During the period from November 12, 1943, through August 31, 1944, no person (including users, dealers, and other suppliers, and producers), shall deliver, or accept delivery of, any F-12 gas for use in, or for resale for use in any new or used system of any type (not in List A) unless the system must be operated under one or more of the following conditions:

(i) Where an air-cooled condenser is used and the ambient temperature is 110° F or higher; or

(ii) Where the saturated refrigerant temperature corresponding to the suction pressure is less than minus 10° F; or

(iii) Where aluminum or magnesium alloys or rubber (except synthetic rubber) have been used in construction of the system and come in contact with the refrigerant, and are not easily replaceable; or

(iv) Where the system is for use aboard ship, or outside of the continental United States by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration; or

(v) Where the total operating charge required to operate the system is ten (10) pounds or less of F-12 gas and the system was in operation on November 12, 1943, and is used for food preservation or for storage of penicillin, blood serum, blood for plasma, blood plasma, biologicals and bacteriologicals; or

(vi) Where the use of no Group 2 or Group 3 refrigerants, as defined in the American Standard Safety Code for Mechanical Refrigeration, ASRE Circular No. 15, ASA-B 9-1939, as approved by the American Standards Association April 20, 1939, is permitted by that Code; or

(vii) Where the system is used in a sealed railroad car or sealed bus.

(The above restrictions apply not only to systems used for ordinary civilian purposes, but also to those owned, operated, or used within the continental United States by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration, including post exchanges and ships service stores, other than those used aboard ships.)

(3) Attention is called to paragraph (c) (2), which prohibits a supplier from delivering F-12 gas except on certified orders.

(c) Deliveries by suppliers. (1) No supplier or any other person (except a producer) shall deliver any F-12 gas for export outside of the continental United States, or for use by any of the following non-retail users (or to any ship yard or other person for use in a system to be delivered to any of them), namely: The Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, post exchanges, ships service departments and activities, equipment and insecticide manufacturers, for new or used systems, or for use in insecticide, without specific authorization from the War Production Board. Subject to the foregoing restriction, any supplier or any other person (except a producer) may deliver F-12 gas to any other person, for use in any new or used system not referred to on List A of this order, if it must be operated under one or more of the conditions stated in (b) (2) (i) to (b) (2) (vii) both inclusive.

No person shall accept from a supplier or other person any delivery of F-12 gas which is prohibited by the restrictions in this order.

(2) Whenever the owner of a system or any other user wishes to obtain F-12 gas for installation in a system or systems for which deliveries by suppliers are permitted under this order, he may place his order with any supplier for the minimum quantity, which the available cylinder or cylinders permit, necessary to bring the charge in the system or systems up to a normal operating charge. He must certify his order, or the vendor's delivery receipt, by a certificate endorsed on or attached to it, showing that the F-12 gas is to be used for such purposes only, and that he is not holding any empty cylinders not owned by him, which shall be in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies to the seller and the War Production Board that he does not have any F-12 gas cylinders not owned by him, which have been empty for more than 15 days; and that the F-12 gas covered by this order will not be used or resold for any purposes not permitted by Order M-28.

Such certificate, which must be signed by the purchaser or his authorized official, will constitute a representation that what is stated in it is true. A supplier must not deliver any F-12 gas except under certified orders; and he must not make delivery under any order which is certified if he knows, or has any reason to believe that the certificate furnished with such order is untrue, incomplete, or inaccurate. In such a case the supplier must reject the order, and should explain why he is doing so, so that the prospective purchaser can comply with this order. Each supplier must keep all accepted orders and certificates which he receives, for a period of two years, for inspection by the War Production Board. (Certificates in the form required by this order before its amendment on November 12, 1943, may continue to be used for 30 days after that date, in place of the above form.)

This restriction shall not prevent a person who services several systems for which deliveries are permitted by this order from purchasing a cylinder of F-12 gas from a supplier, if the amount purchased is the smallest quantity practicable considering the sizes of the standard commercial cylinders and the amount needed in his current operations.

(3) No "standby charge" or any other quantity of F-12 gas, over and above that needed to bring the total charge in a system or systems up to the normal operating charge, shall be delivered to or accepted by any person for use in a system which he owns, leases, or operates (except the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration): except, however, that a "standby charge" may be maintained for a system which is operated primarily for one of the following purposes: air conditioning or refrigeration for the production and storage of penicillin, or blood serum; or refrigeration for the storage of blood for plasma, or the production or storage of blood plasma.

(d) Deliveries by producers. Each producer shall hold his entire inventory of F-12 gas, together with all additional quantities produced or otherwise obtained by him from time to time, for delivery under such orders and for such uses as may be authorized or directed from time to time by the War Production Board. No deliveries of F-12 gas shall be made by a producer except pursuant to specific authorizations or directions heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board.

(e) The provisions of this order shall be followed by every producer, contract agent, supplier, user, equipment manufacturer, insecticide manufacturer, and any other person buying, selling or delivering F-12 gas, without any regard to any preference ratings which have been assigned or which may hereafter be assigned to particular contracts or orders.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as issued and amended from time to time.

(2) Reports.[1] (i) Each equipment manufacturer who wishes to secure delivery of F-12 gas during any month for charging systems or parts produced by him, or for factory repair and charging of sealed or hermetic condensing units, shall file with the War Production Board, on or before the 15th day of the preceding month a report on Form WPB-3326, prepared in accordance with the instructions for such form.

(ii) Any person wishing to secure F-12 gas during any month for ultimate uses (such as testing coaxial cable for leaks) other than the charging of new or used refrigeration or air conditioning systems or parts or use in insecticide, shall file with the War Production Board, on or before the 20th day of the preceding month, a report by letter, in triplicate, showing the minimum amount required for the month, the purpose for which required, and the amount used during the preceding calendar month for that purpose.

(3) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, or any direction thereunder, shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, General Industrial Equipment Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M–28.

Issued this 20th day of January 1944.

[Interpretation 1 revoked November 12, 1943]

(a) Quantities which may be obtained by system owner. Subparagraphs (c) (2) permits the owner (or lessee) of a refrigerating or air conditioning system (not on List A) who does his own installation of F–12 gas, to place his order for the minimum quantity "which the available cylinder or cylinders permit", necessary to bring the charge in his system up to a normal operating charge.

The standard commercial cylinders are generally available in sizes which contain four pounds, ten pounds, twenty-five pounds, and one hundred forty-five pounds of the gas, and a particular supplier may not have all four sizes in stock at all times. Questions will therefore arise as to the number and sizes of cylinders which the owner of a system is permitted to obtain, if the particular supplier with whom his purchase order is first placed should not happen to have the sizes of cylinder from which the minimum quantity needed by the system can be furnished the owner.

In such a case, the owner of the system should make a reasonable effort to obtain the minimum quantity which he needs, from some other supplier in his locality, rather than purchase an excessive quantity from the first supplier upon whom he calls. While the order does not prescribe rigid rules as to exactly what effort the purchaser should make in every case, it is required that he do whatever is practicable, under his particular conditions, to obtain the minimum quantity which he needs, and no more.

Where he is located in a large community in which there are a number of suppliers, he should contact several, if necessary in order to obtain the quantity needed. If he happens to be located in a small community where there is only one supplier who cannot furnish the exact quantity needed and the F–12 gas must be obtained immediately in order to avoid spoilage of a substantial quantity of food, the restriction would not prevent him from obtaining a larger amount, if that is unavoidable without letting his food spoil.

As a guide to the number and size of cylinders which should normally be obtained, for the different quantities of F–12 gas which may be needed in different cases, the following table is furnished:

Pounds of F–12 gas required	Amounts which should be ordered. Number of cylinders
	4 pounds	10 pounds	25 pounds	145 pounds
5–9		1
15–24		2 or	1
30–39	1	1	1
40–49	1	2	1
60–69		2	2
80–89	1	1	3
146–170			1	1
171–195			2	1
196–220			3	1
221–245			4	1
246–290				2
291–315			1	2
316–340			2	2

The above interpretation applies only where the system owner buys his F–12 gas from a supplier, and installs it himself. If he has a service shop install the gas, the shop will always be able to furnish no more than the amount actually needed from its service cylinders, and there will be no problem.

(b) Installation of F–12 gas in systems or parts held by equipment manufacturers or dealers. Paragraph (b) (1) prohibits deliveries of F–12 gas for systems on List A; (b) (2) prohibits deliveries for any other system, unless it must be operated under one or more of the conditions specified. These restrictions are intended to prevent deliveries of F–12 gas where there is a sale or other delivery of the gas. They prevent an equipment manufacturer or other person from delivering F–12 gas in any new or used system or refrigerant-containing parts if charged with F–12 gas furnished by him after the effective date of the applicable restriction, for any prohibited use.

These restrictions do not prevent the withdrawal and reinstallation of F–12 gas in the course of repairing a used system or refrigerant-containing part, where no additional F–12 gas is added to what was already in the system or part.

Neither do they restrict the delivery of new or used systems or refrigerant-containing parts which had already been charged at the time the applicable restriction became effective; nor do they prevent the owner or lessee of an installed system who had F–12 gas in his possession on the effective date of the applicable restriction, from charging the system with such gas, or having someone else do this charging for him, where no transfer of possession or ownership is involved. (Issued November 30, 1943.)

PART 3201—MINING

[Preference Rating Order P–56 as Amended Jan. 20, 1944]

MINES AND SMELTERS

§ 3201.11 Preference Rating Order P–56—(a) Purpose and scope. This order explains how operators of mines and smelters in the United States and in foreign countries may get the materials and products they need to carry on their operations. The materials covered include not only maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, including controlled materials, but also machinery, other kinds of materials, and equipment. This order does not apply, however, to an operator of a nonessential mine as defined in Limitation Order L–208.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Producer" means a person operating any of the following enterprises, whether in the United States, or any of its territories, or in a foreign country, but does not include any enterprise defined as a "nonessential" mine in Order L–208 or any like enterprise located outside the United States, its territories or possessions: (i) any plant actually engaged in the extraction by surface, open-pit, or underground methods, or in the beneficiation, concentration, or preparation for shipment of the products of mining activity; (ii) any plant wholly engaged in the processing and burning of refractories; (iii) any plant producing any material listed below by smelting or refining processes, and to whom a serial number has been issued under Preference Rating Order P–73, or is hereafter issued as provided in paragraph (c):

Antimony	Nickel
Cobalt	Platinum
Copper	Tin
Iridium	Tungsten
Lead	Vanadium
Mercury	Zinc
Molybdenum

(iv) any prospecting enterprise for the discovery, exploration, or development of new or additional mining projects, including the construction of access roads; and (v) mines, concentrating mills, smelters, railroads, power plants, refineries, and appurtenances owned and operated by the companies holding serial numbers under Preference Rating Order P–56 on December 24, 1943.

(2) "District" means a mine supply control district of the Foreign Economic Administration.

(3) "Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" means material used for the following purposes by producers in the conduct of enterprises described above in paragraph (b) (1): (i) minimum upkeep necessary to continue the working condition of essential property or equipment, and (ii) restoration of essential property or equipment to a sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts, or the like have made the property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service; and supplies which are essential to and consumed or worn out in the conduct of such enterprises. In addition, except as hereinafter noted, the term "maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" includes minor capital additions normally necessary to the operation of the enterprise, but not exceeding in cost $500 (excluding purchaser's cost of labor) for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items which would normally be purchased as part of a single project or plan. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph.

Producers Holding Serial Numbers

(c) Priorities assistance for producers with serial numbers. Producers holding serial numbers, which may be obtained in the manner specified in paragraph (f), may apply for priorities assistance as follows:

(1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, by filing the appropriate mine quota application form with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., as follows:

Metal mines	Form WPB–2937
Coal mines	Form WPB–2938
Non-metallic mines	Form WPB–2939
Smelters and refineries	Form WPB–2940
Core or churn drill operators	Form WPB–2937

For the first and second quarters of 1944, in order to purchase minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3), a producer must apply for a dollar value quota by letter filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. A producer who has several plants or other operating units, even though they maintain separate records of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, may apply in such letter for a single, aggregate quota covering all of such units, designating the several serial numbers involved. After the second quarter of 1944, application for a dollar value quota for the purchase of such minor capital additions may be made on the appropriate mine quota application form listed above.

(2) For other machinery, materials and equipment, by submitting to the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., an application on Form WPB–2910. In submitting applications under this subparagraph, Form WPB–2910 may be accompanied by a letter giving any unusual circumstances relevant to the application.

Foreign Producers Operating Under Mine Supply Control Districts

(d) Priorities assistance for certain foreign producers operating under mine supply control districts. To enable a producer not holding a serial number hereunder and located outside the continental United States and within the jurisdiction of a district to obtain priorities assistance, the following procedure is established:

(1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a district may apply for priorities assistance by filing Form WPB–2937 with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. A producer not holding a serial number and located in a district may apply for priorities assistance by submitting to such district his purchase orders for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, together with such information as may be required by the district. Within the limits of the priorities assistance granted to it pursuant to this paragraph (d) (1), such district may authenticate any such purchase order for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies by indicating the appropriate priorities assistance and countersigning the purchase order as follows:

Approved:

Name of district

Signature of authorized official

(2) For other machinery, materials, and equipment, a producer not holding a serial number and located within a district may submit to the War Production Board, Form WPB–2910, such application to be endorsed with the signed approval of the district within which the applicant is located.

(3) A distributor of maintenance, repair, or operating supplies or of other machinery, materials, or equipment used by producers, who is located outside the United States and within the jurisdiction of a district, may apply for priorities assistance in the same manner as prescribed in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) for producers not holding serial numbers and located within the jurisdiction of a district.

Other Producers Not Holding Serial Numbers

(e) (1) Priorities assistance for other producers not holding serial numbers. A preference rating of AA–5 is hereby assigned to delivery orders for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, except minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3), placed by producers operating within the United States, its territories and possessions, and not holding serial numbers (other than operators of nonessential mines as defined in Limitation Order L–208). Such producers may apply for further priorities assistance for machinery or equipment or for further assistance for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies by submitting to the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., a written application on Form WPB–2910. Foreign producers, not holding serial numbers and not located in a mine supply control district, may apply for priorities assistance by submitting to the Mining Division of the War Production Board a written application on Form WPB–2910.

(2) Emergency procedure for non-serialized mines. In case of actual or impending breakdown, producers not holding serial numbers may apply for priorities assistance on Form WPB–1436 or by telegraph either to the Washington Office or the nearest regional or district office of the War Production Board.

Serial Numbers

(f) Issuance of serial numbers. Applications for serial numbers may, in the case of producers within the continental limits of the United States, be filed with the appropriate War Production Board Regional Office, Attention: Regional Technical Advisor, Mining Division; or with the appropriate State Coordinator of Mines for transmission to such Regional Advisor; or with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Serial number application by districts must be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. Applications by all other foreign producers should also be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. In filing such application, the following forms shall be used:

Metal mines	Form WPB–1212
Coal mines	Form WPB–2784
Core or churn drill operators	Form WPB–2952

Smelters and refineries shall apply by letter. In issuing and cancelling serial numbers, the War Production Board will consider the importance to national defense of the present and prospective output of materials to be produced, the consumption of the critical material involved, and the importance to national defense of competing demands for such material, and competing demands for manpower and transportation. Serial numbers issued under Preference Rating Orders P–58 and P–73, and not cancelled prior to December 24, 1943, are hereby confirmed and shall be considered as having been issued under this Order P–56.

Use of Priorities Assistance; All Producers

(g) Application and extension of priorities assistance. The way to use preference ratings is explained in Priorities Regulation No. 3, and the way to use allotments, both in placing authorized controlled material orders and in making allotments, is explained in CMP Regulation No. 1. Instead of using the certification prescribed by those regulations or by any other regulation of the War Production Board, including Priorities Regulation No. 7, the producer may use the following endorsement signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Allotment number ----------
Preference rating ----------
Order authorized under Preference Rating Order P–56, Serial No. ----------

He shall not add the symbol "MRO" despite the certification instructions in CMP Regulation No. 5 or any other regulation. Requirements of other orders of the War Production Board as to special certifications remain applicable, but the foregoing endorsement shall be added to such certification. The use of the foregoing endorsement by a producer shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35A of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80) that the material or equipment ordered will be used for the purpose for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it. Preference ratings assigned for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies on Forms WPB–2910 (non-serialized producers only), 2937, 2938, 2939, and 2040 may not be used to obtain items on List A or List B of Priorities Regulation No. 3. Any items which are purchased without the use of preference ratings need not be charged against authorized dollar quotas.

(h) Restrictions on receipts and inventories. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, including CMP Regulation 2, receipts and inventories of producers shall be subject to the following restrictions only: No producer shall receive any delivery of material which will increase his inventory of such material to an amount greater than the minimum necessary to sustain his current level of operations; and the ratio of such inventory to current production shall in no event exceed the ratio of average inventory to average production for the years 1938, 1939, and 1940.

(i) Restrictions on use and resale of material. Notwithstanding § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, no producer shall use any material, whether or not obtained pursuant to this order, for any purpose other than that for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it; nor may he sell any material (including machinery and equipment), which he has used in the conduct of any entefprise described in paragraph (b) (1), whether or not he obtained such material with priorities assistance under this or any other order, except:

(1) To a producer holding a serial number hereunder, or

(2) With the written approval of the War Production Board applied for by letter to the Mining Division, or

(3) With the written approval of a district if he is a non-serialized producer located within such district, or

(4) As permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 13.

Applicability of Other Regulations and Orders

(j) (1) CMP Regulation No. 5 and other regulations of the War Production Board. None of the restrictions contained in CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be applicable to producers, and no producer shall obtain any material under CMP Regulation No. 5. However, privileges under other orders and regulations of the War Production Board granted to persons on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be considered as applicable to producers operating under this order. For example, Order E–5–a on gauges and precision measuring hand tools classifies a person on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 as an "approved user." Producers operating under Order P–56 are in the same position providing that certification clauses and all other provisions of such other orders are complied with.

(2) Restriction on use of priorities assistance. No producer, except as permitted by paragraph (e), shall acquire any maintenance, repair, or operating supplies through the use of any preference rating, except after prior application filed with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., on the appropriate mine quota application form for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, as specified in paragraphs (c) and (d); nor shall he acquire any other machinery, material (other than maintenance, repair, and operating supplies), or equipment through the use of either any preference rating or any specific authorization of the War Production Board, except after prior application filed with the Mining Division on Form WPB–2910 or except after filing a project application. This means that, with exceptions noted, in cases where some other order or regulation of the War Production Board requires the filing of a special application in order for a person to get any particular product, producers who are covered by this Order P–56 are required to file an application in the form specified in this order with the Mining Division before they may file the special application required by the other order or regulation. The purpose of this provision is to enable the Mining Division both to screen all such applications in the light of its knowledge of the industry's requirements, and to help a producer in approved cases to obtain the material he wants.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(k) Records, audits, and reports. Each producer and each distributor shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all transactions affected by this order, and shall submit from time to time to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. Each producer and each distributor shall execute and file with the War Production Board or other designated agency such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(l) Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(n) Communications. All reports and applications hereunder and all other communications with respect to this order shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, be addressed to the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 20th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

APPLICABILITY TO CUTTING AND POLISHING OPERATIONS AT THE QUARRY

The term "producer" as defined in Preference Rating Order P–56 includes persons operating a quarry and also persons conducting further cutting and polishing operations at the quarry site, such as the manufacture of building stone and tombstones. These latter operations are included in the phrase "preparation for shipment, of the products of mining activity" appearing in paragraph (b) (1) (i) (§ 3201.11) of the order.

Since paragraph (j) (1) of the order forbids "producers" from obtaining any materials under CMP Regulation 5, producers of tombstones or other stone products at the quarry site may not operate under this regulation but must get priorities assistance exclusively under Order P–56.

The manufacture of tombstones and structural stone at a separate plant away from the quarry is not covered by Order P–56, and priorities assistance for MRO supplies required in such operations may be obtained under CMP Regulation 5. Under CMP Regulation 5, a rating of AA–2 is assigned to persons engaged in the manufacture of structural stone, while persons engaged in the manufacture of tombstones and monuments may use the AA–5 rating which is assigned under that regulation to unlisted business. (Issued Nov. 13, 1943.)

Provisions Relating to Production

(b) Production of certain parts to be made as if orders were rated AA–1 and others AA–2X. Notwithstanding the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1, Part 944, replacement parts, for medium and heavy motor trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire equipment, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1), except items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA–1. Replacement parts, for passenger automobiles and light trucks, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) and also items (41) to (46) inclusive, must be produced as if the orders therefor bore a preference rating of AA–2X.

(c) Correction of critical shortages. Whenever the War Production Board determines that a critical shortage exists in respect to replacement parts, the Board may order any producer or supplier to schedule and deliver his production in such manner as will relieve the shortage; and in addition, may direct any producer or distributor to deliver or sell to any other person, at regularly established prices and terms, such quantities of replacement parts available for civilian distribution as the War Production Board may determine.

(d) Production restricted to enumerated replacement parts; use of critical materials. (1) No producer shall manufacture any parts for use in the repair, maintenance or improvement of passenger automobiles, light, medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles or motorized fire equipment except the items, and their components, enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above as items (1) to (53) inclusive.

(2) In the production of such parts no materials shall be used which are prohibited by any orders, regulations or other restrictions on the use of critical materials now or hereafter issued by the War Production Board.

Standardization and Simplification Provisions

(e) Pistons and bearings. On and after November 15, 1943, producers shall make replacement pistons, piston pins, piston rings and engine bearings as components of engines, only according to the following standards:

(1) Pistons as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060 and semi-finished.

(2) Piston pins as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .003, .005, .010.

(3) Piston rings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following oversizes: .005, .020, .030, .040, .060; and in addition, for medium and heavy trucks and busses, .080, .100.

(4) Engine bearings as components of engines only in standard sizes and the following undersizes: .002, .010, .020, .030, .040, .060, .090 and semi-finished. In addition, connecting rod bearings with oversize outside diameter, and the "special length Ford main bearings".

(f) Ignition contacts. On and after December 1, 1943, all discs cut from tungsten contact rod for ignition contacts for all vehicles shall be cut to a thickness not exceeding .030 inch, plus a tolerance of .002 inch.

Provisions Relating to Distributors' Inventories

(g) Restrictions on distributors' inventories. (1) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in the eastern or central war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a sixty-day (60) supply. Sixty-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding two months period.

(2) No distributor of replacement parts whose place of business is located in any other war time zone shall accept delivery of new replacement parts which, in combination with his existing inventory of new replacement parts, measured in total dollar cost value, will exceed a ninety-day (90) supply. Ninety-day supply means a supply in dollar cost value equal to the distributor's total sales, at his cost, of such new parts in the preceding three months period.

(3) Irrespective of the restrictions in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, a distributor may accept delivery of specific items of replacement parts even though his inventory then exceeds, or will by reason of such acceptance exceed, his maximum permissible inventory as specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above. The quantity of such specific items in dollar cost value shall not exceed the dollar cost value of his sales of such items during the preceding thirty days or the last thirty-day period in which a sale was made if the distributor is located in the eastern or central war time zones, and forty-five days in all other zones.

(h) Return of new replacement parts. New replacement parts, returned by a distributor to another distributor, if not included in the inventory of the person receiving the parts during the calendar quarter in which received shall be included in his inventory in the next succeeding calendar quarter.

(i) Disposition of traded-in used parts. No distributor may keep in his inventory, in his possession or under his control any used replacement parts which have been traded in and cannot be reconditioned for a period of more than thirty (30) days after they have been determined to be unserviceable, but he must dispose of them through customary disposal or scrap channels. Traded-in parts which can be reconditioned must be reconditioned, or returned to be reconditioned, as quickly as minimum quantities will permit.

(1) Traded-in ignition contact points to be reclaimed. As tungsten is a highly critical material, traded-in ignition contact points must be saved for possible reclamation. Therefore, they may not be scrapped. Where distributors can not reclaim the tungsten contacts for reuse, they must return them through normal trade channels to producers or suppliers for reclamation.

Provisions Relating to Distribution

(j) No preference ratings required for delivery of replacement parts for resale. No producer or distributor shall require any preference ratings for the purchase or the delivery of finished replacement parts for resale as such, except on Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and War Shipping Administration orders as provided in paragraph (L). All deliveries of such parts for resale or to consumers may be made as if the orders therefor bore the preference ratings assigned to their production in paragraph (b), and without regard to orders bearing a lower rating. In addition, the provisions of this paragraph are applicable to orders for finished parts required for rebuilding or reconditioning operations.

(k) Parts for emergency repairs—(1) How to order parts. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (g) above, a distributor may order and accept delivery of replacement parts which he does not have in stock when required by a consumer for the emergency repair of a particular vehicle which cannot be operated without such parts. In such emergency, a distributor must file with his order to the producer a certificate in the following form:

CERTIFICATE FOR EMERGENCY REPAIR ORDER

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that the replacement parts specified in the attached order are essential for the repair of the following vehicle, which cannot now be operated without such parts:

Make---------- Engine number----------

Signed----------
(Firm, partnership or corporation)

By----------
(Name and title of individual)

Dated: ---------- ----------
Address of firm, partnership or corporation.

A copy of the certificate must be retained by the distributor issuing it as a part of his records.

(2) Emergency repair orders take preference. A producer receiving an order accompanied by a Certificate for Emergency Repair must give such order precedence in shipment over other orders not of an emergency nature.

(3) Use of certificate restricted. The Certificate for Emergency Repair may be used only to secure essential replacement parts for emergency repairs as described in this paragraph (k). It must not under any circumstances be used by a distributor to replenish his stock.

(l) Preference ratings of AA-2X or higher required on sales by distributors to army, navy and maritime commission. Irrespective of the provisions of this order, no distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement parts, as enumerated in paragraph (a) (1) above, to the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration except upon receipt of an order bearing a preference rating of AA-2X or higher.

(1) Additional provisions for army orders. Purchase orders for replacement parts (except parts for "post exchange" vehicles) submitted to distributors by the Army must specify, in accordance with War Department instructions, the type, manufacturer, model and United States Army registration number of vehicles covered by the purchase order; and must carry a certification that such vehicles are "dead-lined" for emergency repair. Delivery by distributors of replacement parts against such orders for the Army must be limited to replacement parts in distributors' inventory available for immediate delivery.

(m) Restrictions on sales to consumers—(1) No sale of new parts where old part can be rebuilt or reconditioned. No new replacement part shall be sold or delivered to a consumer to replace a part which the producer or distributor can rebuild or recondition by use of available local reconditioning facilities.

(2) Used part to be turned in. No producer or distributor shall sell or deliver any replacement part either new, used or rebuilt, to a consumer unless the consumer turns in to the producer or distributor, concurrently with his purchase, a used replacement part of similar kind and size for each such replacement part delivered to the consumer. However, a used replacement part need not be turned in in the following cases:

(i) Where the used part has been consumed in use, lost or stolen;

(ii) Where the used part is a cab assembly;

(iii) Where the consumer is a Federal or Territorial Department, Bureau or Agency, or a State or political subdivision thereof, which is forbidden by law from making such disposal of replacement parts;

(iv) Where the new or rebuilt part is ordered by telephone, telegraph or mail, or is to be installed by the purchaser.

(v) Where the new part to be purchased by the consumer will improve the efficiency of the vehicle, its capacity or usefulness, such parts being as follows: for all vehicles—oil filters; for medium and heavy trucks, truck trailers, passenger carriers, off-the-highway motor vehicles and motorized fire and police equipment — auxiliary springs, trailer connections, brakes, fifth wheels, auxiliary fuel tanks, governors, landing gears, heavy duty generators, auxiliary transmissions, power take-offs, heavy duty trailer axles, wheels and rims which do not increase tire sizes, marker, clearance and identification lamps, spot lamps (internally controlled only), fog lamps and backup lamps, signaling devices, reflex reflectors, windshield defrosters, truck and bus traction sanders.

(3) Use of consumer's certificates. In any of the cases provided for in subparagraphs (2) (i), (ii), (iv), and (v) above, in which the consumer is not required to turn in a used part, he must sign and deliver to the producer or distributor concurrently with each purchase, or on the written confirmation thereof if the order is placed by telephone or telegraph, a Consumer's Certificate in the following form:

CONSUMER'S CERTIFICATE

AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that: (a) the replacement parts covered by this certificate are essential for the maintenance, repair or improvement of equipment he now owns or operates; (b) these parts will be used to replace parts which, to the best of his knowledge, cannot be rebuilt or reconditioned by use of available facilities; and (c) he will, within thirty days after receiving the parts, dispose of the old parts, if any through scrap channels.

(Signed)----------

Date: ---------- Address ----------

The foregoing Consumer's Certificate must be retained by the producer or distributor making the sale to the consumer as part of his records.

(4) Emergency stocks for truck and passenger carrier fleet operators. On and after December 31, 1943, any owner or operator of a fleet of twenty-five (25) or more medium or heavy trucks, passenger carriers or off-the-highway motor vehicles may, without turning in a similar used part or filing a Consumer's Certificate, purchase engines, less starting, ignition and fuel systems; transmission assemblies; and rear axle assemblies; in quantities not exceeding one each such part for every twenty-five (25) vehicles, or multiples of twenty-five (25) which he maintains in service currently licensed.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(n) Applicability of War Production Board regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time except where otherwise stated.

(o) Exceptions to applicability of this order. (1) The terms and restrictions of this order, except as provided for in paragraph (c) and (L) above, shall not apply to any replacement parts sold to or produced under contracts or orders for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Offices of Scientific Research and Development.

(2) The terms and restrictions of this order entitled Provisions Relating to Distributors' Inventories and Provisions Relating to Distribution shall not apply to any person located outside of the forty-eight (48) states and the District of Columbia.

(p) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, materials under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(q) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Field Office of the War Production Board nearest the appellant's place of business, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for appeal.

(r) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Automotive Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Order L-158.

Issued this 20th day of January 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

RESIZING OF ENGINE PISTONS AND BEARINGS BY PRODUCERS' BRANCHES

The question of resizing engine pistons and bearings in the field to sizes other than those specified in paragraphs (e) (1) and (e) (4), respectively, of § 3292.46, Limitation Order L-158, has been the subject of some uncertainty in the industry. In order to clarify the order, with respect to the intent of these paragraphs, the following interpretation is hereby issued:

Producers' direct factory branches of warehouses, wholly owned or controlled by them, may finish engine pistons and bearings to any intermediate sizes not specified in paragraphs (e) (1) and (e) (4), respectively, of Limitation Order L-158, when ordered from the factory branch by a customer for immediate use in a specific engine. None of these intermediate sizes may be ordered from a factory branch for stock or to be held in inventory. A certificate for emergency order, as provided for in Order L-158, paragraph (k), should accompany each order placed with the factory branch for the intermediate sizes other than those specified in the paragraphs mentioned above, as a means of identifying the need for the part in a specific vehicle. (Issued Oct. 1, 1943.)

PRODUCTION OF DECORATIVE HUB CAPS, WHEEL CAPS AND WHEEL TRIM RINGS NOT PERMITTED UNDER ORDER L-158

Hub caps, wheel caps and wheel trim rings which serve only as ornamental or decorative items are not considered components of wheels, Item (8), paragraph (a) (1) (i) of Limitation Order L-158, as amended November 13, 1943. Consequently, they may not be produced. However, hub caps which serve as grease retainers are considered components of wheels and may be produced. (Issued Dec. 29, 1943.)

Subchapter C—Office of Director of War Utilities

PART 4501—COMMUNICATIONS

GENERAL CONSERVATION ORDER FOR TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

§ 4501.1 Utilities Order U-2—(a) Definitions. (1) "Operator" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, receiver, or any form of enterprise whatsoever, whether incorporated or not, the United States, the District of Columbia, any state or territory of the United States, any political, corporate, administrative or other division or agency thereof, to the extent engaged in rendering telephone communication service within, to, or from the United States, its territories or possessions.

(2) "Exchange line plant" means all that portion of an operator's local wire or cable distribution system which extends from the central office main frame, exclusive of poles, crossarms, insulators, and non-metallic conduit, and associated hardware and guys, and exclusive of drop and block wires.

(3) Without regard to accounting practices:

(i) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition.

(ii) "Repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(iii) Neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable with material of a better kind, quality, or design.

(4) "'Drop and block wire" means the portion of a customer's circuit (whether aerial or underground) extending from the inside wire (usually at the station protector or connecting block), or from the station equipment when no inside wire is involved, to the point of connection with the general overhead or underground system. This includes such circuit, carried by means of wire or small cables, extending to the cable terminal in cases where connection is made with a general cable system, or to the point of connection with the aerial wire plant in cases where connection is made with a general wire system, and also includes brackets, bridle rings, insulators, knobs, span clamps, screws, sleeves, strand, tubes, and other material used in the installation of drop and block wires; and the pipes or other protective covering for underground service connections.

(5) "Station installations" means the wires (or small cables) from the station apparatus to the point near the entrance to the building where the drop or block wire or cable terminates, or to the junction boxes where the house cable or other cable terminates; the wires (or small cables) used to connect station apparatus in the same building, such as main stations with extension stations, and stations of intercommunicating systems; the wires (or small cables) used to connect private branch exchange switchboards or their distributing frames with terminal stations located in the same building; and the clamps, cleats, connecting blocks, ground wire, ground rods, nails, station protectors, screws, and other material used in the installation of station apparatus and inside wires. The cables referred to above are the small cables used in station installations instead of wires, such as those run from wall outlets or floor terminals to the station apparatus. Inside wires (or small cables) installed specifically to serve as trunk, battery, or generator circuits from a private branch exchange to the point of connection with the permanent house or outside cables or wires shall be considered as a part of the station installation. The term "station installations" does not include the telephone instrument or other "station apparatus."

(6) "Schedule A service" means service to the extent required for the proper discharge of duties in the direct defense, public health, welfare and security categories listed on Schedule A attached.

(7) "Interim service" includes all service installed or reconnected on and after April 15, 1943 which requires an allocation or assignment of exchange central office station terminal equipment or exchange line plant. It also includes any service installed prior to that date according to a contract specifying that the service was on an interim basis.

(b) Conservation. (1) Operators shall conserve scarce and critical materials by the employment of all practical methods.

(2) [Revoked Jan. 20, 1944]

(3) Operators shall discontinue the further installation of dial P. B. X. systems and dial private intercommunicating systems. This provision does not prevent the installation of systems of less than 100 lines where the equipment is already in the stock of the operator or can be obtained from the stock of another operator. Nor does it bar additions to dial systems. Nor does it bar moves for the same business service within the same exchange area, or to a contiguous exchange area of the same operator, so long as no addition to exchange central office equipment or exchange line plant is made except for Schedule A business service.

(c) Availability of facilities for essential uses. (1) Operators shall disconnect service when they learn that the present real user of service is not a user contemplated in the service agreement. Any such disconnections shall be considered "normal disconnections" within the meaning of paragraph (c) (2) below.

(2) Exchange line plant, exchange central office equipment, or telephone sets made available through normal disconnections shall be used to take care of current applications for Schedule A service, service authorized by the War Production Board because of unreasonable hardship and service essential to producers of substantial quantities of food, before other applications for service are cared for.

(3) Idle facilities may be reserved to the extent operators find necessary to meet promptly the known or fairly anticipated requirements for Schedule A service and to provide for essential public pay station service.

(4) To the extent necessary to meet minimum needs for Schedule A service and for essential public pay station service, operators shall make available additional exchange central office equipment or exchange line plant by regrading any service or disconnecting "interim service" under the following provisions:

(i) "Interim service" shall not be subject to disconnection so long as it continues to meet the requirements of Schedule A service, essential public pay station service, or service essential to the producers of substantial quantities of food.

(ii) Regrading is to be done only when current installations of central office equipment permit. Regrading of Schedule A service and of business service is to be done only if regraded service meets minimum service needs.

(iii) In so far as practical these steps shall be taken in the following order. Regrading shall precede disconnection. Residence service shall be regraded or disconnected before business service. Any regrading or disconnection shall be in the reverse order of the dates of connection at the existing locations, that is, the most recent shall be regraded or disconnected first.

(5) Subject to the provisions of (c) (4) (ii) and (c) (4) (iii) above, operators shall regrade existing service to the extent necessary to provide service authorized by the War Production Board because of unreasonable hardship.

(d) Limitations on additional telephones. (1) Main stations. Operators shall limit the number of main telephone stations, including P. B. X. trunks, connected to any central office to 105% of the number the central office was designed to serve under pre-war engineering and operating practices. This provision has the following exclusions and exceptions:

(i) Main stations do not include extensions or P. B. X. stations.

(ii) If the number of main stations connected to a central office on March 25, 1943 exceeded the 105% limit, the number need not be reduced so long as service is satisfactory.

(iii) The 105% limitation need not be applied to a single-office exchange which is designed to serve less than 1,000 main stations.

(iv) The War Production Board may approve a percentage other than 105% for any central office.

(2) Residence extension service. Operators shall not install or reconnect residence extension telephones, residence extension bells or residence P. B. X. telephones, nor as a substitute provide additional main lines or stations on party lines, nor install jacks and plugs for residence service. This provision has the following exclusions and exceptions.

(i) Jacks already in place may be reconnected provided that no more than one telephone and one bell shall be furnished with the telephone line with which the jacks are associated.

(ii) Temporary installations of one residence extension may be made when the operator finds it essential in cases of serious illness.

(iii) For practicing physicians and surgeons, the following services may be provided, but the operator shall supply the minimum which will meet professional requirements. The operator may install two jacks and make the main station telephone a portable telephone, or, as an alternative, install one extension telephone or, as an alternative, install two jacks for use with a single portable extension telephone. The operator may also provide a connection with an answering bureau.

(iv) The installation and reconnection in residence quarters of telephones connected to private branch exchanges serving hotels, apartment houses, etc., may be made to the extent that no more than one such telephone may be provided in any residence quarters.

(e) Limitation on drop and block wire. Except when necessary to meet the needs for Schedule A service or for essential public pay station service, operators shall limit the further installation of drop and block wire to the following lengths. In exchanges serving more than 1,000 main stations, aerial drop and block wire shall not exceed one pole-to-pole span along any pole line from the point of connection with existing plant. If this span is less than 75 feet, two pole-to-pole spans are permitted. In exchanges serving 1,000 main stations or less, drop and block wire shall not exceed two pole-to-pole spans. However, the drop wire may be extended beyond the limits specified to a messenger strand attachment in the next adjacent span and to a single pole outside the line, when this is necessary to provide clearance over a street or to clear a tree or other obstacle. An underground drop and block wire shall not exceed 500 feet.

(f) Limitation on replacements. Operators shall not make replacements of equipment and facilities (other than poles, crossarms, insulators and nonmetallic conduit, associated hardware and guys and station installations) except:

(1) To maintain or protect existing service.

(2) In making an addition, to the extent that the cost of material replaced or of the replacing material does not exceed 25 percent of the cost of the total material added.

Note: Paragraphs (f) (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7), formerly (f) (2), (3), (4), (5), and (6), redesignated Jan. 20, 1944.

(9) To install amplifying equipment for the hard-of-hearing.

(10) To recover insulated drop wire from existing plant to the extent required for current operations.

(g) Limitation on additions. Operators shall not add exchange central office equipment or exchange line plant unless essential for one of the following reasons:

(3) To provide cable terminals warranted by sound engineering practices.

(4) To install exchange central office equipment, Provided, That 75 percent or more in cost of material required for the addition is recovered from the operator's plant or is obtained from any operator's stocks. The material taken from stocks or plant pursuant to this subparagraph shall not be replaced.

(5) To provide exchange cable or exchange line rearrangements or extensions warranted by sound engineering practices, Provided, That in no single instance shall more than 200 pounds of copper (copper content of cable) or 50 pounds of steel wire be used. The addition must be limited to two spans of insulated paired wire, including the pole-to-house span, and 100 pounds of steel or iron wire in the case of a grounded circuit or 200 pounds in the case of a metallic circuit for each qualified subscriber connected. The portions of the steel or iron wire classed as "exchange line plant" and "drop and block wire" shall not affect these limits. The addition may include poles, crossarms, hardware and other material used in the installation of open line wire and drop wire. An addition for a group of subscribers as a single project may be made under the terms of this paragraph if the aggregate amount of steel or iron wire required for the entire project divided by the number of qualified subscribers does not exceed the limit specified.

(j) Exemption of armed forces. The restrictions of paragraphs (b) (2), (b) (3) and (f) shall not apply to facilities for the official use of the armed forces.

[Utilities Order U-3 as Amended Jan. 20, 1944]

PREFERENCE RATING ORDER (MRO) FOR TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

§ 4501.6 Utilities Order U-3—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Operator" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, receiver, or any form of enterprise whatsoever, whether incorporated or not, the United States, the District of Columbia, any state or territory of the United States, any political, corporate, administrative, or other division or agency thereof, to the extent engaged in rendering telephone communication service to the public (and such telegraph and teletypewriter service as may also be conducted by him) within, to, or from the United States, its territories, or possessions: Public law enforcement agencies and public fire protection agencies are excluded from this definition for the purposes of this order.

"Operator" also includes any persons operating a rural cooperative or mutually-owned telephone system. It further includes persons owning either a telephone or a telephone system which is connected to a telephone system rendering service to the public, so long as they do not generally use an MRO order other than Order U-3. Those who generally use another MRO order for their business operations, as for example railroads using Order P-142 or a manufacturer using CMP Reg. 5 are excluded from this definition.

"Operator" also includes any persons to the extent engaged in the operation of a private telephone communications system, provided that a specific direction from the War Production Board entitles such persons to use the preference rating and allotment number authorized by this order. Application for such a specific direction should be made by letter to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: U-3.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly or product of any kind.

(3) Without regard to accounting practices:

(i) "Maintenance" means the minimum upkeep necessary to continue a facility in sound working condition.

(ii) "Repair" means the restoration of a facility to sound working condition when the same has been rendered unsafe or unfit for service by wear and tear, damage, failure of parts or the like.

(iii) Neither maintenance nor repair shall include the improvement of any plant, facility or equipment, by replacing material which is still usable, with material of a better kind, quality or design.

(4) "Operating supplies" means any material essential to the operator's business and used for purposes other than maintenance and repair. "Operating supplies" purchased with the rating or allotment number authorized by this order can not be used in any single case in an amount exceeding the dollar limits of paragraph (c).

(5) Without regard to accounting practices, "operator's inventory" means the aggregate of material currently owned by an operator and not incorporated into plant or in the process of being consumed, exclusive of:

(i) Material listed for sale on Form WPB-2567 (UF-6), and filed with the Communications Division, Office of War Utilities. Records of withdrawals from and additions to material listed for sale shall be maintained and preserved for a period of not less than two years under the authority of paragraph (i) and shall be reported to the Communications Division upon the request of the War Production Board.

(ii) Material for use on a project approved by the War Production Board.

(iii) [Revoked Oct. 30, 1943]

(iv) Material set aside to restore plant damaged by enemy action or sabotage provided the operator has received War Production Board approval on Form WPB-2774 or other appropriate form. Withdrawals must be reported to the War Production Board.

(v) Lead covered cable or bare line wire maintained by an operator for the repair of major breakdowns due to storms, floods, etc., reported as prescribed on Form WPB-1127 (UF-5), unless disapproved by the War Production Board.

(vi) Poles, crossarms, insulators and non-metallic conduit, furniture and fixtures; office machinery; printing, stationery and office supplies; house service supplies; and coal and petroleum products.

(b) Rating and CMP allotment number. (1) An operator is authorized to use the allotment number U-9 and preference rating of AA-1 for deliveries of material for maintenance, repair and operating supplies.

(2) An operator may apply and a supplier may extend the rating or allotment number in the manner provided in Priorities Regulation 3 and CMP Regulation 3, by placing on his delivery order substantially the certification set forth below in paragraph (b) (3).

(3) Utilities maintenance, repair and operating supplies certification.

Allotment number U-9, preference rating AA-1. The undersigned operator certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders, and under all provisions of Utilities Orders U-2, U-3, and U-6, to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered and to use any preference rating or allotment number which the undersigned has placed on this order.

(c) Restrictions on use of material. (1) Material obtained under this order may be used by an operator only within the limitations of Orders U-2 and U-6.

(2) Material obtained under this order may be used for operating supplies only in the following cases:

(i) An amount costing not more than fifty dollars may be used on any project specifically approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2774 or any alternative form.

(ii) [Revoked Jan. 20, 1944]

(iii) It may be used for telegraph and teletypewriter facilities in any single case in which the total material cost does not exceed $2,500.

(iv) An amount costing not more than $2,500 may be used for other purposes in any single case in which the total cost of all material used does not exceed $5,000.

(v) It may be used on any construction project approved by the War Production Board on Form WPB-2774 or any alternative form. However, material so used may only be replaced in inventory by use of the preference rating or allotment number authorized on the WPB-2774 or alternative form.

(3) An operator, who does not furnish telephone service to the public, whose "operator's inventory" at the end of 1942 or whose use of material during 1942 did not exceed $10,000 may not, in any single case, use material obtained under this order costing more than $500 for operating supplies.

(4) No operator shall subdivide a single order job, or project to qualify it under the dollar limitations of this paragraph.

(5) Material obtained under this order may be used for maintenance and repair without regard to dollar limitations on the use of material for operating supplies.

(6) The dollar limits of this paragraph (c) shall not prevent the use of material on hand to meet temporary traffic or emergency requirements, but where the dollar limits are exceeded the material must be returned to inventory or to its original location in plant within thirty days, unless application has been made to the War Production Board for authority to continue the use of material.

(7) No material may be used for building construction except as permitted by Order L-41. However, an operator may effect maintenance and repair of buildings which are essential to the conduct of the operator's business.

(8) A P. B. X. switchboard obtained under this order may be installed initially only for Schedule A service as set forth in Order U-2, or for essential public pay station service.

(d) Authority to begin construction. For any addition or expansion of telephone, telegraph or teletypewriter facilities involving a total material cost which exceeds the dollar limitations of paragraph (c) (2) or (c) (3) above, or which involves a total cost in material in excess of $5,000, an operator must obtain authority to begin construction and necessary priority assistance on Form WPB-2774.

(e) Restrictions on inventory. (1) No operator shall accept deliveries of material unless after the delivery his operator's inventory will not exceed a practical working minimum. A practical working minimum shall in no case be greater than 27½% of the dollar value of material used during the calendar year 1940 for all purposes exclusive of the items in paragraph (a) (5) (vi) and materials which were used for building construction. The items in (a) (5) (vi) may be accepted by an operator even if his operator's inventory exceeds 27½% of his 1940 usage of material.

(2) No operator shall accept delivery of a size, type, gauge and length of cable, wire or strand, if the operator's inventory of that size, type, gauge and length is in excess of requirements for the next sixty days. However, if an operator needs some wire, cable or strand, this provision does not forbid purchase of the minimum standard reel-length, even though the operator does not expect to use the whole reel in the next sixty days.

(3) No operator shall replace in inventory by use of the preference rating or allotment number of Order U-3 any material withdrawn pursuant to paragraph (g) (4) of Order U-2.

(f) Restrictions on purchases. (1) No operator shall use the allotment number or preference rating assigned by this order to obtain material during any calendar quarter in an aggregate dollar amount exceeding one-fourth of his aggregate dollar usage in 1942 for maintenance, repair and operating supplies.

(2) But, so long as the 1942 base as set forth in paragraph (f) (1) is not exceeded during a calendar year, an operator may in any quarter obtain the dollar quantity used in the corresponding quarter of 1942.

(g) Exemptions. (1) Any operator whose operator's inventory did not exceed $10,000 at the end of 1942 is exempt from the inventory restriction of paragraph (e) (1).

(2) Any operator whose use of material during the year 1942 did not exceed $10,000 shall be exempt from the provisions of paragraph (f) (1) above.

(h) Sales of material. Material which is "industrial material" as defined in Priorities Regulation 13 and is listed for sale under (a) (5) (i) or is reserved for emergencies under (a) (5) (iv) and (a) (5) (v), must when sold between operators be sold without a preference rating or allotment number. However, the material in (a) (5) (iv) and (a) (5) (v) so sold must be used for the purposes for which it was originally reserved.

(i) Records and reports. Each operator acquiring maintenance, repair or operating supplies pursuant to this regulation shall keep and preserve, for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records of all such supplies so acquired which shall, upon request be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. In addition, each operator affected by this order shall file such reports with the Communications Division, Office of War Utilities, as may from time to time be required by the War Production Board.

(j) Applicability of regulations. (1) This order and all transactions affected by it, except as expressly provided, are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) None of the provisions of CMP Regulations No. 5 or 5A shall apply to operators as defined in paragraph (a) (1) of this order, and no such operator shall obtain any material under the provisions of these regulations.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(l) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: Communications Division, Office of War Utilities, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: U-3.

[MPR 350, Amdt. 1]

PACKERS' TIN CANS

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation 350 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1306.503 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1306.503 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price or a request for the establishment of a charge under paragraph (f) 3 of Appendix A is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual request.

2. Paragraph (f) 3 of Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

3. For enamels other than sanitary or "C" enamels: The charge, if any, which the selling producer charged or had in effect for the same enamel between October 1 and 15, 1941. Where the selling producer furnishes an enamel other than one customarily furnished by him between October 1 and 15, 1941, no charge may be added except where established in the following manner. The producer shall request the Iron and Steel Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in writing to establish a specified extra charge for the enamel. Such request must include a description of the enamel, its special nature, the cost of furnishing it, the circumstances under which it will be sold, and whatever other information the producer wishes to submit in support of his request. Within ten days after receipt of the request the Iron and Steel Branch may request such additional information as it may require. The Iron and Steel Branch shall deny the request or establish such extra charge as may seem to it just and proper. This must be done in writing within twenty days after receipt of the request or if additional information is duly required by the Iron and Steel Branch, twenty days from the receipt of such information. Otherwise, the charge requested shall be deemed automatically approved for a period of three months or until such time as the Iron and Steel Branch acts, whichever period is longer. Action by the Iron and Steel Branch shall be in writing and any charge approved may be subject to such conditions (including requests for information) and limitations as may seem to the Iron and Steel Branch just and proper.

This amendment shall become effective January 26, 1944.

ORDER DISMISSING PROCEEDINGS

In the matter of licensee, Suckow Borax Mines Consolidated, Inc. Proceedings for revocation of license.

To: Suckow Borax Mines Consolidated, Inc., Ruth Suckow, President, and Paul O. Tobeler, Secretary-Treasurer, 2466 East 56th Street, Los Angeles 11, California.

Information now available to me, including the transcript of the hearing on September 29 and 30 at which you were given an opportunity to show cause why licenses issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act should not be permanently revoked, does not, in my opinion, definitely indicate affirmatively whether you are loyal and friendly or are disloyal and hostile to the United States. The license heretofore issued to you has expired. In the circumstances I am of the opinion (1) that these proceedings should be dismissed; (2) that if you submit to me a properly completed application a license should be issued to you; and (3) that if a license is issued to you, your transactions in and operations involving explosives should be under special surveillance.

It is so ordered.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 12th day of January 1944.

In the matter of licensee, Consolidated Wagon and Machine Company. Proceedings for revocation of license.

To: Consolidated Wagon and Machine Company, 144 South State Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Based upon the records in this matter, I make the following findings of fact.

1. On December 18, 1943, a specification of charges against you, setting forth violations of the Federal Explosives Act (55 Stat. 863), as amended, and the regulations pursuant thereto of which you were accused, was mailed to you, and on December 24, 1943, was delivered to you, giving you notice to mail an answer within 15 days from December 18, 1943, answering the charges against you and requesting an oral hearing if you wished.

2. More than 25 days have elapsed since December 18, 1943. The length of time required for mail to be delivered to the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C., from Salt Lake City, Utah, does not exceed 6 days. You have not answered the charges against you or requested an oral hearing.

3. The charges against you are true.

Now, therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in me by the Federal Explosives Act and the regulations pursuant thereto, I hereby order:

1. That all licenses issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act be and they are hereby revoked at the expiration of three weeks from the date of this order;

2. That within three weeks from the date of this order, you shall use, or sell or otherwise dispose of, to properly licensed persons, or destroy, all explosives and ingredients of explosives owned or possessed by you or consigned to you, or which are in your custody;

3. That after having used, disposed of or destroyed all of the explosives and ingredients as required by paragraph 2 of this order, you shall, within three weeks from the date of this order, deliver or mail to R. D. Reeder, Supervising Engineer, United States Bureau of Mines, 1600 East First South, Salt Lake City 1, Utah, a sworn statement of your uses of and transactions in explosives and ingredients of explosives beginning with the date of this order and ending with the final use, sale or other disposition or destruction of the explosives and ingredients as required above. The statement shall set forth the amount of each kind of explosives and ingredients of explosives which you had on hand at each location at the opening of business on the date of this order, the amount of each kind acquired by you that day and each day thereafter, the dates on which acquired, and the names and addresses of the persons from whom acquired, the amount of each kind used, sold or otherwise disposed of or destroyed by you, the dates on which used, sold or otherwise disposed of or destroyed by you, and the names and addresses and numbers and dates of Federal explosive licenses of the persons to whom sold or otherwise disposed of;

4. That within three weeks from the date of this order, you shall surrender all licenses issued to you under the Federal Explosives Act and all certified or photographic copies thereof by mailing or delivering them to R. D. Reeder, Supervising Engineer, 1600 East First South, Salt Lake City 1, Utah.

Failure to comply with any of the provisions of this order will constitute a violation of the Federal Explosives Act punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated at Washington, D. C., this 14th day of January 1944.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter II—War Food Administration (Commodity Credit)

[Apple Program, Form 1, Int. 2]

PART 242—APPLE FREIGHT EQUALIZATION PAYMENT PROGRAM

SHIPMENTS OF APPLES

In response to inquiries received by Commodity Credit Corporation (herein called "Commodity"), and to render explicit that which was implicit in the Offer of Commodity Credit Corporation to Make Freight Equalization Payments in Respect of Certain Shipments of Apples from Washington, Oregon, and Western Idaho, as issued October 22, 1943, 8 F.R. 14876, and amended December 13, 1943, 8 F.R. 16774, (said original offer and said offer amended as aforesaid being herein called the "offer"), Commodity hereby issues the following interpretation with respect to such offer:

1. All weights referred to in the offer as determinative of amounts of payment thereunder shall be determined in accordance with the ordinary practice of common carriers in the application of their established tariffs, and may include the weight of the container and wrapping if such weight is not excessive, having due regard to the usual custom of shippers with respect to shipments of apples. In the case of shipments in boxes or other containers (whether the apples are wrapped or not) where the common carrier, properly under its established tariffs, applies a rate based upon a fixed weight determined by the size of the box or other container, the weight thus charged for by such common carrier shall be the weight used in determining the amount of payment under the offer.

2. The term "lowest applicable freight rate", as used in the offer in respect of eligible shipments of apples, means the rate applicable to that size of shipment of apples which bears the lowest freight rate from the applicable point of shipment in Zone VI to the applicable point of destination in Zones I, II, III, or IV, as determined from the established tariffs of the carrier.

3. Where the lowest applicable freight rate on an eligible shipment is other than one of the rates specified in § 242.3 as being applicable to eligible shipments made from Zone VI to the applicable zone of destination, the rate of payment on such eligible shipment shall be that applicable to the next lower freight rate so specified. For example, if the lowest applicable freight rate per hundredweight on a particular eligible shipment arriving subsequent to December 13, 1943, at a point of destination in Zone I is $1.18, the equalization payment thereon will be that applicable to a shipment on which the freight rate is $1.15, i. e., the equalization payment will be $.92 per hundredweight. If, however, the lowest applicable freight rate on such eligible shipment is less than any freight rate so specified in § 242.3, no payment shall be made on such eligible shipment under the offer. For example, if under the previous illustration, the lowest applicable freight rate per hundredweight on the eligible shipment were $1.01, no equalization payment would be made inasmuch as the lowest freight rate specified in the offer with respect to Zone I is $1.05.

4. Consistent with the purposes of the Apple Freight Equalization Payment Program as stated in the offer, the term "utilized for domestic civilian non-governmental consumption", as used in the offer, means the lawful utilization of the apples included in such shipment, i. e., that such utilization (including all sales and deliveries involved) was (or will be, as the case may be) in conformity with all applicable orders and regulations of War Food Administration and of Office of Price Administration. Each eligible shipper shall be required to certify accordingly with respect to each shipment for which equalization payment is sought pursuant to the offer.

Chapter III—War Food Administration (Farm Security)

PART 361—DELEGATIONS

FINAL PAYMENT OF FO LOANS

Part 361 is amended by the addition of paragraph (b) (10) to § 361.11, Delegations of authority, to read as follows:

(10) Final payment of FO loans—(i) Authorization. Regional directors are authorized to accept final payment of FO loans and to execute necessary releases. This authority may be redelegated to Assistant Regional Directors, FO, or Chiefs of FO Loan Making and Servicing Sections.

(ii) Submitting application to regional director. (a) When an FO borrower has indicated his intention to pay his loan in full, the FSA Supervisor will advise the Regional Director, by letter, of the borrower's intention. (This will not be necessary if payment is to be made from the proceeds of a sale which has been approved previously by the Administrator or the Regional Director.) The source of funds from which the payment is to be made will be indicated; it will also be indicated whether the borrower is to remain on the farm and continue farming operations, or, if not, whether the property will continue to be operated as a family-type farm. If the Regional Director approves the acceptance of final payment he will so advise the FSA Supervisor.

(b) At the time that the FSA Supervisor requests the Regional Director's approval for the acceptance of final payment, he will request the Finance Area Office, by letter, to inform him of the unpaid balance of principal and interest of the borrower's account as of the approximate date the borrower expects to make payment, and the daily accrual of interest thereafter. In this letter he will state the date and amount of the last collection received from the borrower, also the schedule number of Standard Form No. 1044, "Schedule of Collections", on which the remittance was scheduled.

(iii) Preparation of receipt. Final payment of the account will be indicated on Form FSA–FI 37, "Receipt for Payment", by inserting immediately above the collector's signature on the yellow, salmon, pink and blue copies the following: "Loan Type ——— Fully Paid".

(iv) Surrender of notes. Upon receipt, from the U. S. Treasury Regional Disbursing Office, of the accomplished copy of Standard Form No. 1044 covering the remittance which paid the account in full, the Finance Area Office will immediately prepare Form FSA–597, "Statement of Fully Paid Notes", in triplicate. The original and first copy will be forwarded to the Communications and Records Section in the Finance Area Office city and the second copy will be filed in the Loan Accounting Section. The receipt of Form FSA–597 in the Regional Communications and Records Section will be recognized as authority to surrender the note. The Regional Communications and Records Section will stamp the note with a paid-in-full legend, attach it to the original of Form FSA–597 and forward it to the regional office, attention FO Division (or, in regions with small case loads, the FO Loan Making and Servicing Section). The copy will be filed in the borrower's case folder.

(v) Satisfactions. Upon receipt of Form FSA–597 and the stamped note in the regional office, appropriate entries will be made on the Kardex records and the Regional Attorney will be requested to prepare the satisfaction. The stamped note, the original of Form FSA–597 and the original and one copy of the executed satisfaction (or two copies if state laws require recording or filing by the mortgagee) will be forwarded to the FSA Supervisor. The original of Form FSA–597 will be filed in the borrower's case folder in the collecting office and the stamped note delivered promptly to the borrower. (The regional office will issue instructions to collecting officials as to the length of time paid notes and satisfactions should be held for actual delivery to the borrower pending final clearance of the collection item, when the final payment is in a form other than a Treasury check, cashier's check or money order.) The original satisfaction will be delivered to the borrower for recording or filing if desired, and the copy will be retained in the collecting office. However, if state laws require recording or filing by the mortgagee and two copies have been supplied by the regional office, the original will be recorded or filed by the collecting official and a copy delivered to the borrower. (For instructions with respect to payment of fees, see paragraph VIII D of FSA Instruction 462.2.)

(vi) Prior releases confirmed. All releases heretofore executed by Regional Directors or their delegatees upon final payment of FO loans are hereby confirmed.

Issued this 20th day of January 1944.

§ 965.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of hearing record. Pursuant to the act and the rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, 1941 Supp., 900.1–900.17; 7 F.R. 3350; 8 F.R. 2815), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. It is hereby found upon the evidence introduced at such hearing, said findings being in addition to the findings made upon the evidence introduced at the original hearing on said order and in addition to the other findings made prior to or at the time of the original issuance of said order (which are hereby ratified and affirmed, save only as such findings are in conflict with the findings hereinafter set forth), that:

(1) The issuance of this order, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk, as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices set forth in this order, as amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) This order, as amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order, as amended) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by this order, as amended, which is marketed within the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area; and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and who, during the determined representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

§ 965.3 Market administrator—(a) Designation. The agency for the administration hereof shall be a market administrator, who shall be a person selected by the War Food Administrator. (4) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for herein, and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate;

(5) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the War Food Administrator, the name of any person who, within 2 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made reports pursuant to § 965.4 or has not made payments pursuant to §§ 965.8 and 965.10;

(6) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers; and

(7) Furnish such information and verified reports as the War Food Administrator may request, and submit his books and records to examination by the War Food Administrator at any and all times.

§ 965.4 Reports—(a) Reports of handlers to market administrator. Each handler, under his own signature or under that of a person certified by such handler to the market administrator as being authorized to sign the reports required by this section, shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by him, as follows:

(1) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler who receives milk from producers shall report with respect to all milk, skim milk, and cream received by him during the delivery period:

(i) The receipts of milk at each plant from producers, from his own production, and from other handlers;

(ii) The receipts of emergency milk, the date or dates upon which such milk was received during the delivery period, the plant from which such milk was shipped; the price per hundredweight paid or to be paid for such milk, and the utilization of such milk;

(iii) The milk, skim milk, and cream, with the butterfat content, received from any other source;

(iv) The utilization of all receipts of milk, skim milk, and cream during the delivery period;

(v) The name and address of each new producer; and

(vi) His producer pay roll, which shall show for each producer the total receipts of milk with the average butterfat test thereof, the amount of the advance payment to such producer made pursuant to § 965.8 (a); and the deductions and charges made by the handler;

(2) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler who receives milk from producers shall report, with respect to Class I milk disposed of outside the marketing area during the delivery period, the amount and the utilization of such milk, the butterfat test thereof, the date and place of such sale or disposition, and the plant from which such milk was shipped;

(3) On or before the day each handler who receives milk from producers receives emergency milk, he shall report his intention to receive such emergency milk;

(4) On or before the 10th day after the end of each delivery period, a cooperative association causing delivery of milk under the conditions set forth in § 965.2 (f) shall report the amount of such milk, the date or dates of such delivery during the delivery period, the plant to which such milk was delivered, and the utilization of such milk;

(5) Within 10 days after the market administrator's request each handler who receives milk from producers shall report, with respect to each of his producers for whom such information is not in the files of the market administrator and with respect to a period or periods of time designated by the market administrator, the name and address, the total pounds of milk received, the average butterfat test of milk received, and the number of days upon which milk was received; and

(6) Each handler who receives no milk from producers shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(b) Verification of handler reports. Each handler shall make available to the market administrator or to his agent, or to such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, those records which are necessary for the verification of the information contained in the reports submitted pursuant to this section, and those facilities which are necessary for the sampling, weighing, and testing of the milk of each producer.

(c) Reports of market administrator to cooperative associations. On or before the 13th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall report to each cooperative association the amount and class utilization of milk caused to be delivered by such association, either directly or from producers who have authorized such association to receive payments from them under § 965.9 (b), to each handler to whom the cooperative sells milk. For the purpose of this report the milk so received shall be prorated to each class in the proportions that the total receipts of milk from producers by such handler were used in each class.

§ 965.5 Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. Milk received by each handler, including milk produced by him, shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section, subject to the provisions of (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. The classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk disposed of in the form of milk and milk drinks, whether plain or flavored, and all milk not accounted for as Class II milk or Class III milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk used to produce cream (for consumption as cream), creamed buttermilk, and creamed cottage cheese.

(3) Class III milk shall be all milk accounted for (i) as actual plant shrinkage but not to exceed 2½ percent of total receipts of milk from producers (including the handler's own production) and (ii) as used to produce a milk product other than those specified in Class II milk.

(c) Interhandler and nonhandler sales. Milk or skim milk disposed of by a handler to another handler or to a person who is not a handler but who distributes milk or manufactures milk products, shall be Class I milk; and cream so disposed of shall be Class II milk: Provided, That if the selling handler on or before the 10th day after the end of the delivery period furnishes to the market administrator a statement, which is signed by the buyer and the seller, that such milk, skim milk, or cream was used as Class III milk, such milk, skim milk, or cream shall be classified accordingly, subject to verification by the market administrator.

(d) Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute for each handler the amount of his milk in each class, as defined in (b) of this section, as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received (i) from producers, including milk of the handler's own production, (ii) from other handlers, (iii) as emergency milk, (iv) from any other source (including cream converted to 4.0 percent milk equivalent), and (v) add together the resulting amounts.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received, as follows: (i) Multiply the weight of milk received from producers, including the handler's own production, by its average butterfat test; (ii) multiply the weight of milk received from other handlers by its average butterfat test; (iii) multiply the weight of emergency milk by its average butterfat test; (iv) multiply the weight of milk and cream received from any other source by its average butterfat test; and (v) add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I, as follows: (i) Convert to half pints the quantity of milk disposed of in the form of milk and milk drinks, whether plain or flavored, and multiply by 0.5375; (ii) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk; and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed, when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk and Class III milk computed pursuant to (4) (ii) and (5) (iv) of this paragraph, is less than the total pounds of butterfat computed in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 4.0 percent and the resulting amount shall be added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to (i) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II, as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II milk by its respective average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) divide such sum by 4.0 percent.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III, as follows: (i) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class III milk by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk, computed pursuant to (3) (ii) and (4) (ii) of this paragraph, and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 2½ percent of the total receipts of butterfat by the handler from producers, including that of the handler's own production); (iv) add together the results obtained in (ii) and (iii) of this subparagraph; and (v) divide the sum obtained in (iv) of this subparagraph by 4.0 percent.

(6) Determine the classification of milk of producers as follows: (i) Subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the total pounds of milk received from other handlers and used in such class; (ii) subtract pro rata out of the remaining milk in each class the total pounds of emergency milk; and (iii) subtract from the remaining milk in each class the total pounds of milk (and milk equivalent of cream converted to 4.0 percent milk), except emergency milk, received from sources other than producers or handlers and used in such class.

(e) Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. (1) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) of this section, is less than the quantity of milk received from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the quantity of milk received from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

(2) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to (d) of this section, is greater than the quantity of milk received from producers, the market administrator shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the quantity of milk received from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

§ 965.6 Prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall pay, at the time and in the manner set forth in § 965.8, not less than the following prices per hundredweight, on the basis of milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, for the respective quantities of milk in each class computed pursuant to § 965.5 (d) and (e),

(1) Class I milk—$3.55;

(2) Class II milk—$3.10: Provided, That the Class II price shall not be less than the Class III price plus 15 cents;

(3) Class III milk—The price resulting from the following computation by the market administrator: Determine the arithmetical average of the basic, or field, prices per hundredweight ascertained to have been paid, without deductions for hauling or other charges to be paid by the farm shipper, for milk of 4.0

percent butterfat content received during the delivery period at the following plants:

Concern and Location of Plant

M. & R. Dietetic Laboratories, Inc., Chillicothe, Ohio.
Carnation Milk Company, Hillsboro, Ohio.
Nestle's Milk Products, Inc., Greenville, Ohio.
Osgood Milk Company, Osgood, Indiana.
Carnation Milk Company, Maysville, Kentucky.

Provided: That if the price so determined is less than the price computed by the market administrator in accordance with the following formula, such formula price shall be the price for Class III milk for the delivery period: Multiply by 4 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other agency as may hereafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent thereof, and add or subtract 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of dry skim milk for human consumption is above or below, respectively, 5½ cents per pound. The price per pound of dry skim milk to be used in this subparagraph shall be the arithmetical average of the carlot prices for both spray and roller process dry skim milk for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plant, as published by such agency for the Chicago area during the delivery period, including in such average the quotations published for any fractional part of the previous delivery period. In the event such agency does not publish carlot prices for dry skim milk for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plant, the arithmetical average of the carlot prices for both spray and roller process dry skim milk for human consumption, delivered at Chicago, shall be used, and the figure "7½" shall be substituted for "5½" in the formula set forth above in this proviso.

(b) Butterfat differential to handlers. If the weighted average butterfat content of milk received by a handler from producers is other than 4 percent, there shall be added to or subtracted from, as the case may be, the class prices set forth in this section, for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content above or below 4 percent, an amount computed as follows: To the average price per pound of 92-score butter in the Chicago wholesale market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other agency as hereafter may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent thereof; and divide the result by 10.

(c) Computation of the value of milk for each handler. (1) For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the value of milk for each handler, as follows:

(i) For each handler who receives milk from producers, multiply the hundredweight of milk in each class, computed in accordance with §§ 965.5 (d) and 965.5 (e), by the respective class prices for 4 percent milk, subject to the butterfat differential provided by (b) of this section: Provided, That if any such handler has received milk or cream, except emergency milk, from sources other than producers or handlers, as referred to in § 965.5 (d) (6) (iii), and has disposed of such milk or cream other than as Class III milk, there shall be added to the value of milk thus far determined an additional amount computed as follows: Multiply the hundredweight of such milk, or milk equivalent of cream, by the difference between the Class III price and the price applicable to the class in which it was disposed.

(ii) For the hundredweight of milk involved in any adjustment made pursuant to § 965.5 (e) the handler shall be debited or credited, as the case may be, at the Class III price.

(iii) For each handler who receives no milk from producers but who individually disposes of milk or cream, except emergency milk, in the marketing area other than as Class III milk, multiply the hundredweight of such milk, or milk equivalent of cream, by the difference between the Class III price and the price applicable to the class in which it was disposed.

(iv) Add together the resulting amounts.

(v) If, in the verification of reports submitted by a handler, the market administrator discovers errors in such reports which result in payments due the producer-settlement fund or the handler for any previous delivery period, there shall be added or subtracted, as the case may be, the amount necessary to correct such errors.

(d) Notification to handler of the value of his milk. On or before the 13th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall bill each handler for the value of milk computed for him in accordance with (c) of this section.

§ 965.7 Computation and announcement of uniform price—(a) Computation of uniform price. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of milk received by handlers from producers, as follows:

(1) Add together the values of milk as computed in § 965.6 (c) for handlers who made the payments to the producer-settlement fund as required by § 965.8 (b);

(2) Subtract, if the weighted average butterfat test of all milk received from producers by handlers whose milk is represented in the sum computed under (1) of this paragraph, is greater than 3.5 percent, or add, if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed as follows: Multiply the hundredweight of such milk by the variance of its weighted average butterfat test from 3.5 percent, and multiply the resulting amount by 50 cents if the average price of butter, described under § 965.6 (a) (3), was more than 40 cents; or by 40 cents if such average price of butter was more than 30 cents but not more than 40 cents; or by 30 cents if such average price of butter was 30 cents or less;

(3) Subtract an amount equivalent to the monies retained pursuant to § 965.12 (b);

(4) Add the balance in the producer-settlement fund not reserved for payment under § 965.12 (b);

(5) Divide by the total hundredweight of milk of producers represented in the sum computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph; and

(6) Subtract from the figure obtained in (5) of this paragraph not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight for the purpose of retaining a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and in payments by handlers. The result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for such delivery period for milk of producers which contains 3.5 percent of butterfat.

(b) Announcement of prices and transportation rates. On or before the first day of the following delivery period, the market administrator shall notify each handler of the uniform price for milk and of the price for Class III milk, and shall make public announcement of the uniform price computation. From time to time, the market administrator shall also publicly announce the amounts per hundredweight deducted by each handler from the payments made to producers pursuant to § 965.9, and the amounts actually paid to haulers for the transportation of milk from the farms of producers to such handler's plant or plants, as ascertained from reports submitted pursuant to § 965.4 (a).

§ 965.8 Payment for milk—(a) Payments to producers. On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay, with respect to all milk received during the delivery period, $1.00 per hundredweight of milk to each producer: Provided, That in the event the total amount of the deductions and charges authorized by any producer against payments due such producer for the delivery period next preceding is greater than the payment computed for such producer pursuant to § 965.9 (a) with respect to the milk received from such producer during such preceding delivery period, the handler may deduct from the payment required by this paragraph a sum equal to the difference between such amounts.

(b) Payment to producer-settlement fund. On or before the 17th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator the amount of money which represents the value of milk billed to him for such delivery period, pursuant to § 965.6 (d), less the amount paid out to each producer in accordance with (a) of this section, and less the amount of the deductions and charges authorized by such producer which are itemized on the handler's producer pay roll: Provided, That in the calculation of the total amount of such deductions and charges to be subtracted, the deductions and charges to be considered with respect to each individual producer shall not be greater than an amount which, when added to the payment made to such producer in accordance with (a) of this section (inclusive of the deductions and charges authorized by (a) of this section), will not exceed the total value of the milk received from such producer. The market administrator shall maintain a separate fund, known as the producer-settlement fund, in which he shall deposit all payments of handlers received pursuant to this paragraph.

§ 965.9 Payments from producer-settlement fund—(a) Calculation of payments for each producer. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall calculate the payment due each producer from whom milk was received during such delivery period by a handler who paid into the producer-settlement fund in accordance with § 965.8, as follows:

(1) Multiply the hundredweight of milk received from each producer by the uniform price computed in accordance with § 965.7 (a): Provided, That if the milk of each producer was of a weighted average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, there shall be added or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent variance above or below 3.5 percent, 5 cents if the average price of butter described in § 965.6 (a) (3) was more than 40 cents; 4 cents if such average price of butter was more than 30 cents but not more than 40 cents; or 3 cents if such average price of butter was 30 cents or less.

(2) Subtract in each case, the amount of the payment made pursuant to § 965.8 (a), and the charges and the deductions, if any, which are made pursuant to § 965.8 (b).

(b) Payments. (1) On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay, subject to the provisions of § 965.11, to each cooperative association authorized to receive payments due producers who market their milk through such cooperative association, the aggregate of payments calculated pursuant to (a) of this section, for all producers certified to the market administrator by such cooperative association as having authorized such cooperative association to receive such payments.

(2) On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay, subject to the provisions of § 965.11, direct to each producer who has not authorized a cooperative association to receive payments for such producer, the amount of the payment calculated for such producer pursuant to (a) of this section.

§ 965.10 Expense of administration—(a) Payment by handler. As his pro rata share of the expense which will be necessarily incurred in the maintenance and functioning of the office of the market administrator and in the performance of the duties of the market administrator, each handler, with respect to all milk received from producers and produced by him during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 17th day after the end of each delivery period, that amount per hundredweight, not to exceed 2 cents, which is announced by the market administrator on or before the 13th day after the end of the delivery period: Provided, That any cooperative association which has handled milk during the delivery period under the conditions set forth in § 965.2 (f) shall pay such pro rata share of expense of administration on only that quantity of milk so handled.

§ 965.11 Marketing services—(a) Deductions. The market administrator shall deduct an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator) from the payments made pursuant to § 965.9 (b), with respect to the milk of those producers for whom the marketing services set forth in (b) of this section are not being performed by a cooperative association which the War Food Administrator determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," for the purpose of performing the services set forth in (b) of this section.

(b) Marketing services to be rendered. The moneys received by the market administrator pursuant to (a) of this section shall be expended by the market administrator for market information to, and for the verification of weights, samples, and tests of milk of, producers for whom a cooperative association, as described in (a) of this section, is not performing the same services on a comparable basis, as determined by the market administrator, subject to review of the War Food Administrator.

§ 965.12 Payments to cooperative associations—(a) Eligibility. Upon application to the War Food Administrator, any cooperative association duly organized under the laws of any State which he determines, after appropriate inquiry or investigation, to be conforming to the provisions of such laws and with the standards set forth in § 965.11 (a); to be operating as a producer-controlled marketing association exercising full authority in the sale of the milk of, and assuming responsibility for payments to, its members; to be maintaining individually or in collaboration with other qualified cooperative associations, a competent staff for dealing with marketing problems and to be complying with all provisions hereof applicable to such cooperative association, shall be entitled, under the further conditions hereinafter specified, to receive payments from the date of its qualification as fixed by the War Food Administrator, until it has been found by the War Food Administrator, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that it has failed to continue to meet any condition set forth in this section for the receipt of such payments:

(1) At the rate of one-half cent per hundredweight on all milk (i) marketed by it in the manner indicated above on behalf of members, and (ii) on which reports and payments have been made as required under §§ 965.4 and 965.8, and 965.10, except that payment at this rate shall not be made on milk with respect to which the same association is eligible to receive payment under (2) of this paragraph.

(2) At the rate of 3 cents per hundredweight on all milk which is received from members at any plant operated by such an association, or subsidiary thereof, and which is included in the computations made pursuant to § 965.7.

(b) Payment. The market administrator shall, upon notice of the filing of an application by a cooperative association, retain each delivery period in the producer-settlement fund such sum as he estimates is ample to make payments to the applicant, to be held in reserve until the War Food Administrator has ruled upon said application and shall, when the application has been ruled upon by the War Food Administrator, make payment or issue credit out of such reserves in accordance with said ruling and shall release the balance of the reserved sums, if any, for disposition pursuant to § 965.7 (a) (4); and shall on or before the 20th day of each delivery period thereafter, make such payments or issue credit therefore out of the producer-settlement fund, subject to verification of the facts upon which the amount of payment is based.

(c) Reports. Each cooperative association qualified to receive payments pursuant to this section shall, from time to time, as requested by the market administrator, make reports to him with respect to its conformity with any of the conditions for qualification or to the use of such payments and shall file with him a copy of its balance sheet and operating statement at the close of each fiscal year.

(d) Suspension. The market administrator shall suspend payment upon his own initiative or upon request by the War Food Administrator or by such officer of the War Food Administration or United States Department of Agriculture as he may designate, by giving written notice to a cooperative association and to the War Food Administrator whenever there is good reason to believe that such association is no longer qualified to receive payment. Such suspended payments shall be aggregated and held in reserve until the War Food Administrator, after notice and opportunity for hearing, has appraised the performance of the cooperative and either has ordered a partial or complete payment of funds held in reserve to the cooperative or has disqualified such cooperative, in which event the balance of funds held in reserve shall be released for disposition pursuant to § 965.7 (a) (4).

§ 965.13 Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

(b) Suspension or termination. Any or all provisions hereof, or amendments hereto, shall be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the War Food Administrator may give, and shall terminate in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall (i) continue in such capacity until removed by the War Food Administrator; (ii) account from time to time for all receipts and disbursements and, when so directed by the War Food Administrator, deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator or such other person to such person as the War Food Administrator shall direct; and (iii) execute, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title of all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amount necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

§ 965.14 Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

No. 34, 78th Cong. 1st Sess.); and vested in turn by the President in the Economic Stabilization Director under Executive Order 9328 dated April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681). These regulations conferred on the War Food Administrator authority to administer the provisions thereof relating to the stabilization and limitation of salaries and wages paid to agricultural labor. In the exercise of the authority so conferred on the War Food Administrator, the following regulations relating to specific wage ceilings of agricultural labor are hereby promulgated:

AUTHORITY: §§ 1107.1 to 1107.9, inclusive, issued under 56 Stat. 765, 56 U.S.C. Supp. II 961 et seq., as amended by Pub. Law No. 34, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871, E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681; regulations of Economic Stabilization Director, dated August 28, 1943, 8 F.R. 11960, 12139, 16702.

§ 1107.1 Purpose. From time to time heretofore the War Food Administrator has issued, pursuant to § 4001.7 of the general regulations, specific wage ceiling regulations governing the wages and salaries of agricultural labor with respect to areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise. From time to time in the future the War Food Administrator will issue further wage ceiling regulations with respect to areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise, of agricultural labor, in accordance with said § 4001.7 of the general regulations and § 1100.7 of the regulations relative to salaries and wages of agricultural labor. The purpose of the present regulations is to provide general provisions for all such future specific wage ceilings. All future specific wage ceiling regulations will contain only designations of areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise affected thereby, the wage or salary rates applicable thereto and such other special provisions as may be necessary. The provisions of this part will be applicable to each specific wage ceiling regulation hereafter issued and each such regulation shall be considered a part of this part. Specific wage ceiling regulations outstanding as of the date of issuance of this part will be unaffected by this part unless or until such outstanding regulations are amended or revised, at which time they will be issued in accordance with the terms of this part.

§ 1107.2 Definitions. When used in these regulations, unless otherwise distinctly expressed, or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof:

(a) The term "act" means the Act of October 2, 1942 (Pub. No. 729, 77th Cong.), entitled "An Act to Amend the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, to aid in preventing inflation, and for other purposes," as amended by the Public Debt Act of 1943 (Pub. No. 34, 78th Cong.) entitled "An Act to increase the debt limit of the United States and for other purposes."

(b) The term "general regulations" means amended regulations (relating to wages and salaries) promulgated by the Economic Stabilization Director on August 28, 1943 (8 F.R. 11960, 12139, 16702), as amended or supplemented.

(c) The term "regulations relative to salaries and wages of agricultural labor" means the regulations promulgated by the War Food Administrator on January 17, 1944 (9 F.R. 655), as amended or supplemented.

(d) The term "specific wage ceiling regulations" means determinations made and public notices issued with respect to areas, crops, classes of employers, or otherwise, of agricultural labor, pursuant to § 4001.7 of the general regulations.

(e) The term "Administrator" means the War Food Administrator, and any person, or agency authorized by him to carry out the purposes and provisions of this part and other regulations issued by him pursuant to his authority under the "general regulations."

(f) The term "Director" means the Director of the Office of Labor, War Food Administration.

(g) The term "wage board" means a State WFA Wage Board established pursuant to § 1100.4 of the regulations relative to salaries and wages of agricultural labor.

(h) The term "person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, business trust, or any other organization or group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

(i) The term "in contravention of the act" means in contravention of the act of October 2, 1942 (referred to in paragraph (a) above), Executive Order 9250 of October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871), Executive Order 9328 of April 8, 1943 (8 F.R. 4681), the general regulations, this part, and any other orders, rulings, or regulations promulgated under said act.

(j) The terms "approval of the Administrator" and "determination by the Administrator" shall include approval or determination, as the case may be, by an agent or agents of the Administrator, duly authorized to perform such acts.

§ 1107.3 Areas, crops, and classes of workers. The areas, crops, and classes of workers or otherwise of agricultural labor which will be subject to these regulations will be defined in determinations made and public notices issued establishing wage or salary rates as set forth in § 1107.1.

§ 1107.4 Wage rates. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract or other commitment, no payments of wages or salaries to agricultural labor described in any determination and public notice issued pursuant to this part shall be made in excess of the maximum rates set forth in any such determination and public notice, without the approval of the War Food Administrator under the procedure provided for in these regulations: Provided, That if an employer was paying a particular employee doing the same type of work at a higher wage or salary rate between January 1, 1942 and September 15, 1942, such employer may pay such employee at the wage or salary rate paid during that period.

§ 1107.5 Applications for adjustments. (a) Any appeals for relief from hardships resulting from the determination and public notice of maximum wages or salaries for any type of agricultural labor issued pursuant to this part and any applications for adjustment in such wages and salaries shall be filed by the employer or the employee with the State WFA Wage Board for the State in which the employee works. That wage board, after conducting such investigation as may be required and reviewing such applications for appeal, shall have the authority to make such determinations as are consistent with the intent of these regulations and the applicable determination and public notice. Three members of such a wage board shall constitute a quorum to act upon such applications and appeals. Such wage board shall forward a copy of all its rulings on such applications and appeals to the Administrator. Each such ruling of a wage board shall be final, subject only to the Administrator's right of review on his own initiative. Any reversal or modification of such a ruling by the Administrator shall take effect from the date the affected party is notified thereof or at such later date as is specified in the notification: Provided, however, That if a ruling denying an application for permission to make a wage increase is overruled, the final ruling by the Administrator shall incorporate the effective date of the adjustment.

(b) Any increases in or payments of wages or salaries above the maximum rates established in any determination and public notice issued by the Administrator will be in violation of this part if made without approval. The increase or payment will only be lawful from the date specified in the ruling which grants the application or appeal.

(c) If an appeal for relief from hardship or an application for adjustment of wages and salaries is granted by a wage board pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the employer shall post in a conspicuous place available to his employees a copy of the ruling of the board. If any of the employees cannot read the English language but can read another language or languages, the ruling shall also be posted in the same manner in such other language or languages.

§ 1107.6 Standards to be used by State WFA Wage Boards in making determinations relative to appeals and adjustments. State WFA Wage Boards may make determinations on appeals for relief from hardship and applications for adjustment in wages and salaries only in the following instances:

(a) Reasonable adjustments may be made in case of employees paid on a weekly, monthly, or annual basis in cases of promotions, reclassifications, merit increases, length of service and incentive payments, provided that such adjustments do not increase the level of production costs appreciably.

(b) Reasonable adjustments may be made where an employee is paid on an hourly or piece rate basis in case of:

(1) Incentive payments,

(2) Sparse yield in parts of the areas affected as a result of which certain workers or groups of workers are unable to earn an amount fairly comparable to their estimated earning capacity under the normal yield on which the wage ceiling is based,

(3) Unusual weather and atmospheric conditions which reduce to below normal the number of working hours per day and hence reduce the daily earnings below a reasonable level, or

(4) Other unusual circumstances beyond the control of the employer or the employees which prevent the latter from earning an amount fairly comparable to their estimated earning capacity under normal circumstances.

The burden of justifying an appeal or application for adjustment shall in each instance be upon the employer or employee seeking such appeal or such adjustment.

§ 1107.7 Limitation on effect of adjustments granted by State WFA Wage Boards. No increase in salary or wage payments which is granted by a State WFA Wage Board upon either an appeal for relief from hardship or an application for adjustment shall furnish the basis either to increase prices or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in prices, or furnish the basis for further wage or salary increases.

§ 1107.8 Effect of unlawful payments—(a) Amounts disregarded. In any case where the Administrator determines, under the procedure set forth herein, that a salary or wage payment has been increased in contravention of these regulations or of any determination and public notice issued by the Administrator, the amount of the salary or wage paid or accrued at the increased rate, shall be disregarded by all executive departments and all other agencies of the Government for the purposes of:

(1) Determining costs or expenses of the employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof;

(2) Calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States; or

(3) Determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States.

(b) Criminal penalties. Any person, whether an employer or an employee, who wilfully violates any provision of this part or any determination and public notice issued by the Administrator, shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not more than $1,000.00, or to imprisonment for not more than one year, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

§ 1107.9 Procedure for determination of violations—(a) Wage boards. Wage boards are, pursuant to § 1100.4 relative to salaries and wages of agricultural labor, authorized to conduct hearings on behalf of the War Food Administrator for the purpose of making findings of fact and recommendations with respect to alleged violations of specific wage ceiling regulations. For such hearings three members of the wage board shall constitute a quorum and the chairman of the wage board, or temporary chairman in the absence of the regular chairman, shall act as presiding officer at the hearings, administer oaths and affirmations, and rule on motions, requests, and on the admission and exclusion of evidence.

(b) Preliminary investigation. Preliminary investigations of alleged unlawful wage or salary payments shall be made by representatives of the Administrator. A report of investigation shall be submitted to the Regional Attorney, United States Department of Agriculture, for consideration. He shall forward the report, with his recommendations, to the board. If, after consideration of such report and recommendations the wage board is of the opinion that there is reasonable cause to believe that a violation has occurred, the wage board shall request the alleged violator to appear at a hearing before the wage board at a place designated by the wage board.

(c) Notice. Notice of the hearing shall be served on the alleged violator not less than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing. Such notice shall set forth (1) the time and place of the hearing, (2) a concise statement of the allegations of fact which constitute a basis for the proceeding, (3) a statement informing the alleged violator that he may be represented by counsel at the hearing and will be given full opportunity to present written or oral testimony and to examine and cross-examine witnesses on all matters relating to the charges, and (4) a statement informing the alleged violator that failure to appear will not preclude the wage board from taking testimony, receiving proof and making findings and recommendations with respect to the charges.

(d) Conduct of the hearing. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law and equity shall not be controlling. The test of admissibility shall be the reliability, relevancy, and probative force of the evidence offered.

All testimony shall be given under oath and a written transcript of the hearing shall be made.

The presiding officer shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross-examination of the witnesses. At the close of the hearing, the presiding officer may, at his discretion, allow a short period for the presentation of oral argument, or for a summary of the facts disclosed at the hearing and, if he deems it advisable, may allow briefs to be filed within a period prescribed by him, not to exceed five (5) days.

(e) Findings and recommendations. Upon conclusion of the hearing, if a majority of the wage board is satisfied that the charge has been sustained by a preponderance of the evidence, it shall find accordingly. Findings of fact and recommendations shall be prepared, subscribed by the concurring members of the wage board and submitted to the Administrator, together with a transcript of the proceedings. A copy of the findings of fact and recommendations shall be served on the alleged violator. After consideration of the findings and recommendations, the Administrator shall determine whether the alleged violator has made salary or wage payments in contravention of these regulations or any determination and public notice issued by him. A copy of such determination shall be served by registered mail on the alleged violator.

(f) Petition for reconsideration. Within five (5) days after receipt of a copy of the Administrator's determination, the alleged violator may file with the War Food Administrator, Washington, D. C., a petition for reconsideration of such determination. Such petition may be accompanied by any affidavits or briefs which the alleged violator desires to submit. Within a reasonable time after receiving such a request for reconsideration, the Administrator shall affirm, modify, or reverse his original determination, or direct a further hearing to be held. Such further hearing shall follow the procedure prescribed for the original hearing. The determination of the Administrator shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings: Provided, however, That nothing herein is intended to deny the right of any employer or employee to contest in The Tax Court of the United States or in any court of competent jurisdiction the validity of:

(1) Any provision in this regulation on the ground that such provision is not authorized by law, or

(2) Any action taken or determination made under this regulation, on the ground that such action or determination is not authorized, or has not been taken or made in a manner required, by law.

Issued this 20th day of January 1944.

MARVIN JONES,
War Food Administrator.

[Supplementary Order M-21-s, Direction 4]

USE OF ALLOY SCRAP IN MELTING ALLOY STEEL

The following direction is issued pursuant to paragraph (e) of Supplementary Order M-21-s. This direction covers the use of alloy steel scrap in the melting of alloy steel.

(a) For the purposes of this direction, the term "alloy steel" does not include the following:

(1) Stainless and valve steels covered by Direction 3 to Order M-21-s.

(2) Carbon steels treated with boron or vanadium addition agents.

(3) Manganese, silicon, or silicon-manganese steels with or without boron or vanadium addition agents.

(b) In melting alloy steel in any calendar month, each producer must use alloy steel scrap of the kinds listed below in not less than the following amounts. These amounts are stated in terms of percentages of the total weight of alloy steel ingots or melted metal for castings produced by the producer in the particular month:

	Electric furnace steel	Open hearth steel
	Percent	Percent
Scrap (solids and turnings)	60	30
Turnings (including machine shop turnings)	6	8
Machine shop turnings	4	4

(c) For example, a producer who produces in the month of January 10,000 tons of electric furnace alloy steel ingots must consume in his melting at least 6,000 tons of alloy steel scrap added to the furnace charge either directly or through hot metal. Of the alloy steel scrap he consumes, at least 600 tons must be in the form of alloy steel turnings; and of the alloy steel turnings he consumes, at least 400 tons must be in the form of machine shop turnings.

(d) Any request for an exception from the terms of this direction shall be made by filing a letter setting forth the relief requested and the reasons why such relief should be allowed. Such requests should be addressed to Scrap Section, Steel Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. The War Production Board may grant specific written exceptions in appropriate cases. The approval of a melting schedule shall not constitute the grant of an exception.

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of chrome pigments for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

Definitions

§ 3293.586 Allocation Order M–370—(a) Meaning of certain terms. (1) "Chrome pigments" means Class A and Class B pigments as defined herein.

(2) "Class A pigments" refers to C. P. chrome yellow, C. P. chrome orange, C. P. chrome green, C. P. molybdate chrome orange, and C. P. hydrated chromium oxide. The term includes extended, dry and wet dispersions of these pigments.

(3) "C. P. chrome yellow" and "C. P. chrome orange" mean the pigments which are reaction precipitates consisting of normal or basic lead chromates or mixtures of these with or without other insoluble compounds of lead—Color Index 1270.[1]

(4) "C. P. chrome green" means a pigment consisting of a precipitated mixture of C. P. chrome yellow—Color Index 1270[1]—and C. P. iron blue—Color Index 1288.[1]

(5) "C. P. molybdate chrome orange" means a mixed crystal containing lead chromate, lead molybdate, and lead sulfate with or without other insoluble compounds of lead.

(6) "C. P. hydrated chromium oxide" means a pigment approximately conforming to the formula $Cr_2O(OH)_4$—Color Index 1292.[1]

[1] Society of Dyers and Colourists "Colour Index", Bradford, Yorkshire, January 1924.

(7) "Class B pigments" refers to C. P. chromium oxide green and C. P. zinc chromate. The term also includes extended, dry and wet dispersions of these pigments.

(8) "C. P. chromium oxide green" means a pigment approximately conforming to the formula Cr_2O_3—Color Index 1291.[1]

(9) "C. P. zinc chromate" means a pigment manufactured as a reaction precipitate of soluble chromates and a suitable zinc compound—Color Index 1271.[1]

(10) "Exempt order" means any purchase order for Class A pigments which (i) are to be delivered as pigments, or (ii) are to be used in the manufacture of any product (except printing ink) to be delivered, used on, or incorporated in, material or equipment to be delivered to, the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, Bureau of Engraving and Printing, United States Government Printing Office, the Government of Canada, or to or for the account of any foreign country pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 (Lend-Lease Act).

(11) "Quota order" means any purchase order for Class A pigments that is not an exempt order as defined above.

(12) "Printing ink" includes any fluid or viscous material or composition of materials used in printing, impressing, stamping or transferring upon paper or paper-like substances, wood, fabrics or metals by the recognized mechanical reproductive processes employed in printing, publishing and related service industries.

(13) "Pigment quota" means the amount of Class A pigments which any consumer may use or acquire in any calendar quarter for the manufacture of any product to fill quota orders. The table in Appendix D shows how to determine this quota.

(14) "Producer" means any person engaged in the production of chrome pigments.

(15) "Distributor" means any person who buys chrome pigments for the purpose of resale.

(16) "Supplier" means a producer or distributor.

(17) "Consumer" means any person who uses chrome pigments.

Restrictions on Class A Pigments: Chrome Yellow, Chrome Orange, Chrome Green, Molybdate Chrome Orange, Hydrated Chromium Oxide

(b) Inapplicability of preference ratings. No person shall apply, extend, or give any effect to any preference rating heretofore or hereafter assigned, applied or extended for the delivery of Class A pigments.

(c) Exempt orders, certification required. On and after January 21, 1944, any person may, without authorization of War Production Board, deliver or accept delivery of Class A pigments to fill an "exempt order" or to replace the total quantity of Class A pigments which was withdrawn from inventory to fill "exempt orders", but which had not been originally acquired to fill "exempt orders": Provided, That the person accepting delivery furnishes to the person making the delivery, the Exempt Order Certification set forth in Appendix C. (The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used instead.) There are no quantity restrictions on Class A pigments which may be used to fill "exempt orders." No person engaged in the business of manufacturing printing ink may use the Exempt Order Certification for any purchase order for Class A pigments which are to be used by him for the manufacture of printing ink for sale.

(d) Quota orders; delivery restrictions and certification. On and after January 21, 1944, no consumer shall accept delivery of Class A pigments in any calendar quarter, for the manufacture of any product to fill "quota orders", in excess of his "pigment quota" set forth in Appendix D for the manufacture of that product, unless War Production Board shall otherwise specifically authorize pursuant to application on Form WPB 2945. No supplier shall deliver Class A pigments to a consumer to fill "quota orders" unless the consumer furnishes the supplier with the Quota Order Certification set forth in Appendix C, or unless the supplier is specifically authorized by War Production Board on Form WPB 2946 to make the delivery. (The standard form of certification described in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used instead.) This provision governs the total quantity of Class A pigments which a consumer may acquire in any calendar quarter to fill "quota orders". Paragraph (f) of this Order M–370 contains one further provision with which a consumer must comply when accepting delivery of Class A pigments to fill both "quota orders" and "exempt orders". Paragraphs (f) states an inventory restriction which controls the quantity of Class A pigments which a consumer may acquire at any one time within a calendar quarter.

(e) Quota orders. Use restrictions on Class A pigments. No consumer shall use Class A pigments in any calendar quarter, to manufacture any product, to fill "quota orders", in excess of his "pigment quota" set forth in Appendix D for the manufacture of that product, unless War Production Board shall otherwise specifically authorize pursuant to application on Form WPB 2945.

(f) Consumer's inventory restrictions. No consumer shall accept any single delivery of Class A pigments which shall result in his having an inventory of such pigments:

(1) To fill "exempt orders", in excess of that quantity of Class A pigments which he will be required to use within the next sixty days in order to meet delivery dates under such "exempt orders"; and

(2) For the manufacture of any product to fill "quota orders", in excess of 2,000 pounds or his "pigment quota" as set forth in Appendix D (whichever is the greater) for the manufacture of that product, unless he shall have been otherwise specifically authorized by War Production Board, pursuant to application made by letter addressed to Chemicals

Bureau, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–370, setting forth the reasons why he needs to exceed the inventory restrictions.

Restrictions on Class B Pigments: Chromium Oxide Green, Zinc Chromate

(g) Deliveries and use of Class B pigments. On and after February 1, 1944, no person shall deliver, accept delivery of, or use, Class B pigments except as specifically authorized by War Production Board, pursuant to applications filed on Forms WPB 2946 and WPB 2945 respectively.

(h) Exception for small deliveries of Class B pigments. On and after February 1, 1944, any consumer may withdraw from his inventory, or accept delivery from all sources, and use for any purpose but not for resale, in any calendar month, of not more than 25 pounds of chromium oxide green and not more than 50 pounds of zinc chromate without authorization from War Production Board: Provided, That he has not already received authorization from War Production Board to acquire in that month more than the small deliveries mentioned above. No supplier may deliver in any calendar month more than the aggregate quantity of Class B pigments authorized by War Production Board for such small deliveries.

Authorization Procedure for Chrome Pigments

(i) How the consumer obtains authorization. Each person requiring authorization to accept delivery in any calendar quarter of Class A pigments in excess of his "pigment quota" set forth in Appendix D, shall file with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, three copies of Form WPB 2945 (formerly PD–600) on or before the 5th day of the second month of that calendar quarter. Each person requiring authorization to use Class A pigments from inventory in any calendar quarter in excess of his "pigment quota" set forth in Appendix D, shall file with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, three copies of Form WPB 2945 at any time. Each person requiring authorization to use or accept delivery of Class B pigments in excess of the permitted small deliveries, shall file with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, three copies of Form WPB 2945 on or before the 5th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery is requested. However, applications to use or accept deliveries of Class B pigments in February, 1944, may be made as soon as possible after January 21, 1944. In the case of both Class A and Class B pigments, one copy of Form WPB 2945 should be sent to the supplier. Instructions for filling out this form are set forth in Appendix A. One copy of Form WPB 2945 will be returned to the purchaser on which the War Production Board will indicate the quantity of chrome pigments which may be used or acquired.

(j) How the supplier obtains authorization. Each supplier requiring authorization to deliver Class A pigments in any calendar quarter, shall file three copies of Form WPB 2946 (formerly PD–601) with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, on or before the 15th day of the second month of that calendar quarter. Each supplier requiring authorization to deliver Class B pigments shall file three copies of Form WPB 2946 with the Chemicals Bureau, War Production Board, on or before the 15th of the month before the month in which delivery is requested. However, applications for delivery of Class B pigments during February, 1944, shall be filed as soon as possible after January 21, 1944. Instructions for filling out this form are set forth in Appendix B. One copy of Form WPB 2946 will be returned to the supplier on which War Production Board will indicate the quantities of chrome pigments which may be delivered.

General Provisions

(k) Special directives. War Production Board may from time to time issue special directives to any person with respect to the delivery and use of chrome pigments, notwithstanding the other provisions of this order.

(l) Changes in "pigment quota." War Production Board may from time to time make whatever changes it may deem necessary in the "pigment quota" for Class A pigments.

(m) Approval of Bureau of the Budget. The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(n) Applicability of regulations. Except as provided in paragraph (b) above, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(o) Duration of specific authorizations. If it is not practicable for a supplier to make all deliveries of chrome pigments in the allocation period for which specifically authorized, he may complete them as early as practicable in the next allocation period, but the purchaser must place his order before the end of the allocation period and may not require postponement of delivery beyond ten days after the allocation period. Specific authorization to use chrome pigments shall be valid for forty-five days after receipt of the specific authorization or of the material allocated for the use, whichever is later. What chrome pigments are not used in this period may not be used for any purpose until further authorized or directed.

(p) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(q) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M–370.

Issued this 21st day of January 1944.

If the exportation is not for Lend-Lease or for shipment to Canada, Form WPB 2945 must first be sent to the Foreign Economic Administration together with application for an export license. If the export license is granted, the Foreign Economic Administration will then affix the export license number to the Form WPB 2945 and forward it to the War Production Board.

If "Resale" is listed in Column 3, suppliers shall write opposite in Column 4 "upon further authorization" or "for small order exemption". If "Inventory" is listed in Column 3, write opposite it in Column 4 "to hold subject to further authorization".

APPENDIX D—PIGMENT QUOTAS—CLASS A PIGMENTS

The table set forth below shows the total amount of Class A pigments you may acquire or use in a calendar quarter to fill "quota orders". You have a different quota for pigments acquired or used for the manufacture of printing ink than for the manufacture of all other products. At the present time, there are only two classes of products listed. Opposite each, in the second column, is the quota of Class A pigments which you may acquire in any calendar quarter to make that class of product. (The quantity of Class A pigments which a producer used of his own production of those pigments in 1941 for the manufacture of that class of product, shall be considered as having been acquired by him in 1941 for the manufacture of that class of product.) The third column shows the quota of Class A pigments which you may use in any calendar quarter to make that class of product.

You may not exceed these quotas without obtaining authorization from War Production Board.

TABLE FOR DETERMINING APPLICABLE PIGMENT QUOTA

Section 1390.218b is added to read as follows:

SEC. 1390.218b Adjustable pricing. If the manufacturer wishes, he may agree with the buyer to charge a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery. In all other cases, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer must not deliver at a price which is to be adjusted upwards in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. This authorization may be given only where: (a) a request for a change in the applicable price is pending; (b) authorization is necessary to promote production; and (c) it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price.

§ 1515.16 Supplementary Order No. 10 to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944—(a) Scope of this order. Except as otherwise modified by the provisions of any other order issued as a supplement to Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, or by the provisions of any specific exception or other grant of authority as provided for by Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, the provisions of this Order shall to the extent provided herein be applicable to the use of material in the drilling or deepening of, completing of, and providing of additions to, oil wells in those portions of the States of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee specified in Exhibit A, but not elsewhere.

(b) Definitions. The definitions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11,

(1) "Designated area" means those portions of the States of Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee specified in Exhibit A.

(c) Authorized uses of material in oil development drilling operations in the designated area. Material may be used to drill or deepen, complete, and provide additions to any oil well in the designated area drilled or deepened to and completed at a depth not exceeding 1800 feet, if the material is used in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) Where the oil well is drilled or deepened to and completed at a depth not exceeding 1200 feet:

(i) The well must be located on a drilling unit upon which no other drilling or producible oil well is located, and no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 150 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property. If the well is located on sectionalized land, the drilling unit must consist of one-half of a quarter of a quarter-quarter section. If the well is located on non-sectionalized land, the drilling unit must consist of at least 5 contiguous surface acres, and the distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit must not exceed a distance of 750 feet, and

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which the well is located must first be consolidated, and

(iii) The well must be located at least 375 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well, and

(iv) The well must be located at least 150 feet from every lease line, property line, and subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests.

(2) Where the oil well is drilled or deepened to and completed at a depth exceeding 1200 feet but not exceeding 1800 feet:

(i) The well must be located on a drilling unit upon which no other drilling or producible oil well is located, and no portion of which drilling unit is attributable to or falls within 200 feet of any other drilling or producible oil well located on the same lease or property. If the well is located on sectionalized land, the drilling unit must consist of a quarter of a quarter-quarter section. If the well is located on non-sectionalized land, the drilling unit must consist of at least 10 continguous surface acres, and the distance between any two points farthest apart on the drilling unit must not exceed a distance of 1100 feet, and

(ii) All separate property interests in the drilling unit upon which the well is located must first be consolidated, and

(iii) The well must be located at least 500 feet from every other drilling or producible oil well, and

(iv) The well must be located at least 300 feet from every lease line, property line, and subdivision line separating unconsolidated property interests.

(d) Computation of acreage attributable to oil wells in the designated area. (1) The acreage attributable to any oil well in the designated area spudded on or before December 23, 1941, shall be determined by assigning to the well an acreage equivalent to that of the existing well density contiguous to the well. If the well is completed at a depth not exceeding 1800 feet, the attributed acreage need not be greater than that required for a new well drilled to and completed at the same depth pursuant to this order. If the well is completed at a depth exceeding 1800 feet, the attributed acreage need not be greater than 40 acres.

(2) The acreage attributable to any oil well in the designated area spudded after December 23, 1941, which is completed at a depth exceeding 1800 feet shall be the same as the drilling unit assigned to the well pursuant to Conservation Order M-68, Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, or any exception thereto, or any amendment thereof. The acreage attributable to any oil well in the designated area which is completed at a depth not exceeding 1800 feet, and which was spudded after December 23, 1941, but prior to the effective date of this order, need not be greater than that required for a new well drilled to and completed at the same depth pursuant to this order.

(e) Authorized uses of material for installation of pumping or other artificial lifting facilities. In addition to the uses of material for the installation or re-installation of pumping or other artificial lifting equipment which are authorized by Petroleum Administrative Order No. 11, as amended January 1, 1944, material may also be used to install or re-install pumping or other artificial lifting equipment on any oil well in the designated area which is completed at a depth not exceeding 1200 feet if the number of wells on the lease or tract to which pumping or other artificial lifting equipment is then attached does not exceed an average of one well to every 5 productive acres.

(f) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this Order, or who, by any act or omission, falsifies records kept or information furnished in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment.

Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order may be prohibited from delivering or receiving any material under priority control, or may be subject to other appropriate action.

[Region II Order G-1 Under SR 15]

FLUID MILK IN CERTAIN LOCALITIES IN NEW YORK

Order No. G-1 under § 1499.75 of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

For the reason set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.75 of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation, and pursuant to a directive from the Director of the Office of Economic Stabilization, It is hereby ordered. That:

(a) The maximum price for the sale and delivery in glass or paper containers of Grade A Pasteurized fluid milk at wholesale into store, at retail out of store, and at retail to the home, in the cities of Cohoes, and Watervliet, and the village of Green Island, all in the County of Albany, and in the village of Waterford in the County of Saratoga, all in the State of New York, shall be the seller's maximum price as determined under § 1499.2, General Provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or the applicable adjusted maximum price specified below, whichever is higher:

Into store	Quart	13
	Pint	7½
	Half-pint	4½
Out of store and to-the-home	Quart	15
	Pint	8½
	Half-pint	5½

(b) For each type of fluid milk other than Grade A Pasteurized, the maximum price of any seller for the sale and delivery of such type of milk in any of the cities or villages above named shall be increased by an amount equal to the increase of maximum prices accruing to such seller from the adjusted maximum prices of Grade A Pasteurized milk prescribed herein, for the same type of sale and delivery to the same type and size of container. No person who has not received an adjusted maximum price for Grade A Pasteurized milk as a result of this order (either because he does not sell Grade A Pasteurized Milk, or because his maximum price therefor under the General Maximum Price Regulation is higher than the adjusted maximum price herein) may make an adjustment of his maximum prices for any other type of milk. (For example, if, as a result of this order, seller A's maximum prices for the sale and delivery in Cohoes of Grade A Pasteurized milk into store and to the home in quart glass containers, have been increased from 12¢ to 13¢ for delivery into store, and from 14¢ to 15¢ for delivery to the home, he may increase his maximum price for the sale of flavored milk in glass containers by an amount not in excess of 1¢ per quart for sales and deliveries into store and to the home. If seller B in Watervliet does not sell Grade A Pasteurized milk, he may not increase his maximum price for the sale of another type of milk, such as flavored milk.)

(c) Definitions. (1) "Fluid milk" means cow's milk produced, processed, distributed and sold for consumption in fluid form as whole milk and shall include flavored milk.

(2) "Grade A Pasteurized fluid milk" shall have the meaning prescribed by the appropriate statutes, orders or regulations of the State of New York, unless such definition is superseded by statutes, orders or regulations, of that political sub-division of the State of New York within which such milk is sold and delivered.

(3) "To the house" means a sale and delivery of fluid milk at retail from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes, and shall not include a sale of fluid milk at retail by a grocery store, meat market, dairy store or other establishment which delivers fluid milk separately or together with other purchases.

(4) "Out of store" means a sale of fluid milk at retail by a grocery store, meat market, dairy store, or other establishment which delivers fluid milk separately or together with other purchases, and shall include a sale of fluid milk at retail by a milk distributor at his plant or place of business.

(d) Where the adjusted maximum price is a unit figure containing a fraction of a cent, the seller must multiply such fractional unit figure by the total number of units in each sale or series of sales for which a single collection is made. Where the resulting amount contains a fraction of a cent, or where only one unit is sold, the seller shall adjust the maximum price to the nearest full cent, except that if the fraction should be a half-cent, the seller shall adjust the maximum price to the next higher full cent (for example, a maximum price of 8½¢ for one unit shall be adjusted to 9¢ for one unit, 17¢ for two units, and 26¢ for three units, etc.).

(e) This order is subject to revocation or amendment by the Regional Administrator or by the Price Administrator at any time hereafter, either by special order or by price regulation issued hereafter, or by supplementary order which may be contrary hereto.

(f) Geographical applicability. This order applies to all sales of fluid milk within the geographical limits of the cities of Cohoes, and Watervliet, and the village of Green Island in Albany County, and the village of Waterford in Saratoga County.

(g) Unless the context manifestly otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 202 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms herein.

This order shall become effective January 17, 1944.

(56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7671 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681)

SOLID FUELS IN DESIGNATED AREAS OF ATLANTA REGION

Order No. G–17 under § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Maximum prices for solid fuels within certain specified areas in Region IV.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. (1) This order contains provisions of general applicability to area ceiling prices of solid fuels in all communities for which maximum prices will be hereafter issued as described in paragraph (a) (2) hereof. Heretofore, all of these general provisions had to be incorporated in the order issued for each community. The provisions of this order apply to all such community prices hereafter issued by amendment to paragraph (m) hereof.

This order applies only to those solid fuels and those communities specified in paragraph (m) hereof, "Appendices".

(2) This order establishes dollars and cents maximum prices for certain solid fuels when sold in specified areas of Region IV. The solid fuels sold and the prices for such fuels will not necessarily be the same for all communities. Maximum prices and methods of computing special charges and discounts for each community will be contained in an appendix specifically covering that community. Each appendix will be issued as an amendment to paragraph (m), "Appendices", of this order. For example, the amendment covering the first community for which maximum prices are established under this order will be designated "Appendix I".

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation, no person shall:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels at prices higher than the maximum prices set by the applicable appendix set forth in paragraph (m) hereof, but less than maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid or offered;

(2) Obtain a higher than maximum price by:

(i) Charging for a service which is not expressly requested by the buyer and which is not specifically authorized by this Order.

(ii) Using any tying agreement or making any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him, or

(iii) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase; Transportation tax—(1) The freight rate increase. Since the Ex Parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the dealer's freight rates are the same as those of December, 1941. Therefore, no dealer may increase any schedule price on account of freight rates.

(2) The transportation tax. Only the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be collected in addition to the maximum prices set by this order provided the dealer states it separately from the price on the statement given to the buyer under paragraph (i) (2). (This tax need not be stated separately in sales to the United States or any agency thereof—see Amendment 12 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 122.) No part of this tax may be collected in addition to the maximum prices on sales of quarter-ton or less quantities or on sales of any quantity of bagged coal.

(d) Addition of increase in supplier's prices prohibited. The maximum prices set by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in purchase costs or in supplier's maximum prices occuring after the effective date hereof; but increases in the maximum prices set hereby to reflect such increases are within the discretion of the Administrator.

(e) Power to amend or revoke. The Price Administrator or Regional Administrator may amend, revoke, or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(f) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment to this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(g) Applicability of other regulations. Every dealer subject to this order is governed by the licensing provisions of Supplementary Order No. 72. This provides in brief that a license is granted to all persons selling, at retail, commodities for which maximum prices are established. The license may be suspended for violation in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If a dealer's license is suspended, he may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(h) Records and reports. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

It is not necessary that these maximum prices be filed with the War Price and Rationing Boards.

(i) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Each dealer subject to this order shall post all the maximum prices set by it for all his types of sales. He shall post his prices in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. He shall also keep a copy of this order available for examination by any person inquiring as to his prices for solid fuel.

(2) Every dealer selling solid fuel for sales of which a maximum price is set by this order shall, within thirty days after the date of delivery of the fuel, give to the buyer a statement showing: the date of the sale, the name and address of the dealer and of the buyer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold, the price charged and separately stating, any item which is required to be separately stated by this order. This paragraph (i) (2) shall not apply to sales of quantities of less than quarter-ton or to sales of bagged coal unless the dealer customarily gave such a statement on such sales.

(3) In the case of all other sales, every dealer who during December 1941, customarily gave buyers sales slips or receipts shall continue to do so. If a buyer requests of a seller a receipt showing the name and address of the dealer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold to him or the price charged, the dealer shall comply with the buyer's request as made by him.

(j) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the district in which the violation occurred.

(k) Definitions and explanations. When used in this order, except where otherwise provided in an appendix hereto, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any other government, or any agency or subdivision of any of the foregoing.

(4) "Direct delivery" means dumping or chuting the fuel from the seller's truck directly into the buyer's bin or storage space; but, if this is physically impossible, the term means discharging the fuel directly from the seller's truck at a point where this can be done and at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space.

"Direct delivery" of bagged fuel or any fuel in quarter-ton or lesser lots always means delivery to the buyer's storage space.

(5) "Carry up or down stairs", "carry or wheel service", "carry from curb", or "carry from curb or up or down stairs" refer to the movement of fuel to the buyer's bin or storage space by wheelbarrow, barrel, sack or otherwise from the seller's truck or from the point of discharge therefrom when made in the course of "direct delivery".

(6) "Yard sales" shall mean deliveries made by the dealer in his customary manner at his yard or at any place other than his truck.

(7) "District No." refers to the geographical bituminous coal-producing districts as delineated and numbered by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, as they have been modified by the Bituminous Coal Division and as in effect at midnight August 23, 1943.

(8) "High volatile bituminous coal" and "low volatile bituminous coal" refer to coal produced in certain sections of the producing districts specified herein.

(9) "Egg, stove, stoker, etc." sizes of bituminous coal refer to the size of such coal as defined in the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, and as prepared at the mine in accordance with the applicable minimum price schedule promulgated by the Bituminous Coal division of the United States Department of the Interior and in effect (or established) as of midnight August 23, 1943. Where the applicable minimum price schedule does not make specific mention of any size designated in this order, such size designation shall refer to the sizes of bituminous coal sold as such during December, 1941, in the area covered by this order.

(10) Except as otherwise provided in this Order No. G–17 or in any amendment hereto, or as the context may otherwise require, the definitions set forth in §§ 1340.355 and 1340.266 of Regulation No. 122 shall apply to terms used herein.

(l) Effect of order on Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. To the extent applicable, the provisions of this order supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

(m) Appendices. (Appendices will subsequently be issued by the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration covering specified solid fuels when sold in specified areas. See paragraph (a) of this order.)

This Order No. G–17 shall become effective January 19, 1944.
